Dr. Waldron was called to Hoyt Whelans last Saturday to examine a bull that was violently sick. The animal frothed at the mouth and the jaws clashed together, the symptoms were so like foot and mouth disease that Mr. Haliday and a vetinarian of Adrian was called in consultation. Every precaution was taken to protect the public, no teams being allowed to drive in or out of the yard. Monday the State Vetinarian was called from Lansing and after the most careful examination the disease was found to be blood poisoning, the animal had been dehorned and the man who did the job had used a saw which had not been sterilized. This is the second animal that Mr. Whelan has lost in the same way the work being done by the same man in both cases.

SIXTY-SEVENTH YEAR NO. 57 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, TUESDAY, APRIL 23, 1918 | WHOLE NUMBER 4617

Lend Him a Hand!

Here Is YOUR Boy—going over the top, his gun in hand, his jaw set, his heart on fire. It is the most dramatic moment in the life of this soldier—and in the life of this nation.

His heart and mind are set on one thing—VICTORY—victory over an enemy who stands for acts and ideas which this soldier despises—which he is ready to give his life to destroy.

We here at home hate these things, too. We are pledged to their destruction—to our last dollar and our last man. But this soldier can actually—get-his-hands-on-them—and root them out of the world forever—if we will lend him a hand.

This Boy Is the Symbol of Fighting America

He stands for the aspiration, the conviction of a hundred million people translated into action. He is doing what the rest of us are dreaming. Only through him can we win the Victory.

But He Can't Do It With His Bare Hands! He asks you to back him up with guns, shells, tanks, airplanes. Let's lend him a hand by lending our dollars. Then no power in the world can prevent him from winning the Victory.

The long fighting ages of the world have never seen a better soldier than this boy of yours—your son—your husband—your brother—your friend. He stands for the sons of America, hundreds of thousands strong, soon to be millions. He is doing his part—we must do ours!

He Is the Symbol of the Liberty Loan

After a week's delay, the Adrian Telegram finally came out in their Saturday's issue giving Tecumseh township proper credit for being the first to go "over the top" in the Third Liberty Loan campaign. The Telegram explained that they were in no way responsible for errors made at the Adrian headquarters and had received the reports just as they were given out at headquarters each day, so it would appear that Adrian headquarters for some reason or other had got our records badly mixed.

It is rather strange that our county seat people should have been so mixed in their reports for it could not have been such a terribly complicated matter to receive one report each day and make a record of that report. Any school boy ought to be able to copy off the figures from a report and get it right.

Our people have been up in arms about the treatmen given us by Adrian headquarters and the continued reports published in our county seat paper that other places were making better showing than we. As late as Friday last the honor was given to the city of Hudson and the report gave them credit for being first over.

We in Tecumseh are mighty glad to see other townships coming across and rejoice to know that they have made good and particularly so when we learned Sunday that our county seat city had over-subscribed her quota. We are all working for a common cause and are all soldiers for "Uncle Sam," but with Tecumseh an early winner in the campaign, we did not intend to be robbed of the honor that had come to us.

As a matter of fact, Tecumseh opened her campaign on the morning of the 10th. and on the afternoon of Friday, the 12th., reported to headquarters that our quota had been over-subscribed. This report should have reached Adrian Saturday and should have appeared in Saturday's issue of the Telegram. We are also informed that Chairman Temple telephoned headquarters about noon Friday, the 12th., that Tecumseh was over. Strange that it took just a week to get the matter straightened out and that Mr. Temple and Mr. G. E. Nemire had to make a trip to Adrian to convince headquarters that they had made an error. It is also strange that our chairman had a letter from the Governor acknowledging our success before Adrian headquarters had come to and had given us credit. Why, we even had our honor flag in our possession last Friday, the day that Adrian was giving Hudson credit for being the first unit over.

Tecumseh has made a perfect record, she is one of the best, if not the best, unit along patriotic lines that the county has. She has gone "over the top" in every campaign and her record is clear. We point with pride to the three Liberty Loan campaigns in our township, to the way we put Tecumseh over for the Patriotic League, to the Red Cross campaigns and to the wonderful work our ladies are doing for Red Cross and war work. When the next Government call comes, our people will be ready and they will make the charge in the same good old Yankee style that has earned for us the name of the "Biggest Little Town on Earth."

We simply want proper credit where credit is due.

DR. AND MRS. HARDY ENTERTAIN

Dr. and Mrs. Hardy are good travelers and have a very pleasant way of sharing their trips with their friends. Friday evening they entertained a company of friends at their home on West Chicago street which was a great source of pleasure to those who were fortunate in being present. During the evening a typical Cuban luncheon was served from the various articles brought home with them from their trip to Cuba. This proved very interesting and delicious to the guests who enjoyed it thoroughly.

A PROCLAMATION

Although Michigan has been largely denuded of her stately and magnificent forests of a former day, we still take high rank as a timber state; and a wise policy of reforestation will help to restore, in the years to come, what has been lost. Let us continue the the custom of observing Arbor Day by the planting of trees around our homes, our schools, our churches and in our streets and public parks.

Last year the people of the state were urged to plant gardens also and the response to this appeal was so general that a huge crop of vegetables resulted. The need of garden products is even more urgent this year. Our soldiers in France must be fed, as must the armies of our Allies. Every pound of vegetables, raised in a Michigan garden, will release so much wheat for shipment abroad. Let every family then plant a war garden. If you can't plant a big garden, try a little one; and take care of it.

There is another matter to which, at this time, I desire to call attention. Strong representations have been made to me that the High-Bush Barberry (Berberis Vulgaris), with its purple-leafed variety, has become a dangerous nuisance, because it harbors and spreads the BLACK STEM RUST of wheat and other grains. The annual loss from this rust amounts to millions of bushels of grain. The Japanese Barberry (Berberis Thunbergii), on the other hand, is declared to be quite harmless in this respect. Accordingly, I earnestly request that the aforesaid noxious shrub be dug up and destroyed wherever it may exist throughout the state, and replaced by some innocuous variety of ornamental shrub.

Therefore, I, Albert E. Sleeper, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby designate and set aside, Friday, May 3rd, 1918, as Arbor and Garden Day.

In the hope that both the old and the young of our people may be impressed with the needs of the situation and may be stimulated not only to plant trees, as has been our custom on Arbor Day, but to plant their garden plots with potatoes and corn and beans and other nutritious vegettables; and I suggest that this day be marked also by the destruction of the High-Bush Barberry.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State this eighteenth day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-second.

ALBERT E. SLEEPER,
Governor.

By the Governor:
Coleman C. Vaughan,
Secretary of State.

Among the Tecumseh people who attended the patriotic meeting at the opera house in Adrian Sunday were H. S. Temple, Guy E. Nemire, F. J. Temple, F. S. Turner, Rev. W. A. Rex, Dr. W. B. Hartzog, Dale J. Hodges, Will Babcock, Glenn Tansley, John T. Boyce, Lloyd Whelan.

The infant daughter of Mrs. Peiper passed away Monday afternoon after an attack of measles at the home of its grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Cole, where they had been visiting for a few weeks, on North Oneida street.

NO SLACKING AMONG WOMEN

Mrs. Frederick B. Perkins Expects Michigan to Enlist for War Service in Wholehearted Manner

"This great plan for registration and mobilization of the women of our country is a most worthy conception of the most progressive nation of the world. We can find in all history no account of a census taking of either men or women, of such scope.

"Every woman who is loyal to our government is asked to register Girls 16 years of age and over are asked to register. The girl-power of today will be the woman-power of tomorrow. Girls are urged to remain in school, but they are asked to include in their subjects of study, courses which will be of practical service to their country, and to give their present spare time to helpful service.

"The housekeeper may say, 'Why should I register?' but we find, that the housekeeper is a most accomplished woman. She is skilled in a dozen professions of service valuable in every day life or in response to emergency calls. She can knit and sew and cook. She understands food conservation and efficient marketing. She can assist in the work of local organization [illegible] and she can take care of the children of the women who are forced out of their homes into some kind of necessary service. So the woman who "is only a housekeeper" is urged to register and should be proud of her many abilities.

To Awaken Patriotism

"The registration of women will mean an awakening in every woman's heart of the spirit of patriotism. Even as all men have not yet been aroused to "Why we are at war," so some women, are still untouched in this world crisis. But when these women respond (as they will) to the call for enlistment, they will have become a part of the great army for service.

What are Women Doing

"Women will register to enter as the call comes to new and untried occupations. Not to displace men, but to replace men, and she will register to take the necessary training for these occupations.

"Who across seas is raising grain, tending flocks, making the shell, even building the soldiers' shacks in France? Women.

"Women wanted! To help feed the world.

"Register as gardeners for fruit growing, for poultry raising.

"Women wanted! In Washington for clerical positions.

"Register to take training as stenographers and typists.

"Women wanted for hospital and civilian nursing.

"Register to enter in nurses' training school.

Women not Slackers

"Will woman show herself physically able to do all these things? Women in this period of war will show themselves able to meet all changing conditions and equal in point of endurance to men. This has been a fact known in all history and the present war has only emphasized this knowledge.

"Belgium has its women miners, Russia its women sailors, ready to man the Russian fleet. England its army of women foresters who have released men formerly employed at this task for service at the front. Woman will make it her duty to be physically fit.

"Some one has said: 'In the ultimate analysis, it is the nation that has the best women that will win the war.' The Women's Committee, Council of National Defense, does not say that; but it DOES say, 'Women are ready to enlist. Ready to serve wherever placed. No slackers. All on the firing line.'"

INVESTMENT SAFETY

When a farmed buys a mortgage on a neighboring farm he feels pretty safe, because he knows what the land will produce and he knows the farmer who is working the land with the borrowed capital. But there are elements of danger that no man can foresee. Drought may come and ruin the crop, compelling the borrower to miss an interest payment. The borrower may fall sick and fail to work the land. Something may happen to cause depreciation of the property, so that the lender cannot recover all the money he has loaned. Such things have happened and that is why large investors follow the principle of distributing their investments" over as wide an area as possible.

When you buy a LIBERTY BOND you buy an investment that has a mortgage on nearly 3,000,000 square miles of the American Continent, including Alaska and the islands of the sea. No drought ever hit all America at one time. The corn crop may fail, but the American iron, gold, coal, and copper crops never fail. A farmer may be unable to meet his mortgage interest, but Uncle Sam levies taxes big enough to pay all his interest and redeem all his mortgages. He has to do it. If he fails to do it he ceases to be a respectable member of the family of nations. And if that ever should happen no investment on this continent would be worth anything at all. No property except what can be carried in the pocket would be worth anything. The Sovereign Nation is all that insures the value of any property or the safety of any individual.

No matter now how safe a farm may look to you, it is a million times less safe than a LIBERTY BOND, with the Constitution and the Congress of the United States behind it We raise enough farm produce in a single season to pay off all the authorized Government bonds and have enough money left to rebuild from the ground up a city as big as Chicago. Hence for Safety, INVEST IN LIBERTY BONDS.

SERVES Y. M. C. A. IN WAR'S CRATER

Work of Rev. Jas. Widdifield With Sammies Takes Him to Trenches Under Fire

Desolation is Vast, He Writes; Foe's Wanton Destruction No Less Appalling

That life for the Y. M. C. A. worker in France is not all safety and texts, but has its excitement and hazards is given proof in the following letter to a Detroit friend from the Rev. James Widdifield, young rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church Tecumseh, Mich., who has been in Y. M. C. A. service overseas since September:

"For some weeks I have been driving a truck at the front and have been on the jump all day and part of the night, so when I got in tonight I felt more like rolling up in a blanket. I started to write you the other night, but the Teuton tried to enjoin me when he made me retire to the cellar by dropping some 'pills' from the air in this vicinity. He has serenaded us in like manner for the last six nights and it grows monotonous.

"I have had some great experiences since coming up to the front. Every day I pass through village after village with nothing but a pile of rubbish and stone where once were neat houses, yards and gardens. The thing that makes my choler rise the most is to see all the fruit trees either cut down or circled so as to kill them. There is absolutely no necessity or military advantage to be pleaded — mere wanton destruction. The same childish spirit of hatred and vengeance is depicted in the signs one sees painted on buildings along the road: 'Gott strafe England.'

"The saddest sight is that of many trenches the little crosses are visible on the very parapets.

"My work now, which is looking after the boys where there is no regular Y. M. C. A. secretary established, has taken me to the very front trenches and into the caves behind them. I have my truck fixed up as a traveling canteen, and it surely has to make some tracks across roads and trails which ordinarily would be classed as impossible. It hasn't balked yet. I wish I could describe some of these spots, but they are indescribable. There are caves in which more than a thousand men can be quartered comfortably and all electric lighted. One I saw had a railway in it.

"The weather lately has been fine —sunny and warm. The dust is bad on the roads (March 14), which makes us forget that only two or three weeks ago we were driving through snowstorms and mud was everywhere. We had dreaded March, but, happily, it has not fulfilled our expectations nor lived up to its reputation.

"I don't know whether I shall continue driving all summer, but should not be sorry to do so if this continues to be the 'sunny France' of the present. I expect shortly to leave the front for quieter quarters, but there will still be plenty of driving to be done and I expect to take my machine with me. We are men under orders and we never know what order tomorrow will bring forth.

"All the tales from home tell the same thing—a hard winter and fuel shortage. We have been singularly lucky in that respect over here and I must say that our hardships have been very light."

THEDA BARA IN "CLEOPATRA"

At the Bradley This Week.

On April 19 and 20 "Cleopatra" came back to the Majestic theatre, Flint, for a return engagement. This play did such a remarkable business on its former presentation when it ran for six days at the Majestic, breaking all house records, that Manager Howard O. Pierce decided on the return. The same conditions at Jackson where this wonderful spectacle is playing its third engagement a housekeeper" is urged to register at the Majestic theatre there.

It's the same thing everywhere, capacity houses greet "Cleopatra" whereever presented. At the Washington theatre, Detroit, where it played for three solid weeks, people stood in line for over two hours waiting for admission to the house.

There are wonderful battle scenes such as the battle of Philippi; Octavus' army coming over the desert sands on the run to enter Alexandria, and the naval battle at Actium with the defeat of Anthony and Cleopatra's ships, which is the first naval battle ever recorded; it is shown on the screen for the first time. Thousands of people are seen in the production and hundreds of horses, many of them drawing speeding chariots over the sands.

Cleopatra's entry into Tarsus in her royal barge, propelled by her black slaves at the oars, is one of splendor in setting. It is her first meeting with Anthony, who succombs immediateily to her charms and they leave together on the barge for Alexandria, where he becomes a slave to her bidding. The feast of Isis as it is given at the palace is another gorgeous display of color and effect. The scene in the Roman senate and the death of Caesar, followed by Anthony's oration over his body at the market place, surrounded by hordes of followers, is also great and spectacular.

"Cleopatra" will be the attraction at the Bradley this week Thursday and Friday (evenings only) April 25-26. Seats will be on sale at Hay's commencing Wednesday morning, and in buying seats, remember that you are going to see as big a feature as "The Daughter of the Gods," "Intolerance" or "The Birth of a Nation" and NOT just an ordinary feature.

HONOR FLAG UNFURLED SATURDAY NIGHT

Chairman H. S. Temple and Rev. W. A. Rex Make Brief Speeches

Tecumseh Band Furnished Music

The Honor Flag which Governor Sleeper awarded to Tecumseh township for being the first township in Lenawee county to go "over the top" was unfurled to the breeze Saturday night and raised to the top of the flag pole where it proudly floats under the stars and stripes, typical of the loyal support Tecumseh township has given to the flag during the Liberty Loan campaign.

The Eagle band played a number to open the program, which was followed by a few remarks from township chairman, H. S. Temple. Mr. Temple read the letter received from Governor Sleeper in which he awarded the flag to our township and in which he expressed his appreciation for the services we had rendered to our government and state. Mr. Temple expressed his appreciation to the business men and committee-men who had so loyally aided him in putting Tecumseh township across and to the people who had showed their loyalty to the Government during the campaign by making it possible for "Good Old Tecumseh" to go "over the top." He also stated that at last the Adrian Telegram had given our township proper credit for being the first to reach their quota and had printed the proper amount reported in to headquarters up to date.

Another selection was rendered by the band. The chairman then introduced our patriotic preacher Rev. W. A. Rex who made a few brief remarks in honor of the flag which was to be raised. He paid a glorious tribute to the people of this township for the splendid patriotic way in which they had gone over in this campaign and said that he had been holding us up as an example in other parts of the county so that we had not only done our duty ourselves, but were aidingother communities to do their duty. He praised the work done by our township chairman who was largely responsible for Tecumseh's fine record and called for a salute from the crowd to show their appreciation for the services he had rendered. Three cheers were given Mr. Temple with a right good will.

Following Rev. Rex' talk the honor flag was raised to the top of the flag pole by Village President W. F. Fisher, the band playing America's national anthem and the people standing at attention.

Chairman Temple then announced that Tecumseh's new band had donated their services for the evening and asked the citizens of this community to show their appreciation by giving them their support and making it possible for Tecumseh to support one of the best bands in Southern Michigan. The program was closed by another selection by the band.

It is estimated that between 500 and 600 people witnessed the flag raising.

DR. HAMMEL STILL AT WORK THOUGH SICK

March 23.

Well, here I am, in charge of a huge surgical ward at a general hospital with over 2,000 beds This morning I was examined by a medical board and marked unfit for duty in the line How long I will stay on duty here I don't know for I think I will be sent to the convalescent hospital after a couple of weeks. I hope I pick up physically because I can stay here then and have this wonderful experience.

This is a city much larger than Detroit and about ninety miles from the front. By the way, the recent Boche attack I just missed!

Since I wrote the above I have been on duty six hours as a lot of cases have come in. As yet the only news we have is what we get from the wounded coming in

This is a certainty, though: As the beautiful dressing station I built, and in it "Tecumseh Cabin," was so near the line, it happens that the scheme was, on our part, to fall back to a certain ridge and pour the steel into the Huns. Well, this was done and "Tecumseh Cabin" is in the hands of the Boches for a time. I wonder what they thought when they went into the cabin and saw the picture of the Kaiser I drew on the wall! It was an awful one.

By the way, you might write Mrs ——— and tell her the fate of Tecumseh Cabin "being sacrificed by us for strategical purposes."

March 27.

I started this letter yesterday but I couldn't finish it. I am writing this at midnight as six of us are waiting for a train load of wounded from the front.

The subject under discussion tonight has been "What would be the result if Japan really came into the war full force." I can hardly wait until I get my mail from the Ambulance.

I hear the Ambulance I was with is O. K., but my old Fusilier Battalion is—well, I'll tell you about it when I get home. Suffice it to say, the fellow who took my place when I was sent to the hospital was killed the first day and the fellow who took his place was killed the next, so you see had I been there it would have been me! But then the Lord knows best, I'm not worrying.

You remember the English engineer officer named Watson who messed with me at the cabin, Well, poor chap, he had both hands blown off.

Another "convoy" of wounded just came in so I must go save my lot.

K. A. Braman left Saturday for Grand Rapids and Benton Harbor to spend a few days with his parents and sister. He will return the last of the week, pack up his goods and report to Uncle Sam Saturday.

The tendency is for men to get Fixed Habits. It takes a powerful reason sometimes to get them to do things in any different way than the one to which they have been accustomed.

Because we are able to sell at 60c a Tea that equals the 80c grades of many stores.
Because all the way up and down our Tea line we offer superior qualities.

New York Press Said:

"'Cleopatra' is truly one of the most sumptuous and sensational motion picture spectacles that have ever been produced. In largeness of scope, the appearance of solid reality, its ensemble has had no superior, and few equals."—New York Herald.

"The picture is so big that one is completely overwhelmed. The spectacle simply beggars description. The greatest of all film spectacle plays. There is no stint in anything."—N. Y. Tribune.

"Cleopatra" is Miss Theda Bara at her best. She is a real Cleopatra. As a spectacle the picture ranks second to none. As a spectacle this new film surpasses even "The Birth of a Nation."—N. Y. Telegraph.

TWO U. S. SHIPS SUNK

Navy Department Says 86 Men Are Missing.

Steamer Lake Moore Torpedoed in European Waters—Florence H. Blown Up by Internal Blast.

Washington, April 22.—The loss of two American ships, from which 86 men are missing, was announced by the navy department.

The Lake Moor was sunk by an enemy submarine on the night of April 11 in European waters. Of the ten officers and fifty-two men aboard, five officers and twelve men have been landed at an English port. The others are missing.

The Florence H. was blown up in a French port by an internal explosion at midnight April 17. Reports indicate that 34 of the crew of approximately 75 were rescued.

J. M. Higgs, a signal man of the British navy, who was aboard the Lake Moor, was rescued.

The Lake Moor was a cargo carrier of 4,500 tons, commandeered by the shipping board while building in the United States for a foreign company. She was assigned to the account of the navy last January and sailed from an Atlantic port the latter part of March on her first voyage.

The announcement concerning the loss of the Florence H. said:

"The navy department has received a dispatch from Vice Admiral Sims stating that the American steamship Florence H. was blown up in a French port by an internal explosion on April 17 about midnight. First reports indicate about thirty-four out of its crew of about seventy-five were rescued. Most of the rescues were made by a United States destroyer, whose work Admiral Sims describes as most gallant."

The Florence H. was built on the Great Lakes for a foreign concern and was christened the Souk Ahras. It was commendeered by the shipping board before being completed, was cut in two and brought through the Welland canal.

It was rechristened the Florence H. in honor of Mrs. Hurley, wife of the chairman of the shipping board.

The vessel sailed from Philadelphia March 30 with a cargo of about 5,000 tons of powder and steel.

Take Wheatless Pledge.

Washington, Auril 22.—About 60 clubs, hotels and restaurants in Chicago are now on a wheatless program, according to a telegram received by the United States food administration. Heads of these establishments have voluntarily signed pledge cards.

ALLIES DEFEAT FINNS

British and French Repulse White Guards in North Russia.

Entente Forces Are Co-operating With Bolsheviki in Protecting Mourman Coast Against Invaders.

Moscow, April 22.—British and French troops have been landed at Mourmansk, on the northeast coast of the Kola peninsula, in the Arctic ocean, to re-enforce a British marine detachment sent ashore several weeks ago.

The entente allied troops are co-operating with bolsheviki forces in protecting the Mourman coast and the railway against attacks that are being made by Finnish White guards.

Russian Red guards also are acting with British and French troops, under the direction of the Mourman soviet war council, which consists of one Englishman, one Frenchman and one Russian.

Finnish White guards have attacked the Mourman railway near Kem, 270 miles south of Mourmansk and 200 miles west of Archangel, but have been repulsed by the entente forces.

The bolshevik and foreign troops are acting in harmony, and residents along the White sea coast appreciate that the entente allied assistance is saving the district from isolation and domifation by the White guard.

The British and French troops which have landed to re-enforce the British marines are protecting the railroads from the interior of Russia to the main sea outlets in the north—the ports om Mourmansk and Archangel.

At both these bases large quantities of supplies, some of which had been shipped from the United States before the Russian revolution, have been assembled in much the same manner as war material has been concentrated at Vladivostok from ships traveling by way of the Pacific ocean from American ports.

Recently Japanese and British marines were landed at Vladivostok, the Pacific port of Russia, but this step was against the wishes of the Russian bolshevik government.

Soviet troops have effectively stamped out the anarchist organization in Moscow. Its members have departed and the city now is quiet.

Armored cars are patrolling some streets and guards have been stationed about the demolished palaces and the former headquarters of the anarchists.

Detailed reports of recent disturbances show that 100 persons were killed or wounded, most of them being anarchists. Large quantities of money and jewelry have been found in the palaces.

The bolshevik authorities have published notices asking people who have been robbed recently to visit the Kremlin prison and to identify the robbers among the 300 anarchists incarcerated there.

Washington, April 22.—The naval appropriation bill, carrying approximately $1,400,000,000, was passed by the house in record time. Waiving long "general debate," the house put the bill through in two days.

The bill increases the personnel of the navy to 228,000 men and the marine corps to 75,500, and makes many new appropriations for the navy.

Among the large items in the measure is that for aviation, approximately $190,000,000, an increase of $127,000,000 over the appropriation for aviation last year.

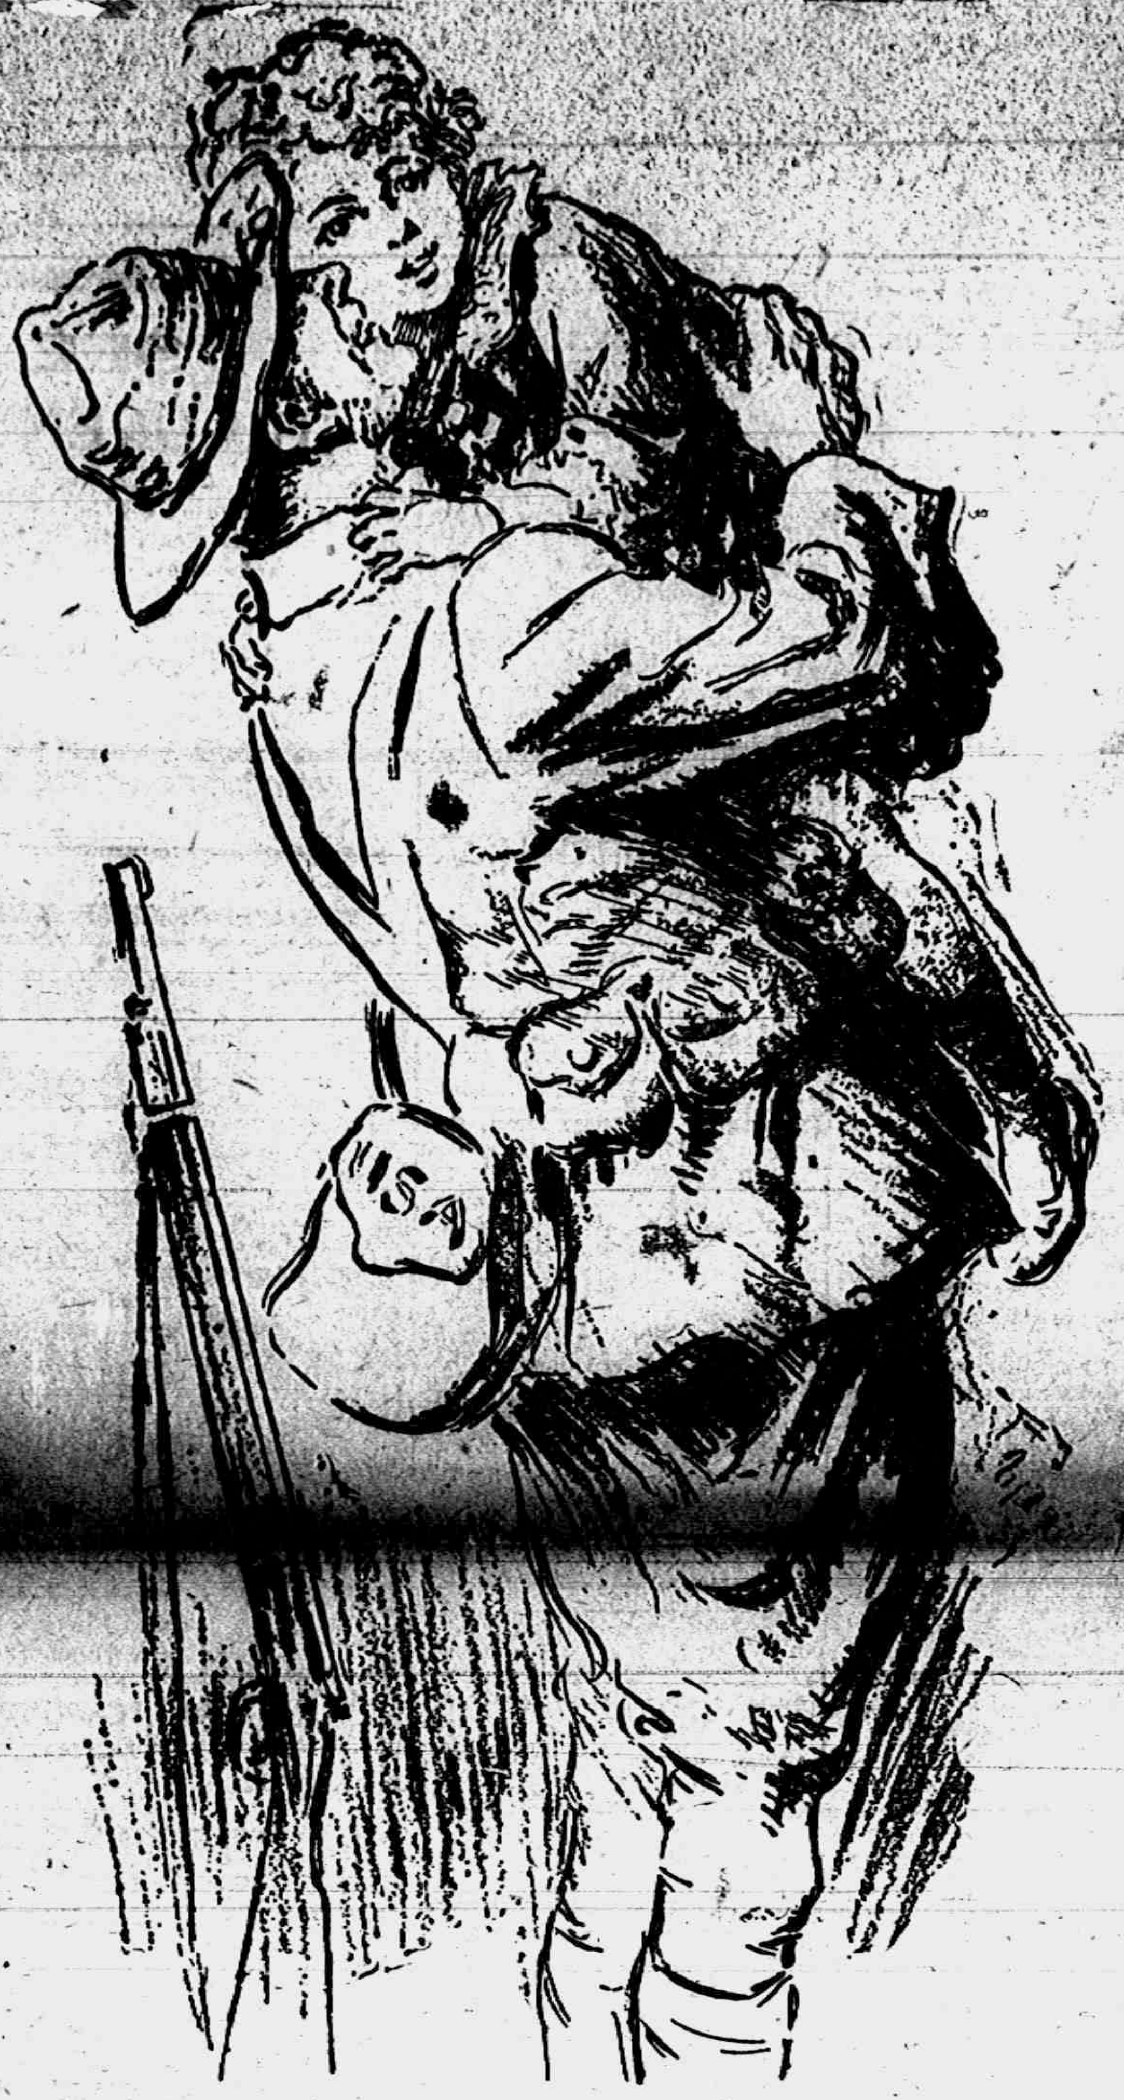
SIXTY-SEVENTH YEAR NO. 56 | TECUMSEH, MICHIGAN, FRIDAY, APRIL 26, 1918 | WHOLE NUMBER 4618



Your Bond May Bring Him Home in Safety

AMERICAN fathers are now on the battle fronts of France. Many must fall; how many depends upon us who remain safely at home.

A single Liberty Bond will help to save a soldier's life, and bring him home to his family---alive and victorious. To him, it will mean the difference between life and death; to his family the difference between happiness and desolation.

The Right Hand of Patriotism

The advertising for the Third Liberty Loan in this city has been made possible through the patriotism of the following firms, who have generously contributed the space in which the advertising will appear:

W. F. FISHER.

Without those supplies and munitions so vitally essential to the conduct of modern warfare, thousands of our soldiers will perish needlessly upon the battlefield. Thousands of women will be widowed; thousands of children made fatherless.

You can prevent this! YOU!

Can you hesitate? Good Heavens! The man is fighting for your family, as well as his; for your fireside, your wife, your children, your nation.

Buy Bonds of the Third Liberty Loan

Buy all you can possibly pay for, even though the payment involves stern self-denial. Remember, you are not asked to give your money; you are asked to lend it, at good interest, to the wealthiest, strongest, most honorable nation on the globe.

If you can't pay cash for your bonds, you can borrow a part of the money at your bank, using the bonds as security; or, you can buy them at your bank on easy partial payment plan. It is no trouble to buy Liberty Bonds—it is no trouble to pay for them. See your banker today.

For the past few weeks a group of Tecumseh ladies under the leadership of Mrs. J. D. Shull, Mrs. E. E. Hendershott, Mrs. F. B. Wood and Mrs. J. H. Smith, have been holding schools of instruction preparing for the registration of women which starts tomorrow and lasts a week. Our Government has asked that the women of the country register showing their qualifications for war work. They haven't made it compulsory, but ask the women to be loyal to a Government in war and to their duty, for if the war lasts several years, the women of America will be doing the work of men as the women of England and France are now taking the places of men. You say they can't? Yes, they can and they are doing it and doing various kinds of work, in many cases even better than men.

Governor Sleeper has set aside the week of April 27th for registration week andasksevery womanto do her bit by registering.

Many women are doubtless saying, "Oh! What's the use of my going to all this trouble. I couldn't aid much for I have my family cares to attend to and couldn't go as a Red Cross nurse or work in some factory."

You can at least register as a housewife and when you look over the list of some 150 subjects under which you may register you will be able to pick out a number of different ones under which you can easily qualify. And, remember your Government does not intend to force you into some kind of service against your will but simply wants to measure the woman power of this nation as it has and is measuring its man power. The man power of this country, if the war should continue, will be used to its maximum and when that time comes the women will be forced to take the place of men.

The women of this country are patriotic and will do all in their power to help "Uncle Sam" win this war.

A canvass of ourtownship hasbeen made this past week and over 500 names have been recorded and we hope that Tecumseh women will make this registration 100 per cent. Tecumseh has gone "over the top" on all other calls, now, Women of Tecumseh, make your registration 100 per cent. and set the rest of the county a good example in the true old Tecumseh way.

Clinton is reporting a bond sale of over $96,000 which is nearly three times their quota of $33,000 and have made the best showing of any township in the county in the Third Libery Loan drive. Good for Clinton! Clinton township is really the other half of Tecumseh township, the two together would make the usual sized township and when you put the total sales together you have a total of $174,150 worth of bonds sold, against a combined quota of about $87,000 or double the amount asked for. Tecumseh's total to date is $78,050 or nearly $25,000 above her quota of $54,000.

If the balance of the county measure up to the pace Clinton and Tecumseh have set there would be no question about Lenawee county doing her bit. Every indication now points to Lenawee county oversubscribing her quota as yesterday's reports show them lessthan $100,000 under the amount needed with a week left before the drive closes.

It is now one of the leading banks of the county. Special attention has been given to the interest of the farmers, who represent a large proporation of its customers, in furnishing them with funds to stock their farms. The bank has always done this altho the financial conditions of the country have been strained to the limit at various times.

The financial condition of the nation has been greatly relieved since Reserve Bank system. Its member banks being enabled to secure all the needed funds for loaning to those interested in agriculture and the growing of stock. At a late meeting of the board of directors of the Tecumseh State Savings Bank it was directed that the bank should make application, in the near future, for membership to the Federalt Reserve Bank.

TAKE CARE OF YOUR CHICKENS DURING PLANTING TIME

The followng letter is received by our Village President from the Federal Food Administrator for Michigan and the public is requested to adhere to his timely suggestions:

Honorable President:

We are now at the season in which steps must be taken to provide the supplies of food on which we shall depend throughout the year.

The "War Garden" movement is one of the activities in which our Government is asking all citizens to participate, in order that the staple crops may be reserved insofar as possible for the time when perishable foods are off the market.

We are receiving complaints from all parts of the State that War Gardens suffered greatly last year because of the careless habits of people who permit their chickens to run at large. The same cond[illegible] prevail this year and unless immediate steps are taken, many of our citizens will allow their ground to be idle rather than have their time and money sacrificed to their neighbors' thoughtlessness or indifference.

Our situation is sufficiently serious to demand that every available plot of ground be cultivated and that loss of production and waste of food be absolutely eliminated.

Will you kindly instruct your Chief of Police or Town Marshal to see that no chickens or live stock are permitted to run at large and deal with those who wilfully ignore your orders to the full extent of the State laws and your local ordinances.

Very respectfully,
Geo. A. Prescott.
Federal Food Administrator.

Mrs. Jewett Whelan will entertain the Red Cross Friday. A chicken dinner will be served for fifteen cents a plate. Every body welcome.

Have you read the poster issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture? "The common barberry spreads wheat rust." "Its a case of barberry or bread, kill common barberry, pluck this ruinous thorn from the side of the farmer." If any one knows of the location of these dangerous bushes either destroy them or notify Professor G. H. Coons, colloborater in charge Barberry Eradication work, East Lansing, Mich.

A boy found a crows nest and brought home the five eggs, Barrows says in "Michigan Bird Life" that crow's eggs vary interminably in color and markings, these were like painted eggs dark greenish blue and heavily spotted and blotched with black or very dark brown. There is a party in Detroit that would buy young crows. The boy had a hen at home that wanted to set, she would co-operate. She could incubate, but she wouldn't. Instead she promptly ate up the beauiful eggs. Query, was this tit-for-tat? Did the hen know instinctively that here was an embryo enemy to be destroyed before he materialized? Some measure of "preparedness," that!

Mrs. Loren Daniels of Pentecost spent the end of the week at S. N. Wisners.

Glenn Blythe of Manchester was the guest of his sister Miss Bernice Blythe Thursday.

We are pleased to report a decided ihange for the better in the case of Majil Jones, who has been so seriously ill.

SHOW FINE RECORD IN LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE

Detroit Division, N. Y. Central Lines, Make it 100 per cent.

Ticket agent G. J. Ziehr has received the following letter from General Agent E. R. Bissell of the Detroit Division, N. Y. Central lines which alludes to the splendid record made by his division during the 3rd Liberty Loan campaign and also enclosed the following verses with express the sentiment of two committee members:—

Detroit, April 19, 1918.

TO ALL EMPLOYEES:

Referring to my letter of April 15th, with which I handed you copy of our President's letter of April 6th, having reference to the Third Liberty Loan:

I am sure you will feel as proud of the achievement of this division as your Committee, in the fact that the result [illegible] canvass shows every employee under the classification as assigned to the committee responded to the appeal, and the division rolled up a percentage of 100. Therefore, Group No. 79 stands 100 percent as far as these classifications are concerned. There may be other records as good, but none better. In fact the committee in this work became so enthused that some of their thoughts had to berelieved in poetry, and I am attaching, for your perusal, the sentiment expressed by two of our Committee members.

E. R. Bissell

A Timely Warning

The Kaiser formed an army
Among a lot of Huns,
And said now we are ready,
We will go and take Belgium.

We then will go to Paris,
And take that place by storm,
And for those peaceful Frenchmen
We will make it mighty warm.

We then will go to Russia,
It won't be very far,
And to let them know we're coming
We will take away their Czar.

We then will go to Italy,
And show them with a will,
That there is no use fighting
Against your Kaiser Bill.

And then we'll go to England,
That really is our goal,
But first we'll send our Zeppelins,
And dropbombsontheir schools.

And out upon the ocean,
There we must reign supreme,
So everything that's sailing,
We will sink with submarines.

All of these he promised,
And we haven't any doubt,
That if he could fulfill them
He would do it with a shout.

But he has had a meeting
With General Hindenburg,
And while they were conversing,
These words were overheard,

The Yanks are coming over,
They now are on their way,
And for all our dirty methods,
They are going to make us pay.

He then said to his Counsel,
Och Gott. Men we are done,
For if those Yanks are coming,
We had better start and run.

So for that timely warning,
We must give many thanks,
For we might whip all the Allies,
But we cannotwhip those Yanks.

By—G. H. VanVleet.

Impelled by VanVleet's verses,
The Boss said to each man,
"Get out upon the Railroad
And do the best you can."

They made the thing very busy
And made the thing so hot,
That in less than forty-eight hours
They all went "Over the Top."

Now this is a common expression,
But in this case what is meant
The Detroit Division "came clean"
With an even One Hundred Per Cent.

MRS. JENNIE C. LAW HARDY LECTURES IN ADRIAN

The lecture on Cuba given by Mrs. Hardy in the Adrian Library Tuesday night was attended by a crowd that filled every available space.

Reports from Adrian give Mrs. Hardy's talk as extremely interesting. Her recent trip in Cuba makes her an authority on conditions there and her interest in things patriotic lent a zest to her speech.

A most attractive feature was the Cuban National Hymn sung in Spanish by Mrs. Robert Moore, accompanied by Mrs. Ella Hodges.

Mrs. Moore's Spanish was perfect and Mrs. Hodges decided ability as an accompanist brought out to perfection the bugle calls which run through the music calling the men of Bayme to arms. In response to an energetic encore the song was repeated.

TECUMSEH'S NEW SCHOOL PRONOUNCED ONE OF THE BEST

An inspector of buildings, sent out by the state to inspect buildings and fix insurance rates, visited Tecumseh last week and, while making his rounds, looked over our new high school and gave the board members a fine compliment on the building being erected. He stated that it is the best constructed and most conveniently appointed building that he had seen in a good many months. This remark was made unsolicited and has been a source of much pleasure to the board.

Work is progressing splendidly and every indication points to its completion in plenty of time for the September term of school. The partitions are all in and the upper floors have been rough plastered ready for the finishing coat.

The heating plant is completed with the exception of electrical connections used to furnish power for the ventilation system. The rough plumbing is all in and the interior begins to take on a more finished appearance.

"CLEOPATRA"

"Cleopatra," as produced by Wm. Fox, with Theda Bara as Cleopatra, was shown in two acts at Bradley's Thursday evening and will be repeated this evening.

The attraction drew a good house apd people who saw it claim it is one of the strongest pictures yet shown in Tecumseh. This old love story of history is reproduced on a wonderfully extravagant scale. Thousands of people are used in its production and the various scene of Egypt and Rome are worked out to the most minute detail with historical accoracy.

As Cleopatra, siren of the Nile, Theda Bara is wonderful. She is supported by a strong cast of characters who make the picture really worth while.

Willett's orchestra of Adrian assisted by Will Coller, furnished the music.

Claims Are All Right— But Only Proofs Count

Any maker may claim for his product all the qualities there are. That is his privilege. He may even think his claims are justified.

You read the advertisements, so you know that makers, as a rule, are not over modest in that regard.

If you believe them all, they all make super-cars.

In your experience, that theory doesn't hold.

Maxwell is different.

We never claim anything we cannot prove.

As a matter of fact we never have claimed anything for this Maxwell that has not already been proved in public test and under official observation.

Maxwell claims are not therefore claims in the ordinary sense—they are statements of fact—proven facts.

They are, in every case, matters of official record attested under oath.

For example: The famous 22,000-mile Non-Stop run was made with the Maxwell every minute under observation of the A. A. A. officials.

That still remains a world's record—the world's record of reliability.

That particular test proved about all that anyone could ask or desire of a motor car.

Among other things it still stands the world's long distance speed record.

Just consider—44 days and nights without a stop, at an average speed of 25 miles per hour!

And that, not by a $2,000 car, but by a stock model Maxwell listing at $825.

You will recall perhaps that a famous high powered, high priced six in a transcontinental trip made 28 miles average over a period of five days and eleven hours.

Now compare those two feats—one of less than six days, the other of 44 days. You know automobiles—which was the greater test?

Is there any comparison on grounds either of speed or endurance?

Proves you don't need to pay more than $825 to obtain all the qualities you can desire in a motor car—if you select a Maxwell.

For that Maxwell Non-Stop run was made, not on a track but over rough country roads and through city traffic—average of all kinds of going.

And—listen to this.

So certain were we of the condition of the Maxwell at the end of that great feat, we announced that at the stroke of eleven on a certain morning, the car would stop in front of the City Hall, Los Angeles, for the Mayor to break the seal.

Five seconds after he had pulled the switch plug and stopped the motor after the 44 days and nights continuous running, she was started again and off on a thousand mile jaunt to visit various Maxwell dealers.

How is that for precision—certainty of action? That incident brought a storm of applause from the assembled thousands.

Hill climbing?—this Maxwell holds practically every record worth mentioning—especially in the West where the real hills are.

Two months ago a 12-cylinder car beat that record by two minutes.

Then—three days later—a stock Maxwell went out and beat that 12-cylinder record by thirty seconds! Pretty close going for such a distance and such a climb—wasn't it?

So Maxwell still holds the Mount Wilson honors.

Ready to defend it against all comers too, at any time—a stock Maxwell against any stock or special chassis.

Economy—also a matter of official record.

Others may claim—Maxwell proves.

Thousands of Maxwell owners throughout the United States on the same day averaged 29.4 miles per gallon of gasoline.

Not dealers or factory experts, mind you, but owners—thousands of them—driving their own Maxwells.

Nor were they new Maxwells—the contest was made by 1915, 16, and 17 models, many of which had seen tens of thousands miles of service—three years' use.

Nor could they choose their own road or weather conditions—all kinds were encountered in the various sections of the country.

Good roads and bad—level country and mountainous regions—heat and cold—sunshine and rain—asphalt and mud.

And the average was 29.4 miles per gallon!

But that isn't all.

The greatest achievement of this Maxwell was in its showing of speed and reliability and economy all in the same run.

In that 44 days-and-nights Non-Stop run, though no thought was given to either speed or economy, it still remains a fact of official record that the Maxwell averaged 22 miles per gallon and 25 miles per hour.

Now you know that speed costs—and that economy tests are usually made at slow-speed—closed-throttle, thin-mixture conditions.

You know too that you can obtain economy of fuel by building and adjusting for that one condition.

Speed you can get by building for speed. Any engineer can do that.

But to obtain that combination of speed and economy with the wonderful reliability shown in that 44-days Non-Stop run—that car must be a Maxwell.

Reflections.

His face would have stopped a clock. But how can one wonder at it when one learns that he was a wandering lecturer? Anyway, no one had even seen anything approaching the face that he hauled into Puddle-in-the-Clay one wet and muddy November night and set up in the town hall, allowing words—calculated to make every drinker of anything stronger than barley-water at once reform and spend the rest of his existence in sackcloth and ashes—slide out of the hole in the middle of it.

"Yes, my dear brothers," said the weird looking person, "for more than forty years I have shunned the glass."

"And I bloomin' well believe yer, guv'nor," said a loud and hearty voice from the middle of the audience. "If I'd a face like yours I wouldn't never look in a pail of water even."—London Ideas.

The Magnetic Compass.

Experiments with magnets known to the scientists 2,500 years ago, which, developed by Doctor Gilbert and Peter Perigrinus, led up to the present-day admiralty compass of Kelvin, were shown recently by Prof. J. A. Fleming, professor of electrical engineering, University of London, at the Royal institute.

"The earth is a magnet," said the professor, "and every piece of iron that has stood in a vertical position for any length of time is magnetized by the earth. You can try it on your garden railings."

The hostelry sign, "The Goat and Compass," he said, "does not refer to the mariner's friend, but is a contraction of the saying, "God encompasses us," and the compass takes its name, not from the magnetism which governs its working, but from the circular card which encompasses the needle.

Gas May Help Win War.

Our illuminating gas plants may win the war for us, according to the American Chemical society. These experts say that the only way of quickly increasing the available supply of toluol is to extract it from the nation's gas. Toluol is the basis of trinitrotoluol, the famous British high explosive T. N. T. The production in this country is confined largely to by-product coke ovens and the entire present output is contracted for. However, by quick and energetic action we can secure an immense supplementary supply of this vitally necessary substance by treating illuminating gas without affecting the quality of the gas appreciably.

U. S. GUNS STOP HUNS

Germans Wear French Uniforms to Deceive Americans.

Take Clothing From the Dead and Attempt to Reach Yankee Trenches —Ruse Discovered.

With the American Army in France, April 29.—The enemy laid down a heavy barrage in front of the American trenches in the Toul sector at three o'clock in the morning, the bombardment lasting an hour.

After an interval of silence he repeated the performance at five o'clock and half an hour later the German infantry started for the American lines. So intense was the American counterattack that the enemy was repulsed without getting close enough to be engaged by the American infantry.

The Germans have been stripping the bodies of dead French soldiers in other sectors and, wearing these clothes, have come over at the point where the French and American lines join.

This method of attack was used during the attack on the Americans at Apremont forest two weeks ago. On that occasion they spoke French and said they had come to assist the Americans, but the ruse was discovered and they were driven off.

BRITISH HURL HUNS BACK IN COUNTER-ATTACK

Germans Driven From Town of Voormezeele, Two Miles From Ypres.

BERLIN REPORTS NEW GAINS

Capture of Hill 60 Announced by Berlin — London Newspapers Fear Loss of Channel Ports—Americans Help French Check Teutons.

London, April 29.—The Germans made an attack in the afternoon on the northern side of the Flanders salient and captured the town of Voormezeele, two miles outh of Ypres, but were driven out at night by a counter-attack, the war office announces.

Check Boche Advance.

Paris, April 29.—Violent artillery fighting occurred north of the Avre (southeast of Amiens) and in the region between Lassigny and Noyon (on the southern side of the Picardy battle front), the war office reported.

French troops repulsed German attacks northwest of Reims and in the sectors of St. Mihiel (near which are stationed the American troops which were attacked by the Germans a week ago), Luneville (in the vicinity of which there has been an American force) and Le Pretre wood.

[The advances of the Germans in the last few days on the northern side of the salient created by their drive in Flanders, and particularly the capture of Kemmel hill, have rendered it more difficult for the British to maintain their positions on the front before Ypres, as high ground to the south as well as to the northeast now is in possession of the Germans. It has been expected that, if the allies do not recapture Kemmel hill, they will evacuate Ypres.]

British Statement.

London, April 29.—The war office issued the following statement: "During the afternoon a hostile attack developed in the neighborhood of Voor-mezeele. The enemy succeeded in capturing the village, but was driven out early in the night by our counter-attack. At a late hour the enemy again attacked in this locality.

"There was local fighting throughout the night on both sides of the Ypres-Comines canal.

"Successful raids in which we captured over fifty prisoners [illegible] machine guns and [illegible] were [illegible]

"A raid attempted by the enemy north of Bailleul was repulsed.

Berlin Statement.

Berlin, April 29.—The capture of Hill 60, north of Ypres-Comines canal, about two miles southeast of Ypres, was announced by the war office.

Locre, six and a half miles southwest of Ypres, also was captured by the Germans, the statement says.

Fear Felt for Ports.

London, April 29.—Some of the newspapers appear to be preparing the public for the loss of the channel ports. The Times says:

"There is no denying that the loss of Kemmel hill is a considerable tactical success for the enemy, and it will be well, therefore, to prepare for the receipt of other disagreeable news. If the enemy is able to extend his grip on Kemmel we may be compelled to evacuate Ypres.

"Such evacuation would not inevitably entail the abandonment of Dunkirk, Calais and Boulogne, but it is well to realize that these consequences might ensue. We must remember that the Germans cannot win the war by the occupation of Ypres and the channele ports."

The Evening News said:

"The capture of Kemmel hill undoubtedly is a useful step in the direction of Calais nad Boulogne, and it is frankly admitted that its loss gravely imperils Ypres.

"We hope and believe the channel ports will be saved. Yet we must face the fact that their loss comes within the range of contingencies to be reckoned with, and we have already made up our minds that even, if the worst should come, it will make no difference to our vigorous prosecution of the war."

Origin of Blizzard.

Blizzard is undoubtedly a word of American origin, but it is much older than suggested. In Amersham (Eng.) churchyard today there is a tomb of the Blizard family and people of that name still reside in the village of Chalfont St. Giles. A man of this name accompanied William Penn to the new world. This Blizard, it is said, developed very unsociable habits and settled far away from his fellows in the remote Northwest. Now a northwestern snowstorm is the most disagreeable thing there is about the whole climate, and Mr. Blizard, being so unpleasant a person to his neighbors, his name was adopted to describe the objectionable type of weather which blew from his direction.

America's First Cartoon.

Benjamin Franklin's Pennsylvania Gazette was the first American newspaper to print a cartoon. There were rumors of a possible war with the French, which resulted in a call for a meeting at Albany of the representatives of the British colonies. Franklin was one of the commissioners, and to increase the force of an appeal for united action, on May 9, 1754, printed a cartoon representing a snake cut into eight parts, the head representing New England and the other seven parts the various colonies outside of New England. The legend read: "Join or die."

Its Class.

It reports that while no telegrams have been received from Petrograd for several days, there are rumors from Finland that there is serious rioting at the capital and that the rumor is persistent that Grand Duke Alexis Nikolaievitch has been proclaimed emperor and that Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch is the real leader in Russian affairs.

Ex-Czar's Son Made Ruler.

Copenhagen, April 29.—The Stockholm Aftonblodet says that definite reports have been received from Abo, Finland, that Grand Duke Alexis Nikolaievitch, son of the former emperor of Russia, has been proclaimed emperor, with Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch as regent.

When Emperor Nicholas abdicated the Russian throne at midnight March 15, 1917, he also renounced succession to the crown of his son, Grand Duke Alexis, in favor of Grand Duke Michael Alexandrovitch. The next afternoon Grand Duke Michael himself abdicated, thus bringing the Romanoff dynasty to an end.

Where the proclamation referred to in the foregoing report was issued is not apparent from the dispatch received here.

See German Plot.

Washington, April 29.—Reports from Copenhagen of persistent rumors from Finland that Grand Duke Alexis Nikolaievitch, son of the former czar of Russia, has been proclaimed emperor of Russia were taken here to indicate that Germany was attempting to carry through a well-formulated plan for restoring a monarchy in that revolution torn country.

While no reports of a new revolt in Petrograd have been received at the state department from Ambassador Francis at Vologda, news of an [illegible] would not come as a [illegible]

The removal of the bolshevik government from the capital to Moscow was believed to have paved the way for the carrying out of the German plan. Reports have been received here that German soldiers formerly prisoners in Russia have been overrunning the capital and have made of it a German center.

In order to meet with any measure of success, attempts to restore the monarchy, it was said, would have to be made through an internal uprising that would have the semblance of a genuine revolt of the Russian people against existing conditions.

Shortages of all necessities, particularly in the larger cities, have caused great dissatisfaction among the Russian people, and for that reason it was felt that a revolt, even though it had for its purpose the restoration of the monarchy, might have strong support.

VOTE ON OVERMAN BILL TODAY

Vote Is 41 to 37 Against Amendment Which President Wilson Opposed.

Washington, April 29.—The administration on Saturday won the big fight in the senate over the Overman bill, which grants the president blanket authority to co-ordinate and consolidate various departments and bureaus of the government.

By a vote of 41 to 37 the Hoke Smith amendment exempting the federal reserve board from the operation of the bill was defeated after Senator Overman had declared he believed in his heart the amendment would humiliate the president.

A few minutes later the senate also defeated the Hoke Smith amendment exempting from the operation of the bill the interstate commerce commission, the vote being 42 to 35.

Because a number of senators indicated they had amendments to the bill they desired to press Senator Overman gave over the idea of passing the bill today, when it is expected the bill will be passed by a large majority. Many senators who voted for the amendments announced they would support the bill on its final passage.

BRITISH DROP 36,179 BOMBS

London Report Shows English Flyers Were More Active Than Germans in March.

London, April 29.—During March British aircraft in France dropped 36,179 bombs, and the German flyers dropped 2,465 bombs, the air ministry announced.

California Has Jap Village.

Few people realize that in the United States there is a village composed entirely of Japanese, who live their lives just as they did before leaving the Flowery kingdom. This quaint spot of interest is north of the long pier, a mile from Santa Monica, Cal. Here is the home of a number of Japanese fishermen. Their native dress, food and the daily routine of their lives are carried out as though the little village were on the far shore of Nippon. On Sundays are to be seen the native sports of the Japanese. The geisha girls serve tea and bonbons to visitors, while the young men display their prowess at wrestling, jiu-jitsu and other Oriental pastimes.—Los Angeles Times.

TAR SAVES HIS SHIP

U. S. Sailor Leaps on Depth Bomb Bomb Loose in Storm.

[illegible] Act Announced by Secretary Daniels—Hero Given Medal of Honor and $100.

Washington, April 29.—How John Mackenzie, a chief boatswain's mate in the naval reserve, by extraordinary heroism saved the converted yacht Remlik, on patrol service in European waters, was told in an announcement by Secretary Daniels that the navy department had awarded Mackenzie the medal of honor and a gratuity of $100.

During a heavy gale on December 17 a depth charge weighing several hundred pounds broke loose from its fastenings at the stern of the Remlik and went sweeping about the deck. The heavy seas washing over the quarterdeck made it dangerous for anyone to attempt to reach that part of the ship.

As officers and crew watched the bomb, some one saw the safety pin fall out of the charge, making it a source of serious danger to the vessel and crew.

Mackenzie, realizing the danger, shouted: "Watch me; I'll get it," and dashed down the deck, flinging himself upon the charging cylinder.

Three times the daring man almost had his arms about the bomb, but on the fourth attempt, got a firm grip on the cylinder, heaved it upright on one flat end and held it down until lines could be run to him and he and the bomb safely lashed. Soon afterward the ship was headed up into the sea and the charge was carried to a place of safety.

The Remlik's commanding officer, in reporting Mackenzie's act, said:

"Mackenzie, acting as he did, exposed his life and prevented a serious accident to the ship and entire crew. Had this depth charge exploded on the quarter deck with the sea and wind that existed at the time, there is no doubt that the ship would have been lost."

Before the war Mackenzie had served four years in the regular navy. He is a native of Massachusetts and his mother, Mrs. Mary Mackenzie, lives in South Hadley Falls, Mass.

DENIES BREAK WITH BERLIN

No Ultimatum Sent by Berlin to Holland, Dutch Legation at Washington Says.

Washington, April 29.—The Dutch legation authoised the statement that there has been no rupture of relations between Holland and Germany, and that no ultimatum had been dispatched to The Hague from Berlin. An official of the legation said:

"In the first place there has been [illegible], and in the second place [illegible] of relations."

The legation, as well as state department officials, denied the accuracy of reports that "Holland had placed an embargo on the exportation from the Dutch East Indies of tin, tin ore, cinchona bark, quinine, quinine salts and kapok, all of which are needed in large quantities by the United States for war purposes."

In declaring the story false the Netherlands legation said:

"There is no embargo, but information from the Dutch government is to the effect that exports of the commodities mentioned henceforth will be subject to export licenses."

36 STRICKEN ON STEAMSHIP

Cargo Handlers on Italian Liner Duca De Abruzzi Rushed to Hospital at Atlantic Port.

An Atlantic Port, April 29.—Thirty-six cargo handlers in the crew of the Italian steamship Duca de Abruzzi were taken suddenly ill on board and were rushed to a hospital. Pending diagnosis physicians said the symptoms resembled those of typhoid fever. An examination of the cargo was begun.

Bogota, Colombia, April 29.—The German steamer Prinz Eitel Friedrich, which has been interned at Puerto Colombia, was burned and sunk at its anchorage there. The steamer was owned by the Hahburg-American line and displaced 4,650 tons.

Former Atchison Mayor Dies.

Atchison, Kan., April 29.—Balie P. Waggener, general solicitor for the Missouri Pacific Railway company, died at his home here. Mr. Waggener was born in Platte county, Missouri, July 18, 1847. He held many political offices, having been mayor of Atchison and had served in both branches of the legislature.

ORDERED TO LEAVE AUSTRIA

Mother of Empress Zita Told Not to Re-Enter Country Until After the War.

Paris, April 29.—The Princess Marie Antoinette, mother of Empress Zita, has been ordered to leave Austria within twenty-four hours and not re-enter the country until the termination of the war, according to a dispatch from Geneva.

[Empress Zita has been blamed for the pro-German party in her husband's empire as being responsible for Emperor Charles' now famous letter to Prince Sixtus of Bourbon, his brother-in-law, in which he made overtures for peace to France. Anti-Teutonic tendencies have been attributed to the empress because of her Bourbon descent.]

M'ADOO PRAISES PEOPLE FOR AID TO LIBERTY LOAN

"SOUL OF AMERICA AWAKE"

Says Nation Never Failed to Do Any Job She Set Out to Do and Will Not Fail Now, if Every One Does Full Duty.

Chicago, April 29.—William G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, arrived in Chicago Sunday with a heartening message of the nation's third Liberty loan achievements, a glowing tribute to the ardor with which American citizens everywhere are meeting the country's financial exigencies, and a determined plea for the unmitigated strength which must characterize the final week of the campaign.

If America's rural population suffered contumely during previous bond subscriptions Mr. McAdoo's enthusiastic commendation of the farmers' loyalty during the present loan campaign should afford grateful encouragement. To the women of the United States, to railroad employees; in fact, "to all classes of people everywhere," Mr. McAdoo offers the approval of the government for "an unequaled and spirited degree of support.

In a statement issued upon his departure from the Art institute, Secretary McAdoo said:

"Having just completed a trip through the South and Southwest during which I have visited many middle-sized cities and towns, I have been deeply impressed with the splendid work being performed by Liberty loan workers everywhere.

"The farmers of the country and the people living in the less densely populated districts have supported the third Liberty loan with unusual effect and their subscriptions in many of the agricultural states have not only been highly encouraging, but show that the farmers of the United States are awakening to the gravity of the war and are determined to back the country to the limit in this great struggle for human liberty. I hope the farmers will continue their good work.

All Classes Enthusiastic.

"I am very proud of the splendid work the officers and employees of the railroads of the United States are doing for the third Liberty loan. Their enthusiasm and loyalty have been conspicuous. All classes of the people everywhere I have been are showing a wonderful enthusiasm and a degree of spirited support unequaled in either the first or second Liberty loan campaign.

"The people of the big cities, excellent as their efforts for the loan have been, will have to intensify their work to rival the results being achieved in the smaller towns and country districts.

"Thi people of the inland sections of the country are just as determined to fight this war for liberty and for the vindication of the rights of America to a victorious conclusion as are the people of the Atlantic, the Pacific and the gulf seaboards. It is indeed a heartening thing to travel through the country now and observe the loyalty, the spirit of self-sacrifice and the determined purpose of the people generally. The soul of America is awake with an intensity and a unity. which spells the doom of military despotism and the triumph of world democracy.

Need Billion More.

"But six days of the third Liberty loan campaign remain. The $2,000,000,000 mark has been passed but nearly $1,000,000,000 remains to be raised if the nation is to reach the minimum of $3,000,000,000 set for this loan. America will not be satisfied with the minimum. This war cannot be won with minimums. This is a war of maximums. The soldier and the sailor give the maximum for their country when they give their lives. The civil population must go the maximum also, but they do not have to give their lives to do so. They can go the maximum by oversubscribing every Liberty loan, by producing, and producing to the limit, the things required to sustain our armies in the field.

"During the remaining days of the campaign I earnestly hope that the men, women and children of the nation will throw themselves into this battle for liberty with the whole-hearted enthusiasm and self-sacrifice displayed by our noble soldiers and sailors.

"America has never failed to do any great job which she has undertaken, and she will not fail now if every one does his full duty. We must heavily oversubscribe the third Liberty loan and serve notice on the kaiser and his military autocracy that America will fight until doomsday, if necessary, to secure liberty and justice for the world."

Following a dinner, the treasury head retired with a view to recuperating sufficiently to review the sailors at the Great Lakes Naval Training station, preliminary to his departure for Grand Rapids, Mich., where he will be the principal at a war meeting.

Clever Fox Sparrow.

The fox sparrow prides himself, doubtless, because he is bigger than most of his American brothers. He is only a bit of a bird, at that, but song sparrow, white-throat, grass finch and a dozen or so of the others doubtless look on their fox-coated relative's additional inch as an ell, with something thrown in for good measure. The junco, the little slate-colored snowbird, a sparrow after his kind also, frequently accompanies the fox sparrow on his travels. There is a suspicion which is hard to lose that the fox sparrow jaunts along with the junco solely to make his own song secure among the acknowledged melodies, for the junco, while an insistent performer, pipes an attenuated tune.

Our Goods and Your Pocketbook

There are, maybe, a few exclusive shops in the big cities that can live on their trade with the rich. But most stores can't, and this store can't. Nor do we want to.

We'd much rather have a man of average income say, "I can get a good honest value at a good honest price at McCann & Bowen's" than to have some sweet chappie exclaim, "Oh, they do have the lovliest silk hats and the nattiest walking sticks in their chawming shoppe."

Whenever you've got to make a dollar look twice before it leaps, come here and see if you can't make it go a bit farther than most places. We believe you can.

A Business Should be as Big as Its Job

If bigness is of benefit to the public it should be commended.

The size of a business depends upon the needs which that business is called upon to serve. A business should be as big as its job. You do not drive tacks with a pile-driver—or piles with a tack-hammer.

Swift & Company's growth has been the natural and inevitable result of national and international needs.

Large-scale production and distribution are necessary to convert the live stock of the West into meat and by-products, and to distribute them over long distances to the consuming centers of the East and abroad.

Only an organization like that of Swift & Company, with its many packing plants, hundreds of distributing houses, and thousands of refrigerator cars, would have been able to handle the varying seasonal supplies of live stock and meet the present war emergency by supplying, without interruption:

First—The U. S. soldiers and the Allies in Europe by shipping as much as 800 carloads of meat products in a single week!

Second—The cantonments in the United States.

Third—The retailers upon whom the American public depends for its daily supply of meat.

But many people ask—Do producers and consumers pay too much for the complex service rendered?

Everyone, we believe, concedes the efficiency of the Swift & Company organization —in performing a big job in a big way at a minimum of expense.

Swift & Company's total profit in 1917 was less than 4 cents on each dollar of sales of meat and by-products. Elimination of this profit would have had practically no effect on live stock and meat prices.

Do you believe that this service can be rendered for less by any other conceivable method of organization or operation?

These questions and others are answered fully and frankly in the Swift & Company 1918 Year Book sent free on request.

PLANTS PURIFIERS OF AIR

Their Consumption of Carbonic Acid Gas, Always Going On, Is of Great Benefit.

Plants do not breathe or have any action corresponding to the breathing of animals. Oxygen is essential to the sustaining of life in animals, including human beings, and in breathing air they consume or appropriate the oxygen it contains and give off carbonic acid gas, which is poisonous. Plants do not consume oxygen, but they consume carbonic acid, thus helping to purify the atmosphere, which is to some extent rendered impure by the breathing of animals. They do not generate oxygen, but they release it by consuming the carbonic acid. Tyndall, a celebrated scientist, says: "Consider all the fires in the world and all the animals in the world continually pouring their carbonic acid into the atmosphere. Would it not be fair to conclude that our air must become more and more contaminated and unfit to support either combustion or life? This seems inevitable, but it would be a conclusion founded upon half knowledge, and therefore wrong. A provision exists for continually purifying the atmosphere of its excess of carbonic acid. By the leaves of plants this gas is absorbed, and within the leaves it is decomposed by the solar rays. The carbon is stored up in the tree, while the pure oxygen is restored to the atmosphere. Carbonic acid, in fact, is to a great extent the nutriment of plants, and inasmuch as animals in the long run, derive their food from the vegetable world, this very gas, which at first sight might be regarded as a deadly constituent of the atmosphere, is the main sustainer, both of vegetable and animal life."

FINEST WEATHER IN TROPICS

Climate So Delightful That the Average Person Would Soon Tire of the Monotony.

The days were wonderful, and the alternations of sun and wind were as exciting as the discovery of the strange Malayan beasts and birds. The sun rose softly—no breeze moved cloud or leaf, and even the light came at first moderately, indirectly, reflected from the higher peaks, or heliographed from the mirror of a half-hidden, distant waterfall. In early afternoon—one never knew just when—the faintest of breezes sifted down and blurred the lacery of tree-fern shadows. The wind was cool and soon strengthened, and by night the air was surging violently through the gap, siphoned from the cold summits down to the hot, humid valleys. Day after day one reawakened to the sense of tropical surroundings from a conviction of a northern autumn, with the wind full of swirling leaves and the fronds soughing with the same sad cadence as the needles of scented pines of the northland.—William Beebe, in The Atlantic.

Are You a Dangler?

A dangler is one who dangles, that is one who awaits the decisions of other people instead of choosing his own course and making circumstances conform to it. The dangler may be found any day in the open market, complaining because nobody hires him, or her, as the case may be. Our most celebrated and successful laborers asked no odds of anybody. They simply went to work, somewhere, anywhere that offered opportunity, and then they helped to build up the community that supported them and so became in time "grand old men," who to undiscerning minds seemed to have been wonderfully favored by fortune. They did not dangle, but became the strong supports upon which folk of a weaker sort leaned, and not in vain, that virtue would come out of them.

Artificial Sponge Propagation.

The growing scarcity of sponges has warned those familiar with harvesting them that unless means are provided to augment the natural supply the sponge industry will be seriously crippled in a few years more. An Englishman, living in Florida, some time ago selected a site off the Florida coast, where he started a sponge farm. At present he has about 600,000 sponges, which are capable by subdivision of increasing about tenfold every three years. At the end of three years an annual yield of 2,000,000 sponges can be had. — Portsmouth Chronicle.

The Big Mistake.

The only big mistake the Lord ever made, writes Aunt Mandy in the Paris Mercury, wuz in leavin' so many places to put things. I've been lyin' to the major ever' Saturday night for fifty years about his red flannel underwear an' he always ketches me in it. No woman kin keep her religion an' have the job uv puttin' a man's things away once a week fer that long. It 'ull make a liar out uv the best woman that ever lived, an' it makes me ashamed ever' time I think uv how the major has kept his confidence in me. —Kansas City Star.

Habitual Tendency.

"This show was written for the tired business man," remarked the manager. "The production cost a fortune."

"That's the one thing," replied Mr. Dustin Stax, "that bothered me. I'm a tired business man myself, and I got so busy figuring how you are going to pay interest on your investment that I couldn't keep my mind on the performance."

Lieut. John P. Sousa Composes a New March

Lieut. John Philip Sousa has composed a new march, "The Volunteer," and under his leadership the famous Great Lakes band will play it in the Auditorium, Chicago, on May 9. The same evening the Great Lakes blue jackets will give the opening performance of "Leave It to the Sailors," a musical show. After two performances in Chicago the show will take the road. The proceeds go to the permanent fund of the Illinois Auxiliary of the Navy Relief society.

WHAT A NEWSPAPER MEANS

Some Truths That the Average Man May Not Have Realized, but Here They Are.

What does the newspaper mean to you?

There is so much news no one can carry all of it. Someone must make selection. Do you appreciate how much depends upon this selection? Upon the selection and emphasis of the news depends the picture of the world upon which your judgments are based.

If a business man, your decision in business is affected by the newspaper you read.

In politics your opinions as a voter are swayed by them.

By what your wife reads you can see the trend of many of her interests and needs.

You have your thought turned in a new channel perhaps by what you read, and, when you find others concerned as you are and that the idea has been followed in their brains as in yours, you possibly discover how you can do collectively what you alone never could accomplish.

The newspaper enlarges the viewpoint of life for your boy in his college years. Stories of high purpose of achievement strengthen and uplift his standards. The great world of life which he has not touched exists to him only as presented by the newspaper.—New York Evening Mail.

ALL WILLING TO PAY FARES

Reason Why Citizens of Lima, Peru, Do Not Seek to Evade Their Street Car Obligations.

If fare registers were to be placed in the street cars of Lima, Peru, there would be a loud protest. This is not because it is easier to dodge the conductor under the prevailing system. On the contrary, the travelers of Lima are willing, even anxious to pay their fares. Perhaps that doesn't seem human, but the explanation is that upon receipt of the fare a numbered ticket is presented to the passenger, and it is a valuable lottery ticket.

The car lines are divided into four sections for the monthly and semimonthly drawings conducted by the railway company. In the three important sections a cash prize of $150 is offered. The fourth section offers a prize of $50.

Does the public approve of the lottery? Does it? Well 28,500,000 persons rode last year.

Silkworms of the Sea.

Plenty of worms live in the sea, and some of them are very beautiful creatures. Which latter fact ought to be consoling to ourselves, inasmuch as there are naturalists who contend that the earliest ancestor of the human race was a marine worm. But the so-called "silkworm of the sea"—the designation being purely figurative and poetical—is a bivalve mollusk properly known as the "pinna" and native to the Mediterranean. It spins a silk so beautiful that in ancient days the fiber was reserved exclusively for the weaving of royal garments. This silk is spun by the mollusk to furnish an anchor line by which it fastens itself to a convenient rock. It is extremely fine and very strong. Cleaned, dried and passed through combs, it is reduced to delicate threads of a lustrous brownish-yellow hue, which are woven into gloves, stockings and other articles. A pair of stockings of this material today costs $6.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Great Tibetan Industry.

By far the largest herds of musk deer are to be found on the southern shores of the Koko-Nor, and the supply of musk there (at Taochou) is larger than the quantity that comes through Sungpan. In fact, great quantities of musk do not come to Sungpan at all, but are sent east to Yuchow, in Honan, where a fair is held in the ninth and tenth moons, many of the Sungpan traders visiting this place. At Tachienlu musk is the most valuable export, practically every hong reeking with it, and nearly all the Tibetans who come from the far interior bring some with them. The price of medium musk there is thirteen times its weight in silver.

Shark Leather Here.

From being an indefensible enemy to man science is making the shark expiate its crimes by helping to reduce the high cost of living. For the tiger of the sea has now become a source of leather to clothe millions of pairs of feet.

Experiments with shark leather indicate that it may be used for practically everything now made of cattle leather. It is even claimed that shark hides have one great advantage over cowhides in that the "splits" are amazingly strong. A "split" is simply a peeling of the hide—something like the veneer cut from a slab of wood.

JUNIOR ORDER UNITED AMERICAN MECHANICS TO BE INSTALLED HERE ABOUT MAY 10th.

A local Council of the Jr. Order United American Mechanics will be instituted in Tecumseh about May 10th. Officers have been chosen as follows:

Councilor—H. W. Whaley
Vice Councilor—J. Floyd Elliott
Chaplain—Rev. W. B. Hartzog
Jr. Past Councilor—B. F. Williams
Warden—Ernest E. Howard
Conductor—Charles C. Richards
Financial Sec'y.—R. M. Motles
Recording Sec'y.—Wm. E. Bly
Inside Sentinel—Vern E. Cooper
Outside Sentinel—W. J. Watson
Trustees—Ed B. Pangle, F. E. French and R. V. Wilson.

The institution of the Council will be conducted by the National officers aided by a degree team, probably from Toledo.

The J. O. U. A. M. founded in 1853, has about 300,000 members, admits only those born under the U. S. flag; opposes foreign unsuitable immigration; upholds the public school system; encourages the reading of the Bible in the public school and the flag flying over them while in session; is against distribution of public money to sectarian schools; and strongly combats any tendency toward union of church and state. The order has presented to schools about 30,000 U. S. flags, under agreement to keep them displayed and installed in schools under pledge that they be used, about 12000 Bibles.

There is in connection a female auxiliary the Daughters of America with 100,000 native born women: a council of which will be formed in Tecumseh during this summer.

The Jr. Order U. A. M. pays sick and funeral benefits, the latter of which will be $400 in the local Council; and maintains, at Tiffin Ohio, an orphans' home where more than five hundred children of deceased members are constantly cared for and educated and which is considered a model of its kind.

Membership is open to any native American of good health and character, who accepts the principles of the Jr. Order and will be active in carrying them out, by voice and vote. Men sixteen years old and upward are eligible.

The present Immigration law of the U. A. which keeps out undesirable aliens is the work of the Jr. Order. Laws in various states, providing for free text books; making the daily raising of the flag over schools compulsory and similar objects have been initiated and carried to enactment by it. The order has a magnificent ritualist work, along patriotic and military lines and a Uniform Rank. It has introduced and now pending in Congress, a U. S. law providing that any alien of draft age who has not filed his first papers, be compelled at once to enlist or be expelled from the country.

MARGUERITE CLARK
Paramount Pictures

Tecumseh's favorite, Marguerite Clark, known as the sweetest girl in motion pictures, is being starred in "The Valentine Girl" an entirely different sort of a photoplay from any in which she has yet appeared. In "The Valentine Girl" the producers have secured a plot that is technically perfect and a role that fits Marguerite Clark as well as any she has ever played. Miss Clark's winsome personality lends itself particularly well to child impersonations and yet as a 'grown up young lady' she has a certain charm of manner seldom, if ever, equalled on the screen.

In this picture she combines the two in her inimitable fashion and has produced a character that will greatly endear itself to the heart of every one fortunate enough to see "The Valentine Girl."

Little Marion Morgan (Marguerite Clark), the wistful, quaint, little figure standing at her door of her father's home while he finishes his game with some fellow gamblers, is a pathetic little person who will win her way into the most hardened heart.

Many of the scenes in "The Valentine Girl" are laid in a wealthy gambler's home where extravagant and expensive furniture and a host of trained servants fail to make it "home" while other scenes are laid in humbler homes where 'made over' furniture and shabby rooms fairly bristle with the spirit of good cheer. Taken all in all patrons of the Bradley will find that the dainty little Marguerite Clark does some of her finest acting in "The Valentine Girl."

"The Valentine Girl" will be seen at the Bradley Opera House next Friday evening, May 3, under the auspices of the Campfire Girls.

RED CROSS NEWS

Please send all items for this column to Mrs. Hardy, who will be grateful for them.

It is only when traveling about that one realizes the immensity of the work the Red Cross has undertaken, and the omnipresence of its symbol. There is not a camp in the world at present, not a city, or a hamlet, where the Red Cross is not at work, either preparing goods for our soldiers, or protecting and shielding them either alone or in conjunction with the Y. M. C. A.

The Red Cross has erected so-called Community Houses in the different camps, the one at Camp Sheridan, Chillicothe, Ohio, is said to be one of the handsomest. The building itelf is in the shape of a Red Cross built of wood, and finished in mission style inside and out.

It is exquisitely simple, with its rough stone foundation, and heavy wooden pillars giving the impression of being a hundred years old. Everything bears out the Red Cross ideas, Red Crosses are painted on the dark wooden pillars, the wooden chandeliers are crosses, the windows are in the shape of the Red Cross.

There is a restaurant and luncheon room in one wing, where the soldiers and their friends, or any visitor to the camps may obtain food at moderate rates. There is a rest room for ladies, which contains every requisite a traveler might need to freshen up, and comfortable couches and armchairs to rest on.

Round about the big hall are tables with suites of furniture aronud them, both large and small, so that many many parties large or small can be as private as they choose.

Near the entrance is the office, where visitors can obtain information as to the whereabouts of any soldier they are looking for, and the building is always open, it never closes.

There is a booth where newspapers, magazines, cigars, candy, etc., may be bought.

One of the most interesting exhibits is furnished by the Government; it is nothing more nor less than a display of soldiers clothing, old, worn out or repaired.

On one side a large placard says: "Save now, it will help you when you are over there, do you know that the French and British soldiers endured unnecessary sufferings due entirely to their own neglect and carelessness."

Formerly a great quantity of serviceable clothing was thrown on the rubbish pile, but now the Government has equipped the different cantonments with an up to date repair and renovation shop, and this exhibit and renovation shop, and this exhibit shows what can be done. One table shows shoes puttees, hats and so on ruined through neglect and carelessness, another shows clothing worn out by the soldiers through fair wear and tear. Then different tables show garments repaired and made serviceable again. Useless garments are used to repair. So successful has this department become that less than ten per cent of the supposedly ruined garments are now thrown away.

No soldier or visitor can pass through the building without seeing this splendid object lesson in conservation; yet it could not be displayed but for the Red Cross work of the countless individual workers everywhere.

On one or two evenings weekly a band plays in the Community house and the officers, soldiers and their wives and sweethearts danced to their hearts content.

There is also a stage in one wing, where amateur and other theatricals take place.

It is a wholesome cheerful centre, which helps to abolish the red light district.

Near the Community house are four so-called sleeping lodges, for wives, sweathearts, or any visitors who may wish to visit the camps. They are all under the management of the Red Cross, but one was built by the D. A. R., one by the Y. M. C. A., another by the Masonic lodge, and by the Ladies Auxiliary.

The D. A. R. house contained 70 bedrooms, besides parlors large and small for use by the visitors, bathrooms, offices etc. The single cost $1 per night and the double $1.50. The sleeping lodges are selfsupporting.

I was told that practically the same institution existed in every camp.

The Red Cross Concert Company will resume their work commencing with a concert in the Grange Hall, Tipton, next Sunday, May 5th, at 7:30 p. m.

The company will go to any place that can be reached with an auto and will furnish the entertainment free to any Red Cross Branch, a collection to be taken at the end, half of which will go to the Red Cross Branch of the town where the concert takes place and half to the Tecumseh Red Gross. Please apply to Mrs. J. C. Law Hardy, Tecumseh.

The company is making an earnest appeal to owners of autos to donate their cars for one or more concerts. Kindly notify Mrs. Robt. Moore, who has charge of the transportation that you will give your car.

Dr. Bredow wishes to notify all those who have completed their course in standard dressings that they may register as instructors under No. 150 in the Women's Registration.

Mrs. Albert Clark has donated the standard ironing board that was asked for the surgical dressing room.

The surgical dressing room will start work at 2 p. m. until further notice, instead of at 1 p. m. as heretofore.

The ladies of the Research Circle work on Monday afternoons in the surgical dressing room and they would like some more of their members to keep them company and help the cause.

Mrs. Lydia McIntyre knitted six pairs of woolen socks last week.

At the meeting of the Tecumseh Chapter of the Masonic Lodge, held last Friday, one of the Grand Lodge officers present, Mr. Darling of Bronson, M. of 2nd V., proposed that the gathering take a free will offering for the Red Cross. This was done and $18.36 was added to the Donation Fund.

Mrs. Hardy would like some one who can use a typewriter to address envelopes and fold stationary for next week.

Jenny C. Law Hardy,
Publicity Director.

NOTHING BUT SHEER WISDOM

Possibly Aunty's Idea in Burning Chicken Feathers Was to Destroy Circumstantial Evidence.

The dainty and winsome heiress of a Kentucky planter, recently graduated from a fashionable northern seminary, was devoting the morning of the first day of her return to the old homestead renewing acquaintance with her father's darky retainers "down among the quarters." As she entered one of the cabins she saw old Aunt Martha, born in slavery during the life of the young lady's grandfather, bending over a broad log fire, carefully burning, piece by piece, a bunch of chicken feathers.

"Aunt Martha," inquired the young lady, after watching the work of the ex-slave a few moments in silence, "why do you burn those feathers so carefully and systematically? Is it because of some religious idea or a superstition?"

"No Missus Lucy," came the answer from the deliberate old woman, as she watched the last telltale feather crumple into nothing. "'Tain't no 'ligion an' 'tain't nuffin tuh do wid no sewpustishums. It's wisdom, Jes plain, out-an'-out, wisdum."

FOODS TASTE BETTER COOKED —TOBACCO TASTES BETTER TOASTED

Since the day of the caveman, who liked his meat raw, civilization has learned a lot about the scientific treatment of the things we eat.

Naturally none of us would now prefer to have our meat raw, our potatoes as they come from the ground, our coffee unroasted.

And naturally follows the great discovery recently made by The American Tobacco Co.—that tobacco tastes better TOASTED!

This wonderful new idea—simple like all great inventions—was first used in producing the famous LUCKY STRIKE Cigarette—made of toasted Burley tobacco.

Burley has a mellow flavor, entirely different from the tobacco usually used for cigarettes. It is a pipe tobacco and LUCKY STRIKE Cigarettes taste like a pipe.

LITTLE JOHN McCOMB MEETS SUDDEN DEATH

Run Over by Ford Tractor. Lives Only an Hour

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester McComb Living Northwest of Town

A fatal accident occurred about 6 o'clock Monday afternoon at the farm home of Lester McComb, who lives northwest of Tecumseh. Mr. McComb had been working in the field with a Ford tractor and was driving to the barn with it. He had with him his 5 year old son, who was sitting on the oil tank, and when the machine turned from the field into the road the little lad fell off, his father grabbed him by the coat but the buttons gave way and he rolled under the machine, the tractor running crossways over his stomach and one leg. The boy jumped up crying when his father gathered him in his arms and carried him to the house. The accident occurred not far from the house. The mother stood waching them drive in and saw the accident. Realizing what had happened she called Dr. Tuttle of Clinton who made a quick trip arriving about fifteen minutes after the accident. The little lad was suffering from internal hemmorhages and although everything was done for him that could be, he passed away in about an hour from the time of the accident.

The parents are prostrated with grief over the untimely death of their boy and the accident has cast a gloom over the entire neighborhood. A little girl, younger, is the only child left them. The funeral services will be held at the M. E. church Cinton, Wednesday at 2 p. m.

MRS. ALEXANDER PARK

Her two daughters, Mrs. May Meeks of Monroe and Mrs. Martha Nye are left to mourn their double loss of father and mother The heartfelt sympahy of the community goes ou to them in this their time of deepest sorrow.

The funeral was held this (Tuesday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. W. A. Rex officiating. Burial in Brookside.

NATHANIEL PITTINGER

During the illness of the late Clyde Haight, Mrs Haight's father Nathaniel Pittinger was with her and while here was taken ill on Thursday of last week.

He was removed to the home of another daughter at Hudson where he passed away, April 28, 1918, at the age of 80 years. The blow falls doubly hard on Mrs Haight as she and her five children were to make their home with her father.

J. H. SMITH HONORED

As Friday was the birthday of President J. H. Smith of the State Savings Bank, it was thought very fitting by his friends who gathered at his home Thursday evening for the anniversary party to make some demonstration honoring the event. A fine leather upholstered rocker was presented to him, Edward Frensdorf making a most fitting speech.

Of course it is understood that Mr. Smith was 25 years old, the age of the bank. The best wishes for many happy returns of the day were tendered him by all of his friends.

BAD ACCIDENT

Miss Josephine Mobbs met with a bad accident Saturday while riding her grandfather's horse. She had ben riding alone, but wishing to share the pleasure, had taken two children on the horse with her. PROSPECT FOR CHICAGO ST. STOP LOOKS GOOD

E. R. Bissell superintendent of the Detroit Division of the New York Central lines and P J O'Neil of Adrian, chief carpenter, are in town today, conferring with members of the Council and Commerce Club officials in regard to the much talked-of Chicago street stop. It is a little early yet to report any decision arrived at but prospects for this stop are bright at this time and the old postoffice building may be used as a downtown ticket office and baggage room. TECUMSEH EVIDENCE FOR TECUMSEH PEOPLE

The Statements of Tecumseh Residents are Surely More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers

Home testimony is real proof.

What a friend or neighbor says compels respect.

Here's a Tecumseh statement.

And it's for Tecumseh people's benefit.

Such evidence is convincing.

That's the kind of proof that backs Doan's Kidney Pills.

Thomas Langton, retired farmer, W. Chicago St., says: "I had kidney complaint and suffered with my back a great deal. My kidneys acted irregularly and the kidney secretion were unnatural. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and they strengthened my back regulated my kidneys and benefited me in every way."

It was the general opinion of the wreck victims themselves, railroad officials and witnesses that loss of life was prevented because of the fact that the special was an all-steel train.

Just north of the Summerdale station the "special" slowed up for a crossing and the Waukegan local crashed into the rear coach.

All of the jackies who were given medical treatment were in the two last coaches of the special, and those most seriously hurt were in the last car.

G. B. Vilas, general superintendent of the Northwestern road said that he had ordered an immediate investigation made.

Chief Executives and the Press.

When John Adams became president, in 1797, he was even more severely attacked in the press than Washington had been. But his administration fought the attacks. Armed by the sedition law, which was passed the following year, it sought to annihilate the papers which it could not force to surrender. In the fight, which lasted four years, the people rallied to the support of the papers and defeated Adams in the election of 1800 by putting Thomas Jefferson in the presidential chair.

Saving Tea for Soldiers.

In England tea has advanced in price to such an extent and it is at the same time so necessary an accessory of diet in the army that it is considered an act of patriotic economy to drink cafe au lait for breakfast instead of the usual cup of tea, notes a London correspondent. Of course, any coffee that is diluted with milk is cafe au lait, but the term is usually applied to the beverage as the French take it for breakfast. That is a mixture of clear coffee infusion to which is added a liberal amount of hot milk.

Dove That Built Great City.

When mighty Amru went to conquer Egypt he camped on the east bank of the Nile opposite Memphis, that great 20-mile-long capital of mud bricks, whose western verge was the pyramids and whose mud brick houses have all vanished. Amru crushed the Egyptians and came back to get his camp to move over and occupy Memphis. A dove had built in the folds near the top of his tent. Blood-bathed Amru, the ruthless, would not let her be disturbed. A new city started about his tents. It grew northward along the Nile. It is today Cairo. Memphis is only a name.

PUSH BACK HUN AT YPRES; MEETS BLOODY DEFEAT

Allies Now Holding All of Locre; Haig Wins Near Amiens.

REPEL GERMANS EVERYWHERE

Teutons Lose Hold on Much-Disputed Town—Flanking Movement Halted—Foe Hurls Thousands Fresh Troops Into the Battle.

London, May 1.—The correspondents with the British army agree that the enemy Monday suffered nothing less than a disastrous defeat. It was the first phase of the battle in his desperate attempt to capture the line of hills held by the allies, which endanger his possession of Mount Kemmel.

The successful defense by the allies made the day the bloodiest yet experienced by the enemy, as attack after attack was smashed by artillery and infantry fire. The Germans had already suffered heavily Sunday, when their concentrations of troops were caught and shattered by gunfire. Their waves were mowed down and the British wings and French center neither bent nor broke.

French Hold Locre.

London, May 1.—The French now hold the entire village of Locre, west of Kemmel, says the official statement from the war office. During the night he British advanced their line east of Villers-Bretonneux, on the front before Amiens.

In the vicinity of Locre the French counter-attacks drove the Germans from the remainder of the ground they had gained.

The Germans having been repulsed heavily all along the northern battle front, the night passed in comparative quiet.

Big Guns Active.

Paris, May 1.—Heavy artillery fighting occurred Monday night north and south of the Avre, in the sector of Noyon and along the Oise, the war office reports.

One of Bitterest in North.

With the British Army in France, May 1.—Monday was one of the bitterest days of fighting that the Flanders battle ground has seen since the present offensive began. Since early morning Von Armin had been flinging great numbers of German troops against the allies' line between Zillebeke lake and Bailleul.

At the same time a secondary thrust was made at the Belgians in the region of the Yser, north of Ypres.

Late in the afternoon the German commander had nothing to show for his tremendous drive, but a long list of dead and wounded. Along the major portion of the front his troops were held and where they succeeded by superior weight of numbers in pushing forward they were soon ejected by counter-drives. The allies' line is intact throughout.

French Line Is Re-established.

The Germans pushed on between Scherpenberg and Mont Rouge. A counter-attack by the French, however, gradually pushed the dogged Germans back until Locre had been regained, and the whole line re-established.

Meanwhile the British were holding with traditional valor and not an inch did they allow the hard-hitting enemy, notwithstanding the fact that the defenders were greatly outnumbered.

One regiment, which was holding a position astride the Kemmel-La Clytte road, had repulsed four fierce attacks up to the time the correspondent left the front. In and out the fighting continued at Voormezeele at latest reports. The Germans made strenuous efforts to capture the place, but the British clung tenaciously to their posts and the best the enemy could claim was a footing in the hamlet.

Fortune Favors Belgian Forces.

On the Belgian front, fortune also was with the defenders, for the Belgians in a spirited counter-attack drove the enemy back after the latter had pushed in and secured a few advanced posts.

The allies were being continuously bombarded and Ypres was smothered with gas.

A number of fresh divisions of Germans were engaged in the battle, having been brought up during the night. The artillery, likewise, was heavily reenforced. The German casualties were exceedingly heavy. The fighting is continuing with great fury.

Ever since the occupation of Kemmel the Germans have been pecking at the allies' line in the Kemmel region in an endeavor to find a weak spot. There have been heavy local engagements at numerous points.

NOT READY TO DRAFT LABOR

War Department Does Desire Registration of All Males of Military Age at Present.

Washington, May 1.—The war department is not ready to ask conscription of labor. Benedict Crowell, acting secretary of war, so notified Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the senate military affairs committee, in a letter on the McCumber bill for the registration of all male citizens of military age for labor purposes.

Camp Custer—French officers at Camp Custer will attend no more dances. The members of the French mission have been notified by their government that, in view of the suffering of the people of France, it is felt that officers of the army should refrain from taking part in such social functions.

Lansing—That great suffering is still to be found among the families of enlisted men from Michigan is shown by Miss Ruth Hurd, former teacher of domestic science in the Lansing public schools, now a state war board investigator. The war board is supplying food and funds in all such cases as soon as they are found.

Camp Custer—Private Alvin Slachowics, of Detroit, assigned to the 160th depot brigade, has been acquitted of refusing to have an operation for hernia, which interfered with his duties as a soldier. The trial developed, however, that the disorder did not interfere with his work and he was discharged. He was restored to duty with his company.

Saginaw—The prosecuting attorney has been asked to aid in having the marriage of Helen Cramton, 15 years old, a high school girl, to John Myers, 16 years old, and Catharine Pavalski, 17 years old, to Edwin Boose, 17 years old, annulled. The boys have left for Camp Merritt, N. J., with the field artillery. The marriages were performed by a minister, who was told the couples were of age.

Muskegon—Ground has been obtained on the west shore of Muskegon lake for a shipbuilding plant to be erected by the Peninsular Shipbuilding Corporation. It is stated by the promoters that work on the buildings and yard will be started soon. The corporation will start with a capital stock of $500,000 and will float a $500,000 bond issue. It is planned to have the plant completed within four months and to begin work with a force of not less than 500 men.

Detroit—Application of a zone rate on second-class mail matter, which would result in increases ranging from 50 to 900 per cent over the present class mail matter rate, is opposed by the World's Salesmanship congress. At its annual meeting here the salesmen adopted a resolution urging the government to repeal the section of the war revenue bill which provides for the zone rate before it goes into effect. It was pointed out that increase in the present class mail rate would curtail circulation of national magazines and periodicals.

FROM OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

Mr. and Mrs. John Gray on Wednesday received a letter from their son Horace who is with the 84th Co., 6th Reg., U. S. Marines. He has been in service across the seas since November 12th and as his people had not heard from him for two months they were much alarmed and accordingly joyful over the letter.

The following letter was received by Mrs. Samuel Reed from their son Daniel whom we reported a few weeks ago as injured in the service in France:

On Active Service with the American Expeditionary Force,
April 9, 1918.

Mrs. Mary Reed,
Tecumseh, Mich.

Dear Mother and all:

Just a line this morning. I am getting along finely. Will be up in a few days.

Yesterday was a nice day, but it is raining this morning. This must be the beginning of the rainy season which usually is in March. How is the weather there?

Is Walter still at Battle Creek and how is he? I have not heard from Everett yet. Has he enlisted yet?

According to the papers here the war will be over before long. I would like to get into it before the Huns are all killed off. I guess the boys are doing great work at the front. Now, write often.

With love. Dan.

The Boys say "Thank You"

Camp Custer, May 1st, 1918.

Mr. F. Turner,
Tecumseh, Mich.

Dear Mr. Turner:

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I write you at this time for I wish to express the gratitude and send the heartfelt thanks of the seven Tecumseh boys for the comfort kits and pillows received from the Tecumseh Red Cross. "The Biggest Little Town on Earth" has again proven her right to this title and has gone her neighbors one better.

We in the First Division received our lunches from the Adrian people, but the Second Division boys who received the lunches supplied by Tecumseh said theirs could not be beat, which all goes to show that Tecumseh is "there" at the front.

The Tecumseh boys, with the exception of Comfort, are all here in the same barracks now, with Co. B, 328th Machine Gun Battalion, and the indications are that we will not be changed at present. Barracks No. 221, in case any of the relatives or friends of the boys wish to find them.

I wish to add the boys are all happy and feeling fine. Have been fortunate in being assigned to the prettiest and best kept barracks in the camp and they have all settled down to the task of making themselves good soldiers, soldiers that Tecumseh can be proud of when they return, which they surely will do.

Yours very truly,
K. A. Braman.

Dear Friend:

Just a few lines is all have time for so will try and tell you how I am and what I think of this country.

Well, we landed safe and I am feeling somewhat good only I have a bad cold, but hope to be well soon. The place we are in looks quite queer to me as it is somewhat of an old place and the people are what they call the low class of France. There are some nice places out farther from town for we could see them coming in on the boat. They are made out of this lime stone and looked very pretty for most of them had big lawns and the grass was green like it is over there in the spring time. If you remember how some of the places looked on our eastern trip when we went through New York State, well, they look just the same here. There are some which are run down for everybody is at the front and there is no one left to do the work, only women and girls.

Well I cant think of anything more to write about just now and they are going to have movies here tonight at the Y. M. C. A. so will close with lots of love to all.

Yours ever,

Tell R. A. I would like to have him give my regards to the bunch.

To Miss Lucy Train from Ross Ferguson

Chattanooga, Tenn.,
2nd Co. R. O. T. C.
April 20th, 1918.

Dear Friend Lucy:

Have been going to write you for some time past, but first one thing then another came up. I have been very busy since I came up here January 5th. Now expect to go back to Ft. McPherson in a few days and will be glad as Atlanta is a very nice town to be near.

They are giving us the real war in this training, as we have been digging trenches, then we occupy them the same as we will when we get on the other side.

Yesterday we all went over to the gas house. This was to teach us how to use our gas masks. They gave us just six seconds to put them on and, believe me, one has to hustle some. My mask had a small hole in it and it gave me a bad headache but that was all. Everyone who is in training here has to go through it once.

There are a good many conscripts here in the park now. They say in time it will be one of the largest medical camps in the world.

Had a letter from Anna a short time ago. She wrote that she was quite busy but liked her work so much. Her letters are always a month or more old when they get here.

We are having a spring shower today but the fruit trees are all in bloom and after the long and hard winter, is sure a big relief to everyone, as the houses here are not made for the cold weather.

I don't know when we will go to France. In fact, no one ever knows until they are ready to move. The colonel at Ft. McPherson don't like to have his men taken away and as that is now General Hospital No. 6, under the War Department, don't think there is much chance of us going soon.

Must close now as I have to go to my class. Give all my old friends my best regards. Write me when you have the time. With love.

Ross Ferguson.

We are indebted to Lester Rogers for the following letter from Rev. J. G. Widdifield, the rector of St. Peter's Episcopal church:

In active Service with the A. E. F.,
France, March 30th, 1918

My dear Rogers:

This is the first opportunity that I have had in a long time to write you anything concerning myself. This is Easter Eve, although this year that means only a name to me. I have known no Lent and everything has been so different from former years. Yesterday, Good Friday, I was driving all day through a rain and a wind, and today has been very much the same. I am hoping that tomorrow I shall be able to do a little differently, but things are in such a chaotic condition just now on account of the movement of troops all over the country. You see we are in the midst of the great German drive, and everyone realizes that now is the time to strain every nerve. It is going to fail of course, but you probably know more of it than we do as we are too busy even to glance at the papers from day to day.

I just got back from a six weeks sojourn at the front this week, and I wish that I could tell you some of the interesting experiences that I had up there, but I am afraid that must all be reserved for personal relation when I get back. All the time I was there I was driving a Ford camionette. It was my particular business to look after the troops where there was not a regular Y established, and that meant many units, as all was in a constant state of change. It took me all over the sector and into all sorts of weird places. Up into the support trenches, up into the large caves, which sometimes house a many as 1500 men, etc it was my business and privilege to go. I sold them the things that they needed and desired, cashed checks for them, and did any other little services that I could. It had its element of spice too for Mr. Boche's big guns had little respect for the sign of the red triangle and made it as warm for me sometimes as was comfortable. However I enjoyed it all very much and value the experience. This I can also say, that the action of our men there certainly made me proud of them. No American need ever fear that his representatives over here will not compare most favorably with the wonderful troops of our Allies. They at least gave the world a new term. They refuse to call the ground in front of their trenches "No Man's Land" basing their contention on the fact that they did as they liked in it. They went over it when they liked and when the Boche attempted to do the same thing they refused permission, and made him obey much to his own discomfort.

I would so much like to be back with you all for tomorrow. It ought to be a day with so much meaning just at the present time. I expect that it will be that to you at home, but we here will miss much of its significance, caught in the whirl of things. I have been thinking a great deal lately of my future plans, and all things considered, I have come to the conclusion that I shall return to you this summer or fall. I am not minimizing the need of the work that is being done over here, but the personell of the Y is getting stronger and stronger every day, and I feel that by the time summer comes I can well be spared and someone can easily take my place here, and that my duty will be stronger at home. The time of pioneering will be, in fact, is, over on this end of the line. So that all being well, I shall be back to take up my work in the early fall

Please give my kindest remembrances to all. If, tonight some mesmerism could carry to you my thoughts you would know how sincerely I wish you all the blessings of Easter.

Faithfully Yours,
Jas. G. Widdifield.

Mr. and Mrs. John McKinney of Toledo arrived Tuesday from a two months' stay in Jacksonville, Fla., and on Wednesday went to Sand lake to remain until about Thanksgiving at the Log Cabin.

AUSTRIA IN PEACE PLEA TO ITALY

Catholic Press Agency Says Emperor Charles Has Made Advances to Rome.

MAY BE NEW "OFFENSIVE"

Petrograd Dispatch Says Russians Are Preparing to Re-enter War—Plans Are on Foot to Raise Large Army at Once.

Stockholm, May 1.—The Catholic International Press agency announces that Emperor Charles is making a peace offer, appealing to Italy to accept it in behalf of her own interests.

Russ May "Come Back."

Petrograd, May 1.—Russia is preparing in the most serious manner to reenter the war, so far as possible under the present circumstances.

The pan-executive council of Moscow, on the eve of the receipt of the "forty-second ultimatum" from Germany, adopted War Commissionaire Trotzky's plan of universal military training for all men from sixteen to forty and conscription of all workers and peasants. Those not belonging to these classes will be forced to train, but will not be taken into the army unless necessary.

Old specialists in military apparatus and the best general officers have already been called into service and the elective committee systems in the army have been abolished, only the civil commissionaires being retained.

Expect Large Army.

The new plan is expected to yield a large army within ten months.

The opposition charges that the soviet government is aiming at its own preservation rather than the defense of Russia.

British, American and Japanese representatives attended the meeting. All parties agreed that Russia's slogan now is:

"Return to the war as soon as possible."

Either that, or Russia must become the object of contention and division for the other powers.

If the allies hold until next spring, Russia will be able to strike with new, fresh millions—and the doom of Germany will be sealed.

The men were then given orders to leave the vicinity at once. Mrs. R. L. Vanhoesen of Thayer, Mo., arrested with the men, was not molested.

HUNS DEMAND WAY TO FRONT

Ask Route to Antwerp Because Dutch Yielded to U. S. in Ship Demands.

Amsterdam, May 1.—Germany demands from Holland, says the Vossische Zeitung of Berlin, the right to send war material over the Limbourg railway to Antwerp, the right to send foodstuffs for shipment from Antwerp and the renewal of treaties relating to the importation of sand and gravel.

"As Holland," the newspaper adds, "recently yielded to Anglo-American pressure, she must grant these conditions to redress the balance."

The convention will continue until May 8, and it has been announced that the program will be devoted largely to a discussion of war service problems as they affect the women of the nation.

BILLS SEEK VAST U. S. ARMY

Measures to Add Millions of Men to the American Forces Are Introduced.

Washington, May 1.—Measures to add millions of men to the American army were introduced in the senate in the afternoon. Senator Hoke Smith of Georgia introduced a resolution calling upon the military affairs committee to prepare a bill for an army of 5,000,000. Senator Reed of Missouri introduced a bill calling for 3,000,000. Senator Poindexter introduced a bill directing the secretary of war to call 1,500,000 to the colors.

Paris Is Bombarded Again.

Paris, May 1.—The long range bombardment of the region of Paris was resumed Tuesday morning.

East Lansing—A quick method for cleansing seed potatoes of the germs of scab and black scurf has been found and will be sent free on application to the experimental station, M. A. C.

Jackson—Oscar Raymond Olin, alias Thomas C. Larsoin, and Samuel C. Butler escaped from the prison by secreting themselves in a box car which was switched out of the prison yards.

Manistee—Housewives of this region were here for a three-day food conservation exposition, learning conservation receipts and watching home economics demonstrations by M. A. C. experts.

Grand Rapids—Chas. Velliey, 28, was drowned in a ditch near the outskirts of the city when an automobile occupied by Velliey, James Howard, 26, and an unidentified man struck a [illegible] of gravel.

LARGEST DRAFT READY TO ISSUE

United States Preparing to Call 300,000 Men in Month of May.

TO FILL ALL CANTONMENTS

Secretary Baker's Plan for Speeding Huge Army to France Expected to Bear Fruit at Once—To Form Picked Army.

Washington, May 1.—The casualty list contains 58 names, divided as follows: Killed in action 2, died as result of accidents 2, died of disease 6, severely wounded 5, slighly wounded 1, missing 1.

Washington, May 1.—The largest drafts yet summoned to the colors since the initial call which organized the National army will be made by the war department almost immediately. The first call will affect the May contingent ordered out. The department made it plain in its weekly review that it intended increasing the number of men called into service at once.

If the plans now considered are carried out, as believed absolutely necessary, the call for May will total 300,000 men, while the call for June will reach very nearly 200,000.

Fill All Cantonments.

Army officers refused to discuss their intentions in advance of official action by Secretary Baker and Provost Marshal General Crowder. They privately admitted, however, that the figures mentioned above were approximately correct. Quotas after May and June will be reduced to fit the cantonment and camp limitations. It is hoped, however, to get as large a percentage as possible of the men who will be called this year into service at once, so that they can be sent overseas to complete their training before next winter.

Ask Army of 3,000,000.

It is no longer a secret that the estimates now in hand will raise the total army strength to 3,000,000 fighting men. It is equally well understood that even greater expansion will be required before the close of the next fiscal year.

It is made plain by all army officials that America's imperative duty will be to provide the replacement units for the French front.

The references to replacement troops should not be permitted to create the impression that United States soldiers are being employed for the sole purpose of filling gaps in the French and British armies. Under the supreme command of General Foch an American army of constantly growing proportions and led by American generals is now playing an individual part in the conflict.

Form Picked Army.

This army is composed of certain picked divisions of the old military establishment which had been trained to the hardships of military life on the Mexican border. Its position is in front of Amiens. These men already have been in the thick of one fight.

Other American divisions are in sole possession of sectors in the line where there is less activity. They have relieved seasoned French troops which are now in Flanders. The character of the duty supplies the very best for of training.

FINN WHITES STORM VIBORG

Bolsheviki Force Wiped Out in Desperate Attempt to Break Lines—Six Thousand Killed.

London, May 1.—The white guards, or Finnish government forces, captured Viborg, 75 miles northwest of Petrograd.

Nearly the entire force of 6,000 red guards was killed in the battle, according to an official announcement issued at Vasa and transmitted from Copenhagen by the Exchange Telegraph company.

The red guards made a last desperate attempt to break through in the direction of Frederiksham, and were wiped out.

TO AID NEEDY ENEMY ALIENS

Swiss and Swedish Legations Will Help United States in Relief Work.

Washington, May 1.—Relief work among indigent enemy aliens will be directed by the legations of Switzerland and Sweden, representing respectively German and Austro-Hungarian interests, according to Secretary Lansing's announcement published here. The work will be done with the cooperation and approval of the American government.

Bulgars Give up Adrianople.

Washington, May 1.—Bulgaria has agreed to let Turkey have the Adrianople station on the Karagatsch railroad as well as the left bank of the Maritza river up to Kalebi Buzeas according to a dispatch today from France.

King George of Tonga Dead.

Melbourne, May 1.—George II, king of the Tonga islands, is dead.

Detroit—Private Walter John Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Ward, of 104 Missouri avenue, serving with the U. S. marines in France, was killed in action. Word received by his parents from Maj. Gen. Barnett came on the first anniversary of his enlistment.

Birmingham—Leslie Gordon, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gordon, of Southfield avenue, was accidentally shot in the face with a revolver by John Harris, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Harris of this place. Young Gordon was taken to Harper hospital, Detroit.

Grand Rapids—Mayor Philo Fuller has ordered the arrest of members of the Liberty committee which painted the homes of alleged pro-Germans here. The last four homes painted were mistaken ones. Legal action rather than mob rule was demanded by the mayor in a proclamation.

Up to noon today 625 women of Tecumseh have been registered out of a possible 825 in this school district. This is a fine showing. Every indication points to the women of Tecumseh making it 100 per cent by the end of the week. The committee in charge are urging those who have not yet registered to do so at once, it will only take a few minutes of your time and you will be complying with the wishes of your Government.

Your Government has meant every thing to you in the past, you have had more liberties than possibly any other Government on earth has given to its women, so show your loyalty by stepping in to either of the banks and placing your name on one of the registration cards. The day may come when the information you give will serve you well as no one can tell how long this war will last nor what the American people will be called upon to do. We must all back Uncle Sam to the limit.

SUFFERED FOR HIS COUNTRY

Silas Deane, First American Diplomatic Agent, Received Harsh Treatment From Government.

Silas Deane, the first diplomatic agent of the United States, was born at Groton, Mass., close to 200 years ago. He became a merchant and was a delegate to the first Continental congress. In the spring of 1776 he was sent to France as a secret diplomatic agent. He posed as a merchant from Bermuda, and upon his arrival in Paris sought an interview with Count de Vergennes, the Minister of Foreign Affaires, who refused to receive him. Deane was reduced to the direst poverty and was ejected by his landlady.

Subsequent American ambassadors have complained of the lack of suitable embassies, but Deane was reduced to a point where he had to accept poor lodgings from a sympathetic Frenchman. Eventually he was given an audience with Vergennes and began the diplomatic relations which eventually resulted in the French alliance. In 1777 Deane was recalled.

In the bitter controversy which followed his recall Thomas Paine revealed the fact that supplies furnished the colonies had been furnished by the French government. This was considered a diplomatic indiscretion and it cost Paine his place as secretary of the Committee on Foreign Affairs. Deane, driven into poverty and exile, died in England in 1789. Half a century later his claim for his services abroad was adjusted by congress and a large sum was paid his heirs.

ALL MADE EQUAL BY DEATH

No Democracy Ever Conceived Is at All Comparable to That of the Tomb.

In the democracy of the dead all men at last are equal. There is neither rank nor station nor prerogative in the republic of the grave. At this fatal threshold the philosopher ceases to be wise, and the song of the poet is silent. Dives relinquishes his millions and Lazarus his rags. The poor man is as rich as the richest, and the rich man is as poor as the pauper. The creditor loses his usury and the debtor is acquitted of his obligation. There the proud man surrenders his dignities, the politician his honors, the wordling his pleasures; the invalid needs no physician, and the laborer rests from unrequited toil.

Here, at last, is nature's final decree in equity. The wrongs of time are redressed. Injustice is expiated, the irony of fate is refuted; the unequal distribution of wealth, honor, capacity, pleasure and opportunity which makes life such a cruel and inexplicable tragedy, ceases in the realm of death. The strongest there has no supremacy, and the weakest needs no defense. The mightiest captain succumbs to that invincible adversary who disarms alike the victor and the vanquished.—John J. Ingalls.

Sprouts After 1,000 Years.

At the Zensui Temple, Iwane village, Koga-gun, Shiga Prefecture, a very ancient wooden idol of Vaisravana was opened four years ago and some rice that had reposed therein fully ten centuries was removed and planted. The seeds germinated and the rice grown therefrom appears to be similar in all respects to that of the present day. The yield was large and the crop for next year from this seed is expected to be excellent.

Vaisravana is the God of Treasure. When the statue was repaired a bag of coarse flaxen textile was exhumed containing rice seeds, with a piece of paper bearing the following inscription, in Chinese: "This image has been engraved for the peace of the world. If any one of later generations opens it, he should put in new seeds." The Tokyo Academy of Fine Art pronounces the image and its contents of great antiquity—at least 1,000 years old.

West [illegible]—The six-year-old sons of Charles Morse and Guy Stark, of Rose City, were bitten by a dog later found to have the rabies, and they were rushed to the Pasteur institute at Ann Arbor for treatment.

Lansing—By order of Federal Food Administrator Prescott, the Montague Rolling mill of Montague was closed for one week. The proprietor of the mill is charged with violating the federal food regulations by selling flour without substitutes.

BAR WAY TO EVIL SPIRITS

Malaysians Believe Mountains Were Placed to Shut Out Strange Race of Yajuj.

In the dak bungalow at Kwala Kubu (in Malayasia) the Chinatoy chowkidar, queue in pocket, shod in shoes of silent felt, served my breakfast. I was at last on the threshold of a strange expedition in a land to which no letter ever came correctly addressed, so unknown was it to the outside world. At this moment the strangest thing in sight was my breakfast. It consisted chiefly of tins of tiny Mongolian finches—humming birds in size, squabs in taste—canned a dozen in a tin.

As I devoured the pitiful little birds, bones and all, I looked up at the great Malay mountain range, the backbone of the finger peninsula which stretches southward from Siam to within sight of the hund of Singapore itself. Mountains, so the Malays say, are the wall of the world, shutting out great winds and beasts of prey. And they believe that a strange race—the Yajuj—are forever striving to bore through, and when they succeed, then will come the end of all things.

The great limestone caves scattered throughout the mountains are places where the Yajuj have attempted and failed. There is nothing impossible or unbelievable in all this, when one comes to know Malay mountains in all their weirdness.—William Beebe, in the Atlantic Monthly.

RUDE AWAKENING FOR GUEST

Visiting Parson Got the "Dusting" That Irate Father Intended to Bestow on Offspring.

A story of how a parson got the dusting instead of a youth is related by a newspaper man of Wenatchee, Wash.

"The boy in the plot was Oscar Woods," he says. "It happened in Nebraska. In our home it was the custom for one of the boys to take his turn at starting the fire on cold mornings. It was 15 degrees below zero, and it was Oscar's turn. He lit the fire and then proceeded to the barn to feed the stock. But the fire went out.

"An hour later, perceiving that there was no fire, father sent another call louder. Then several more. But no sound came. The 'governor' started upstairs.

"Without informing the head of the house, my brother had brought home a preacher the night before and put him in the same bed with Oscar.

"The parson had a thrilling awakening. He was yanked out of bed. He resisted. This was too much for indignant dad.

"The conflict was exciting. The preacher fought like a wildcat.

"In the cold gray dawn dad found that he had made a mistake. It was tough, but the preacher survived."

Earthquake Statistics.

It has been calculated that there occur about 30,000 earthquakes within a year, or 8,760 hours, hence, that there are on the average three and one-half earthquakes in an hour. Fortunately, not all earthquakes are of a violent nature, like that of A. D. 526, that killed from 120,000 to 200,000 persons in the region of the Mediterranean, or that of 1693, to which 60,000 persons fell victims in Sicily, or of Lisbon in 1755, and those that devastated Chile, Peru and Japan. Of great frequency are the minor earthquakes. In fact, our so-called firm earth can be said to be in a state of perpetual agitation. Our senses do not perceive the slight disturbances, but the seismograph, a very delicate and ingenious apparatus devised to keep track of them, furnishes all the information denied to us by our natural insensibility. They often furnish us too much of it in the excess of their zeal, recording sometimes as seismic phenomena vibrations that later proved to have been due to the ringing of church bells.

Privileges of the Poor.

Will you show me any other people outside of the fairy books who can put the most fearful calamity on like a cloak and doff it at will, who can augment their families to seven or eight children overnight, and reduce them as readily to five or six on the following day if it but seem to them advisable? Where outside their ranks is there anyone capable of persuading you that it is a privilege to sleep cold so that some Darius you never saw or care to see shall, be had his allegorical mule, go better warmed? Who else, being neither of your kith nor kin, has such power over you that, with a mere bloodshot eye and shiver of the shoulders, they can turn your automobile, your furs, your warmth and all your pleasant pleasures into Dead sea apples of discomfort?—Laura Spencer Porter, in the Atlantic Magazine.

Now They're Mollycoddles.

Dandies who are making their reappearance at the Royalty theater, were fast disappearing when Queen Victoria began her reign, says the London Times.

Extravagance in dress and manners did not of course originate with them, but in earlier times there were other names for those who were noted for similar eccentricities. They were called beaux in the days of Queen Anne and the earlier Georges, "fops" and "sparks" being scornful synonyms.

In the latter half of the eighteenth century these fashionable fops were known as macaronis, and the dandies may be said to have come in during the regency.

Camp Custer—The erection of a down-town club house for soldiers was authorized by the board of governors of the war recreation board.

Grand Rapids—The board of estimates increased the pay of patrolmen and firemen 25 cents a day. They also voted $100,000 to cover increased salaries of teachers.

Albion—The publication of the names of Albion's "immortal forty" who would not subscribe to the war fund has brought about an increase in pledges. The amount being paid monthly now by the city is $1,937.70. The board, at the beginning of the campaign last November, aimed at $2,000 a month.

Marshall—The Michigan Central railroad paid $3,000 to George Howell, and $4,000 to Ford Mahoney, in settlement of claims resulting from the death of Mrs. Howell and Mrs. Mahoney and her daughter, when they were killed in a Camp Custer taxi at the Kendell street crossing in Battle Creek, December 10.

POPULARITY OF BLUE GRASS

Kentucky Soldiers, on Return March From Battle of Tippecanoe, Gathered Seed in Indiana.

The tradition that the Kentucky soldiers who fought at Tippecanoe took back with them the seed that has made blue grass famous in central Kentucky, has never been questioned or seemed to require authentic proof, declares a writer. Mrs. Levering says, in her "Authentic Indiana:"

"It was on the return march from the battle of Tippecanoe that the soldiers from Kentucky gathered the seed of the blue grass which they found growing in Indiana, and carried it home with them, thinking it was a superior variety because it satisfied the hunger of their horses so well that they would not eat corn. It flourished so well on the limestone soil of central Kentucky that it made that state famous." This statement was based on information obtained from early settlers of Indiana. Kentucky was not known as the blue grass state, until many years after the battle of Tippecanoe.

As long as slavery existed, Kentucky, lying south of the Ohio river, was classed as a Southern state. It never was classed as a central Western or middle Western state along with Ohio and Indiana. In the census report of 1910, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin were classed as "East North Central states" and Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi as "East South Central states."

When Indiana was admitted to the Union, in 1816, it consisted of 13 counties, viz.: Wayne, Franklin, Dearborn, Switzerland, Jefferson, Clark, Washington, Harrison, Knox, Gibson, Posey, Warrick and Perry. In the subsequent creation of 79 counties out of these, making 92, the boundaries of the original 13 counties underwent material changes.

WIFE'S FEAR WAS AROUSED

Stranger's Inquiry About Hubby's Description Was Merely to Warn Against Unhealthy Coconuts.

He entered the ladies' sitting room at the railway station, walked up to a woman whose husband had left the room about ten minutes previously, and calmly inquired: "Madam, your husband went out to see the river, didn't he?"

"Yes—why?" she asked, turning pale in an instant.

"He was a tall man, wasn't he?"

"He was," she replied, rising up and turning still paler.

"Had red hair?"

"He had. Oh, what has happened?"

"Weighed about 180 pounds?"

"Yes—yes! Where is he—where is my husband?" she exclaimed.

"Couldn't swim, could he?"

"He's drowned—my husband is drowned!" she wailed.

"Where is my husband? Where is the body?" she gasped.

"Do not get excited, madam. Did your husband have on a gray suit?"

"Yes. Oh, Thomas—my Thomas!"

"And lace-up boots?"

"Let me see him—let me see him!" she cried.

"Come this way, madam, but do not get excited. There is your husband across the street at that fruit-stand?"

"Why, yes, that's him; that—that's my husband!" she exclaimed joyfully. "I thought you said he was drowned."

"No, madam, I did not. I saw him buying a coconut, and I believe it to be my duty to say to you that coconuts are not healthy at this season of the year."

The Emblem of France.

The fleur de lis is the emblem of France, and is believed to be the white-flowered Florentine Iris, the flower de luce. "What sayest thou, my fair flower de luce?" says the English king to the French princess in Shakespeare's play. The French have a pretty legend of their lily which tells that at the baptism of King Clovis, of the long and perfumed hair, a blue banner came fluttering down from heaven over which were sprinkled golden fleur de lis. From that time they appear on the arms of the country. They have a verb, "fleurdeliser," meaning to embroider scattered flowers over a fabric, or, as embroiderers say, to "pepper with flowers." Edward III borrowed the lilies of France after his war with that country and they were borne by England until the beginning of the nineteenth century.

Cock and Bull Story.

Cock fighting is still the national sport of the Dominicans, although it is declining in popularity. Under the national gambling laws cock fighting may be prohibited. It may, however, be licensed by the various municipalities, and it usually is, as it yields them a good revenue. While bull fighting is permitted in the Dominican republic, it has never been popular in this island. At long intervals a toreador comes here en route from Spain to Peru or Mexico, and a few bull fights are held in the various towns, but they do not attract a large attendance. There are no professional bull fighters among the Dominicans.—Commercial Reports.

Poor Financier.

He—We'll have to give up our intended summer trip. My account at the bank is already overdrawn.

She—Oh, John, you are such a wretched financier. Why don't you keep your account in a bank that has plenty of money?—Boston Transcript.

Grand Rapids—An appeal has been made to members of the American Protective league by officers of the Kent county division not to engage in the operation of the "Liberty league", a body which has several times of late applied paint and posted warnings on homes and stores of residents whom they alleged to be pro-German.

Albion—A miscarriage of mob rule took place here when men drove into Albion from the country and painted red and yellow paint on the sidewalk in front of the home of F. W. Kimmer, a man who is one of Albion's most loyal patriots, a veteran of the Civil war, and giver to all funds here. The men evidently made a mistake in the house.

Hudson—The local schools were temporarily closed following the resignation of every teacher but one following action of the school board in reinstating one of four boys who had been ordered to make up work they had missed when they skipped school. The other three boys were making up their work, the fourth being shown favoritism by the board, according to the teachers.

"BETTER BLIND THAN DEAF"

Scientific Writer Points Out Why the Former Affliction Is Less Hard to Bear.

Scientists have shown that sound not only informs the intellect, as does sight, but that, much in excess of that sense, it excites feelings—that is, sound pure and simple has a specific relation to feelings widely different from that of sight.

Its primary effect was the creating of moods, Margaret Baldwin writes in the Atlantic magazine. This being so, the simple fact is that sound has far more to do fundamentally with originating our emotions, or how we feel from day to day, than has what we see.

It should be said in passing, that there is very little recognition of this fact by the person with normal hearing. Sight and sound are so interwoven for him that he does not discriminate as to what belongs intrinsically to each in the province of feelings. It is only when the two are clearly separated, as in deafness or blindness, that experience takes note of what belongs to the one and the other.

A scientific writer points out that we can see with indifference the writhings of a suffering animal that is still, but that, if there are cries of pain, it produces emotions at once. We are distressed. In reports of terrible marine disasters, it is almost never said by people that they can never forget the sights they saw, but always that they can never forget the cries of the drowning.

Although one would hardly hesitate to say that the excess of the blind man's calamity over that of the deaf man is sufficient to overbalance this elemental function of sound to produce moods, yet the universal fact remains that the blind are more cheerful than the deaf.

Gifted Writers Indolent.

De Quincey has called Coleridge "a man of infinite title pages," and he says he heard Coleridge admit that a list of the books he meditated but never executed would fill a large volume. In this respect the two opium eaters were rivals. Perhaps their fertility in projects was due, as Coleridge fancied, to an overactivity of thought, "modified by a constitutional indolence," and had nothing to do with opium. On the other hand, De Quincey believed that his opium eating prevented him from writing the book he intended to make his life work, the slow and elaborate result of years of toil, to which he had "presumed to give the title of an unfinished work of Spinoza's, viz., 'De Emendatione Humani Intellectus.'" In a later mood he devised a "Prolegomena to All Future Systems of Political Economy," and made arrangements with a provincial printer for its production, but its author never even got as far as the preface.

MICHIGAN BREVITIES

Battle Creek—The use of cigarettes or tobacco in any form has been prohibited at the Battle Creek sanitarium

Owosso—The war department has advised relatives here of the death in France, of Lieutenant Charles S. Williams, of the Flying corps. He was killed in an aeroplane accident. Lieutenant Williams was a graduate of the University of Michigan engineering department and prior to his enlistment last spring, was employed in Detroit. He sailed for France in January. He was the first Owosso, man to die in France.

Crystal Falls—Ben Nielson, who has been in Russia five years for a Chicago firm, has reached his old home here, bringing a Russian wife. He was sentenced to death before leaving Russia, but escaped and left the country on 15 minutes' notice, taking a train which carried refugees of all nationalities as the Germans advanced. The party crossed Siberia with armed guards on top of the coaches holding off bolsheviki soldiers.

Camp Custer—Despite all the publicity given to the discharge of enemy aliens from the national army, local boards in Michigan continue to send Austrian and German citizens to Custer, even when these aliens ask exemption. Hundreds of them sent here in the last quota of the first draft were aliens, and 41 of them were citizens of the two countries with which the United States is now at war. Some of these 41 men are willing to serve, but make the provision that they will accept service only in this country.

Calumet—The Calumet & Hecla mining Co. and ten subsidiary corporations have granted a general increase over the present minimum wages of 5 per cent, with increases running up to 25 per cent for some classes of underground work. The contract system remains in force, making even greater earnings possible. It is believed the increases will help solve the present labor shortage, which has seriously affected copper output. Ten thousand, five hundred men benefit from the increase which became effective May 1.

Portland—In settling the estate of John Adams, a 92-year-old pioneer of Portland township, who died recently, it was stated that the aged man was a grand-nephew of John Adams, one of the signers of the declaration of independence and later a president. Few, if any, knew him as a relative of the second president and it is doubtful if the modest old gentleman ever mentioned the fact outside of his immediate family. Despite Mr. Adam's advanced age, he was very active and up until his death conducted his business affairs personally.

The committee on pajamas are issuing a most urgent appeal for machine workers for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. There are eight machines in the headquarters, and some days they have only had two in use. The work is easy, only straight machine stitching, and if you cannot give half a day, will you not come and take a pair home with you.

One of the ladies in charge yesterday remarked that there were so many splendid needlewomen in town, that it seemed hard that we could not get hold of some of them.

Mrs. Bert Lowe and Mrs. Frank Snedicor have been in charge of the work this week.

In response to the appeal for help in typewriting, the following ladies sent in their names: Miss Edna Taylor, Miss Vie Temple, Mrs. Ed. Mark, Miss Lellah Wuerthner and Miss Alma Tansley.

A letter from Miss Ferguson acknowledges receipt of the afghan sent to her.

Publicity Director.

MOTHERS' DAY PROCLAMATION

By the Governor

The beautiful custom of setting apart one day in the year as Mothers' Day ought to make an especially strong appeal to us this year. The mothers of our land are freely spending time and energy and ability in many useful forms of war service. More than all, not counting the cost, they are bravely giving up their sons in the cause of Liberty; and it is entirely fitting, while we honor the memory of the dead, that we should make mention also of the splendid spirit of service and sacrifice which animates the living.

Therefore, that we may pay a special tribute of affection to the mothers who still live and honor the memory of those who have gone from us, I, Albert E. Sleeper, governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby designate and set aside and I call upon our people, both old and young, to gather in their several places of worship, and take part in services appropriate to the day and, by the wearing of a red flower for the living mother and a white for the dear departed, to symbolize their love and reverence for the mothers of the nation.

Let me suggest, too, that absent sons and daughters take this occasion to visit, if possible, the mother in the old home, or, where such a visit is impossible, that they send a message of cheer and greeting. By this may mothers know that in the rush of affairs they are not forgotten.

In accordance with a resolution of the Congress of the United States I furher request the people of Michigan, on the day aforesaid to display the United States flag in their homes and in other suitable places, as a fitting expression of their desire to pay homage to American motherhood.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, this 30th day of April, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-second.

ALBERT E. SLEEPER,
Governor.

By the Governor:
Coleman C. Vaughan,
Secretary of State.

BRILLIANT PROGRAMS FOR THE ANN ARBOR MAY FESTIVAL

Ann Arbor's May Festival, to be held May 15, 16, 17, 18, looms up as the greatest musical event of this part of the country, and this year, in spite of the perilous times, a program of extraordinary musical interest, as well as of patriotic significance has been prepared.

Six concerts of great importance are scheduled during which a variety of brilliant offerings will be heard. The University Choral Union under Dr. Stanley, will appear in two programs, and although it numbers have been depleted by the withdrawal of those who have enterel the service of their country and substieutes have taken their places the organization is prepared to maintain the high standard of previous years. The Children's chorus will sing "Into the world," while the Chicago Symphony Orchestra of seventy men under Frederick Stock will take part in all the concerts except the Saturday afternoon Organ Recital, which will be given by the eminent French Master Joseph Bonnet.

It is significant that every man in the Chicago Symphony Orchestra was either a native born or naturalized American citizen before the world conflict began. It is also of interest to note that Signor Riccards Stracciari the renowned operatic baritone who will make his first Ann Arbor appearance at the Welnesday concert has two sons at the Italian front, one of whom at the age of seventeen years has just received a Lieutenant's commission.

The Programs in brief are as follows:

FIRST CONCERT—Wednesday May 15, Margarete Matzenauer, contralto, and Riccardo Stracciari, Baritone soloists. Chicago symphony Orchestra, Frederick Stock, conductor.

SECOND CONCERT—Thursday, May 16. "Beatitudes" by Cesar Franck. Soloist, Lois M. Johnson, soprano, Emma Roberts and Nora Crane Hunt, contraltos, Paul Althouse, James Hamilton, and Odra O. Patton, tenors, Arthur Middleton, Bernard Ferguson, Robert Dieterle and David D. Nash, baritones; Earl V. Moore, organist.

The University Choral Union; the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, Albert A. Stanley, conductor.

THIRD CONCERT—Friday afternoon, May 17. "Into the World" by Benoit. Rudolph Ganz, Pianist, soloist. The children's chorus, the Chicago Symphony Orchestra; Albert A. Stanley, conductor.

FOURTH CONCERT—Friday evening, May 17. Claudia Muzio, soprano, soloist. The Chicago Symphony orchestra, Frederick Stock, conductor.

FIFTH CONCERT—Saturday, afternoon, May 18. Joseph Bonnet, organist, soloist.

SIXTH CONCERT—Saturday evening, May 18. "Carmen" by Bizet. Soloists: Giovanni Martinelli, James Hamilton, and Odra O. Patton, tenors; Giuseppe deLuca and Arthur Middleton. Baritones, Margarete Matzenauer, Contralto, Myrna Sharlow, Lois Marjorie Johnston and Ada Grace Johnston, sopranos. The University Choral Union; the Chicago Symphony Orchestra; Albert A. Stanley Conductor.

Charles A. Sink, Secretary.

Mrs. C. N. Greabner spent the first of the week in Toledo with her daughter Mrs. C. W. VanHellen.

Among the saddest sights of this morning was that of the taking away to Kalamazoo of Mrs. Sullivan Smith of Ridgeway who was violently insane. It was the work of two men to carry her to the train and quiet her after she was in the car. She is well known by many in Tecumseh and tears filled the eyes of those who witnessed her going away.

TECUMSEH MEN ORGANIZE A MARCHING CLUB

Meeting Held at Witherell's Hall Wednesday Evening—Large Attendance

At the time the Eagle Lodge took up the question of a band for Tecumseh, it was also the plan of the order to get under way a marching club, so that our town could be able to call out a body of men to do military honors whenever the occasion demanded. Other towns and cities throughout the state and nation have long had such organizations which are successfully organized and maintained.

A paper was passed around town for the signatures of men who would be willing to join such a club and over 100 names were secured. It is not the intention of the Eagles to confine the membership of the Marching Club to members of their order but to invite the men of the town to join.

The meeting at Witherell's Hall Wednesday night was largely attended, some 80 men being present, and a good deal of interest was manifested.

Karl Schneider acted as chairman and Dale Hodges secretary. H. H. Hanna Jr. was chosen drill master and a committee consisting of Geo. A. Rathbun, H. H. Hanna Jr. and James F. Smith, was appointed to draft rules and regulations. It was decided to meet twice a week, on Tuesday and Friday evenings, for drill, the drill ground to be Cemetery Park.

After the business meeting had adjourned, Drill Master Hanna lined up his bunch of rookies and gave them their first work-out. For a bunch of "has beens" and "would bes" they certainly showed up fine and what made it most encouraging for the drill master was the fine spirit shown by the men.

It is hoped that a full company can be raised here and that the men will keep up the interest they started out with and let nothing interfere with their turning out for drill. On this the whole success of the Club depends. The plan is not to spend more than an hour at each drill so the men are requested to meet promptly at 7 o'clock drill for one hour.

All interested are requested to meet promptly at 7 o'clock tonight at Cemetery Park. The Eagle Band will be there to furnish music and tonight's drill is expected to pass off with a snap.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Wilson have moved in with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James McCoy, the move being made necessary by the continued ill health of Mrs. McCoy.

S. P. Hosmer and daughter, Asenath returned from their Southern trip the last of the week, and report a fine winter Perry certainly looks 50 percent better than when he left Tecumseh.

There will be an Epworth League business meeting at Dr. Balmers tonight at 7:30. A cabnit meeting will be held at 7:00 and the business meeting with election of officers at 7:30

The monthly meeting of the Womans' Foreign Missionary Society will be held at the parsonage Thursday afternoon, May 9th, with Mrs. Hurry leader. Following the program, a picnic supper will be enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlow McAtee, Mr. and Mrs. Milton McAtee, Mrs. E. Brooks, Mrs Joseph Griffin and Vernon Andrew Kraft motored down from Detroit Sunday and were guests for the day of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Lovell and family.

BARGAIN DAYS WILL BE REPEATED AGAIN THIS SUMMER

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Commerce Club held Wednesday evening, it was decided to give a series of 14 Wednesday Bargain Days this coming summer. The first to be given Wednesday, June 5th. and continuing each Wedneday for 13 weeks.

The ammusement feature, which has been so popular in the past, will be continued this year along practically the same lines as in past years. Our new band will probably furnish the music this year instead of some outside band. Merchants will follow out their custom of offering some Wednesday bargain, worth while, to the trade and it is hoped that Tecumseh will draw even bigger Wednesday crowds this season than ever.

TECUMSEH EVIDENCE FOR TECUMSEH PEOPLE

The Statements of Tecumseh Residents are Surely More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers

Home testimony is real proof.

Such evidence is convincing.

That's the kind of proof that backs Doan's Kidney Pills.

Thomas Langton, retired farmer, W. Chicago St., says: "I had kidney complaint and suffered with my back a great deal. My kidneys acted irregularly and the kidney secretion were unnatural. OVERMAN BILL WINS

Measure Passed by the Senate by Vote of 63 to 13.

Washington, May 1. — Rejecting all amendments designed to limit the presidents' authority, the senate passed the Overman bill, with its general grant of power for the executive to co-ordinate and reorganize government departments and other agencies during the war.

The vote on the measure, which now goes to the house, was 63 to 13, many senators who opposed the administration in the long fight over proposed amendments joining the majority when the test came on final passage.

Nearly all of the 22 Republicans voting to pass the bill had, before the final roll call, supported amendments to circumscribe the president's power generally to war functions. Those who continued their opposition to the finish have based their attitude on the argument that the bill confers unnecessary autocratic powers upon the president and is unconstitutional.

Only one Democrat, Senator Reed of Missouri, voted against the bill. Republicans who voted against it were: Brandegee, Cummins, Dillingham, France, Gallinger, Harding, Johnson (Cal.), Knox, Poindexter, Sherman, Sterling, Sutherland.

As passed by the senate, the measure authorizes the president to "make among executive agencies as he may such redistribution of functions among executive agencies as he may deem necessary" and to "utilize, coordinate and consolidate any executive or administrative commissions, bureaus, agencies, offices or officers now existing by law, to transfer any duties or powers from one existing department or to transfer the personnel thereof." These powers, however, "shall be exercised only in matters relating to the conduct of the present war."

The measure also provides that if the president believes any agency should be abolished he shall report to congress, and congress will arrange for transfer of appropriations in any reorganization, limiting their expenditure to the purposes specified by congress.

Early consideration of the bill in the house is planned by administration leaders.

HUNS CRUEL TO YANKS

Frenchman Who Escaped Says Foe Starves U. S. Captives.

Declares Americans Are Being Shamefully Treated in German Prison.

With the American Army in France, May 8.—American prisoners of war are being shamefully treated in German prison camps, if all have had the experience of an American interviewed by a French soldier, also a prisoner in Germany, just before he escaped. The Frenchman's story, as told to American officers, follows:

"A short time before I left Hameln, Hanover, I was able to have a few minutes' interview with an American soldier who was taken prisoner several months ago on the French front. Being unwounded, he was assigned directly to a prison camp. Weakened by excessive work, he was forced to go into the salt mines, and being unable to stay longer, he was sent to Hameln.

"I do not remember the name of the man or the number of his regiment, but he had been among the first Americans in the trenches and his home was in New York. He told me that during the three months he was in the Harz mines he had lost 33 pounds.

"He was a man who was solidly built and it could be easily seen that he had been vigorous and healthy, but when I saw him he was incredibly thin and so weak that he could hardly cross a room without stopping repeatedly, leaning on pieces of furniture or supporting himself on boxes piled there.

"Englishmen also are badly treated in the mines. I found out that three of seven who were sent back to Hameln died.

Package service does not exist in the mines and the prisoners receive practically nothing. Their only nourishment is from thin soup made of barley or cabbage, sometimes salted cod fish eggs and those of other fish which it is impossible to eat. There are few potatoes and very little bread.

"The men are struck with rifle butts and the flat side of bayonets and are placed in dark cells on bread and water. These cells are known to the mine prisoners as 'hot chambers,' as they are heated by steam to a high temperature.

"After the men are held in these cells they are turned out in the snow where they are required to stand at 'attention' for a certain length of time. Needless to say deaths are frequent.

"This American had been punished several times in this way and told me all that I am relating to you. I am able to confirm his story because other Englishmen and Frenchmen I saw at Hameln did not have the strength even to hold a cigarette."

Detroit.—Detroit's experiment with feminine mail carries seems to be working out satisfactorily. Reports received by Postmaster Nagel from several stations where the young women have been assigned to routes is most encouraging.

Howell—Forty registered Holstein cattle brought $10,305 under the auctioneer's hammer at the farm of D. H. Hoover. A dinner and collection by the Red Cross in connection netted $170.

Lansing—The message of food conservation will be carried to Michigan this fall through the medium of the county fairs. The outstanding feature of the campaign will be the use of substitutes.

Pontiac—The board of education of this city has decided to raise the salaries of all teachers $200 a year, to meet the salaries paid elsewhere. Supt. G. L. Jenner will receive a raise of $1,000, to $4,500.

Flint.—Convicted of assault with intent to commit a statutory offense against his 14-year-old daughter, Thomas Carroll was sentenced by Judge Brennan to three to ten years in Jackson prison.

REDS CHEER EMPEROR

German Capital Scandalized Over Goings-On at a Housewarming Party at Embassy.

Amsterdam, May 8.—The embassy of the bolsheviki Russian government in Berlin was opened for business Monday at the old Russian quarters on Unter den Linden.

Meanwhile the German capital is scandalized over the goings-on at a housewarming party held there and which lasted until three o'clock in the morning. An opulent banquet, said to have cost 40 marks a head, exclusive of beverages, was served. On the wine list figured champagne, claret, and vodka, all of which flowed in streams.

Among the guests were numerous independent socialists whose leader, Herr Haase, in fervent terms toasted "The Red Internationale," to which Ambassador Joffe replied "suitably."

It is asserted the entire cost of the feast was defrayed by the imperial German treasury, which excites angry comment among the populace, which already has been irritated by stories of more than ample fare enjoyed by the Russian embassy staff while staying at an elite hotel under special arrangements of the war food bureau.

Grand Rapids—The first sheep to reach Michigan under the plan of leading financiers of the state to make the district the leading one of the country in this industry, have arrived in Missaukee and Kalkaska counties from New Mexico.

Camp Custer—Because the privilege has been abused and guests have been entertained late at night, an order has been issued by the commanding general that no civilians shall be allowed to visit barracks excepting by authority of the company commander, and then only under the guidance of a non-commissioned officer of the organization.

One often hears people say: "What will they do with all the stuff the Red Cross workers turn out?"

Just let the doubting one take a trip of several days through United States, and he will no longer ask. America is today an armed camp, soldiers, soldiers everywhere; for three nights from Jacksonville to Toledo, we could get no sleepers on the trains, it takes 30 minutes standing in file to get to a ticket window; it is next to impossible to get one's trunk checked, and baggage is hardly ever on time, sometimes a week late.

Nearly every city of importance seems to have a training camp near it, and beds are hard to get in these cities, and restaurants and luncheon rooms crowded with soldiers. Some trains do not carry any more dining cars, in others they can hardly feed the multitude, and in all of them the food was very poor. There was no wheat at all in the bread, and the substitutes were so badly cooked that some of us were sick every time we ate the. The war bread back here in Lenawee County seemed perfectly delicious, it is better than any thing to be had in the South.

They seemed to be holding parades in every city we went through, in Jacksonville, Florida, they had a tremendous one, which took hours to pass a given spot. First soldiers on foot, then commissary wagons, kithen wagons, artillery, Red Cross ambulances, and some Y. M. C. A. wagons with the legend, "We follow whereever the army goes."

Jacksonville was "on fete," the whole town was decorated with flags and bunting, but strangely enough the French Tricolor was most in evidence; for every American flag there must have been five or six Tricolors, France must be very much beloved in Florida, it looked exactly like a French town trying to welcome the Americans and putting up some American flags to make them feel at home.

At Key West is one of our Aviation Training Camps, all day long one hears the whirring of the Hydroplanes in the air, and there seem to be never less than 8 or 10 in the air at the same time. There is also an enormous observation balloon whose huge shed can be seen away out in the ocean, before one arrives at Key West. The aeroplanes look so exactly like turkey buzzarls at a distance that one has often to look twice to make sure which is which. No one not in uniform is allowed to go anywhere near the Aviation station, in fact with all the restrictions out on raveling one hardly realizes that this is the United States.

A censor goes through one's baggage on leaving the country, every letter has to be handed to him to read and every article of clothing was unfolded by him in some instances and such small articles as collar boxes, or hairpin boxes opened. No films either developed or undeveloped are allowed out of the U. S. at all, and every passenger must swear that they are taking no gold, or paper money above $5,000.00 out of the country. Then one goes on the boat, and once you have set foot there, you are not allowed on shore again, and the purser goes again over the passport that the customs officials have nearly worn out, before he gives you your state room. No one on the boat is allowed to talk to anyone on shore, every approach is strictly guarded by U. S. sailors armed and ready to shoot. The wharves, docks, and naval stations are similiarly guarded, for example in Savannah, Georgia, no person is allowed to go near the river without a pass.

In the different coast cities, at a certain distance, about two blocks from the water, arrows are posted on the telephone or electric light poles, with the notice "ALIEN ENEMY, approach no further in this direction."

On the coast one realizes that war is here, and that we are in it, and in it for life and death, a thing we do not realize here in quiet Lenawee.

At Key West, a traveling man we met sat down on a log near the aviation camp, and having some spare time, pulled out his order book and [illegible] in a few minutes he and another passenger whom he had accidentally met were arrested and placed in the guard house, and kept there for several hours without food, and they nearly missed the ship. He patriotically remarked on telling us the story, that he was glad of it, as it showed him that the U. S. was waking up.

Yes we are waking up, but we must be much wider awake yet, than we are, to win this war.

Don't forget that Saturday is the last day for the boys to collect papers, so have your papers tied up and out on the front porch for them.

KU KLUX WARNS ALL LOAFERS

United States at War; Idlers Must Find Work and Help, Is Command.

Birmingham, Ala., May 8.—One hundred and fifty white-robed men, in Ku Klux Klan uniform, carrying an American flag and a fiery cross at the head of the procession, rode through the streets of Birmingham at night, warning idlers to find work to do.

The riders distributed cards saying the United States is at war; that every man is needed—except those whose attitude is hostile to the government—and that the klan intended to see that there is no idleness. The cards say in part:

"If you would be justly entitled to the toleration and protection you are enjoying, find work to do and do it. No able-bodied man, rich or poor, has a right to consume without producing. Take heed and go to work. The eye of scrutiny is upon you. Be respectful to the flag of our country and loyal to the government. Aid by every means at your command the suppression of disloyalty by either speech or action. The Ku Klux Klan is pledged to the enforcement of the above tenets."

U. S. SHIP IS SUNK BY HUN U-BOAT

American Steamship Tyler, Formerly an Old Dominion Line Freighter, Torpedoed.

GERMAN DIVER IS SENT DOWN

Freighter Tidewater in Battle With Submarine on Return Voyage—Sent to Bottom March 17, Says Secretary Daniels.

New York, May 8.—The American steamship Tyler, formerly on Old Dominion line freighter, has been torpedoed and sunk off the French coast, according to information received in marine circles here. Eleven members of the crew were killed or drowned. The Tyler was a vessel of 3,028 tons gross and was built in 1913. It was sunk on May 3.

U. S. Steamer Defeats "Sub."

Washington, May 8.—A fight between the American steamer Tidewater and a German submarine on March 17, in which the submarine was defeated and perhaps sunk, was reported by the navy department. The department's announcement said:

"The commander of the armed guard on the steamship Tidewater reports to the navy department that on March 17 about 11:30 p. m. a submarine was sighted off the starboard bow, heading toward the vessel, about 150 yards off. As the ship turned it missed the submarine by not more than [illegible] feet. The U-boat was then submerging. The ship's guns were brought to bear and the first shot hit some distance ahead of her wake.

"The pointer fired the second shot and what the captain, the chief engineer and myself and other members of the crew called a clean hit and [illegible] satisfied that it was effective. The third shot was fired by the boatswain's mate in charge of the after-gun's crew, having her spotted and firing at the position in which she last submerged. We resumed our course and commenced zigzagging, standing by for an attack, but the submarine did not appear again. We made all preparations for an attack at daybreak but there were no signs of a submarine."

Canadian Ship Sinks "Diver."

An Atlantic Port, May 8.—The first Canadian vessel to sink a submarine has arrived in this port. When about 700 miles out from the British Isles the vessel sighted a 300-foot submarine crossing its bow, about 1,500 yards off. Getting up full steam, it attempted to ram the U-boat. The submarine dived so as to obtain a position from which to attack, but soon came up again probably because of engine trouble.

The merchant vessel meanwhile had circled and trained its stern gun on the spot where the submarine had submerged and when the U-boat again appeared one shot was fired, which hit it amidships.

There was an explosion and the submarine disappeared.

AUSTRIAN LABOR MAY REVOLT

Socialists Threaten the Government Because Parliament Is Suspended —Ready to Fight.

Berne, Switzerland, May 8.—Labor and socialist organizations in Austria threaten revolt against the government action in suspending parliament. Swiss newspapers print a telegram from Vienna quoting the Sozial Demokratische Korrespondenz to the effect that a committee of the socialist party and a committee of the German socialist deputies' club have decided to issue a manifesto to the working class in regard to the government action in which the following declaration will be made:

"If absolutism is re-established out of regard for pan-Germanism which is prolonging the war, the working classes will be forced to fight for their rights."

The manifesto concludes by exhorting the workers to hold themselves in readiness to fight if necessary.

OWN GAS POISONS GERMANS

Towns Along Rhine Suffering From Fumes Blown Back By the Contrary Winds.

Geneva, May 8.—The municipal authorities at Mulhausen, Alsace, have ordered all inhabitants to procure gas masks before May 10 as protection against aerial gas attacks," the Lausanne Gazette says it learns.

The truth of the matter is, the newspaper adds, that, owing to contrary winds, large quantities of poison gas employed by the Germans are now drifting gradually toward towns along the Rhine, which already are feeling the effects of the gas.

Luxury Tithes Hurt Paris.

Paris, May 8.—The 10 per cent tax on luxuries is proving disastrous to business in Paris, according to Deputy Charles Leboucq and he has introduced in the chamber a bill repealing the impost.

AMERICANS GAS FOE IN REPRISAL; BIG GUNS ROAR

15,000 Vapor Shells Hurled Into U. S. Positions on the Picardy Front.

ARTILLERY FIRE INCREASED

Yankees Are Shelling Several Towns Captured by the Germans West of Montdidier—Three Enemy Airplanes Shot Down—Berlin Reports Capture of Yankees Near Blamont.

With the American Army in Picardy, May 8.—The rear German organizations have been bathed in gas in retaliation for the gassing of the American areas. The guns roared all night

The Boches threw over more than 15,000 "yperite" mustard gas shells Saturday night, gassing one village and all roads in the vicinity. Subsequently there was a three-hour bombardment with high explosives, the Americans keeping under cover in their newly constructed dugouts. The concentrated German gas attack was like a rain of gigantic bad eggs.

Medical Man a Hero.

Lieutenant Morgan of the medical corps heroically stuck to his post in a shell hole, rendering first aid until he was exhausted. He threw off his gas mask in an effort to work faster, as mustard gas principally affects the eyes temporarily.

The American patrols are bringing in German prisoners every night. They are also developing the deepest hatred for the treachery of the Boche.

One entered the front line alone yelling "Kamerad!" The Americans' suspicions were aroused and they surrounded him quickly. They found he was loaded with hand grenades. He tried to escape, but was overpowered.

The German infantry is displaying signs of nervousness, increasing its fire and sending up numerous rockets at night.

Enemy airplanes appeared over the American lines about the same time. Antiaircraft guns brought down one German machine and damaged another.

The extreme activity of the artillery and aviators, the rifle fire and night flares and the reported movements behind the enemy lines in this sector may forecast a new attack, but General Pershing's men are ready for any emergency.

Giving Blow for Blow.

They are countering the enemy's preparations blow for blow, keeping up a harassing artillery, rifle and machine gun fire and are actively patrolling.

The spirit of the Americans is excellent. They are eager to fight, and a typical expression is. "Let Fritz start something. He'll get all that is coming to him."

A young French captain who trained the men now in the Picardy lines told the press he never had seen finer material.

"All are of one mind," he said, "to fight fast and hard to finish the war quickly."

Claim Yankee Prisoners.

Berlin, May 8.—American prisoners have been captured by the Germans in engagements southwest of Blamont according to the war office statement

"In engagements with the Americans southwest of Blamont, we took prisoners," the statement declares.

Americans Shell Towns.

With the American Army west of Montdidier, May 7.—American guns are shelling Montdidier, Cantigny, Mesnil-St. Georges and other towns and roads in this vicinity captured by the Germans some time ago.

The American artillery blew up what probably was an ammunition dump near Cantigny, the fire lasting half an hour.

There is great aerial activity in this sector. Two German planes recently were shot down and another was captured.

NO U. S. PLANES IN EUROPE

Senator Chamberlain, Chairman of Military Committee, Makes Statement for Publication.

Washington, May 8.—Senator Chamberlain, chairman of the military committee, declared his committee proposed to "put its finger on men responsible" for conditions in aircraft production, and added that "the committee doesn't propose to engage in any whitewashing process, either." In response to questions Senator Chamberlain unreservedly declared not one American-built battleplane had yet been sent to Europe, although materials in large quantity had been shipped abroad for assembly.

HUNS BOMBARD U. S. MISSION

Red Cross Members Escape From Roumania After Perilous Trip on Relief Train.

London, May 8.—In an eventful flight from Jassy, the Roumanian capital, the American Red Cross mission of Roumania, which now has arrived in London, escaped from Odessa 36 hours before the Germans entered it, only to be fired upon by a German battery in the Ukraine, 200 miles north of the famous Black sea port.

The German shells did no damage to the Red Cross train, falling about half a mile from it, but several members of the mission breathed a sigh of relief when the bombardment came to an end after five minutes, which seemed like hours.

ONLY HUMAN BEINGS CRUEL

Proud Man the Sole Living Creature Capable of Deliberately Inflicting Suffering on Others.

A cruel person is one who exults in the pain, mental or bodily, suffered by another. Cruelty has its basis in anger (and thus is related to the combative instinct), though there is a cold-blooded form of cruelty which may be enjoyed without any obtrusive feeling of anger, Henry Campbell writes in the Lancet, London.

Cruelty, implying as it does self-consciousness—the ability to realize the feelings of others—is essentially a human attribute. Children who impale frogs and eviscerate flies cannot be said to be cruel, for they know not what they do. Nor are the lower animals cruel, seeing that they are wholly unconscious of the sufferings of others. Thus the charge of cruelty against the carnivora is unjust. These animals generally destroy their victims outright and in the rare cases (e. g., cat and mouse) where they prolong the suffering they have no knowledge of the pain they are causing. When, therefore, we stigmatize the conduct of the cruel man as "brutal" we wrong the brutes.

The animal which attacks another, and in so doing causes pain, merely responds to a blind, unthinking instinct; but man, proud man, who looks before and after, is able to realize and take pleasure in the pain he deliberately, and by subtle means maybe, sets out to cause. It is clearly absurd to speak of his conduct as "brutal." Rather should we call it devilish, the devil usually being credited with a goodly share of intelligence. We must cease to libel the brutes by designating the basest acts of man as brutal. As a matter of fact, they cannot be charged with nonmoral conduct, seeing that they are devoid of self-consciousness.

CURE FOR LITTLE AILMENTS

Real Trouble Can Usually Be Depended On to Make One Forget the Smaller Ones.

Man and animals alike, it's wonderful what a shock will do to heal our errors and our weaknesses. The only thing that ever stopped Uncle Bill in an argument was a dishpan, or some heavy, blunt instrument clouted over his brow, and in his younger days he was some argufier, as his scars attest.

Here is the case of the blind man in San Rafael, Cal., who fell 40 feet off the roof of his house, and found his eyesight restored; Aunt Ellen, who was bedridden for years, was the first person to reach safety when the house caught fire, and her bad hip has been practically all right ever since; you remember that crippled negro who beat even the dogs home when the bear charged out of the brush.

A lot of us have troubles that are only in our minds; when we are fed a little real trouble we forget the smaller ones. There is, perhaps, an opening for a sanitarium that will take a cripple or an invalid and throw him off a cliff, or crack him over the head with a brick or a crowbar—anything to wake him up, make him forget his small worries, and heal his diseased mind.

"Because—"

Jelly has been busy with riddles. "Now!" she cried, and held up for public inspection the legend, "Why did the orange ice cream?" printed in large letters. "Because it saw the sausage roll under the table," said Elfrida. "My own is much better," announced Jelly, evidently bursting to declare it. She was cordially urged to do so. "Because it saw the lemon sponge on the dumb waiter," she proclaimed triumphantly. "Quite nice and cool," said Janet approvingly. "The vista of possibilities you open up!" murmured Peter. "For instance, it might have seen the banana trifle with the maids of honor. Or the gooseberry fool with the nuts from Brazil. All very painful to an orange of really nice feeling. But I like your dumb waiter."—"All the Joneses," by Beatrice Kelston.

Make Pets of Hornbills.

The yellow hornbill, one of the most interesting of the species, is a comparatively fearless bird and is easily killed. The male is fond of perching on the tiptop of tropical trees and making a noise like a young puppy.

The natives in Africa find young hornbills easily tamed. They dig the birds out of the tree nests when quite young and raise them on milk and berries in their huts. When grown the hornbill remains attached to its foster parents and will eat out of the same dishes. Left free, the hornbill comes and goes much as does a pet crow and remains about the hut until the first mating season, when it goes away with one of its kind, rarely to return.

Oriental Statecraft.

The part which gesture plays in Oriental drama is set forth in a recent Hindu volume, which says that there is a fitting gesture to represent every emotion. The gesture, in fact, is described as deaf-and-dumb alphabet of the soul. There are nine movements of the head, corresponding to nine emotions, mentioned by one authority, 24 by another; 28 movements of the single hands, and 24 or 26 of the double hands, etc.; also "hands" denoting animals, trees, oceans, and other things. For example, a certain position of the hands denotes a certain emperor, caste, or planet. The translator says rather naively that only a cultivated audience can appreciate Indian "actor's art."

ATTENTION, G. A. R. !

All members of the G. A. R. and all citizens interested are requested to meet at the Post rooms Friday evening (tonight) at 8 o'clock to make arrangements for the proper observance of Decoration Day.

HIS BOSS LAUGHED AT HIM

Novice Draftsman Relates How He Got His First Toehold After His Work Had Been Ridiculed.

I never shall forget the first piece of independent design with which I was intrusted—a railing and gate to divide the private from the public office in some business concern, observes a writer in the Century Magazine. I suppose I worked on it for about two solid days, assisted and encouraged as far as I was capable of receiving assistance by the men at the neighboring tables. When finally the head draftsman came around to look at my effort I was a very proud person, but when, after looking at the drawings for a minute or two, he started to make some criticism and, unable to control himself, began to laugh so hard that everybody else came around to see what he was laughing at, I was about as disappointed as anybody ever was in the world. The head draftsman was not only a great artist, but a big man. He did not take the job away from me, as he should have done; he told me where it was wrong and why it was wrong, apologized for laughing at it, and gave me in these few minutes my first toehold in comprehension of architectural design. It was then that I began to learn.

Large Feet and Bad Cough.

Muggins was the possessor of very large feet and a very bad cough. He entered a boot shop and the young assistant turned the shop upside down to find something to fit his "out size." Muggins had just tried on the fortieth pair when he started coughing.

"It's a nasty cough you've got," said the assistant.

"Yes," gasped Muggins. "Doctor says I've one foot in the grave now."

"I shouldn't worry," said the assistant. "You'll never get the other in; it's too big."

Camp Custer.—Supply officers have been warned by the quartermaster general of an acute shortage of fresh beef. This information includes an appeal to make use of meat substitutes, such as eggs, fish, vegetables and cheese. This lack of meat is destined to endure for six weeks until grass-fed cattle from the west can be received on the market.

Lansing—With approximately 3,000 cars of Michigan potatoes still unmarketed, with a recognized country-wide surplus, and with the 1918 Florida crop, the greatest in that state's history, now finding its way to the market, Michigan growers are facing a tremendous loss, according to a representative of the department of agriculture's bureau of markets, who has just completed a survey of the state's potato belt.

Charlotte—Former Mayor Frank P. Town must pay back to the old Duplex Power Car company, $50,000 and the equivalent of 1,500 shares of stock in the new Lansing Duplex company, representing a market value at the time of $22,500 according to a decision by Judge Clyde I. Webster, of Detroit, at the conclusion of the arguments in the case brought against Town by stockholders for an accounting of the money growing out of a transfer of the business to Lansing capitalists.

Camp Custer—Camp Custer has the rather doubtful honor of having sentenced the first man in a national army to "death by shooting." But the prisoner, Theodore Kallas, a Detroiter, thanks to a technicality of the law. His commanding officer, Captain Lamar, who signed the charges, also sat on the court-martial commission, so the entire proceedings are void. Kallas will be re-tried. He was a draft evader and even after being apprehended and brought to Camp Custer refused to serve.

Detroit—That the One Hundred and Twentieth machine gun battalion, of Detroit and Pontiac, commanded by Major David E. Cleary, is in the front line trenches is the news conveyed to a Detroit woman in a letter received from her husband, an officer in the Thirty-second division. No indication of where the machine gun battalion is stationed is given by the Thirty-second division officer. So far as is known here Major Cleary's organization is the first fighting unit from Michigan to go into action.

Detroit—Definite action toward going out of business has been taken by a score of Detroit and Wayne county coal dealers. They have notified their jobbers that they are not in the market for coal under the state fuel administration's order limiting them to a gross margin whcih they claim does not permit even a nominal net profit. One dealer at Algonac, who handled 600 tons of coal for customers annually, has figured that his net profits for the year will be less than $100 if he continues in business on the gross margin allowed him.

REGIGSTRATION DRAWS TO A CLOSE

The committe on registration in Tecumseh feel that their little town has acquitted itself very creditably during the past week. Be Sure and See Douglas Fairbanks Tomorrow (Saturday) Night at the Bradley

Beyond all question of a doubt the greasest program ever presented in Tecumseh, at popular prices will be the offering at the Bradley Opera House tomorrow night, Saturday, May 11.

In looking over this bill we note as a first part Douglas Fairbanks advertised in his greatest thrill, and you must know that it would have to be some thriller, entitled "The Lamb." This feature is in five big acts and while the title might suggest something 'tame' still we understand it is far from tame In this feature we undertand friend Douglas tackles mountain lions, wolves and a whole band of Yaqui Indians In fact just one thrill after another and you know how Doug. can put those thrills over.

Part two, we are proud to state, is the official 'Red Cross' film entitled 'The Spirit of the Red Cross" a feature which WILL BE SEEN BY EVERY TRUE BLOODED AMERICAN! It shows how and what this wonderful organization is doing in all of its branches Caring for refugees, ministering to the wounded, providing resting places and refreshments for the boys who are giving up everything, even their lives, that the rule of the 'hun' may be wiped off the earth. "The Spirit of the Red Cross" shows thrilling battle scenes, life in the trenches bayonet charges and other thrilling incidents of war that our own American boys are daily going through. The dash 'Over the Top" by American troops clearly depict the method of trench warfare and the life in the dug-outs underground.

Part three is the first of a series of films authorized by the United States Navy showing you how Uncle Sam trains young America to man his fighting ships. What do you know about our navy? Every American, young or old, should see this wonderful feature—it will make you a better American.

And the best of it all is that Manager Marks is showing this big all feature program at regular admission prices, while it is worth four to five times the regular prices charged, still Mr Mark says he wants every man, woman and child in Tecumseh and vicinity to see these pictures and is keeping the price within the reach of everyone—no one can say they can't afford to spend a dime for a program like this—any single feature on the bill is worth twice that.

PRUDDEN SETTLES COAL QUESTION

To all Manufacturers in Lenawee County:

Under date of April 22, W. K. Prudden, Federal Fuel Administrator for Michigan has issued as follows:

"In order to clear up a misunderstanding as to who may buy and sell coal to the public, the following rules will apply until further notice:

1. Industrial plants may sell and furnish their employees coal needed by them, but only in such quantities as could be purchased from retail coal dealers.

2. Co-operative Associations who have during the years 1916 and 1917 made it a business to buy and sell coal may buy and sell to its members coal needed for their coming season's requirements.

3. Any co-operative Assocation that buys and sells coal in car lots to its members must be considered as jobbers of coal and be governed accordingly.

4. Any co-operative association or coal club selling coal at retail to its members or others must do so under the rules and regulations governing retail coal dealers.

5. Any person, firm or corporation requiring coal in one or more car loads for their own consumption either at factory office building or apartment house may purchase of a mine, jobber, or retail coal dealer. It is not permissable, however, to purchase in car lots and dispose by sale of any part of it.

6. A retail dealer of coal to be known as such, must own or control the necessary physical equipment for storing and delivering of coal to consumers.

It is the desire of the Fuel Administration, in so far as possible, that all retail coal business be handled thru the regular retail coal dealers."

You will please determine the class under which you operate and govern yourselves accordingly.

Very truly yours,
Caryl Spiller,
Chairman.

THE FLOWER FESTIVAL

The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church put on a beautiful "Flower Festival" last evening. The parlor and tables were gay with spring flowers and willows, baskets of flowers hanging about and decorating the tables most handsomely. Miss Myrtle Foster had charge of the decorations, assisted by Mrs. Paul Bowen and Mrs. G. A. Rathbun.

The supper was an elaborate affair in charge of Mrs. R. B. Stuckey and her committee. Mrs. Lynn Butrick furnished one idea for the supper which added to the flower scheme materially. On each of the 200 pieces of cake she fashioned of marsh mallow and the yolk of egg a pretty little flower, thus adding to the effectiveness of the tables. In all the ladies are delighted with the success of their supper.

Mrs. J. D. Service and Mrs. D. J. Hodges mingled among the guests garbed as Gypsies and selling small boquets thus adding quite a sum to the total realized

Frank Bradley is driving a new Buick and Will Fisher is also flying around in a fine new machine.

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Slater is held today from the home of her nephew Fred Slater near Tipton. Rev. Rex officiates and Guy Belding is in attendance.

The library has been a busy place since yesterday morning. Supt. Reed has been conducting the rural 8th grade examination with a splendid attendance.

SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE

Held at the Methodist Church Tuesday and Wednesday of this week

Conducted by the Board of Sunday Schools of the Methodist church

A very successful Sunday School Institute was held at the Methodist church, Tuesday and Wednesday. this week. 432 delegates from various churches in the West Detroit District were in attendance for the two days meeting. The meeting was conducted by instructors sent out by the Board of Sunday schools of the Methodist church who are recognized leaders and authorities in their field and covered Sunday school work in the various departments.

Mrs. Mary Muffly Morehouse a specialist in elementary work took up the teaching and training of the child in the Sunday school, touching on the religious training of children, definite and detailed instruction in the characteristics of child life, lesson materials, story telling, expressional activities, training in workship and department organization and equipment.

Rev. Harry C. Wilson, Superintendent Institute Department of the Board of Sunday schools took up the course in young peoples work and in teachers training. Mr. Wilson is an authority in the field of Sunday school organization, having had wide experience in reorganizing Sunday schools according to the best modern standards. He is also an authority in the matter of Sunday school building and equipment and dealt with this vitally important subject.

Dr. William S. Bovard, superintendent of the adult department touched on the most striking features of the modern Sunday school movement found in the organized adult Bible class. Dr. Bovard stands at the head of more than one and a half millions of adults enrolled in class for the study of the Bible and interested in the problem of Christian life and service. He keeps in constant touch with the successful methods of the best classes is a forceful platform speaker and an expert in adult Bible class methods.

Extensive exhibits of materials for the various departments of the school were shown besides leaflets covering every phase of Sunday school work. The Methodist Book Concern had on sale a complete line of the newest and best books in the field of religious education.

The opening session began Tuesday afternoon at 1:45 with devotion and was followed by addresses by Rev. Wilson on "Organization for Efficiency" by Mrs. Moorehouse on "The Child and the Sunday School" and by Dr. Bovard on "The Strategy of the Adult Bible Class Movement." Following these addresses sectional conferences were held the subjects being discussed: "Organization for Adults," "Organization by Departments" and "Organization and Equipment."

The evening session began at 7:15 with devotions followed by classes in organization and methods. "Training the children in Worship" by Mrs. Moorehouse; "Organization for the Young People" by Rev. Wilson and "Materials and Methods of Instruction" by Dr. Bovard. At 8:15 Rev. Wilson gave the principal address of the session taking for his subject "The Sunday school and the Present World Crisis."

Rev. Wilson believed firmly in the Allies ability to win this war and that America would furnish the resources in money, men and materials to successfully push the conflict to a just and lasting peace. Religion was playing a larger part in this war then in any previous war in history. The home, the school and the church were the three great agencies that have determined the character of our men. The army will give us back the leaders of tomorrow, leaders in civic life and also leaders in our church life. This last year the speaker had traveled 4700 miles from coast to coast, had been in the neighborhood of every northern cantonment, had seen thousands of khaki clad soldiers and in all of his travels had only seen one drunken soldier. No finer body of men were ever called together by any government than is to be found in the American army of today. There can be only one result, a complete victory for the Allies. After the war is over and the peace terms have been signed it is his opinion that the nations of the earth would get together on a great international peace plan that, would make future wars impossible.

Wednesday's session began at 9:15 with devotions followed by a splendid address by Mrs. Morehouse on "Hand Work in Religious Education" At 10 o'clock Rev. Wilson spoke on "Increasing the Membership and Attendance." He spoke of the practical modern way of going out after new members, not to take away from other churches in the community but to make a complete record of the people in the community touched by the church and Sunday school and by personal work carried on by teachers and members reaching out to these people who were not attending and bring them in. A card index record was very helpful in keeping a correct record.

Dr. Bovard spoke at 10:30 on "Adult Classes at their Tasks." This address proved very interesting to the delegates. He illustrated his point by drawing a circle on the black board. In this circle he placed the adult class, told of how it could do more than just study the Bible and hold discussions, it could reach out into every activity of the church and help other departments. In another circle drawn around the inner circle he illustrated the work the class could do in their community and still another circle taking in the larger field of world wide work.

At 11 o'clock sectional conferences were held by the three leaders.

The afternoon session opened with devotions at 1:45 followed by interesting addresses by Mrs. Morehouse on "The Use of Stories in Religious Education", "The Sunday school Building and its Equipment" by Rev. Wilson and "The Adult Bible Classes as a Recruiting Agency" by Dr. Bovard.

The session adjourned at 4 o'clock.

This Institute is claimed to be the best yet held in this district both from the standpoint of attendance and of benefit derived. Delegates were present from nearly every Methodist church in the district outside of Detroit. Adrian were over 75 strong for the Tuesday afternoon and evening session.

The set of books offered for the largest delegation attending figuring on the basis of the number of miles traveled and the number of Sunday school workers attending was awarded to Azalia.

The ladies of the church served dinners and suppers at the church Tuesday and Wednesday, Dr. Fruit Superintendent of the West Detroit District was present during the session.

Studebaker
BUGGIES

"The Studebaker solid corner plugless body is the best buggy body made"

No doubt about it! Why, out of over 100,000 now in use in every section of the United States, under all climatic conditions, so far only five have shown any indication of opening or splitting at the corners.

Think of it—nearly 100% perfect! They have stood the test of time and have proven satisfactory in every way.

We want you to see this body and know how it's made—you'll appreciate its construction.

COAL

You are being advised to buy soft coal now, when you can get it. At present we are receiving a very good grade of Ohio Lump Coal that burns very clean. We shall have no Pocahontas. We expect to have some hard coal, but not anywhere near as much as we wish or could sell. The Pocahontas is forbidden for Michigan on account of the Zone system.

As soon as the Lake season opens we fear it will be almost impossible to get soft coal of any kind. Better fill your bins now while you can get a good quality, for later we may be compelled to take Run of Mine or go without.

RANGES

Do not forget that the week from May 15 to May 22 is your opportunity to get a SOUTH BEND MALLEABLE RANGE and a fine premium with it. If you have not time to come in: drop us a postal and our salesman will call at your home and bring the range to show you—this without any obligation on your part.

Quaker Courtship in Which Woman Frankly Expressed Herself as Favoring Brother of Wooer.

A few weeks ago the Youth's Companion reported two or three strange and amusing courtships of New England tradition. A reader was moved to add another to the list—this time a Quaker one. In a small town, of which about half the population were Friends, two brothers, John and Joseph, shared a farm that adjoined the property of Sarah, a spinster in early middle life. Both brothers in their youth had been obvious suitors for Sarah's hand; but they were slow and diffident, and neither ever reached the point of proposing. Then an enterprising and audacious young woman who belonged to "the world's people," somehow extracted a proposal from Joseph—or dispensed with one—and married him. After several years of matrimony she died, leaving him with two little girls. As soon as propriety permitted he betook himself to his spinster neighbor's, and, according to local tradition, spoke thus:

"It is borne in upon me, Sarah, that thee would make an excellent wife."

"I have no leading to contradict thee, Joseph," replied the lady demurely.

"Also, Sarah, I believe thee competent to be an admirable mother."

"Thy judgment is to be respected, Joseph."

"Thy housekeeping is well esteemed, Sarah. The women say there is no better housekeeper in the place."

"I am assured thee would not listen to light gossip, Joseph."

"Then, Sarah, will thee marry me?"

"Nay, Joseph, I am not moved to consent. But—thee may repeat thy kind words about me to thy brother John if thee thinks best."

"So that thee will enter the family, Sarah, and care for the household, I care not by which door thee comes in. I have no further inclination toward the married state for foolish reasons!"

"Whether my reasons are foolish or no, Joseph, I will only come if I am bidden by the door called John."

It was by the door called John that she was soon welcomed, to rule, gently and to order wisely a double family.

A Scapegoat.

"In some respects I find it an advantage to have a stupid servant in the house," remarked Mr. Dubwaite.

"Why do you say that?"

"Mrs. Dubwaite is kept in such a state of mind by the blunders of the servant she forgets to call attention with her usual frequency to my own shortcomings."

BRITISH HOLD GAINS

Germans Repulsed in Attack Near Hinges in Flanders.

Haig's Men Improve Positions Near Amiens and North of Albert—French Take Prisoners.

London, May 6.—German troops attacked the new positions gained by the British Friday night on the Flanders battle front near Hinges, northwest of Bethune. They were repulsed, the war office announces, the British line remaining intact.

The British positions were improved in local operations northeast of Amiens, near Sailly-le-Sec and north of Albert in the vicinity of Hebuterne.

The artillery on both sides is continuing its activity along the Lys battle front.

Paris, May 6.—Artillery fighting continued along the Somme battle front, both north and south of the Avre, but there was no infantry action, the war office reports.

Near Letricourt, in Lorraine, close to the German border, the French carried out successfully a minor operation and took prisoners in patrol encounters elsewhere.

INDIANA FLYER IS KILLED

Ensign S. T. Alden of Fort Wayne Falls 500 Feet Into South Bay—Student Injured.

New York, May 6.—Ensign Spencer T. Alden of Fort Wayne, Ind., was killed and Philip P. Mooser, student aviator, of Boston was seriously injured when a naval hydroplane which they were operating "side-slipped" 500 feet and fell into South bay, near Fire Island inlet. Eight other naval craft were in the air at the time and all volplaned to the water to aid their comrades. Mooser was pulled out within three minutes and revived with a pulmotor in a navy launch.

Mourning the Departed.

The newest thing in mourning is dark blue. It is not for the sod half of the menage, but for the widow who disagrees with her other half, who seeks the courts to cut the knot. Such a person was seen yesterday and when asked if she had lost some one replied: "Yes, my husband." "When did he die?" "Don't understand." "I divorced him. I felt for a time that I should retire quietly, and now that I have emerged I wear a compromise color—blue. I didn't really dislike my husband, but I had to divorce him. The mourning is half for him and half for the memories. But, poor boy, he married again. His stenographer."—New York Tribune.

POOR DWELLING PLACE, THIS

British Naval Base of Wei-Hei-Wei Has Decidedly Few Attractions for European Residents.

Wei-hei-wei is the bit of Chinese territory that the British hold under lease as a naval and commercial base. It is just across the breadth of the Shantung peninsula from Kiachow. Wei-hei-wei lies partly on the mainland, partly on an island, where the dockyard, the coaling station and the rest of the machinery for a naval base are located. Most of the civilian population live on the mainland, and patronize a little steam launch that plies across the intervening sea when they want to go shopping; for with an eye to getting the British jackies' trade when warships put in to coal, the shops of Wei-hei-wei are out with the docks and the coal yards.

The island seen from the steam launch is a barren, sandy hill, ridged with gullies that the hurrying rain water has cut in its course to the sea. The sand of these hills is one of the omnipresent features of the colony; every wind that blows carries it about by pounds, and only the cheapness of Chinese servants makes it possible to keep a European household dusted.

The mainstreet on the island has the characteristic British colonial look, with a British post office, a British steamship booking office, and British shops. On the short side street are the Chinese shops, which are only opened at certain seasons when visitors are plenty, or when a warship puts in to the harbor.

BITTER FIGHTS OVER BEARDS

Tartars and Persians Long in Conflict Because They Held Varying Opinions on the Matter.

Before now the wearing of beards has caused a bitter war and made the executioner's ax cut through many a neck. The Tartars waged a long war with the Persians, declaring them infidels because they would not shave their beards after the fashion of Tartary.

The Greeks wore beards until the time of Alexander, who ordered the Macedonians to be shaved lest their beards should give handles to their enemies. The ancient Romans wore beards, but in England they were not fashionable after the conquest until the thirteenth century and were discontinued at the Restoration.

Peter the Great kept a squad of officers whose duty it was to cut the beards of unwilling citizens by force. Before 1840 shaving was almost universal in the United States.

There have been numerous instances of women with long masculine beards. Margaret of Savoy, daughter of Maximilian I, had a long stiff beard, and a woman was seen in Paris with a black bushy beard that reached to her waist. At the battle of Pultowa the Russians captured a bearded woman, whom they presented to the czar. She had a beard five and one-half feet long.

Chinese Canals.

At what period the Chinese began to dig canals, there is no authentic record to prove. Sometimes it seems as if these remarkable people must always have had canals and other works, so long have they been familiar to them and so well established have they been as a part of the country as the men from the Occident first visited it. One thinks of the Grand Canal of China and the Great Wall of China together, although, of course, they have nothing whatever to do with each other, except that they are both ancient and remarkable works of the Chinese people.

Don't Envy Others.

Idle women, or women who seem to be spared anything that savors of work, are never happy or satisfied. Persons who live aimless lives simply cannot be happy.

Let the woman given to envying those "fortunate," but in reality lazy and listless individuals, ponder seriously over this truth, become interested in some worthwhile duty of the hour, and try to forget herself. If she does this she will not find any time to waste in [illegible], but, on the other hand, will experience a contentment delightfully new and satisfying.

DRIVE NEAR ON ITALIAN FRONT

Emperor Charles and High Officers Arrive on Scene of Expected Offensive.

GUNS ON BOTH SIDES BUSY

Increase in Intensity of Hostile Artillery Fire Is Reported—Allied Airmen Destroy Eight Hun Machines.

Geneva, Switzerland, May 6.—It is officially announced from Vienna that Emperor Charles, the chief of the Austrian general staff, and several high German and Austrian officers, have reached the Italian front.

This with the considerable movements of troops in the Tyrol and Trentino, reported from the interior, is interpreted to mean that the long-predicted offensive on the Italian front will soon be started.

Artillery Fire Grows.

Rome, May 6.—An increase in the intensity of the hostile artillery fire along the front, notably in the Lagarina and Astico valleys and in the Foss-Alta sector is reported by the war office.

The Italian artillery also has carried out numerous bombardments and there has been additional intensive activity by the Capronis and British airplanes, during which eight enemy machines were destroyed and many tons of bombs dropped.

The text of the official statement reads:

"There has been increased intensity of the hostile harassing fire in the Lagarina and Astico valleys and in the Foss-Alta sector.

Shells Hit Trains.

"Our artillery dispersed carrying parties in the Stelvio area, fired with good effect on the Rovereto station and caused a heavy explosion on the left bank of the Piave, opposite Nervesa.

"There were patrol actions on both sides between the Brenta and the Piave.

"The activity of our aircraft has been intense. Caproni flights and British airplanes, protected by numbers of chasers, dropped about nine tons of bombs on the hydro-electric works at Cavedin, north of Mori.

"While this operation was in progress other machines renewed the bombing of the aviation ground at Campo Maggiore, south of Lenico.

Airplanes Engage Infantry.

"At night our airships, reaching by surprise the railway stations at Rimi[illegible]lano and Bolzano, dropped their loads of bombs with good effects. At the same time an airship of the Royal navy engaged enemy columns on the march beyond the Tagliamento.

"Eight enemy machines were reported destroyed, two of which fell in flames within our lines."

NO PEACE MOVE, SAYS POPE

Vatican Declares No Favorable Occasion Has Presented Itself, Nor Does One Seem Near.

Rome, May 6.—No favorable occasion for a further peace move by Pope Benedict has presented itself, nor does one seem near, it was stated at the Vatican, regarding the report that his holiness would make a peace offer Whitsunday. This statement was issued:

"It is no secret that the pope has interested himself regarding three great issues concerning the war—first, to maintain absolute impartiality; second, to limit as much as possible the extent and horror of the conflict; third, to work in every way, on every propitious occasion, to restore concord and brotherhood among the peoples.

"It is an easy task to prophesy, within a few months, some new action on the part of the pope, which may occur any moment, if a favorable occasion arises, which, however, has not yet occurred, nor does it seem near."

THIRD BOND ISSUE PASSES GOAL SET

Washington Estimates That Subscriptions Total Nearly $4,000,000,000.

MAY GO OVER A BILLION

THIRD LOAN.

Subscribed	*4,000,000,000
Subscribers	*15,000,000

*Estimated.

The total of Liberty loans for the country (present loan estimated) is $10,652,760,150.

Washington, May 6.—The third Liberty loan, according to reports received by treasury officials, has been oversubscribed $1,000,000,000, making a total of at least four billion. The minimum of $3,000,000,000 was passed early Saturday.

The loan has proven a most remarkable demonstration of the solid backing of the war by the people of the United States. Treasury officials estimated that at least 15,000,000 persons, and probably more, had bought bonds.

Chicago, May 6.—Chicago went over the top with the nation and scored another crushing blow against Prussianism. Not only did it reach its quota in the third Liberty loan, but it piled up millions on top of the quota. In the solidness of its ranks behind the loan it is unsurpassed in the country. More than 700,000 persons in Cook county bought bonds, and it is estimated that [illegible]0,000 will be on the list.

Chicago's semi-official figure was $[illegible]43,000,000. It is possible that the total may reach $150,000,000. The exact figure will not be known for several days. The city's quota is $126,000,000, and the last day of the big drive opened with Chicago $10,000,000 behind. The day brought forth nearly $30,000,000 in subscriptions. The semi-official figures mean Chicago has exceeded its quota by $17,000,000.

Seventh District's Great Work.

The Seventh district was oversubscribed by nearly $100,000,000. Accurate tabulations by the county sales [illegible] throughout the district increased the estimated total by $30,000,000, and Liberty loan officials promised $600,000,000 for the district when everything is in. The quota is $425,000,000 and the official total $519,620,450.

One of the most astonishing results of the drive for the third loan was the number of subscribers. The Chicago federal reserve district led all the districts in the country in the number of subscribers. Its official total, as far as tabulated was 2,370,300, placing the New York district, whose quota is almost double, in second place. How far beyond 2,500,000 the total number in the district will go Liberty loan officials could only estimate.

Iowa Leads District.

It means that there is a bond for every four persons in Cook county. The average may run better than that. And there is a bond for every six persons in the entire district. In Chicago the bonds are running better than one to a family, with the customary average of five persons to a family. Officially, Illinois has 1,022,599 subscribers.

The district has officially subscribed 122¼ per cent of its quota. Unofficial reports, carefully figured from the subscriptions made too late for the official count, place the final percentage for the Seventh district at 141.17.

Iowa closed the big campaign in the lead for the Seventh district. With a quota of $71,000,000, it raised more than $100,000,000 for the loan, for a percentage of 141. Wisconsin, which looked like a trailer earlier in the campaign, finished a close second, 2¼ per cent below Iowa.

Illinois and Indiana.

Although Illinois outside of Cook county is third among the states of the district, Chicago, while well over the top, is at the bottom of the list. The unofficial reports place Illinois, including Cook county, 120 per cent subscribed. Indiana is second from the bottom with 128 per cent of its quota taken. In the official count Chicago is only 3 per cent behind Indiana, however, and the rest of Illinois is 24 per cent ahead of her sister state.

Chicago's official total when the host of tabulators for the federal reserve bank quit was $135,481,350, which is 107.37 per cent of the quota. In the three Liberty loans Cook county has subscribed nearly half a billion dollars, the figures being $490,340,050.

Soldier Gets Ten Years in Prison.

Camp Dodge, Ia., May 6.—Private Frank E. Carlson of St. Paul, Minn., found guilty by general court-martial of refusing to obey orders, was sentenced to ten years in Fort Leavenworth prison, it was announced.

Morning Exercises.

Calisthenics taken in the early morning do much to keep up the general health. Standing, warmly but loosely clad, at an open window and inhaling deep breaths of fresh air will stimulate the blood quickly. This might be followed with two or three easy exercises. One might consist of doubling the fists, placing them at the shoulders, and then thrusting them out at arms' length swiftly. After that it would be well to bend, trying to touch the floor with the finger tips without bending the knees. These calisthenics might be concluded with a final one of kneeling and bending forward the floor from the waist. The whole performance need not take more than five minutes, and will do more to make circulation lively and muscles in good condition than any amount of medicine.

YANKEES WIN IN LUNEVILLE; FOIL NEW GAS

Artillery Wipes Out Foe's Salient—Troops in Successful Raid.

POISON HURLED IN BOTTLES

Enemy Patrol Attempts to Raid American Post in Picardy—Two Airplanes Shot Down During the Day.

With the American Army in France, May 6.—A successful artillery attack and raid by the Americans in the Luneville sector eliminated the first of the German salient jutting uncomfortably into our lines on this front.

Huns Use New Gas.

With the American Army on a French Battle Front, May 6.—A new German liquified gas was projected against the Picardy front, where American troops are fighting.

The gas is contained in glass bottles. On bursting they scatter a fluid from which heavy, white, transparent fumes arise for five minutes.

No detonation was heard as the bottles were hurled. Apparently they were thrown by a spring. The gas caused nausea, sneezing and coughing, but did not harm any of the Americans.

There has been lively artillery fire but the Americans here have not been attacked by the infantry.

American, Captured, Escapes.

An enemy sergeant major and eight men attempted to raid an American forward post of three men.

The Germans captured one, but he escaped before he could be taken into the enemy's lines.

They were attacked and the patrol leader was wounded and captured.

One of the American patrols encountered a superior enemy force of 2[illegible] men. Fighting as they went, they made their way back to the American lines without losses.

Two German airplanes were brought down.

U. S. Guns Wipe Out Foe.

With the American Army in France, May 6.—During the last three days the American artillery in the Luneville sector has completely chased the Germans from their front positions and wiped certain sections of the enemy rear off the map. This is the same artillery that not long ago gave a similar performance in another Lorraine sector.

Just now the German first and second lines are in about the same condition as No Man's Land, in which the Americans are working more freely than ever before.

Near the German Border.

The sections affected by the work of these American guns are south, southwest and southeast of Halloville (approximately 13 miles east of Luneville and about six miles from the German border).

The American raiders have found that the shells had worked terrific havoc at many places plainly visible.

Naval gunners drove off the enemy craft before it did material damage. The captain stated that the Lucia had its smokestacks blown away by shell fire of the submarine. He was unable to state whether there were any casualties.

O. K. SPY BILL REPORT

Senate Agrees to Terms of Sedition Measure.

Amends Espionage Act and With "Woman Spy" Bill Completes Cycle of Legislation.

Washington, May 6.—The senate agreed to the conference report on the so-called sedition bill, an amendment of the espionage act, which would punish by imprisonment for 20 years or by fine of $10,000, or both, those who utter or write seditious sentiments or incite curtailment of war production.

The bill was initiated a year ago and amends the espionage act and, with the "woman spy" bill recently passed, completes the cycle of legislation urged by the department of justice as necessary to clothe the government with power to deal with sedition and disloyalty, and prevent mob violence.

The vote was 48 to 26 in favor of the conference report, and was reached after the measure had been denounced as tyrannical and threatening the freedom of speech and of the press of the United States.

The final vote was along nonpartisan lines, many Republicans joining a majority of the Democrats in supporting the legislation. Two Democrats, Senators Hardwick of Georgia and Reed of Missouri joined with 24 Republicans in opposition.

As redrafted by the conferees the bill's penalties apply during the war to persons "who shall willfully print, write, or publish any disloyal, profane, scurrilous or abusive language about the form of government or the Constitution, or the military or naval forces, or the flag, or the uniform of the army or navy of the United States."

STRICKEN AS GUESTS DINE

New York Author Dies While Father-in-Law Acts as Host to 112 French "Blue Devils."

New York, May 6.—Charles C. Sargent was host to 112 of the French "Blue Devils" at dinner in the Park Avenue hotel. Mr. Sargent is more than seventy, and his son-in-law, Ripley Hitchcock, author, editor and critic, bore the burden of arranging the affair. As the guests were sitting down, Mr. Hitchcock, who had welcomed them all at the door, was stricken with heart disease. While Mr. Sargent read a brief welcome his son-in-law had written for him, Mr. Hitchcock died in the next room. The dinner was ended without news of the sudden death reaching host or guests. When it was over and the soldiers had hurried off to another engagement, Mr. Sargent walked into the hall.

"Well, it was a very fine dinner," he said. "Where's Ripley?"

Then they told him that Ripley Hitchcock had died at the beginning of the feast.

SHIP IS LAUNCHED IN MONTH

New World's Record Established at Plant of Shipbuilding Company in New Jersey.

Washington, May 6.—What is declared to be a new world's record for shipbuilding was established today in the launching of the 5,550-ton steel collier Tuckahoe at the plant of the New York Shipbuilding company, Camden, N. J., in less than one month from the time the keel was laid. The ship entered the water at 10:30 a. m. and in just twenty-seven days, two hours and fifty minutes a vessel has been added to the American merchant marine, practically complete in every detail, with only finishing touches needed before she can proceed to sea.

FRENCH TO RULE ERIN

Man Who Quelled Revolt Made Lord Lieutenant.

Edward Shortt, Who Opposed Conscription, Is Appointed Chief Secretary of Ireland.

London, May 6.—Lord French has been appointed lord lieutenant of Ireland. He succeeds Lord Wimborne, who has resigned.

Edward Shortt has been appointed chief secretary for Ireland in place of retiring Secretary Duke.

Probably no other British official has had such wide experience with the Irish situation, particularly during crises, as Lord French.

Since his recall from the chief command of the British expeditionary forces to France, he has been commander of British home forces.

Long before the war Lord French repeatedly headed government troops in Ireland. The troops which quelled the Dublin Easter revolt also were under him.

Edward Shortt is a radical and home-ruler. The Irish vote of Newcastle-on-Tyne sent him to parliament. He is known as an out-and-out opponent of conscription.

When his appointment as chief secretary for Ireland was first foreshadowed, the rumor sprang up that the Lloyd-George government would abandon conscription in Ireland. This has been authoritatively denied since.

GOUGH TELLS OF RETREAT

Commander of Fifth British Army Says His Troops Were Greatly Outnumbered.

Belfast, Ireland, May 6.—Gen. Sir Robert Gough's first public statement regarding the conduct of the Fifth British army, which he commanded in the retreat from St. Quentin, comes in a letter to the lord mayor of Belfast, in which the general pays an enthusiastic tribute to the work of the Irish troops. General Gough says the Fifth army was greatly outnumbered on the opening days of the German offensive, while the odds against the British troops increased in the latter days of the battle. Nevertheless the Fifth army fought with splendid calmness and doggedness and, the commander adds, "their tenacity saved Great Britain and France by permitting the arrival of reserves."

HUN FLYERS ATTACK DUTCH

Crew of Unarmed Fishing Boat Driven Into Open Boats 60 Miles at Sea—Saved by British.

London, May 6.—German airplanes recently have attacked Dutch fishing vessels with machine-gun fire in the North sea. Five Dutch fishermen landed at a British port after a harrowing experience. They said their boat had been attacked by four German airmen, who for two hours rained machine-gun bullets on their unarmed ship. The crew took to the boats and rowed 60 miles before being picked up by a small British vessel. Their ship was later brought into harbor by a British destroyer and bore numerous signs of the enemy fire.

SET AN EXAMPLE OF HONESTY

Street Car Passenger Left Fare With Woman Who Took Advantage of Opportunity to Be Dishonest.

The man in the corner seat looked worried. At last he spoke.

"Madam," he said, "will you kindly take this nickel and give it to the conductor when he comes around? I have been trying to catch his eye, but he apparently does not see me. Will you see that he gets it?"

The woman sat bewildered in the presence of such extraordinary honesty, but she good-naturedly accepted the trust. After the man left the car, she, too, attempted to establish a line of communication with the conductor, but failed. She was nearing her own destination, but conscience forbade her leaving the car until her neighbor's fare had been paid. Before that feat was accomplished she had been carried four blocks past her street. When she finally got home her temper was slightly damaged.

"But you shouldn't have been so accommodating," said her husband, "You should have got off at your corner."

"But how could I?" the woman argued. "With that man's honesty before me as an example of right living I simply had to turn his nickel over to the conductor."

"Maybe you are right," said the man admiringly. "Women certainly do have fine notions about these things. But it is too bad. You had to walk back."

"Oh, no, I didn't walk," she said. "I rode."

"And that cost you another nickel."

"No, it didn't," she said. "The conductor never even looked my way when he came through, and I got off without having to pay."

HALF-WAY WORK DEGRADING

Should Confess Our Poverty or Parsimony, But Not Belie Our Human Intellect, Says Writer.

We are, none of us, wrote Ruskin, so good architects as to be able to work habitually beneath our strength; and yet there is not a building that I know of, lately raised, wherein it is not sufficiently evident that neither architect nor builder has done his best. It is the especial characteristic of modern work. All old work nearly has been hard work. It may be the hard work of children, of barbarians, of rustics; but it is always their utmost. Let us have done with this kind of work at once; cast off every temptation to it; do not let us degrade ourselves voluntarily, and then mutter and mourn over our shortcomings; let us confess our poverty or our parsimony, but not belie our human intellect. It is not a question of doing more, but of doing better. Do not let us boss our roofs with wretched, half-worked, blunt-edged rosettes; do not let us flank our gates with rigid imitations of medieval statuary. Such things are mere insults to common sense, and only unfit us for feeling the nobility of their prototypes.

Sunlight Distressing.

In addition to the wind there is another peculiarity of the inland ice which adds to the difficulties to be encountered in the Arctic. That is the extreme intensity of the sunlight, which can be realized only by those who have experienced it. During the summer months the sun shines as brightly there in clear weather as anywhere further south, and this continuous brilliancy is intensified a hundredfold by the reflection from endless fields of glistening, sparkling snow, unrelieved by a single object. The strongest eyes can stand such a blinding glare only a few hours without protection. We always wore heavy smoked glasses, and when in camp found it impossible to sleep without still further protecting the eyes by tying a narrow band of fur about them to exclude the light. Only when a storm is brewing does this intense light become subdued. At such times, however, the sky and snow take on a peculiar gray, opaque light, which is even more trying than the sunlight.—Century Magazine.

Ever See a Dingonek?

The dingonek is a huge, unclassified aquatic monster, says the Wide World Magazine. It resembles in many of its characteristics the extinct dinosaur, a huge reptile of the Mesozoic period, fossils of which have been discovered by paleontologists in the sandstone strata both of the African and American continents. It lives in Lake Victoria Nyanza and its numerous tributaries and there is no record of the monster having been seen in any other part of the world. Whether it is a descendant of one of the huge prehistoric saurians that has by a process of adaptation—living as it does in impenetrable regions far away from the encroachments of civilized man—continued with but slight modifications through prodigious ages to the present time, or whether it is an unclassified reptile or amphibian, it is equally impossible to say, as no specimen exists either of its bones or of its skin. That this monster does exist, however, there can be no particle of doubt, as the testimony of authoritative eyewitnesses cannot be reasonably disputed.

Useless.

Mrs. Crossley was enjoying a shopping tour and was critically examining various articles on the counter of the dry goods emporium.

"What is this thing used for?" she finally asked.

"I really don't know," answered the clerk. "I think it is intended for a Christmas gift."—Harper's Magazine.

LETTER IN THE MORNING MAIL

How Mrs. Lane Finally Realized That Thousands of Other Mothers' Sons Are at War Scarred Battle Front.

By MAXIMILIAN FOSTER
Of the Vigilantes.

Mathematics teach us that 1 from 1 leaves nothing, and there is also the well known biological theorem that you cannot get blood from a turnip. It is also assumed, Sir Isaac Newton having demonstrated the law, that what goes up is bound to come down, but this is only abstract. Mrs. Lane probably would have denied it.

The flat rent, previously $1,200 a year, now was $1,400, and it showed no signs whatever of coming down. The same condition applied also to her children's shoes. The shoes now cost $7, whereas they formerly had cost $4. But this was merely a detail. A similar phenomenon occurred as to beefsteaks, potatoes, butter, fish and the 57 other varieties of domestic essentials. All had gone up; none had come down. About the only thing stable in Mrs. Lane's cosmos was Mr. Lane's yearly income. This was $7,000 a year. Already Mrs. Lane had given up one maid. The war literally was at her door. True, Mrs. Lane had no son, no brother—no kin of any kind—in the war, but the war still was at her door.

Hard to Make Ends Meet.

Give money for the war? What do you think she was doing, anyway? She was giving every cent she had, trying to make both ends meet in her household. It hurt, though. Mrs. Lane was a kindly, warm hearted woman, and she would have liked to give. The war was dreadful! It was so dreadful she'd stopped reading about it.

But one must read letters. One must do that when a friend takes the trouble to write them.

The letter came in the morning mail. Mrs. Lane read it, then she read it again. Afterward she sat there absorbed, silent, rigid. The color had crept out of her face, and her breath came swiftly from between her parted lips.

"I have just come back from the canteen," it read. "Such an afternoon! A trainload of seriously wounded to be fed at once, which is trying, as one has to climb into all the carriages, one after the other. We begin with the men who are well enough to sit up and handle their cups, and those who are too ill even to lift their heads, of course, we have to lift and feed ourselves. Feeding the ones with bad face wounds are the hardest. I can stand ordinary wounds of blood, but when a man ought to have a nose and mouth and all he has is—ugh!—it takes all your courage to get through a feeding. I managed to get half a pint of milk and a beaten egg and some brandy down the throat of a boy of twenty who had no mouth left, and I had to clean it between every mouthful. He had had no food for fifteen hours and was so thirsty that he was nearly insane. I held his head against me, and I gagged all the time, but I just kept thinking, 'Suppose it was my boy who needed a drink and there was no one to give it to him.' So I went through with it, and he finally went to sleep. Oh, Martha, Martha Lane, we need everything—all you and the rest can send!"

If Lawrence Had Gone to War.

One o'clock struck. Mrs. Lane still sat with the letter clutched in her hand. "What's for dinner?" asked Hannah, the maid. Mrs. Lane hardly heard her. She was still sitting there when Olivia floundered in. Olivia was fourteen, the conscious age. "Mother," she said fretfully, "I can't go to dancing school again in brown gloves when all the other girls have white ones." The plaint reminded Mrs. Lane that Lawrence at boarding school had written that morning about his socks. He had only two pairs of silk ones left. "And, mother," said Olivia, continuing— But what Olivia said Mrs. Lane didn't hear. She had dropped her head on the table and unaccountably was weeping. "Just suppose it was my boy—mine!" she was sobbing.

"Why, mother!" ejaculated Olivia.

She hurried toward her mother. "What is it, mother? You're acting just as though Lawrence had gone to war!"

Mrs. Lane looked up, the tears streaking down her face.

"That's just what is the matter with me! I should be acting as if Lawrence were there. And so should you! If Willie were like these, the boys there," she pointed to the letter that had slipped from her lap to the floor—"if he were, like them, in need, dying, wanting eggs, milk, brandy, to keep him alive, would you be buying white gloves? And would we think what other people wear or how they live or whether we had only one servant now? If my boy was over there, if my son were—"

But other women's sons are over there. Mrs. Lane had at last realized this. The tears were rolling down her cheeks.

Eucalyptus and Malaria.

"What is the connection between the eucalyptus and the disappearance of the malarial trouble? This has been only very recently explained. There is probably no tree having a greater avidity for water than the eucalyptus. Experiments with seedlings grown in water have shown that a baby blue-gum will take up the liquid at an extremely rapid rate. As the blue-gums grow at a marvelous rate (often as much as ten or twelve feet is added to their height in a single season), the consumption of moisture from the soil goes on at a rapidly increasing rate. Now, it is well-known that the malarial poison is introduced into the blood of man through the agency of a certain variety of mosquito (Anopheles), and the dwelling place of these insects, when in the larval stage, is to be found in pools of water. With the planting of the eucalyptus trees the pools disappear and the marshy land becomes comparatively dry. Thus the breeding places of the mosquitoes are destroyed and the insects are no longer able to carry on their pernicious activities."—S. Leonard Bastin, in St. Nicholas.

FILM SPREAD OVER WATER

Thin Sheet on Surface Has Properties That Are Very Like Those of India Rubber.

It seems not to be generally understood that the surface of all water is covered by a film of the water itself, which in its action is not unlike that of a thin sheet of india rubber, says Edward Bigelow, the scout naturalist, in Boys' Life. To comprehend this one must imagine the rubber to be so thin as to be transparent. The surface of the water itself is elastic and under tension, so that a needle, though heavier than the water, may be floated on the surface.

Several interesting experiments may be made with the elasticity of this film. One of the best is to place two slender splinters of wood side by side on the water. Now drop a little alcohol between the splinters. This alcohol will immediately break the surface film between the splinters, and the pulling force of the remaining film, since there is nothing between them to hold them, will cause the splinters instantly to fly apart.

Another interesting experiment is to whittle a thin, slender splinter, pointed at one end somewhat like a boat. Place a tiny bit of gum camphor on the rear of this splinter and the gum will destroy the surface film so that there will be no pull in the rear. As there is a pull in the front not balanced by one in the rear, the tiny boat will run forward as rapidly as the camphor can dissolve the film in the rear.

Some interesting little "magic" tricks might be developed from these experiments which would surprise and instruct your friends.

ODIUM ATTACHED TO CARD

Numerous Explanations as to Why the Nine of Diamonds Is Called the Curse of Scotland.

While the nine spot of spades is looked upon as a fatal and vindictive card in the trying of fortunes, it is the nine of diamonds that bears the odium of being called the curse of Scotland. All writers agree on the card, but as to the cause of the stigma attached to it there is a diversity of opinion and it is difficult to decide which of the many theories is correct. One theory is that after the Culloden struggle the duke of Cumberland picked up a nine of diamonds from the floor and wrote on it an order for the death of the insurgents. To clinch this argument, it is declared that the identical card is preserved at Slains castle, Aberdeenshire. Another explanation was that a Scotch member of parliament, a part of whose family arms was the nine of diamonds, once voted for a malt tax for his country. Still another view is that diamonds represent royalty and every ninth king of Scotland having been a tyrant and a curse furnishes the key to the mystery. One writer explains it by stating that the last queen of Scotland taxed her subjects heavily to pay for nine jewels for her own adornment. The "last queen of Scotland" in her own right was poor, pretty Marie Stuart, against whose memory has been tossed the mud of countless accusations by her bitter critics, and she might as well bear the nine o' diamonds slander along with the others.

"Flapdoodle" Universal.

Roosters have used it simply and ingenuously, but by mankind it has been raised almost to the level of an art and it has been extensively used from long before the days of Solomon for purposes of evasion, promotion, argument and self-advancement. There is scarcely a department of human activity that is free from it. It is a rhetorical device that is literally and shamelessly used by the lover, the business man, the professional man, the society woman, the critic and the craftsman, and even the clergyman has been known to descend to its employment upon occasion. The routine evidences of flapdoodle in ordinary intercourse are monotonous, but in its most highly cultivated forms it is found in art, literature, criticism, politics and statecraft. It is the most common commodity in the world, and about the most serious.

Not All Love Silence.

Dr. A. A. Brill of New York tells of a musical genius who complained of insomnia, which he maintained to be due to street noises in the city and cricket and night calls in the country. Many persons who become hypersensitive to noises blame their troubles on the sounds. This very patient could listen with rapture to music and yet believe that noises kept him awake!

Some of the greatest apostles of silence have shown themselves in need of noise. For example, John Stuart Mill, who was an enemy of all noise, hired a boy, according to Doctor Brill, to beat a drum next to the room in which he worked in order to stimulate his thoughts.

Spiders Ride on Back of Flies.

There is an aspect of spider and fly relations which fabulists and naturalists alike have overlooked. A correspondent who has brought the microscope to bear on many houseflies finds that the parasite upon that hateful insect is often an immature spider. Too weak yet to spin its web it makes the fly its winged palfrey, and coerces from place to place at the will of its captive; either until Pegasus perishes naturally, or presumably until the rider is able to make a meal of his charger. This, if confirmed, seems to carry us a step further in the study of parasitism and commensalism.—London Chronicle.

Temperament of Camels.

Bearing an innate grudge against all restraint and all who restrain him, the camel will use the great strength of his long legs to kick his keepers or the dogs which guard him in the waste places, but in the presence of enemies, among wolves or other beasts of prey, he is a coward, forgets the very use of his legs and proves his erratic temper by screaming and spitting in terror. No camel wants to be loved, and no one familiar with camels ever entertains the least affection for them. They make savages of whatever people breeds them. The man who owns and uses camels cannot live in a city, he cannot travel the highways through cultivated country, he cannot have a permanent abiding place. He is doomed to live in deserts and arid grasslands, to follow the paths that are lined with evergreen thorns, tamarisks and bitter weeds, to drink the saline water that his evil tempered beasts prefer and to avoid the haunts of men and horses as the horseman circles the deserts, says Rodney Gilbert in Asia.

ANN ARBOR MAY FESTIVAL

A Patriotic Demonstration

The Ann Arbor Festival, May 15, 16, 17, 18, will bring together a wealth of musical talent such has seldom before been assembled. Not only will it provide a feast of brilliant music for music lovers but in many ways it will take on the aspects of an important patriotic demonstration. A Choral Union service flag of 53 stars will be displayed alongside of "Old Glory", while each program of the Festival will be featured with patriotic music.

At the opening concert Wednesday evening, before the beginning of the formal program Frederick Stock will lead the orchestra, chorus and audience in the singing of "America". In the same program the two distinguished operatic stars, Margarete Matzenauer and Riccardo Stracciari, in addition to the formal numbers assigned to them, will each make patriotic contributions, Madame Matzenauer singing the French Anthem, "The Marseillaise" and Stracciari, a patriotic Italian air entitled "My Flag", particularly significant in view of the fact that he has two sons at the Italian front, one of whom not yet 16 years of age has been honored with a Lieutenant's Commission for valiant service.

Thursday evening Caesar Franck's monumental oratorio "The Beatitudes" will receive its initial Ann Arbor performance. The work is a beautiful composition with brilliant choral passages and orchestral accompaniments and arias requiring the services of the greatest soloists. It is significant that this work will be given by a cast all of whom are Americans. By special request the program will be preceded by Dr. Stanley's "Hymn of Consecration" dedicated to the times and especially written for last year's Festival. It's sentiments are deep and strong and worthy of the important period through which we are passing.

At the Friday afternoon program the children will contribute "Into the World" a composition in absolute harmony with the spirit of these fateful days. The children will also sing 'America", while the evening's program at which Claudia Muzio, the distinguished Italian Soprano, will be the star, will be preceded by "The Star Spangled Banner."

At the Organ Recital Saturday afternoon given by Joseph Bonnet, the eminent French organist, the audience will be led in the singing of patriotic songs by Earl V. Moore, with accompaniment by Mr. Bonnet.

The performance of "Carmed" on Saturday evening in which the operatic stars, Matzenauer, Martinelli, de Luca, Middleton and Sharlow will be heard, will be preceded by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" and at the close of the formal program, as a fitting climax to the week of music, the audience, chorus and orchestra will unite in a triumphant rendition of "America".

Douglas Fairbanks in Triangle Play, "The Lamb" at the Bradley Saturday Night.

No wonder that Douglas Fairbanks bowls over the whole band of Yaqui Indians in a real fight which furnishes one of the thrills in the big Triangle play "The Lamb" which comes to the Bradley this week Saturday, May 11th. He learned to fight back 1902, when with two other friends (our own Dr. Beardsley was one of them. If you don't believe it, ask him) he 'embarked' on a Leyland line cattle boat. Stokers and cattle men were the riff raff of the world, and anything started a battle royal. After seeing "The Lamb" at the Bradley Saturday night you will admit that the actor learned his lesson well.

Perhaps everyone don't know it but our Dr. Beardsley and the well known actor Douglas Fairbanks together with another college chum started out to do Europe for three and a half months on $50 apeice. It was at this time that they shipped on the above mentioned cattle steamer for Europe.

One would think, from the title "The Lamb" that this picture was very tame, but according to Fairbank's own say 'Far be it from such' he says it is one of the biggest thrillers, he really tackles mountain lions, wolves and this real band of Yaqui indians, in fact just one thrill after another. You liked Doug. after seeing him in his other pictures, you will like him better after seeing "The Lamb"—remember, keep your Saturday night date for Doug.

An Isolated Island.

The last and most isolated of the Polynesians is Easter Island. It lies 2,000 miles westward of the coast of Chile, its nearest neighbor being Pitcairn island, 1,400 miles further west. It is small, only 45 square miles in area, and volcanic, the surface being formed of lava of comparatively recent eruption. Hence the strange lack of vegetation to-day, in spite of its being situated at variance with a tropical climate. Grass grows on it, however, and it is for that reason largely given up to the raising of sheep and cattle.

Easter Island was discovered nearly two hundred years ago by the Dutch Admiral Roggeveen, who cast anchor there on an Easter Sunday, whence it derived its name. He found it more largely populated than it is now. But he and his crew must have seen and marveled at its bold rock sculpture, its terraces and walls, its picture writings. Many of these, indeed, rival the world-famous relics of Mexico and Peru, while they are strangely akin to them in conception and design.

A MOST INTERESTING LETTER

George Hawkes again hears from his son Capt. Milburn Hawkes and kindly allows us to print the letter.

Everywhere in France
April 6, 1918

Dear Dad:

Your letter of March 5 received today. Was very glad to hear from you again and that you were well. I sent you a card last month telling you I was in the Hospital, also wrote you on arrival here but you did not have time to get it before you wrote.

I can't tell you anything about the trip across or how long it took. I was not sick a minute and did not miss a meal and neither did "Pep." After we landed we went into a so called rest (?) camp for a few days and then loaded up and started toward the front.

I felt fine up to that time but that day we got into a big storm and by the time we got onto the train after a five mile hike I felt good until we got into the train and all of a sudden I felt every bone ache and had chills and fever 104. The Dr. with us doped me up but I did not get quite right and where we stopped it was snowing and such damp awful weather and we had to hike quite a ways and I was all in again and a few days later he sent me to the hospital and as I was in the Contagious ward (had a private room though) I I could not write you while I was in there. I had the best of care. Got into the Hospital where the bunch was located from Detroit.

One morning a Dr. came in and I could hardly believe my eyes as he was one of the Dr.s who examine for the Equitable Life and I have known him since I started to work for them.

He looked at me and I at him and then he said "Well, Hawkes, what in hell are you doing here?" I told him I came down to see the girls Ha! Ha! Well we had a nice chat and every day he came in. The head nurse took care of me exclusively and I had some care. Just let me say that the Red Cross is doing a most wonderful work over here. Well I got well and just back to the Co. when we got orders to move as I could not hike and we moved 41 kilometers, I had charge of the truck train.

We are now quartered in a City and I have the swellest room right down town and the cutest little maid to take care of it and we jabber away for fair.

We are well located nearer the front and tomorrow start on our finishing touch to fit us for the fray. I begin to feel fine again so there will be some hard work ahead for our campany I know of. I cannot describe the beauties of this country, but it is all it is said to be. The great castle and beautiful hilly country and the people are very kind. Of course there are some things not so agreeable but one should always look on the bright side and you know I always do.

Now for the sad part of my letter. Little "Pep" was killed by a motorcycle at our last camp while I was in the hospital. The officers all felt bad about it as I do but guess it was unavoidable. They had him out for a walk on a Sunday and he ran across the road and got hit. He is buried on a hill where a great battle was fought in a past war and his grave is marked with a proper sign that he was my dog and came from America to do his duty here, etc. This was all done by the officers and when I got back they told me all about it and took me up to the hill and showed me where he lies. I sure was broken up over it as were the rest that came in close touch with him as he sure was the greatest dog ever was. They all helped smuggle him over and he kept as quiet on the boat as could be.

Well, dad, I have a big lot of work to attend to before night so will close with lots of love to you and best wishes to all relatives and friends. Will try and write more next time, but believe me I have very little time to write letters.

Sonny.

SOCIAL FOR RED CROSS

The social given by Willing Workers last Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs J. A. Whitmore was largely attended. The following program was given:

Star Spangled Banner—Victrola.
Reading, "Kaiser's Dream"—Marjorie Boyce.
Vocal Solo—Margretta Gibson.
Instrumental Solo—Gertrude Brooks
Vocal Duet—Marie and Eva Murphy
Victrola.

The society wish to thank I. W. Boltz for auctioning of the bows of ribbon also Mr and Mrs. Whitmore for opening their home.

Sixteen dollars was cleared for Red Cross.

Some Old Children's Books.

John Newbury set the fashion of publishing juvenile story books about 1756, retaining Goldsmith and others to write them, and in the list of such publications it is somewhat startling to come across "Tom Jones" and "Joseph Andrews"—"abridged for the amusement of youth," it is true, but not at all in the direction one would expect, says the Boston Globe. There was, however, quite literally, powder in the jam, even with Newbury's publications. The worthy publisher was the proprietor of the famous Dr. James' Powder, and contrived to introduce ingenious references to this profitable sideline into his book. Thus in "Goody-Two-Shoes" the heroine's father dies miserably because "seized with a fever in a place where Dr. James' Powder was not to be had."

Use of Cement.

Cement was first put on the market in England. It was still being imported into this country in 1875. It was at this time that the use of Portland cement in the United States came into commercial prominence. When the product was first placed on the market in competition with that which was being imported from England and Germany, a good price was demanded. However, production in excess of demand soon resulted and it proved a big factor in the price cutting that followed.

RED CROSS NEWS

The Y. M. C. A. work hand in hand with the Red Cross to take care of the soldiers, and it is sometimes hard to tell where the work of one begins and the other ceases.

Each camp is a practically self contained city, with thousands of buildings, large enough to house twenty, thirty or fifty thousand men. Each regiment has its own Quartermasters department for clothing, supplies and so on, its own kitchens, dining rooms and barracks for sleeping quarters, and each has its own Y. M. C. A. building. They are all painted green and can be easily picked out from a distance.

In camp Sherman, Illinois they were all uniform, and contained several rooms. There is one large hall, capable of seating all the men belonging to the regiment, with a stage at one end, where lectures are given and entertainers are welcome to perform, also it is used for amatuer theatrical. At one end of this when we were there several soldiers were practising a song, while a Y. M. C. A. man played the accompaniment, they were having difficulty with the tune, but were enjoying themselves immensely.

Off this was a rest room for ladies, who might be there to visit the men.

Another room contained a library at one end, and there was a large table in the middle with all the popular magazines and newspapers; this is where the papers and books go that we end with a cent stamp or take to the library. It was well patronized, there were men reading all day long.

Around the room ran writing desks made of plain white wood, but comfortable, and plenty of them, with ink, pens, paper, pencils, and all necessaries for writing.

In one corner was wrapping paper, in rolls and sheets, with mucilage, string, labels, clips and scissors hanging up by a tape, in fact every convenience for mailing anything in reason.

There were other tables around with chess boards, and other games.

In the center between the rooms was a counter behind which the Y. M. C. A. officers worked and from where he could over see the whole place; at this counter one could buy postcards, stamps, and other necessaries.

Maps of the war region hung around, and all kinds of pictures that had been donated; on a screen were a number of pictures cut from magazines, comic, instructive or beautiful Around the building hung mottos, such as; "Do not treat any girl in a way you would not wish the other fellow to treat your sister," or "Keep yourself clean for the pure girl you will marry some day."

The atmosphere of the whole place was sweet, clean and wholesome, it is the soldiers home in camp, their meeting place, and social hall; it is their very own, there is apparently no supervision or interference of any kind. Of course the Y. M. C. A. officers is there, as no roudyism, or wrong thing would take place.

Personally, I would say that if one wishes to do the most good with one's money, the Y. M. C. A. is next the Red Cross the best help and friend the soldier has, and the best investment for pure cash.

We had our meals in the men's messroom and the food was excellent. In Presidie, Texas, I dined at the officer's mess, and though they had waiters in white coats, and better table service, the food itself was better at the men's table. The meat was such as we rarely get, the bread was pure white wheat, such as it eaton nowhere outside of the army and navy camps, the tea, coffee fish and vegetables were better than in the ordinary restaurant, and there was quantities of everything. A few men used some jam that had been sent from their homes, but the main articles of diet were better than in most American homes nowadays.

Food that is sent to soldiersis wasted, it often arrives in a damaged condition, or in some instances men have been enabled to stay away from Uncle Sam's table for a week at a time, and then the food he provides is not used. It is an insult to Uncle Sam to say that his soldiers are not well fed, they are fed with the best there is.

William Howard Taft gives the same testimony in the March Geographic magazines, he says 'The food is of the best, my own boy in the ranks has told me that they have a tradition among the men and think it is sustained that their food is better than the officers."

There are disgruntled soldiers, even in this army who will complain happily very few of them, and there are German propagandists with their ear to the ground who will catch, magnify and spread every complaint abroad, but this is true, there is no soldier better cared for than these who follow the Stars and Stripes.

The pajama committee sent 18 suits to Headquarters last week making a total of 78 for the month of April. Mrs. Geo. Ziehr and Mrs. Frank Snedicor have charge of the committee this week.

This week is again devoted to collecting papers for the Red Cross. All boys who are willing to collect papers, please phone Mrs. Thos. McCann, Tel. 110, not later than Wednesday noon.

And everybody is again requested to the papers and magazines up separately and to leave them on the front porch, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, which will be the last day, on which they will be collected.

Please do not forget to tie them up for it means a whole day's hard labor, for several people to sort and tie the paper collected in a whole village.

The boys will kindly deliver all the paper to Mrs. Thos. McCann's barn, who will give them all instructions.

A Red Cross benefit dance will be given by Messrs. Harriott & Coller at the Witherell Hall on Monday evening, May 13th. Everthing above expenses will be given to the Red Cross.

Our generous friend, Mrs. Mary Smythe of Brownville who has already donated $40.00 has given us another $10.00.

The ladies of the Methodist church gave a Patriotic party recently and donated $5.00 of the proceeds to the Red Cross.

The Red Cross Concert Company held a meeting on Thursday at Mrs. Hardy's residence and elected the following officers:

Musical director—Mrs. F. B. Wood
Transportation—Mrs. R. S. Moore
Rec. Sec.—W. S. Dickinson
Treasurer—Floyd Jucket
Property men—Fred Dickinson and Roger Waring
Gasoline—Roger Waring
Press, publicity and advance agent—Mrs. J. C. Law Hardy

Please make any offers of automobiles for one or more concerts to Mrs. Moore.

Mrs. Hardy will be glad to arrange for concerts with any town or village who desires one, the company has raised $904.70 to date.

The company gives its services absolutely free, half the collection goes to the Tecumseh Red Cross, and half to the town where the concert is given there are no expenses.

The Red Cross Concert company gave a very successful concert in the Grange hall, Tipton, on Sunday evening. The Hall was crowded to the utmost, in spite of the oppressively hot weather. The audience was most responsive, and encored nearly every number. Mrs. Hoyt Whelan was in charge of the local arrangements, and the collection netted $42.70 of which half went to the Tipton Red Cross and half to Tecumseh.

The following letter was received by Mrs. Harry Dunn from Miss Beth Satterthwaite, Somewhere in France.

"I should have come with out a minute's hesitation had I known the need or felt the reality of what is going on here. The little comfort pillows remind me of you. Everyone of them makes so much difference to patients, and I wish the Red Cross workers at home could look over and see how much of the work they are doing. If we nurses had to sit up nights, making our own supplies, we would soon be in asylums, and the patients would have to take care of each other.

The aviators and sailors who crossed with us wear their home knitted mufflers so proudly, even on the warm days. They made us feel as if their Red Cross mufflers proved, that they represent the people of the U. S. A., and are not being driven out blindly like the German soldiers.

I would be glad if you would tell the Red Cross committee that I was so happy to have their money to spend for refreshments for the American ambulance boys, who have been "au repos" near here. Some hadn't heard a piano before in France, some hadn't talked with an American woman, and they hiked several miles every time they came over, and did seem to appreciate the hominess, her. I am sorry to happen to know that our Michigan boys (ambulance) have been in a dangerous place part of the time and I will be awfully glad to know that they all came through, with nothing worse than a severe gassing. I feel sure the Tecumseh Red Cross would like to be the branch that made it possible that every one of the boys who visited us had either a real meal, or tea, jam, sandwiches and chocolate.

Our patients are unfailingly interesting; my room mate has just taken a heartbreaking case to a tuberculosis hospital near Paris. She is a very nice young woman, and has advanced tuberculosis of the larynx, Her young husband is a prisoner in GERMANY, and she has not heard from him since February. She is almost gone, but is fighting death teeth and nails, because she wants so much to live just to see her husband when he is released.

Have had to stay to jiggle the clothes basket of my littlest and beautifullest baby, Pierre. Our beds are always all full, and just now we have two clothes basketfulls of extra babies.

You'd believe how welcome your sugar is, if you could see us carry our little boxes of one month's sugar ration to meals, and deal out to ourselves, as we cannot resist."

Miss Satterthwaite, says that her blood runs cold at the thought of writing anything for publication, but she could not have written anything sweeter than this one, not penned for publicity.

Registration Nearly 100 Per Cent.

OVER 800 REGISTRATIONS OF TECUMSEH'S WOMEN TAKEN LAST WEEK

Registration Closed Saturday Night

The women of Tecumseh have "gone over the top" and have made their registration nearly 100 per cent. When the books were closed Saturday night it was found that a total of over 800 cards had been signed by the women of this school district.

The registration commenced Saturday, April 27th, and continued during last week, ending Saturday night. Women on the registration boards put in a busy week and were on hand each day at either bank. The work was carried on under the direction of Mrs. E. E. Hendershott, general chairman, with Mrs. F. B. Wood and Mrs. J. H. Smith in active charge of the work.

While the result is very gratifying to those in charge and shows the patriotic feeling that exists among the women of this community, still there are a few who have failed to register their name with Uncle Sam. Tecumseh expects every woman to do her duty. About 40 names remain on the census recently taken of women who have not registered. For their benefit the registration will continue until Tecumseh goes "over the top" with a 100 per cent. report. Let there be no slackers in our midst. The committee have in their possession a complete poll lists of all the women in the district and the names of those who have not registered are known to them, so, women of Tecumseh, be sure that your name is not one of the 40.

All those who have not registered may do so by appointment this week. Call Mrs. F. B. Wood, Phone No. 135 or Mrs. J. H. Smith, Phone No. 104.

Waldron School District 100 per cent

Word comes to us that the women of Waldron's school district made it 100 per cent, every woman registering. Good for Waldron school district! We take it that this would not be a healthy place for rheKaiser.

DON'T MISS "THE WHIP"

"THE WHIP", known as 'the world's biggest motion picture', is coming to the Bradley Opera House, Thursday and Friday, May 16 17. The picture was presented at the Bradley last January and was pronounced by all who saw it as being one of the most wonderful pictures yet seen at this popular playhouse. Since its presentation here the local management has had at least 200 requests for a return booking so has arranged for this two nights' showing.

"The Whip" is a great love story of the race track, with many scenes at Saratoga, the racing home of the world's millionaires, and has many thrilling scenes among them one of the most spectacular railroad wrecks ever thrown on a screen, the wreck scene alone costing some $25,000 to produce.

"A thriller out-thrilled" best describes "The Whip". Further particulars will be given next week. Remember the dates, Thurday and Friday, May 16-17.

Studebaker BUGGIES

"The Studebaker solid corner plugless body is the best buggy body made"

No doubt about it! Why, out of over 100,000 now in use in every section of the United States, under all climatic conditions, so far only five have shown any indication of opening or splitting at the corners.

Think of it—nearly 100% perfect! They have stood the test of time and have proven satisfactory in every way.

We want you to see this body and know how it's made—you'll appreciate its construction.

COAL

You are being advised to buy soft coal now, when you can get it, At present we are receiving a very good grade of Ohio Lump Coal that burns very clean. We shall have no Pocahontas. As soon as the Lake season opens we fear it will be almost impossible to get soft coal of any kind. Better fill your bins now while you can get a good quality, for later we may be compelled to take Run of Mine or go without.

WIT & WISDOM CLUB BANQUET

Held Monday Evening in the Parlors of the Presbyterian Church

The annual banquet of the Wit and Wisdom Club was held Monday evening in the parlors of the Presbyterian church and was largely attended by the members. These banquets are the wind up meetings of the year with the club and are always much enjoyed by the members.

The tables were arranged in the shape of a U, the speakers being seated at the head of the U. Yellow and white jonquils and daffodils were used for table decorations and place cards were found at each plate bearing the name of each member, few could read them, however, unless they were good printers, for the names were all printed backwards.

Since these strenuous war days have commenced, the club have made it a custom to make their banquets a pot luck affair and save their money for some of the various war funds. Last evening the club showed their patriotism by voting $25. for the Red Cross donation fund and while this amount exceeded the balance in the treasury, the difference was made up by an assessment against each member. A committee of ladies with Mrs. Fred Rector as chairman arranged for the very excellent banquet served. The Misses Marjory Rosacrans, Lillis Howard, Georgiana Conklin and Margaret Turner doing the serving. Mrs. Alex Reed caterer.

The following most interesting program, patriotic in nature, was given with Dr. W. J. Balmer acting as toastmaster:

Camouflage—Dr. L. G. North
Hooverising—Mrs. J. O. Eaton
Piano Duet—"Grand Waltz Brilliant," Mrs. Charles Williamson and Mrs. Frank Turner
Conscientious Objectors—Mr. A. O. Howard
"Do your bit"—Dr. W. B. Hartzog
Selected Readings—From the Red Book by Henry VanDyke, Rev. W. A. Rex
Blighty—Mrs. J. D. Service
Recitation—"Who knows when the war is going to end," Miss Margaret Turner
Singing, "America," by the club

After the program a short business session was held and the retiring president, Mrs. Frank Turner, presented the president elect, Mr. J. O. Eaton, to the club.

H. BREWER & CO. DOING WAR WORK

Are Turning Out Wheels on Government Contracts

For the past few weeks The H. Brewer & Co. plant have been busy on government contracts and have been building heavy wheels for army wagons and equipment. While the first orders have not been very large they expect soon to be turning out wheels in large quantities for the government.

As time progresses the war work of our nation is increasing and the requirements of our Government is enormous. Factory wheels all over the country are turning and immense factories that were formerly manufacturing various products are now speeding up on equipment and supplies for our ever increasing army and navy. Our local plan is one of the latest to take on this class of work and expect to keep a large force of men busy during the months which follow.

The Government is using such quantities of steel and various kinds of rough material that independent factory producion is necessarily being largely cut down and only necessities are now being produced to any great extent.

REV. VINCENT WOOD

The many friends of Rev. Vincent Wood will be shocked to hear of his death which occurred this forenoon at 11 o'clock after a two weeks' illness though he has been in poor health for some months with the ills incident to old age.

He was about 75 yearsold and has lived in this vicinity some thirty years, being a former minister in the Friends church.

He leaves to mourn, his aged wife, Mrs. Mary A. Wood, a sister, Mrs. Katie Clark also of Tecumseh, and a brother in North Carolina.

No arrangements for the funeral have been made as we go to press.

Last week Supt. of Schools Reed was detained at home one-half day by illness, the first time lost in nineteen years.

Mrs. P. C. Snell and her cousin, Mrs. John Bowen of Olivet, returned this noon from a few days spent in Detroit with Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Davis.

OVERMAN BILL WINS

Measure Passed by the Senate by Vote of 63 to 13.

Washington, May 1. — Rejecting all amendments designed to limit the presidents' authority, the senate passed the Overman bill, with its general grant of power for the executive to co-ordinate and reorganize government departments and other agencies during the war.

The vote on the measure, which now goes to the house, was 63 to 13, many senators who opposed the administration in the long fight over proposed amendments joining the majority when the test came on final passage.

Nearly all of the 22 Republicans voting to pass the bill had, before the final roll call, supported amendments to circumscribe the president's power generally to war functions. Those who continued their opposition to the finish have based their attitude on the argument that the bill confers unnecessary autocratic powers upon the president and is unconstitutional.

Only one Democrat, Senator Reed of Missouri, voted against the bill. Republicans who voted against it were: Brandegee, Cummins, Dillingham, France, Gallinger, Harding, Johnson (Cal.), Knox, Poindexter, Sherman, Sterling, Sutherland.

As passed by the senate, the measure authorizes the president to "make among executive agencies as he may such redistribution of functions among executive agencies as he may deem necessary" and to "utilize, coordinate and consolidate any executive or administrative commissions, bureaus, agencies, offices or officers now existing by law, to transfer any duties or powers from one existing department or to transfer the personnel thereof." These powers, however, "shall be exercised only in matters relating to the conduct of the present war."

The measure also provides that if the president believes any agency should be abolished he shall report to congress, and congress will arrange for transfer of appropriations in any reorganization, limiting their expenditure to the purposes specified by congress.

Early consideration of the bill in the house is planned by administration leaders.

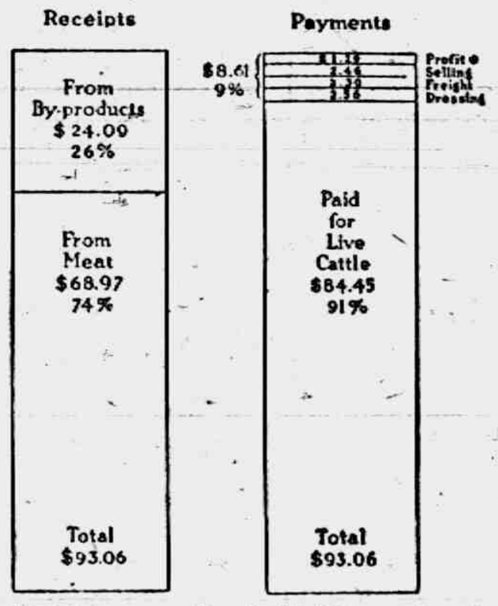
If Swift & Company Made No Profit

The cattle raiser would receive only 1/8 cent a pound more for his cattle

So small is Swift & Company's profit on any single transaction that if it were turned over to the cattle raisers of the country, they would receive only 1/8 cent a pound more for cattle than they receive now.

Swift & Company pays for live cattle about 90% of the amount received for dressed meat and by-products. The remaining 10% pays for packing-house expense, freight to market, operation of distributing houses and profit. Swift & Company's actual figures per head for 1917 on over two million cattle were as follows:



* This net profit of $1.29 per head averages 1/8 cent a pound live weight.

And out of this small net profit dividends must be paid to shareholders.

AMERICANS DRIVE HUNS FROM TOWN NEAR LUNEVILLE

Patrols Find Ancerviller Abandoned—Village Swept by U. S. Artillery.

FRENCH WIN IN FLANDERS

Improve Positions North of Kemmel and Capture More Than 100 Prisoners—German Attack on Positions Near Orvillers—Sorel Attack Fails With Severe Losses to Enemy.

With the American Army in France, May 13.—In the Luneville sector, our patrols early in the morning established the fact that the hamlet of Ancerviller has been abandoned by the enemy.

The Germans had not even attempted to occupy shell holes in the salient, which recently was torn up by our artillery. Quiet prevails on all fronts on which there are Americans, according to reports. Poor visibility has prevented extended aerial activity.

Berlin Claims Big U. S. Loss.

Berlins, May 13.—Heary losses were inflicted on the American troops southwest of Apremont and north of Parroy by a strong mine bombardment, according to the official communication from general headquarters.

[The Berlin statement indicates a simultaneous bombardment of American positions in the Toul and Luneville sectors. Apremont is five miles southeast of St. Mihiel in the Toul sector. Parroy is in the Luneville sector, eight miles north and east of the city from which the front takes its name.]

French Take 100 Prisoners.

London, May 13.—French troops on the Flanders front improved their positions north of Kemmel village yesterday and took more than 100 prisoners, the communication from the war office announces. German artillery is active in the Ancre river sector, south of Albert, east of Loos and near Voormezeele, in Flanders.

Hun Attack Fails.

Paris, May 13.—A German attack at night on the positions recently won by the French near Orvillers-Sorel, on the southern side of the Picardy battle front, broke down with severe losses, the war office announced. There was heavy artillery fighting near Mailly-Raineval, on the battle line below Amiens, and also on the Verdun front.

Two Battles at Night.

London, May 13.—Two sharp local battles, one in Flanders and the other in Picardy, took place Saturday night. Both resulted in successes for the allies.

French troops were engaged in both actions. In Flanders they took the aggressive in a night attack north of Kemmel village, just below Ypres, in the vital sector where the German commander, Von Arnim, must strike next in his channel drive.

Take Teutons by Surprise.

The Poilus delivered their onslaught with special artillery preparation, and took the enemy by surprise. They stole silently to within a few yards of their objectives, then charged. Then ensued in the darkness a hand-to-hand death struggle with bayonet and trench knife until the Germans broke and fled, leaving their lines in possession of the French, who took 100 prisoners.

Meanwhile the Germans in Picardy, smarting under their recent defeat by the French at Orvillers-Sorel, delivered a heavy attack in the early hours Sunday in an attempt to regain the ground they lost there last week.

Attack Completely Crushed.

Paris reported the Germans fleeing under the French fire and leaving many dead and wounded on the battlefield. The French also took a few prisoners.

While these two engagements were the main infantry actions during the past 24 hours, the great cannon of both sides continued their incessant roar from the North sea to the Verdun sector.

BORGLUM WRITES TO WILSON.

Sculptor Says Aids to Secretary Baker Are of Teutonic Origin and Renews Charge.

Washington, May 13.—In a long letter sent to President Wilson last night Gutzon Barglum stated that the would place before the senate, either Tuesday or Wednesday, detailed evidence and affidavits in answer of the aircraft board's failure to produce airplanes.

His reply to the charges will be read into the record of the senator from his state, F. B. Brandgee of Connecticut.

Borglum repeats his charge that Secretary Baker has advisers of Teutonic origin who are opposing efforts at a complete investigation of the aircraft production program, and asks that all matters in dispute be aired before the senate military affairs committee.

BEHIND THE LINES

The less said the better. Our Country is at war fighting for a just and good cause, hundreds of thousands of our finest young men are in Europe, or on their way, prepared to give up their lives for us.

We folks at home, we sing songs that are supposed to be patriotic, wave our flags when there is any one looking and once in a great while purchase a Thrift Stamp, if there's anything left over after the movie.

So far we folks at home and there's about a hundred millions of us, have not been the worse off for the w(e)ar, and its high time today that we get down to brass tacks and show our Uncle Samuel that he has a few nieces and nephews who really have got a few vertabrae down their backbone after all.

So many of us say "I do wish that I could be doing something to help my country now" and then after helping ourselves to about fifteen slices of wheat bread at the supper table forget to turn off the cellar light and leave the furnace wide open all night long.

This isn't supposed to be a sermon but merely a gentle reminder to you and myself, that if we are not able to do the conspicuous deeds at the present time, that there are dozens of little things that we can all do, if we will only stop and look.

Here are a few things that we can all do.

1 Eat less sugar, wheat and fats.

3 We boys should wear soft collars as there is a shortage of starch.

4 Attend fewer movies and buy less candy.

5 Buy Thrift Stamps and [War Savings certificates.

6 Subsribe to Liberty loans.

7 Patronize our home industries and merchants. (you are thus saving transportation and keeping money at home to run our industries and to loan our farmers to raise more crops and live stock with.)

8 Plant War Gardens and care for them.

Of these suggestions we should think more about the last one than any of the rest. Because:

A—We must send more wheat to our Allies whose food before the war was 52 per cent wheat.

B—Thousands of people are starving.

C—England is crying for more wheat!

D—France has only a thirty days food supply on hand.

E—We are all able to raise gardens even if we can't shoulder a gun and thus do our part in this great war.

F—It will save transporting food here.

G—By raising gardens we can make money to buy Thrift Stamps and Liberty Bonds with.

VINCENT WOOD

Vincent Wood, third son of Joseph and Angelina Wood, wa born in the State of New York, February 21st, 1841. When he was te years of age he came with his parents to Michigan, settling in Wheatland township, Hillsdale County. In his early manhood he worked with his oldest brother, James D. Wood at carpenter and joiner work and he could point to many houses he helped to build.

He was converted when about 21 years of age and has been a consistent and faithful member of the Friends church more than 55 years and an Elder in the church over 40 years.

He was married to Mary C. Harkness, August 17th, 1865 and they were closely attached especially in spiritual things.

He was a thorough Bible student and a zealous advocate of the full virtue of the Atonement of Christ often lamenting that so few ministers preached it as clearly as he saw it.

He came to Tecumseh 31 years ago and was engaged in job printing several years.

He leaves his wife, Mary C. Wood one sister, Mrs. Katie Clark, one brother, S. Adelbert Wood of North Carolina besides many nephews and nieces who loved him almost as a father. Four brothers have preceded him to the better land.

He was taken sick about three weeks ago from a complete breaking down of old age, and while hope was entertained for a while that he might recover, it became evident that the end was drawing near. He died at about eleven o'clock a. m., Tuesday, May 7th. There is no doubt in the minds of his friends that he has entered into rest, they are consoled that he has left the care and trials of his life and "Hope has changed to glad fruition, Faith to sight and prayer to praise."

The funeral services were at 2 o'clock Thursday, May 9th, at the Friends Church at Tecumseh and were conducted by the pastor H. Lawrence Linton, assisted by Howard Moore of Ypsilanti. Burial at Raisin Valley.

S. TROOPS PRAISED BY LONDON PRESS

National Army Men Make Good Appearance During Parade at Capital.

"FINEST SIGHT OF THE WAR"

Americans Cheered by Huge Crowds—King, Queen, Prince of Wales and Princess Mary Watch Spectacle From Buckingham Palace.

London, May 13.—The appearance of American National army men on parade in London on Saturday aroused the enthusiasm of the Sunday papers as have few events in months. The writers unite in giving unstinted praise to the apperance of the men, and predict for them a record of splendid achievement when they reach the front.

And the waiting crowds found a new name for the visitors. As the first battalion swung out from Waterloo station some one called out to a friend that they were 'a real husky lot.' The word pleased the fancy of the crowd, and soon every one was calling for cheers for 'the huskies.'

Finest Sight of the War.

It was a great friendship which was struck up between the London crowd and the American boys who have come across to give them a hand. That was the feeling that persisted to the last when the visitors said goodby for the time being to London."

"Since the thrilling days of the first months of the war," says the Observer, "London has not known such notable scene of enthusiasm as that of Saturday.

"The finest sight I have seen since the war began," was the verdict of a young soldier who has seen service on four fronts. The men are a fine looking body and appear to be in the pink of condition."

London's Greatest Cheers.

The companies filed past with light, elastic step, keeping excellent time and creating a mighty favorable impression of their marching qualities and physique.

King Views Parade.

King George V. and the Prince of Wales, standing outside Buckingham Palace, reverently bared their heads as the American national army troops from Camp Gordon, Atlanta, Ga., marched to the strains of "The Stars and Stripes Forever," played by the Grenadier Guards.

Wherever the doughboys passed traffic was halted and every open space was a sea of faces.

With the king and his heir were Queen Mary and Princess Mary.

American Tunes Lead.

Col. Whitman, Gen. Pershing's quartermaster in Mexico, commanded the parading troops, astride a coal black horse. The troops wore the old style cowboy hats, canvas leggings and light shoes instead of the modern trench boots. They carried full equipment from trench spades to gas masks, but no steel helmets.

The Scots Guard Band, playing "Hello, New York," led the machine gunners. Then followed the Irish Guards, playing "My Old Kentucky Home," leading another contingent, and finally there were the Grenadiers, playing "Over There."

Six silk-hatted, frock-coated civilians preceded the third battalion with a banner bearing the words:

"We Civil war veterans hail the United States."

In the crowds watching the inspiring spectacle were many Americans, including aviators, bluejackets, engineers and convalescent soldiers.

The drafted troops showed up well, carrying rifles at proper slope, eyes straight ahead.

U. S. APPEAL ENDS STRIKE

Workers in War Plants at Bridgeport, Conn., Agree to Work—Appeal Made to Men's Patriotism.

Bridgeport, Conn., May 13.—The strike of machinists and toolmakers that had toed up 22 of the smaller factories here for more than a week and seriously affected several of the larger plants, came to an end Saturday. The men responded to an appeal by Maj. E. A. Rogers of the ordnance department, United States army, who called upon them to show their patriotism in turning out vitally needed war supplies. They returned to work under conditions prevailing at the time of the strike, while their demands are under consideration by the war labor bureau. The men have been promised that any wage increase granted them will be retroactive from May 1.

Escanaba—More than 150 cases of beer and 25 gallons of whisky were confiscated in Delta county in the first of a series of raids made on saloon property. The biggest results were at an Austrian boarding house, where 83 cases of beer and 10 gallons of whisky were conficated.

Allegan—Mrs. G. L. Hicks, a prominent Allegan woman, died of heart disease or apoplexy during a fire which damaged the third floor and roof of the John Hopkins hospital here. She was not on the floor which burned All the other patients were quietly removed to places of safety.

Battle Creek.—Clarence Everett Brown, listed among the American casualties as dying of pneumonia, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown, of Emmett township, Calhoun county. He entered Camp Custer September 19, and later was sent to Waco to join the National Guard units.

Camp Custer.—Maj. Potter of the 340th Infantry has received word that a younger brother who recently went overseas in the aviation service has been killed in action. Although he sailed but a few weeks ago, the young ster succeeded in bringing down one enemy plane before being killed.

DEMAND U-BOAT DRIVE

Reichstag Favors Unrestricted Use of Submarine.

Vice Admiral Von Capelle Says Increase in Divers Exceeds the Losses.

Amsterdam, May, 13.—In a debate in the reichstag on the second reading of the naval estimates, as reported in a Berlin dispatch, Herr Pfleger, Centrist, said on behalf of the main committee that even though there were differences in the significance of the submarine war, the entire reichstag was as one as concerned its military achievements.

All held the view that the U-boat campaign should not be given up or restricted in any way, and that the construction of submarines should be promoted as far as possible.

That was the opinion also, he said, of the highest government officials and the army and navy commanders.

Vice Admiral von Capelle, minister of navy, stated that unrestricted U-boat warfare meant a very strong naval offensive against the entente. He added:

"The reports for April are favorable. Naturally losses occur, but the main thing is that the increase in submarines exceeds the losses.

"Our naval offensive is stronger today than at the beginning of unrestricted submarine warfare. That gives us an assured prospect of final success.

"The submarine war is developing more and more into a struggle between U-boat action and new construction of ships. Thus far the monthly figures of destruction have continued to be several times as large as those of the new construction.

"Even the British ministry and the entire British press admit that. The latest appeal to British shipyard workers appears to be especially significant.

"America thus far has built little and has fallen far below expectations. Even if an increase is to be reckoned with in the future, it will be used up completely by America herself."

DANES IN LOYALTY LEAGUE

Nation-Wide Union to Support United States and Inform Fatherland of Activities.

Chicago, May 13.—Danish-born citizens of the United States have organized the Jacob A. Riis League of Patriotic Service. Its aim is to bring more effective union in support of the national war policy, and indirectly to acquaint the fatherland with their activities in behalf of the war. Headquarters will be in Chicago, with branches in various sections, so that the quickest and most effective help may be given the government when there is a call for subscriptions to Liberty loans, War Savings stamps, the Red Cross or other purposes. The league will be governed by a national council of 75 members, yet to be appointed, while administrative power is vested in an executive board. The money required for maintaining the league has been guaranteed by members. Similar leagues are to be organized, it is said, by Belgians, Bohemians and other races. The Swedes have their league established in the Conway building.

Large Number of German Pilots and Observers Lost Since Beginning of Offensive of March 21.

London, May 13.—Perry Robinson, writing to the Daily News from the British front in France, says: "German aviators taken prisoner lately say they have lost some 700 pilots and observers since beginning the offensive of March 21. One reconnaisance flight alone lost 130 of its men. They speak with the greatest admiration of British aviators, but mitigate their compliments by declaring that our machines are better than theirs.

ON MEMORIAL DAY

President Asks That Day Be Set Apart for Victory Prayers.

Washington, May 13.—National Memorial day, which is Thursday, May 30, is designated by President Wilson in a proclamation issued as a day of public humiliation, prayer, and fasting. The people of the nation are asked to gather that day in their places of worship and pray for the victory of the American armies which will bring a peace founded upon mercy, justice, and good will.

"Whereas, The congress of the United States, on the second day of April last, passed the following resolution:

"'Resolved, by the senate (the house of representatives concurring), That, it being a duty peculiarly incumbent in a time of war humbly and devoutly to acknowledge our dependence on Almighty God and to implore his aid and protection, the president of the United States be, and he is hereby respectfully requested to recommend a day of public humiliation, prayer, and fasting, to be observed by the people of the United States with religious solemnity and the offering of fervent supplications to Almighty God for the safety and welfare of our cause, his blessings on our arms, and a speedy restoration of an honorable and lasting peace to the nations of the earth.'

"And, whereas, it has always been the reverent habit of the people of the United States to turn in humble appeal to Almighty God for his guidance in the affairs of their common life.

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the 30th day of May, a day already freighted with sacred and stimulating memories, a day of public humiliation, prayer, and fasting, and do exhort my fellow citizens of all faithes and creeds to assemble on that day in their several places of worship and there, as well as in their homes, to pray Almighty God that he may forgive our sins and shortcomings as a people and purify our hearts to see and love the truth, to accept and defend all things that are just and right, and to purpose only those righteous acts and judgments which are in conformity with his will.

"Also to beseech that he will give victory to our armies, as they fight for freedom, wisdom to those who take counsel on our behalf in these days of dark struggle and perplexity, and steadfastness to our people to make sacrifice to the utmost support of what is just and true, bringing us at last the peace in which men's hearts can be at rest, because it is founded upon mercy, justice, and good will.

TO COMMAND U. S. MARINES

Brig. Gen. John Lejeune Ordered to France to Succeed Gen. Doyen, Invalided Home.

Washington, May 13.—Brig. Gen. John Lejeune has been ordered to France to command the brigade of marines there, succeeding Brig. Gen. Charles A. Doyen, invalided home. General Lejeune has been mentioned as prospective commander of the full division of marines to be organized in France.

Portugal Pardons Offenders.

Lisbon, May 13.—Full amnesty to all political, military and minor civil offenders has been granted by President Dr. Sidenio Paes upon his inauguration.

Lansing—In an effort to defeat the amendment initiated by the liquor interests, which would legalize the sale of beer and light wines in Michigan the Michigan Anti-Saloon League proposes to raise a campaign fund of $150,000. Additional workers will be placed in the upper peninsula, where it is expected the beer and wine amendment may appeal strongly to the foreign element.

Detroit—Harry Griffs, also known as "Sailor Scotty," whose freakish muscular control has puzzled many prominent surgeons and medical men, has been accepted as a member of the Detroit police force. Griffs, without apparent effort, can increase his height more that six inches and reduce it about three inches. He can extend his reach about one foot; by a series of dislocations of the hip bones reduce the size of his legs, and produce many [illegible] contortions.

GEN. MAURICE OUT

Ex-Director of British Military Operations Retired.

Accuser of Premier Lloyd George Removed From Active Service by the Army Council.

London, May 13.—Gen. Maurice, former director of military operations, has been retired by the army council, it was officially announced.

The council considered Maurice's explanation of the breach of regulations he committed by writing and causing publication of the letters questioning the veracity of Premier Lloyd George and Chancellor of the Exchequer Bonar Law and decided he should be placed at once on retired pay.

Maj. Gen. Frederick B. Maurice, as director of military operations, was the official spokesman for the British army.

Shortly after the appointment of Gen. Foch as commander-in-chief of the allied armies, Maurice gave out his now famous "Where Is Bluecher?" interivew.

Gen. Maurice had one of the most distinguished military careers in Britain. His retirement brings to the generally predicted conclusion the greatest political crisis England has faced since the outbreak of the war.

RUSSIA WARNS OF UNREST

Foreign Minister Advises Berlin to Cease Hostilities, as Disquiet Is Growing.

London, May 13.—In a wireless message to Ambassador Joffe at Berlin the Russian foreign minister, M. Tchitcherin, instructs the ambassador to "try to obtain from Berlin cessation of every kind of hostility." The dispatch adds:

"Captures of our territory are in violation of the state of peace with Germany and are causing great unrest among the masses of our population."

The evacuation of Ukrainians from Russia is being carried out by means of wagons under terrible conditions, particularly for the sick and for children. It could be effected easily by way of the River Dneiper, but this route has been closed to Ukrainians by the Germans.

When a Child "Fails."

When a child fails in school, must it always be the fault of the child? May it not be the faults of his parents? Or of the school which he attends? Investigations have shown that there is a host of children whose mental sluggishness is due to physical causes, Dr. M. P. E. Groszmann writes in Humanitarian. Even conservative estimates place the percentage of children suffering from some physical ailment at 75; this means about 18,000,000 children of school age in this country. Almost all of these ailments are removable, even preventable. They range from decayed and maladjusted teeth with their manifold evil effects upon the efficiency and the temper of the growing child to such serious defects as nervous disorders, tuberculosis, blindness, etc.

The result of the Women's Registration recently conducted in Tecumseh shows that a total of 90 per cent of the women of our School District have registered. This is a good showing but not quite up to past along patriotic lines. Surely the women of Tecumseh are 100 per cent patriotic and we wonder why it is that the 10 per cent are lagging. It is true that the registration is not compulsory but it should be every women's patriotic duty to register. Don't say that you have no interest in it or you have'nt time etc. Every women should show her interest by taking time to register, your Government asks it and it should be your duty to obey.

If any women is ill or for some reason can't get out to register, all that person will have to do is to get word to Mrs. F. B. Wood or Mrs. J. H. Smith and a way will be provided to take care of the registration.

The time is being extended for the balance of the week and the ladies in charge urge every woman who has not already registered to do so at once. Phone No. 135 for Mrs. W. and phone No. 104 for Mrs. Smith These ladies will provide a way to take care of your case. A few have already registered this week, now you 10 percent get busy and see that your name is placed on one of these cards before Saturday night. Help the women to make it 100 per cent and put Tecumseh "Over the Top."

SIMPLE THINGS WORTH WHILE

Many Make Mistake of Thinking Happiness Comes Only From Material or Outward Conditions.

Why should you care to be pestered with a large bank account or distressed by a house full of servants? asks the Albuquerque Evening Herald, which adds: Adam and Eve had neither of these and they called their place of abode Paradise. Few people have learned the secret of living well. Too many think it depends almost wholly on the condition of the pocketbook. This is most certainly a mistake. Happiness is not born of material or outward conditions. It is largely the result of a purely mental process.

Amid the duller threads of duty it is well to weave one bright strand of desires—it is well to mix a little sunshine with your daily food. You can soften the sound of cab and car in the stony street by calling to memory a bird's song heard in the field on a summer afternoon in childhood. It is sweeter to your soul—if you have one—than is the railroad that you own yourself.

Take a day off and go out to some cemetery where you may reflect on the brevity of life and the insufficiency of things pertaining to the pocketbook. It is better that you go before it comes your turn to ride out there in the big plumed car that never hauls its load back again. Don't wait until you own your private automobile, but go while you are able to walk and to think. From the dead you may learn much of life. Scan all the virtues inscribed upon all the headstones by loving hands—and among them all you will not find recorded the possession of a million dollars or a docked-tail horse or a brownstone palace or a 12-cylinder car or a "handsome" wardrobe.

No! The headstones usually tell you only of those things worth while.

IDEAS CURIOUS AND POETIC

Remarkable Beliefs That Have Been Firmly Ingrained Into the Children of Siam.

Mr. Ernest Young, who went to Siam to organize the educational system, related at London recently some curious beliefs held by the children there. He explained that he had experienced considerable difficulty in teaching them the rudiments of science. They believed that the earth was flat because the priest had told them so. It was also the impression of these children that a big crab went down into the sea and made the tide flow, and when the crab came up for fresh air the tide ebbed. When the gods became angry rolling thunder was heard, and when the angels got sporty and struck fire out of bricks, summer lightning flashes were seen. When many angels got into the bath at the same time water ran over the side and it rained.

Directly Mr. Young entered a school the children prostrated themselves before him, and the only way they could be induced to abandon this practice was to tell them that English children did not do that. They would do anything English children were said to do. They were awful liars, but when told that the English boy was truthful they gave up the habit.

Precious Stones in British Crown.

There are no less than 3,000 stones in the crown of the British king. Some very famous jewels are included in this number. One of these is a large heart-shaped ruby, given to Edward, the Black Prince, in 1637, by Don Pedro of Castile. Another precious gem of the crown is a huge sapphire, bought by George IV. The remaining jewels consist of 1,363 brilliant diamonds, 1,273 rose diamonds, 147 table diamonds, 277 pearls, 16 sapphires, 11 emeralds and four rubies. Complete with its white silk lining and purple cap the crown weighs slightly more than 39 ounces.

ANIMALS ARE GOOD SWIMMERS

Polar Bear, Who Passes His Time in Icy Waters, Is Regarded Best, Though Not Swiftest.

Nearly all animals are better swimmers than man and take to the water naturally. The rhinoceros and hippopotamus are wonderful swimmers and divers, while the Indian elephant crosses great rivers with heavy loads, London Tit-Bits states.

The elk and the reindeer are first-class swimmers. The elk keeps his head above water and crosses directly from bank to bank to avoid turning. The reindeer, on the other hand, turns as often as he likes, keeping his head only a little above the surface. But of all swimmers of all climes the best, though not the swiftest, is the polar bear, who passes half his time in the water swimming and diving. His swimming power is nothing short of miraculous if it be remembered that the water in the regions he frequents is invariably cold and that cold is normally prohibitive to good swimming. There are bears that can swim from twenty-five to thirty miles without great effort.

One of the swiftest swimming animals is the squirrel. A sportsman on one occasion, having at hand a squirrel born in captivity, which had never seen water, wanted to see if it could swim and took it with him in a rowboat to the center of the lake. The squirrel turned toward the bank, head and paws above the water, back and tail underneath it, and began to swim so rapidly that it was with the greatest difficulty that the man recovered it when it reached the shallow water near the land.

PRACTICAL USE OF POETRY

Without Verse People Would Go About Isolated From Each Other by Chaos of Misunderstanding.

If poetry could be in an instant swept not merely out of print, but out of language and tradition, there would be Babel indeed. We should go about isolated each one from each by a chaos of misunderstanding, with no more communication than we could improvise out of intellectual terms, says a writer in Century Magazine. We could suggest nothing, connote nothing, say nothing but what we could define. The practical reality of that loss one may measure by our proverbial ignorance of certain savages and oriental races whose poetry is alien to our own. Nor is that all; for poetry is not alone our common repository of past experience, but to a degree far greater than we realize our source of present action. There is no need more than to remind any observer of human nature that mankind acts rather upon passion than upon conviction. Brutus demonstrated his point in prose; it was a poetic appeal that made the stones of Rome to rise and mutiny. We define and determine and decide, and still do nothing; but when we begin to feel, something is done.

Evolution of the Lamp.

Dr. Walter Clark of Philadelphia has recently made some interesting investigations to find out how the old-time lighting conditions in his city compare with those of today, says the Popular Science Monthly. He has discovered that until as late as 1885, only flickering sperm oil and candles were in use. Not until the following decade did the "highly improved" kerosene lamp appear. Gas did not come out until the period between 1835 and 1875. And then only the wealthy could use it. It sold at $2.50 per thousand cubic feet! The efficient Welsbach mantle came out ten years later, revolutionizing artificial illumination. The present era began in 1895, when gas and electricity came into general use—gas selling at $1 per thousand cubic feet and electricity at 10 cents per kilowatt hour. Since that time the gas mantle and the electric filament have seen vast improvements, so that today the average family is obtaining about eighteen times as much light as the people of half a century ago.

BERLIN HAS "HUNGER KILLER"

Drug Advertised in Berlin Paper to Enable User to "Hold Out Until Next Meal."

Amsterdam, May 8.—"To bear hunger without at the same time suffering from headache or other indisposition is very difficult for most people," reads the opening sentence of a significant advertisement inserted in Sunday's Taegliche Rundschau of Berlin by a Berlin chemical firm, praising a newly invented drug which, "though not forming a substitute for the minimum daily sustenance, is an excellent preparation for stilling premature hunger and enables one to hold out until the next meal time."

TECUMSEH'S ROLL OF HONOR

A large white panel located in the entrance of B. J. Pulver store bears the names of 63 young men of Tecumseh township who have answered the call of their country and are now in the service. The top of the panel has in large letters "Tecumeh township Roster." The 63 names are arranged in two rows, 15 of these have a red cross in front of their names to indicate that they are now in France and are as follows. Dr. H. H. Hammel, Verl Blesing, W. D. Mills, W. A. Orr, Gerald Kent, Lamont Harrington, H. G. VanDuser, B. Hastings, H. E. Seigt, D. R. Bower, G. Gove, E. Holmes, W. M. Jewell, W. Rottman and Floyd Woodcox. One with a gilt cross, Rexford Gady has died in his country's service.

It is Mr. Pulvers intention to place the names of our boys on the rosters as soon as they are called. There may be some errors in the list and some names that have been unintentionally omitted. If so and the errors are reported to Mr. Pulver, the corrections will be made.

Manager Mark gave a very interesting picture program Saturday night. The house was crowded, even the gallery seats being in big demand. The special attraction was the Red Cross pictures showing the work of the Red Cross at home and abroad. A little story was worked in to add interest to the film.

The pictures told of the work of the Red Cross and carried one to France. Troops were seen marching through French cities and towns to the front, the men in the front line trenches with the smoke of battle everywhere present and great shells bursting and tearing up the ground, carrying death and destruction in their path and finally the dash "over the top" with the Red Cross following and picking up the wounded. The wounded are shown as they are taken from first one station to another until they finally reach the base hospital.

The pictures gave those who attended a very realistic idea of the great part the Red Cross is playing in this world war.

Douglas Fairbanks in "The Lamb" was the attraction for the second half of the program and "Doug" made as big a hit as ever wth the audience.

ONLY SECURITY FOR A WIFE

In Babylon, under the code of Hammurabi, 2270 B. C., the birth of children furnished the only financial security for a wife. A man might separate from a wife at will and marry another but if she had borne him children he must "give back to that woman her dowry, the usufruct of the field, garden and property, during the minority of her children and thereafter she was entitled to a share equal to that of a son of all that has been given to her children. She may marry the man of her choice."

Under the primitive laws of the Kafirs of South Africa a similar provision is made, according to a writer. A considerable payment is made by the husband to the male relatives of the woman at the time of marriage. In legal theory this amount is the property of the woman and her children, the relatives receiving it as trustees for her benefit. Here, too, a man may divorce his wife at will and may demand back his dowry if there have been no children born of the marriage, but his claim upon it passes upon the birth of children. Obviously, where the status of the wife is entirely subject to the will of the husband and where the woman has an enforcible claim against this property while it remains in the hands of her relatives, the birth of children furnishes the only assurance of security and independence for the wife.

SOME OF THE INNS OF COURT

Gray's Produced Fewer Great Lawyers but Can Outdo Rivals in Association With Influential Men.

Gray's inn, where the prime minister and the heads of the air service take a snack together in the evening, comes down to us through the Grays of Wilton, whose home or inn it anciently was, from the bishop and canons of St Paul's cathedral. The inn itself, bearing the family name, formed part of the Hundred of Ossulstone, and the whole was included in a yet larger property, states a writer in the London Chronicle. How St. Paul's itself became possessed of the estate is not clear, but it is believed that it was at one time the personal property of one of the canons, who, it was enacted, might give and sell their lands with out leave.

"Gray's inn has produced fewer great lawyers than some of the other inns of court, but it can outdo its rivals in association with men who have vitally influenced the life of the nation—Thomas Cromwell, for instance, who suppressed the monasteries; Lord Burghley, chief counselor of Queen Elizabeth, and George Monck, duke of Albemarle, who practically restored the monarchy. But the inn's chief glory, of course, is with the Bacons, Nicholas and his far greater son, Francis, whose mark remains till this day on the inn gardens.

Strength Appeals to Women.

Women are—or, should it be, have been?—so bound by convention that it may be the strain of lawlessness that lies, more or less deep, in us all, in them manifests itself in admiration for the men who have chosen to be a law unto themselves.

Perhaps the real secret is woman's love for strength, which, despite emancipated protests, is the strongest instinct inherited from the cave woman still rampant within her. Most women's favorite character in history is Napoleon, not because he was great, but because he was ruthless, and she will always have more admiration for a great soldier than a great poet unless his amours were specially notorious; but, unhappily, in any instance she mistakes lawlessness for strength, not being sufficiently experienced to realize that only the bound are free.—London Ideas.

EAGLE DRILL COMPANY MAKING GOOD PROGRESS

About 90 men turned out Friday evening for drill at Cemetery Park. After lining the fellows up Captain Hanna called upon Geo. A. Rathbun, chairman of the committee on rules and regulations, who read the rules as drafted by his committee. They were adapted as read.

The civil officers elected are Karl Schneider, president, and Dale Hodges, secretary and treasurer.

Capt. Hanna announced that he would defer his appointment of non-commissioned officers until later as he wished to pick from his men the best material for officers and it was necessary to see how his men progressed before choosing them.

After the business meeting the captain put his rookies through some lively work and while it may not have looked any too good to his professional eye, still to the rooky it looked better than any drill yet pulled off. The company after a half or three-quarter hour work, marched down town and swung into line in front of the Smoke House where they disbanded.

Capt. Hanna has received an invitation to bring his company out on Decoration Day and to take part in the march to the cemetery. By that time the company ought to make a good showing.

Name

The name of this organization shall be the "Eagle Drill Company."

Membership

Any citizen of United States having attained the age of sixteen years shall be eligible to membership.

Civil Officers

There shall be elected from the membership a President and one person who shall be Secretary and Treasurer.

Military Officers

There shall be a Captain, to which rank Hugh H. Hanna, Jr. has been elected. There shall also be two Lieutenants, and if necessary a third one. Lieutenants shall be recommended by the Captain and chosen by the members.

Non-Commissioned Officers

There shall also be a first Sergeant and as many other sergeants as necessary. There shall also be a Corporal for each squad. All Non-Commissioned Officers shall be appointed by the Captain. A Bugler shall also be appointed by the Captain.

Rules and Regulations.

Regular drill shall be held on Tuesday and Friday nights of each week, beginning on Tuesday night, May 14, 1918.

The roll of membership shall be called each regular drill night. Any member who is absent for more than four drills in any month shall pay a fine of twenty-five cents (25c) for each drill over four from which he shall be absent, and such fine shall be payable to the Treasurer on demand. Failure to pay such fine shall subject such member to suspension.

Any Officer or Non-Commissioned Officer who shall be absent from more than two consecutive drills shall be subject to demotion by the Captain.

These rules may be added to or amended at a regular drill, as it may be deemed necessary, by a two-thirds vote of all members voting.

WOMEN WILL BE INTERESTED IN THE GOWNS WORN IN "THE WHIP"

All women will be very much interested in the stylish, smart costumes that are worn by all the actresses appearing in "The Whip". These costumes are of the very latest design and most fashionably cut. In fact they are patterned after the gowns worn by the leaders in New York's most exclusive circles.

All women who see "The Whip" will be particularly interested in the hunting costumes worn in one of the big hunting scenes in this big production. The air of smartness that pervades every scene of "The Whip" makes this the classiest production ever made.

"The Whip," the supreme offering of filmdom is coming to the Bradley Opera House, Tecumseh, Thursday and Friday, May 16 & 17 to charm delight and thrill the patrons of this show house with its thrilling story, its splendid characterization, its truly wonderful photography and its sensationally magnificent scenic effects. "The Whip" is easily the world's biggest motion picture. One scene alone, that of the great train wreck was staged at an enormous expense merely for this offering And it is the biggest and best train wreck yet seen in motion pictures. An automobile race and wreck that is so vivid as to hold the spectators gasping is another feature of all the tremendous scenes and events in this race. The scenes for this splendid event were taken at Saratoga, where the biggest racing events of the world are pulled off and the screen reproduces the tensity, the excitement and striking fidelity.

From start to finish "The Whip" has been staged on a remarkably elaborate scale. The production has been made by that genius of the screen, Maurice Tourneur, and he has excelled all his previous efforts in this remarkable and tremendously successful production. By all means see "The Whip." It is the only motion picture that you cannot afford to miss. "The Whip" can easily be classed with that mighty production, "The Birth of a Nation."

"WAR GARDENS"

WAS THE THEME OF THE JUNIOR RECEPTION

Held Friday Evening at the home of Robert Moore—68 in Attendance

The Junior reception held at the home of Robert Moore Friday evening was one of the prettiest events of the kind ever held in Tecumseh. The living rooms were bright with myriads of spring flowers, hanging about in May baskets and ornamenting the tables. The approach to the house was banked on either side with apple boughs in bloom and the whole made a beautiful background for the party.

The company was composed of the Juniors as hosts, the Seniors and faculty, besides a few other guests. Miss Mildred Armstrong of Adrian, one of the former teachers of the class and always a favorite, was there, also Miss Beth Widney the librarian whose work in helping the class was thus appreciated, and Luster Best of Jackson, a former president of the class, Mrs. W. L. Reed and little Ardis and Mrs. O. J. Duguid were not forgotten.

In the receiving line were "Bob" Moore, the host, Mrs. Moore, Miss Armstrong, Miss Alice Hardenburg, the Junior's president, and R. S. Moore.

The guests assembled on the second floor and to the music by an orchestra composed of Miss Edna Taylor, piano, Lester Waring, violin and Robert H. Moore, traps, marched to their places at the small tables placed through the rooms. The tables were decorated with white and yellow tulips, those being the Junior class color, and the nut cups were paper tulips. The programs and nutcups were hand-made, the hand painted programs being the work of Miss Muriel Halladay. These were novelties in their way, being decorated with vegetables carrying out the "War Garden" theme of the toasts.

As the 6 o'clock dinner was served the company, victrola music enlivening the steps of the waiters who were the Misses Jeanette Hall, Hildreth Gasner, Marjory Rosacrans, Margaret VanWinkle, Georgianna Conklin and Helen McIntyre, who were daintily dressed in white skirts and pink smocks. COMMUNICATION

Mr. F. S. Turner,
Tecumseh Mich.
My Dear Turner:—

You have contended that we live in a very patriotic little town and I agree with you, but do you think that Tecumseh is patriotic thru' and thru'? How may persons do you suppose live in our village who have not yet done one patriotic thing? Or more to the point, do you think that we have any people in our community who are intentionally "Yellow"?

Let me say to you that there are such and they try to shield their disloyalty under the guise of a new religion. I refer to the members of that illiterate sect known as the "International Bible Students Association." Every word of which title is a misnomer in the case, except the first syllable of the last word. These folks are also known as "Russellites" being dupes of the late grass-widower, montebank, religious quack, slippery financier, "Pastor" Russell.

You know the government is hot on the trail of these "religious" enemies of our country. I quote from a speech delivered by a close follower of "Pastor" Russell in Brooklyn just two weeks ago. "We believe it is wrong to buy liberty bonds, thrift stamps, or to do Red Cross work, or in any way to support the government in this war." That's fine religious twaddle and a finer Hun spirit. Have you noticed in your reading what has been happening to these religious counterfeits in the past few weeks?

New York: "Judge" Ruthford, successor to "Pastor" Russell, and five other leaders were arrested in a federal raid.

Flint, Mich.: Several of their traveling evangelists and book agents were given a river bath by patriotic citizens.

Jackson: Large quantities of seditious literature discovered in the homes of the members of the "International Bible Students Association."

Bucyrus, Ohio: Much seditious literature confiscated and members driven out of town in not the most elegant fashion.

Similar reports come to us from many places. This seditious sect has caused no end of trouble in Camp Custer and other military centers. And personally I believe knowing something of the avaricious spirit of the former leaders, that the whole association is in German pay.

The point of all this, Mr. Editor, is that a number of these people live in our patriotic little town. And furtively they put their illuminating (?) literature on our porches and sometimes dupe folks by false pretense into buying their books. What attitude shall we take in this matter?

Let us know that, anything published under the name of "Intertional Bible Students Association" is worse than religious rot, for it breathes the spirit of sedition and disloyalty. These who have been duped into buying this literature should consign it to the fire as quickly as possible. And I trust if their stuff appears on our streets again as it did last Sunday morning, that our newly organized Home Guards will see that the local asses get what is coming to them. And perhaps while the Guards are at it they might find one or more of the same spurious spawn.

W. A. Rex.

A FORMER TECUMSEH BOY A MAJOR

Detroit—That the One Hundred and Twentieth machine gun battalion, of Detroit and Pontiac, commanded by Major David E. Cleary, is in the front line trenches is the news conveyed to a Detroit woman in a letter received from her husband, an officer in the Thirty-second division. No indication of where the machine gun battalion is stationed is given by the Thirty-second division officer. So far as is known here Major Cleary's organization is the first fighting unit from Michigan to go into action.

Some 8 or 10 years ago Major Cleary was located in the ticket office with G. J. Ziehr and was well known in Tecumseh, where his many friends will be pleased to hear of him.

RED CROSS WEEK

By W. B. Hartzog

As chairman of the membership committee of the Tecumseh Branch of the Red Cross, it is necessary for me to remind every person in Tecumseh Township that "Red Cross Week" throughout our nation comes May 20-27. In last Friday's issue of the Herald there was a long list of renewals and also a list of new subscribers. Already this summer a large number of subscribers have, without personal solicitation, renewed their subscriptions to Red Cross membership. Every person will be called on who has not already renewed his subscription. It would be a very patriotic thing for you to go to either of the banks and pay your dollar before the solicitors start out May 20. Will you do it and help the cause along? Tecumseh has made a wonderful record in every form of patriotic endeavor. Now let us go "over the top" again.

MOTHER'S DAY SERVICES

In spite of the rain there was a good attendance at the Friend's church Sunday evening at the services honoring "Mother's Day." The service was under the auspices of Beers Post.

Dr. Hartzog read the Scripture lesson and Dr. Balmer offered the invocation. Rev. Linton made a splendid address on "Mother," lauding the mothers of our land most handsomely.

The singing was by the daughters of Fred Cope the Friends minister of Adrian assisted by the choir of the local church.

The G. A. R., T. B. A. and S. O. V. attended in a body.

ACCURACY

BEFORE buying a corn planter consider this fact—accuracy is essential to the biggest yields. An inaccurate planter covers up its mistakes. It does hit-and-miss work. It is a "thief in the field" and you don't realize how much it has stolen until the corn plants are above the ground and you compare the results with those obtained by using an accurate planter. If it misses only fifteen kernels in every 100 hills there is a loss of five bushels per acre in the yield.

You can buy from us a planter the accuracy of which is proven before it leaves the factory. That planter is the

JOHN DEERE 999 Corn Planter

The Accurate "Natural Drop" Planter

The same accuracy you would get if you painstakingly counted out the kernels of corn and dropped them by hand—that is the accuracy of the John Deere No. 999 Planter.

Each kernel enters the cell in the seed plate in a natural position. The sloping hopper bottom feeds the corn to the cells whether the hopper is full or nearly empty. It is the most simple, yet most effective planting mechanism ever used on a corn planter.

YOU CONTROL THE NUMBER OF KERNELS PER HILL

When soil in the same field varies—rich, medium and poor—corn should be planted accordingly—two kernels to the hill in poor soil, three in medium soil and [illegible] rich soil.

Without changing seed plates or even stopping the team you can, with the John Deere No. 999, plant 2, 3 or 4 kernels in the hill, whichever number you decide the land will sustain. Merely shifting the foot lever varies the number dropped and you can change the drop as frequently as you desire. The variable drop mechanism of this planter is just as perfect and well protected as the gears on the best automobiles.

You can also drill corn with the John Deere Planter. Change from hilling to drilling or back to hilling is made instantly by means of a foot drop lever. Not necessary to get off the seat or stop the team. The 999 Planter gives nine different drilling distances without changing seed plates.

ITALIANS STORM FORTIFIED PEAK

ENEMY TAKEN BY SURPRISE

100 Prisoners and Guns Captured—Victory Gives Latins Great Height Dominating Venetian Plains.

Italian Army Headquarters, May 13. After a long period of activity, owing to the weather, Italian troops on the mountain front in a brilliant operation at night captured the dominating peak of Monte Corno, destroyed an elaborate system of enemy defenses and took 100 prisoners, two guns, a number of machine guns and much war material.

The action was in the Arsa valley, the main line of approach from Trent and Rovereto.

It was here that the Austrians attempted to reach the Venetian plain in the first great offensive. Recently they have erected powerful defenses, with battery positions built in the rock and electrically charged and with a system of barbed wire entanglements.

There was considerable snow remaining on Monte Corno, which is 6,000 feet high. This increased the difficulties of the comparatively small Italian attacking force.

Take Foe by Surprise.

After a short artillery action the infantry advanced over rocky and precipitous heights. The enemy was taken by surprise and could make little effective resistance.

The movement was carried out by daylight. All the enemy's defensive works were occupied. An Italian position was established on the crest of the mountain and the surrounding slopes.

The chief effect of the action is to dislodge the Austrians from the height controlling the main highway from the mountains and to give the Italians the advantage of that position.

The victory was won on the very spot where Dr. Cesare Battisti, a deputy from Trent who went over to the Italians, and others of his heroic band were captured during the first offensive. Doctor Battisti was put to death by the Austrians.

Wipe Out Austro Garrison.

Rome, May 13.—The war office issued the following statement:

"There were patrol actions along the mountain front. One of our reconnoitering parties stormed an advanced post at Col dell Orso, destroying its garrison in the course of hand-to-hand fighting with bayonets and bombs, and capturing a machine gun.

"Other patrols put enemy detachments to flight with losses. War materials were captured in the Asolone area. Enemy parties were repulsed north of Monte Mantello, in the Lagarina valley and to the right of the Brenta valley.

"There were desultory artillery duels in the Arsa and Brenta valleys and along the Piave river.

"Seven hostile airplanes were brought down."

HUN TROOPS NEAR HOLLAND

German Fleet Also Ready to Attack if Dispute Had Reached Real Crisis.

London, May 13.—That Holland was forced to accede to the demands of Germany is borne out by stories told by German soldiers on the Dutch frontier, according to a Reuter dispatch from Amsterdam.

The correspondent quotes the soldiers as saying that if an actual dispute had developed with Holland it would have led to a conflict. The German plan, according to the soldiers, was immediately to advance into Dutch Flanders and occupy the bank of the Scheldt river.

Thousands of troops were held in readiness at different points on the frontier. Eighty thousand men were concentrated at Ghent, Belgium, including cavalry and artillery.

Vessels armed with guns also were at Ghent ready to steam into the canal leading to Yerneuser (Terneuzen).

FROM OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

We are indebted to A. A. Comfort for this letter from his son, Corporal Elwood Comfort, who is stationed at San Antonio Texas. It is full of interest and will be enjoyed by his many friends.

April 26, 1918
Liberty Loan Day
179th Aero Sqdn. Brooks Field
San Antonio Texas.

Dear Father:

Was very glad to get your letter today. Have some time this eve and will try to get an answer written.

Was rather surprised to hear of the weather being so cool up there yet. I had an idea that you were having a fine early spring.

I wonder what you have been doing today. We have had quite a day. At 9 this morning all the men and officers on the field gathered at the baseball grounds at the edge of the flying field. A short talk was given by one of the Captains after which several of the boys bought bonds. Then a collection was taken of about $90, a bond was bought with $50 of it and the rest kept for prizes to be given during the day.

An Aeroplane over head turned loose a basket full of papers about 4 inches square and crumpled up. Three of them were numbered. We watched them coming down and had quite a run to get them. I got one but there was no number on it. The ones with numbers were found and the man having No. 1 got the Liberty bond, No. 2 got $20 and No. 3 got $10. It was quite a stunt. Later there was a ball game between two Squadrons and during the game a man came winding down through the air from a plane several hundred feet in the air and lit away out in the field. The plane swooped down and circled around and an ambulance rushed out to the place. They placed the man on the stretchers covered him with a blanket and brought him in. They drove to where we were uncovered him and it was a dummy, across the front of his shirt was printed "Kaiser Bill." It was pretty good. The officers wives screamed and yelled when they saw him falling All during the day aeroplanes made exhibition flights, loops Immehnan tunrs, nose dives and tail spins. This p. m. there was a field meet and the 179th come out ahead. We boys had a big laugh when about a dozen officers did the 100 yard dash. In their fine clothes and leather boots, they made some show. They were not bad sprinters either. Far be it from me to ever start to run from any of them. It has been quite a holiday for us and one that we will remember a good while. This field has broken all army records in assenbling aefoplanes. The 179th Squadron has done almost all the work too. We are rather proud of it. There are rumors of our leaving this field before many weeks. Nothing definite as to when it will be or where we will go. We are anxious for a change again as all soldiers are.

I am still Corporal in rank but was given a promotion the other day as 1st class chauffeur which means an advance in pay more than any thing else. There are only 4 first class chauffeurs in the Squadron and I'm lucky enough to be one of them.

Am still driving the White. The other day I brought out 300 pounds of butter and 1800 lbs. of ice in the morning and 3800 lbs. of potatoes in the afternoon. I handle everything from dirt to bread. Brought over 744 lbs. of bread from Fort San Hoosten yesterday.

Tomorrow will be a busy day. Besides our regular work, we have to have the truck shined up for inspection at 7:00 p. m.

I am feeling fine and have a good appetite. The other day one of the fellows said to me, "Hello, Fat." I'll say that is good! We had quite a laugh over it.

Hope you are all well.

Love to all
Elwood.

John Blesing received these letters from his two sons, who are in the service, Verl is already "over there" and ready to do his bit. Russell is still this side, but is anxious to be on the way.

Camp Hancock, Ga.
April 6, 1918

Dear Dad:

Haven't heard from you in quite awhile perhaps it is because you are so busy and don't have time, or have the fish began biting and you trying to catch all of them.

At last I've landed a pretty good job. You see I had a friend working in the personal office. You won't know what that means so will tell you. Everyone in the army today is listed as able to do one thing better than another, everything they have ever worked on is put down on their classification cards which are all kept in the personal office. Whenever someone is wanted to do a certain thing or fill a certain job all they have to do is to look up their files and they have them.

Well as I said this friend over there saved me from going to Spartanburg, S. Carolina, as a stock-keeper after someone had picked me out to go. A requisition came in the other day for pay roll experts and cost accountants. He asked me if I thought I could fill it and of course I said I could so here I am now, attached to headquarters with a pretty good job. Things are pretty much balled up at present, so much so that we are working evenings to get them straightened out. Just as soon as we get organized I'll be holding down a pretty good job, with not much to do.

We were told our job is a permanent one and that the chances for us to get across are very slim, especially for six months or a year. By that time we hope to have the Germans cleaned off the map.

I am attached to the headquarters of the Supply Training School. This school is to teach ordnance men all about the supplying end of the game When we get under full blast we'll be turning men out of here fitted to go across at the rate of 600 per week The course of each man lasts eight weeks and believe me they work from 7:30 a. m. to 9:00 p. m. with only Saturday afternoons and Sundays off. They'll know something when they leave here. I may take the course after a bit. Don't like the idea of not getting over in France very well. The worst part of it is I have left Geo. Lowitz and the rest of the bunch back in F company. We run around together just the same.

Gee, but it's certainly hot down here and every day it gets hotter, don't know what it will be in July and August, about 120 degrees in the shade I guess. The way it is now is plenty hot for me, 87 degrees in the shade yesterday p. m.

Received and answered a letter from Verl the other day. He says he is on the permanent list and doesn't stand much chance of getting across. He is too young and too small to go across anyway. Did I ever tell you I weigh 143 pounds now, when I enlisted in Detroit I weighed 121 lbs, stripped. Am going to have some photos taken right after pay day, which will be in the next two or three days.

Will close for this time, with love,
Your affectionate son,
Russel Blesing

Post Hospital, Field No. 2
Hemptead N. Y., May 5,

Dear Father:

Just a few lines to let you know that I am well and on my way to help lick the damned Huns, that is I will be on my way before this letter reaches you, was assigned this a. m., I would like it oh so much to be with you when you hold your reunion but on that day I will be far out at sea and on my way to God only knows what, but if need be I will gladly give my life as you did your health for our beloved "Country" the greatest and noblest nation of all creation. I will leave with a sad heart in one way and in another singing with joy, if you don't receive my papers write to the War Risk Insurance Bureau, Wash., D. C., and get them because if anything should happen to me you would need the papers.

Address my letters as usual to the Hospital and they will forward them to me where ever I am, until I send you my address which will be when I arrive "Over There," I am going for sure this time, no more hold backs passed my examination 93.7 per cent. Pretty good, don't you think? My side knocked off 2 points on me on account of the broken rib and the silver tubing under it. The other points I don't know what for unless my weight and my right foot has got two crooked toes on it. It may be quite a while before you hear from me again but don't think you are forgotten, because you will not be.

This is all I can tell you or the censor won't let it through. Good bye Dad, may God keep you good and strong until my return.

With all my love
Verl Besing.

ALLIES BAG SUBS; HUN U-BOATS FAIL

French Minister Declares Germany Knows Campaign Against Ships Won't Succeed.

ALLIES MASTERS OF SEA

Sinkings by Divers Shown to Have Dropped, While Destruction of the Pirates Has Grown Steadily—U. S. Army Outwits Foe.

Paris, May 14.—The effectiveness of the German submarine campaign is declining. The German government is aware of this fact, declared Georges Leygues, minister of marine, before the naval committee of the chamber of deputies, but has made the greatest efforts to conceal it. He said that the situation was most favorable and that the sinkings of submarines in the first three months of 1918 was greater than the number built by the enemy.

Minister Leygues referred to the statement made in the reichstag on April 17 by Vice Admiral von Capelle, German minister of marine, in which he said 600,000 tons of allies' shipping were sunk monthly. This figure, the minister said, was incorrect.

It was reached and passed in April May and June of 1917. In July it declined and in November it fell below 400,000 and since has diminished continuously.

M. Leygues said that in February March and April 3,723 French steamers and 788 French sailing vessels passed through the danger zone where a few months ago losses by torpedoing were very heavy. Not a single ship was sunk.

Destruction of "U" Boats Growing

On the other hand, he said, the number of submarines destroyed and increased progressively since January in such proportion that the effectiveness of enemy squadrons cannot be maintained at the minimum required by the regulations. The number of "U" boats destroyed in January, February and March was far greater in each month than the number constructed in the same month. In February and April the number of submarine destroyed was three less than the total destroyed in the previous three months.

These results, the minister declared were due to the methodical character of the war against submarines; to the close co-ordination of the allied navies; to the intrepidity and spirit animating the officers and crews of naval and aerial squadrons and to the intensification of the use of old methods and the employment of new ones.

"The situation is most favorable," the minister continued, "but it does not authorize the slackening of effort. Rather, it is necessary to redouble it, as the enemy has put new submersibles into service and is trying a fresh offensive, in which he plays for his last stake.

"The sea front has no communique. The country does not know the terrible life there when great events occur. Yet it is there that there is being played one of the parts which has the greatest influence on the duration and issue of the war. The country knows that mastery of the sea is the certain gauge of victory. It should know also that the mastery belongs to the allies, who have won it and who keep it, thanks to the heroism of the sailors, who are worthy of their soldier brothers."

Huge U. S. Army Outwits "Subs."

London, May 14.—"The most conclusive evidence we have seen of the failure of the enemy's submarine campaign is the huge American army in France and the hundreds of thousands of tons of stores brought across the Atlantic," said James Wilson, chairman of the American labor delegation, when interviewed on his return to England from a visit to France and the American army.

"These vast munitions of war," he added, "stand as irrefutable proof of the protective power of the British and American navies. Less than twelve months has passed since General Pershing landed in France with 50 men. The developments which have taken place since seem little short of miraculous."

GRAEBNER SHOE HOUSE,

Tecumseh. - Michigan.

Detroit—Mrs. Mary Frazier, Negress, was killed and two men were badly burned when Casper Laconia, seeking a gas leak in his tenement house at 13-15 Chase street with a lighted candle caused an explosion that blew out an entire side of the house. Mrs. Frazier, 24 years old, who resided on the ground floor of the building, the woman killed, had her head smashed by a falling beam.

Detroit—With only one another for mourners, ten lonely unclaimed bodies were taken in one day from the county morgue for burial by City Undertaker J. W. Maney. They were the remains of William Rivers, who died in the Detroit house of correction; James McMilan, dead of natural causes; three unknown men, one drowned, one killed by a train and one a victim of pneumonia, and five babies.

Detroit—Fourteen thousand Detroit young men are expected to place their names on the national army selective draft lists June 5, when the second registration will be held. This registration is for those who have reached the age of 21 since June 5, 1917, and officials of the First district board estimate the figure given as Detroit's maturing forces. Of this number probably less than 10,000 will actually go into service because of rejections for physical disabilities and deferred classifications on account of dependents and needful occupation.

Kalamazoo—Ann and Nellie Booker were seriously hurt when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Michigan Central switch engine at the West street crossing. Two other occupants of the car were uninjured.

Monroe—The Monroe Workmen's Benevolent society instructed delegates to the state convention at Monroe, June 13, to vote for the substitution of the English language for German. The society has 25,000 enrolled members in the state.

Bay City—Homes of several members of the local Bible Students cult were visited by members of the Bay county war board and a wagon load of literature taken. The "conscientious objectors" agreed to desist from further activities. They had distributed their literature over the city under cover of darkness.

Camp Custer—The report of the Army Y. M. C. A. at Camp Custer for April shows that a continually increasing number of soldiers are being served by the various branches of the association. During that period 10,405 men attended 43 educational lectures and at 590 educational classes there were 7,259 students. A total of 3,573 books were distributed from the Y. M. C. A. libraries. In the recreational field the report shows that 27,430 men participated in athletic games promoted by the association athletic directors.

HINDENBURG REPORTED DEAD

All German Prisoners Taken in France Spread Rumor Believed Invented to Allay Home Criticism of Failure of the Great Drive.

London, May 14.—All German prisoners captured in France say that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg is dead, letters from British officers on the western front report, according to the Daily Express. At the same time the name of General Von Mackensen is brought into prominence as that of a great man who is to bring the Germans victory. The Express assumes that the Hindenburg story is circulated to explain the failure of the great offensive.

Washington, May 14.—Another long list of casualties for the overseas forces was announced by the war department, a total of 96 names being carried. Of these, 38, all New England troops, are missing in action. Ten were killed in action, nine died of wounds, five of disease and two of accidents. One death is recorded as "of other causes." Twelve men were severely wounded and 19 slightly wounded.

With the American Army in France, May 14.—In the Luneville sector, our patrols early in the morning established the fact that the hamlet of Ancerviller has been abandoned by the enemy.

The Germans had not even attempted to occupy shell holes in the salient, which recently was torn up by our artillery. Quiet prevails on all fronts on which there are Americans, according to reports. Poor visibility has prevented extended aerial activity.

Huns Losses at Seichprey 600.

With the American Army in France, May 14.—The Seicheprey salient shows signs of again becoming active. The enemy deluged the place with machine gunfire.

On the same front one of the American patrols found a number of German bodies in advanced enemy trenches, where they probably had been left during the heavy American bombardment on the night of May 4.

American patrols have entered the enemy lines in the sectors of Luneville and south of Verdun, but did not encounter resistance.

Official reports of the German losses in the Seicheprey battle, according to a prisoner recently captured, give 600 killed, wounded or missing.

French Take 100 Prisoners.

London, May 14.—French troops on the Flanders front improved their positions north of Kemmel village yesterday and took more than 100 prisoners, the communication from the war office announces. German artillery is active in the Avre river sector, south of Albert, east of Loos and near Voormezeele, in Flanders.

German artillery continues to bombard the British positions with great violence in various sectors, but so far there have been no further infantry assaults against them.

Hun Attack Fails.

Paris, May 14.—A German attack at night on the positions recently won by the French near Orvillers-Sorel, on the southern side of the Picardy battle front, broke down with severe losses, the war office announced. There was heavy artillery fighting near Mailly-Raineval, on the battle line below Amiens, and also on the Verdun front.

Active artillery fighting in Picardy on both sides of the Avre river is reported in the official statement.

Petoskey—Petoskey, Harbor Springs and Charlevoix fishermen have just learned of a government order to owners of wharves not to allow fishermen on them. Docks and wharves will be closed to all except employes with passes and passengers with tickets. Fishermen in northern Michigan ports have made a handsome revenue each year from the docks. Now if they desire to fish they must use boats.

Petoskey—Judge Houghton has ruled that the suspension of Attorney W. A. Harrington from the office of prosecuting attorney of Otsego county for mal-practice, automatically caused a vacancy because it removed him from the essential qualifications for holding such office. The ruling came as a result of quo warranto proceedings instituted by Harrington to regain possession of the office of prosecutor.

Camp Custer—Plans for extending Camp Custer on the south and west along the road to Climax have been made and machinery set in motion for securing leases for 3,500 additional acres. Added to the present acreage this will mean that Camp Custer will cover between 11,000 and 12,000 acres, three times the reservation originally planned. It is stated that the new acreage will be largely used for artillery range purposes.

ON MEMORIAL DAY

President Asks That Day Be Set Apart for Victory Prayers.

Washington, May 14.—National Memorial day, which is Thursday, May 30, is designated by President Wilson in a proclamation issued as a day of public humiliation, prayer, and fasting. The people of the nation are asked to gather that day in their places of worship and pray for the victory of the American armies which will bring a peace founded upon mercy, justice, and good will.

"Whereas, The congress of the United States, on the second day of April last, passed the following resolution:

"'Resolved, by the senate (the house of representatives concurring), That, it being a duty peculiarly incumbent in a time of war humbly and devoutly to acknowledge our dependence on Almighty God and to implore his aid and protection, the president of the United States be, and he is hereby respectfully requested to recommend a day of public humiliation, prayer, and fasting, to be observed by the people of the United States with religious solemnity and the offering of fervent supplications to Almighty God for the safety and welfare of our cause, his blessings on our arms, and a speedy restoration of an honorable and lasting peace to the nations of the earth.'

"And, whereas, it has always been the reverent habit of the people of the United States to turn in humble appeal to Almighty God for his guidance in the affairs of their common life.

"Now, therefore, I, Woodrow Wilson, president of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim Thursday, the 30th day of May, a day already freighted with sacred and stimulating memories, a day of public humiliation, prayer, and fasting, and do exhort my fellow citizens of all faithes and creeds to assemble on that day in their several places of worship and there, as well as in their homes, to pray Almighty God that he may forgive our sins and shortcomings as a people and purify our hearts to see and love the truth, to accept and defend all things that are just and right, and to purpose only those righteous acts and judgments which are in conformity with his will.

"Also to beseech that he will give victory to our armies, as they fight for freedom, wisdom to those who take counsel on our behalf in these days of dark struggle and perplexity, and steadfastness to our people to make sacrifice to the utmost support of what is just and true, bringing us at last the peace in which men's hearts can be at rest, because it is founded upon mercy, justice, and good will.

"WOODROW WILSON,
"President.
"ROBERT LANSING,
"Secretary of State."

Camp Custer—People of Michigan are again warned not to shoot pigeons unless they wish to feel the legal wrath of the war department. Carrier birds from Camp Custer have been taken to many cities in the southern portion of the state and released. Very frequently the birds fail to return or carry shot back with them.

Hastings—There is such a dearth of rural school teachers in Barry county that the county school commissioner has advised officers in districts in which there are not more than 10 pupils to suspend school during the coming year and to send the pupils into other districts where they will have the advantage of attending a large school.

Lansing—"Eating new potatoes before July 4th will be considered unpatriotic by the Food Administration of Michigan," declared Food Administrator G. A. Prescott. "When our potato belt farmers, in response to federal, state, municipal and civic appeal raised nearly thirty-six million bushels of potatoes last year as a war contribution it is the plain duty of the people of this state to do everything within our power to utilize this crop."

Lansing—The interstate commerce commission, at Washington, has handed down a decision in favor of the Huron Milling Co., of Harbor Beach, which requires the Pere Marquette Railroad Co. to make an allowance to the milling concern of 75 cents per car for switching interstate shipments between the railroad yard and the complainant's plant at Harbor Beach and of 45 cents per car for switching between loading and unloading points within the plant.

Detroit—Word has been received from an officer in the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth infantry, now near the firing line in France, that Major Augustus H. Gansser, of Bay City, has been put in command of the first battalion of that regiment, which is made up of national guardsmen from Detroit and a few selective soldiers that originally were sent to Camp Custer. According to the latest advice the One Hundred and Twenty-fifth still is building railroads back of the "line."

B. J. PULVER APPOINTED RECRUITING OFFICER FOR U. S. MERCHANT MARINE

B. J. Pulver has been appointed recruiting officer for this surrounding territory for the U. S. Merchant Marine, his appointment coming from Henry Howard, director of Recruiting Service, U. S. Shipping Board, at the port of Boston

The U. S. Shipping Board Recruiting Service maintains a squadron of training ships on which young men from all parts of the country are schooled for service in the new Merchant Marine. The national headquarters of the service and of its training squadron are at Boston, Mass

Only young and vigorous American citizens, native born or naturalized, are trained for service in the crews of the new Merchant Marine. Those who have reached their 21st birthday and have not reached their 30th birthday are eligible for training.

Those accepted are placed on board training ships as apprentices. At the conclusion of their apprenticeship they are shipped on board cargo and passenger vessels making mercantile voyages between American and foreign ports. This is purely a voluntarp service. There is no drafting of men for the Merchant Marine.

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

Miss J. A. Hough to Retire after Forty-three Years Service

After 43 years spent in the business world, Miss Julia A. Hough is about to retire from her work. In years she ranks far ahead of any other business man or woman on the street having passed her 80th birthday and she is still active.

For many years of her earlier life she was a teacher in our schools and many of her old pupils will remember her faithfulness and efficiency. As a citizen of Tecumseh she has always been loyal and true and as a friend she has won the love of many. Her many friends will miss her from her accustomed place, but all will unite in praying that the twilight of her life may be full of peace and happiness.

RED CROSS NEWS

At the Red Cross social given at Ridgeway M. E. church on Friday evening, a remarkably generous and responsive audience listened to Mr. Merrill builder of aeroplanes for the U. S. government. In his remarks Mr. Merrill said, "that if Germany should obtain a base in Mexico, it was perfectly possible that we might have an airmentor dropping bombs over Chicago. Mrs. Jennie C. Law Hardy gave a very interesting address on facts relating to American Red Cross work. A collection of $88 was received for the Red Cross.

The name of E. G. Harris as a renewal member was omitted in the last memberhip list and the names of Mrs. Stella Billings and Mrs. Brush should have read renewals instead of new members.

NOTES FROM AN OLD TECUMSEH DIRECTORY

Reference Made to Chicago St. Stop.

During these days when the Chicago St. stop is much in the limelight it might be of interest to our readers to know about the length of time that trains have been making regular stops at Chicago St.

Dr. L. G. North has in his library a copy of a Tecumseh Directory which was published by Stacy Bros. in the year 1883. Under the head of Railroads this states that "All passenger trains now halt at Chicago St. Crossing as well as at the passenger station which is a great convenience to the traveling public." From the language used we take it, this stop had not long been made, and if this is true the Jackson branch had been making regular stops at Chicago St. for the past 35 years.

Believing that the information given in this Directory would be of interest to many of our older citizens we print the following under the head of Railroads, Churches, Village government and schools.

Railroads

Lake Shore & Mich. Southern Jackson Branch. There are four passenger trains daily between Toledo and Adrian and Jackson and two freight trains. Special freight trains are frequently run during the busy season of the year. (All passenger trains now halt at Chicago Street Crossing a well as at the passenger station, which is a great convenience to the traveling public.)

John A. Hughes, Freight Agent; E. Ward, Clerk; Jas. Glasgow, Baggage and Warehouseman; C. H. Orr, Warehouseman; N. S. Satterthwaite, Ticket Agent and General Operator; Frank B. Kennedy, Messenger.

The new Mich. & Ohio R. R. is now completed from Toledo to Allegan. The road is fully equipped with elegant passenger coaches and the necessary rolling stock for freight business. Four pasenger trains are run daily and 2 freight trains.

MOVE EX-CZAR FROM TOBOLSK

Peasant Plot to Free Him Causes a Transfer, to Ekaterinburg, Says London Dispatch.

London, May 14.—The soviet government, according to a Times dispatch from Petrograd dated Friday, confirms the report that Nicholas Romanoff, the former emperor, together with the former empress and one of their daughters, was removed to Ekaterinburg from Tobolsk as a result of the discovery of a peasant conspiracy to assist in his escape from captivity. Alexis Romanoff, the former heir-apparent, remains at Tobolsk owing to ill health.

Hastings—Unless the 5,000,000 bushels of potatoes are used before July 1, they will be wasted," according to John C. Ketchum, of Hastings, master of the state grange and national grange lecturer, who is interested in pushing a campaign to use more potatoes and milk, the only two foods of which there is a surplus.

DUSTIN FARNUM in "A SON OF ERIN"
PALLAS PICTURES

Last Saturday night the management of the Bradley Opera House gave Tecumseh people the biggest popular priced program of all star pictures that was ever presented in Tecumseh and the patrons of the Bradley certainly showed their appreciation of such a program. It is stated that for the two shows run that evening over 1400 paid admissions were recorded.

For tomorrow night (Saturday, May 18) the management has arranged another big bill, fully as good as last Saturday's. The bill includes considerable more comedy than last week's program. You know it does us all good to laugh good and hard once in a while—it makes you forget the war and all of the other "blue" things we run up against daily. When you see this week's big Mack Sennett "half hour scream," "Those Athletic Girls" you will laugh so hard the tears will run down your cheeks. But that is only one number on the bill.

The main feature, Dustin Farnum and his charming leading lady, Winifred Kingston, in a charming Irish play "A Son of Erin," an Irish story of an Irish lad and an Irish lass, full of Irish spirit, taken amid scenes of indescribable beauty. People who have seen this big feature say that Dustin Farnum has never played such a likeable part as he does in this Irish play.

Then we have the second of the big navy pictures, produced by the United States Navy in order to show you more about our country's big protector, "Our Navy." It makes you a better American to see this great series.

Come early tomorrow night and make sure of good seats. Regular admissions.

BANQUET OF THE TECUMSEH CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION

Big Success—Over 300 in Attendance

Grange Hall was certainly a busy place Wednesday evening when the crowd gathered for the Co-Operative quarterly meeting and banquet. The walls were draped with American flags and bunting and the tables were decorated with boquets of lilacs and apple blossoms. Covers were laid for over 300 and every place was filled.

The orchestra composed of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, Walter and Edward Harper and Lester Waring, favored the audience with several fine selections and were heartily applauded.

Dr. W. B. Hartzog then invoked the Divine Blessing and a most bountiful banquet was served by the young people of the families of the members.

Dr. C. A. Waldron, president of the Association, called the crowd to order after the banquet and John E. Murphy, secretary, read the report of the last business session.

Channing Beebe, manager of the Association, in his report, said the the organization represents an estate of over $5,000,000. He told of the live stock end of the business and how no one could tell today what the price of any product would be tomorrow.

In his statement he gave gross assets of the corporation $110,665.28; liabilities, $73,194.15; present worth $37,471.13 of which $30,300 is paid in capital up to May 1st; $3,709.97 surplus in reserve earned prior to Jan. 1, 1918, and voted in the working funds of company. $3,461.16 is the profit for four months previous to May 1st, subject to inventory as of that date.

President Waldron in his talk on "Co-Operation" explained the scarcity of money in the banks as that every dollar possible had gone east in the Liberty Loan Bonds, but in one week in shipping stock this association brought back $3,000 of it. Their stock shipments only lacked a few thousand since January 1st in replacing the money sent out in the Libery Loan from the whole county.

During the business session Representative Chas. Evans of Tipton and C. H. Bramble of Lansing made remarks.

The first speaker on the program was Mr. Johnson, county secretary of the Y. M. C. A. who addressed the company on "Juvenile Agriculture." He is encouraging the boys and girls in their various corn, potato and other clubs and asserts Lenawees best crop is not the corn or the stock but a fine lot of boys.

Next Chairman Waldron introduced Jas. N. McBride of Lansing, on the market commission of the state. He says the farmer is too afraid to ask for things. He advocates a state chamber of Agriculture that the index price of everything is 3½ times what it was 20 years ago and we need different plans for the agriculturist.

Next was introduced Comfort A. Tyler, vice president of the Commonwealth Savings Bank of Detroit, who happened in town that day and was invited up to make a few remarks. He is full of pep and very brilliant and his speech though short was full of good things. He told of the virtue of being "on the job" and spoke pleasingly of the Co-operative plan.

John C. Ketchum, master of the state Grange was the last speaker. He took for his theme "Co-operation and the New Day." He thinks the boys now in the trenches so close to the virile things of life can never again come back to the little things the twaddle, he was accustomed to, that they will bring a new day to the country. Co-operation means "service" as against the selfishness of the old day. We are guilty of never failing to tell of our privileges of living under the Stars and Stripes but we are weak on our responsibilities. We've been chasing the dollar with the one idea of getting, getting, but we forget that along comes our responsibility also. The foundation of Co-operation is fraternity and enthusiasm is the thing that turns the trick.

Orchestra—Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, Walter and Ed. Harper, and Lester Waring.

NEW WAR PLAN FAKE?

Lord Reading Denies That Yankees Are Held Back.

British Ambassador Says Ottawa Statement U. S. Force Kept for Final Blow Untrue.

Washington, May 14.—Lord Reading, the British ambassador, in a statement here declared that the announcement coming by way of Ottawa that the American army would not be fully utilized on the western front until developed to its full strength, was directly opposite to information he had received from the British war cabinet and that he was in the dark as to its meaning.

The ambassador's statement added to the puzzle in which American officers found themselves today on reading the announcement from Ottawa. Confidential information reaching here recently indicated that such a plan as outlined from Ottawa was under discussion.

The ambassador authorized the following statement:

"The statement attributed to the British war cabinet to the effect that the allies are so confident that having been given the choice of a small immediate American army for defense or waiting till they are reinforced by a complete, powerful, self-supporting American army, they have chosen the latter," is diametrically opposed to all information received by me from the British war cabinet and to all the requests which I have been asked by them to make to the United States administration.

"I am quite in the dark as to the origin of the statement. At present all I can say is that I am convinced that the document has not been issued with the knowledge of the prime minister or the British

ACCURACY

BEFORE buying a corn planter consider this fact—accuracy is essential to the biggest yields. An inaccurate planter covers up its mistakes. It does hit-and-miss work. It is a "thief in the field" and you don't realize how much it has stolen until the corn plants are above the ground and you compare the results with those obtained by using an accurate planter. If it misses only fifteen kernels in every 100 hills there is a loss of five bushels per acre in the yield.

You can buy from us a planter the accuracy of which is proven before it leaves the factory. That planter is the

JOHN DEERE 999 Corn Planter.

The Accurate "Natural Drop" Planter

The same accuracy you would get if you painstakingly counted out the kernels of corn and dropped them by hand—that is the accuracy of the John Deere No. 999 Planter.

Each kernel enters the cell in the seed plate in a natural position. The sloping hopper bottom feeds the corn to the cells whether the hopper is full or nearly empty. It is the most simple, yet most effective planting mechanism ever used on a corn planter.

YOU CONTROL THE NUMBER OF KERNELS PER HILL

When soil in the same field varies—rich, medium and poor—corn should be planted accordingly—two kernels to the hill in poor soil, three in medium soil and our in rich soil.

Without changing seed plates or even stopping the team you can, with the John Deere No. 999, plant 2, 3 or 4 kernels in the hill, whichever number you decide the land will sustain. Merely shifting the foot lever varies the number dropped and you can change the drop as frequently as you desire. The variable drop mechanism of this planter is just as perfect and well protected as the gears on the best automobiles.

You can also drill corn with the John Deere Planter. Change from hilling to drilling or back to hilling is made instantly by means of a foot drop lever. Not necessary to get off the seat or stop the team. The 999 Planter gives nine different drilling distances without changing seed plates.

The Statements of Tecumseh Residents are Surely More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers

Home testimony is real proof.

U. S. IN WAR TO THE LIMIT, SAYS WILSON

President Opens Red Cross Campaign With Speech at New York.

FOR ARMY OF 5,000,000 UP

Executive Asserts America Will Continue to Send Troops to France Until Germany Is Defeated—Asserts Huns' Peace Talk Is Dishonest.

New York, May 20.—Opening with a speech here, the Red Cross' drive for a second $100,000,000 war fund, President Wilson announced the purpose of the United States to set no limits on its effort to win the war.

"I have heard gentlemen recently say," said he, "that we must get 5,000,000 men ready. Why limit it to 5,000,000? I have asked of congress to name no limit, because congress intends, I am sure, as we all intend, that every ship that can carry men or supplies shall go laden upon every voyage with every man and every supply she can carry."

The United States, the president declared, will not be diverted from its purpose of winning the war by insincere approaches on the subject of peace.

Dwelling on the duty of Americans to give to the Red Cross, the president declared no man could afford to make money out of the war.

The audience was composed of distinguished men and women, most of whom have been leaders in the work of the Red Cross.

Text of Speech.

"Mr. Chairman and fellow countrymen: I should be very sorry to think that Mr. Davison in any degree curtailed his exceedingly interesting speech for fear that he was postponing mine, because I am sure you listened with the same intent and intimate interest with which I listened to the extraordinarily vivid account he gave of the things which he had realized because he had come in contact with them on the other side of the waters.

"We compare them with our imagination; he compared them in his personal experience, and I am not come here to review for you the work of the Red Cross; I am not competent to do so because I have not had the time or the opportunity to follow it in detail. [illegible] a few words to you as to what it all seems to me to mean and it means a great deal.

Two Duties In War.

"There are two duties with which we are face to face. The first duty is to win the war. And the second duty, that goes hand in hand with it, is to win it greatly and worthily, showing the real quality of our power not only but the real quality of our purpose and of ourselves.

"Of course, the first duty, the duty that we must keep in the foreground of our thought until it is accomplished, is to win the war. I have heard gentlemen recently say that we must get five million men ready. Why limit it to five million?

"I have asked the congress of the United States to name no limit because the congress intends, I am sure, as we all intend, that every ship that can carry men or supplies shall go laden upon every voyage with every man and every supply she can carry.

Finds Foe Insincere.

"And, we are not to be diverted from the grim purpose of winning the war by any insincere approaches upon the subject of peace. I can say with a clear conscience that I have tested those intimations and have found them insincere. I now recognize them for what they are, an opportunity to have a free hand, particularly in the East, to carry out purposes of conquest and exploitation.

"Every proposal with regard to accommodation in the West involves a reservation with regard to the East. Now, as far as I am concerned, I intend to stand by Russia as well as France."

A voice from the audience interrupted with:

"God bless you."

"The helpless and the friendless are the very ones that need friends and succor," the president continued, "and if any man in Germany thinks we are going to sacrifice anybody for our own sake, I tell him now he is mistaken.

"For the glory of this war, my fellow citizens, in so far as we are concerned, is that it is, perhaps for the first time in history, an unselfish war. I could not be proud to fight for a selfish purpose, but I can be proud to fight for mankind.

"If they wish peace, let them come forward through accredited representatives and lay their terms in the table. We have laid ours and they know what they are.

"But behind all this grim purpose, my friends, lies the opportunity to demonstrate not only force which will be demonstrated to the utmost but the opportunity to demonstrate character, and it is that opportunity that we have most conspicuously in the work of the Red Cross.

"Not that our men in arms do not represent our character, for they do, and it is a character which those who see and realize, appreciate and admire; but their duty is the duty of force. The duty of the Red Cross is the duty of mercy and succor and friendship.

Knitting World Together.

"Have you formed a picture in your imagination of what this war is doing for us and for the world? In my own mind I am convinced that not a hundred years of peace could have knitted this nation together as this single year of war has knitted it together; and, better even than that, if possible, it is knitting the world together.

"Look at the picture. In the center of the scene, four nations engaged against the world, and at every point of vantage, showing that they are seeking selfish aggrandizement; and, against them, 23 governments, representing the greater part of the population of the world drawn together into a new sense of community of interest, a new sense of community of purpose, a new sense of unity of life.

Cites Italian Example.

"The secretary of war told me an interesting incident the other day. He said when he was in Italy a member of the Italian government was explaining to him the many reasons why Italy felt near to the United States.

"'If you want to try an interesting experiment go up to any one of these troop trains and ask in English how many of them have been in America and see what happens.'

"He tried the experiment. He went up to a troop train and he said, 'How many of you boys have been in America?' and he said, it seemed to him as if half of them sprang up: 'Me from San Francisco; me from New York; all over.' There was part of the heart of America in the Italian army.

Must Serve One Another.

"Friendship is the only cement that will ever hold the world together. And this intimate contact of the Red Cross with the peoples who are suffering the terrors and deprivations of this war is going to be one of the greatest instrumentalities of friendship that the world ever knew, and the center of the heart of it all, if we sustain it properly, will be this land that we so dearly love.

"My friends, a great day of duty has come, and duty finds a man's soul as no kind of work can ever find it.

"May I say this—the duty that faces us all now is to serve one another, and no man can afford to make a fortune out of this war. There are men amongst us who have forgotten that, if they ever saw it.

Should Give Freely.

"And your relation to the Red Cross is one of the relations which will relieve you of the stigma. You can't give anything to the government of the United States; it won't accept it. There is a law of congress against accepting even services without pay. The only thing that the government will accept is a loan, and duties performed; but it is a great deal better to give than to lend or to pay, and your great channel for giving is the American Red Cross.

"Down in your hearts you can't take very much satisfaction, in the last analysis, in lending money to the government of the United States, because the interest which you draw will burn your pockets; it is a commercial transaction, and some men have even dared to cavil at the rate of interest, not knowing the incidental commentary that constitute upon their attitude.

No Favors to Come.

"But when you give, something of your heart, something of your soul, something of yourself goes with the gift, particularly when it is given in such form that it never can come back by way of direct benefit to yourself. [illegible] altion of gratitude, as 'the lively expectation of favors to come.'

"Well, there is no expectation of favors to come in this kind of giving. These things are bestowed in order that the world may be a fitter place to live in, that men may be succored, that homes may be restored, that suffering may be relieved, that the face of the earth may have the blight of destruction taken away from it, and that wherever force goes, there shall go mercy and helpfulness.

"And when you give, give absolutely all that you can spare, and don't consider yourself liberal in the giving.

"And think what we have here! We call it the American Red Cross, but it is merely a branch of a great international organization, which is not only recognized by the statutes of each of the civilized governments of the world, but it is recognized by international agreement and treaty as the recognized and accepted instrumentality of mercy and succor. And one of the deepest stains that rests upon the reputation of the German army is that they have not respected the Red Cross.

Members of Great Fraternity.

"That goes to the root of the matter. They have not respected the instrumentality they themselves participated in setting up as the thing which no man was to touch, because it was the expression of common humanity. We are members, by being members of the American Red Cross, of a great fraternity and comradeship which extends all over the world, and this cross which these women bore today is an emblem of Christianity itself.

"It fills my imagination, ladies and gentlemen, to think of the women all over this country who are busy tonight and are busy every night and every day doing the work of the Red Cross.

"When you think of this, you realize how the people of the United States are being drawn together into a great intimate family whose heart is being used for the service of the soldiers not only, but for the service of civilians, where they suffer and are lost in a maze of distresses and distractions.

"And you have, then, this noble picture of justice and mercy as the two servants of liberty.

Tells Indian Story.

"I heard a story told the other day that was ridiculous, but it is worth repeating, because it contains the germ of truth. An Indian was enlisted in the army. He returned to the reservation on a furlough. He was asked what he thought of it. He said: 'No much good; too much salute; not much shoot.' Then he was asked: 'Are you going back?' 'Yes.'

"'Well, do you know what you are fighting for?' 'Yes, me know; fight to make whole damn world democratic party.'

No Party Purpose.

"He had evidently misunderstood some innocent sentence of my own. But, after all, although there is no party purpose in it, he got it right as far as the word 'party,' to make the whole world democratic in the sense of community of interest and of purpose, and if you ladies and gentlemen could read some of the touching dispatches which come through official channels, for even through these channels there come voices of humanity that are infinitely pathetic, if you could catch some of those voices that speak the utter longing of oppressed and helpless peoples all over the world to hear something like the 'Battle Hymn of the Republic,' to hear the feet of the great hosts of liberty going to set them free, to set their minds free, set their lives free, set their children free, you would know what comes into the heart of those who are trying to contribute all the brains and power they have to this great enterprise of liberty.

"I summon you to the comradeship, I summon you to say how much and how sincerely and how unanimously you sustain the heart of the world."

Objects to Name La Follette.

Independence, Mo., May 20.—Marion Warner La Follette, stenographer employed in Washington, has filed application in the circuit court here to have his name changed to Cooper. Because of the "stigma or odium attached to the name of La Follette," the petitioner frequently has been "embarrassed and humiliated," the petition recites.

BOMBS KILL 14 IN COLOGNE

Forty Others Injured During Raid by Allies' Airplanes—Much Damage Reported.

London, May 20.—Fourteen persons were killed and more than 40 others injured when entente allied airplanes raided Cologne, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Central News Agency. Six allied aviators participated in the attack. Much damage was done in the center of Cologne, especially in the market place.

Weapons of the Peruvians.

The early Peruvians used clubs and war-hatchets in battle; also slings, for throwing stones. Skull-fractures must often have resulted. But apparently they trephined also for brain troubles, and possibly for other diseases, notes a medical authority. The surgeon of ancient Peru held the head of his patient between his knees, and with a sharp flint sawed out the button of bone—an agonizing process, surely. Sometimes he filled the hole with a button of silver, or of mollusk-shell, but more often he was content to cover it simply with the flap of scalp.

ALLIED ARMIES MAKE GAINS

Australians Advance Lines Near Ville-Sur-Ancre and Take Prisoners.

FRENCH WIN AT HANGARD

Petain's Troops Drive Germans Back in Night Attack—Enemy Has 1,900,000 Men Ready for Drive.

London, May 20.—In the face of the growing menace of a German offensive against Amiens, the key position on the Picardy front, both the British and French held the aggressive in this sector and scored appreciable gains during the day.

The fighting centered at two points that have figured almost daily in the local operations of the past three weeks—Morlancourt and Hangard.

At Morlancourt the Australians continued their series of daring onslaughts against the German line. Striking the enemy near Ville-sur-Ancre, slightly to the northwest, they advanced and further improved their positions against the expected German drive and at the same time took a number of prisoners and machine guns.

French Gain at Hangard.

At Hangard, where American troops are engaged, their French brothers in arms took the aggressive. In a sharp night attack they thrust back the German lines and gained a toll of prisoners.

As a background for these local battles was the growing intensity of the German preparatory fire.

Every indication points to a renewal of the German offensive on a grand scale within a few days, possibly tomorrow, and Amiens undoubtedly is still the grand objective of the kaiser's effort.

British Front Is Quiet.

With the British Army in France, May 20.—Beyond artillery activity the allied front between Flanders and Amiens has been absolutely quiet. Many aerial battles have taken place and a number of German machines have been driven down.

Germans Have 1,900,000 Men.

Paris, May 20.—The beginning by the Germans of a formidable offensive, by which they expect to achieve final success, now depends only on weather conditions. The commander in chief, the French troops and their allies are waiting for the shock with the greatest confidence.

The Petit Parisien says the enemy has massed nearly all his best troops on the attacking front. Between the North sea coast and the Oise, it states, 140 divisions (about 1,900,000 men) have been distributed, 82 on the front line or for direct support and the remainder behind the lines, to be used for augmenting the push at the principal point of attack. This newspaper says the German plan is to threaten Amiens, cut the railroad between that point and Clermont and break up the allies' forces whatever the cost may be.

When Dog Sought His Master.

There is a story in the American Magazine in which a writer says:

"He had come many miles. He had many miles yet to go. From sleeping farmhouses dogs bayed him as he passed, running like a big fox, silent and swift. The road turned and twisted among the hills and small mountains. Ahead in the sky was a glow of coming day. It grew brighter with the passing miles. It drew him on. The distance would have meant little to him, except for the tremendous speed at which he had been traveling. Now his chest was flecked with foam. His tail, carried usually so proudly followed the curve of his haunches. His overstrained muscles worked mechanically like pistons. His heart pounded his long, lean, red ribs.

"Dizzy, almost famished, he came at last to the top of a hill, and stopped, ears erect. Below him stretched rows of twinkling lights that, all together, made up the glow in the sky. That was the city with the strange building into which they had carried Tommy Earle!"

SEVENTY-THREE IRISH PLOTTERS ARE DEPORTED

Vessel Carrying Prisoners Leaves Kingstown for Holy Head, Wales.

SITUATION WELL IN HAND

Desperate Eleventh-Hour Attempt to Turn Tables on Government Made by Crowd of Masked Men—Little Bloodshed Reported.

London, May 20.—A vessel carrying 73 Sinn Fein prisoners left Kingstown, Ireland, says a Dublin dispatch to the Central News Agency. It is understood the ship is proceeding to Holy Head, Wales. A large crowd cheered as the ship departed, but the demonstrators were dispersed quickly.

Situation Now in Hand.

The government at last accounts had the Irish situation well in hand.

A desperate eleventh-hour attempt to turn the tables on the government forces was made by Sinn Feiners in County Tyrone while Viscount French's dragnet was gathering in 500 men and women conspirators in the German-Irish revolt plot.

A crowd of masked men stormed Barncourt castle, the seat of the duke of Abercourt, and made an unsuccessful search for arms.

Bloodshed Is Scarce.

There has been scarcely any bloodshed in the island-wide roundup of plotters. Except for the abortive raid of Barncourt castle, the only disturbances reported so far took place at Skibbereen, where seven Sinn Feiners resisted constabulary forces that tried to arrest them.

One of the protestants is reported to have been shot in the arm. Troops are guarding the government buildings and railways in Cork.

A special trainload of Sinn Fein prisoners from the west of Ireland passed through Dublin en route for Kingstown.

Leaders Are Arrested.

The Observer, commenting on the Irish situation, says:

"A grave step has been taken in Ireland for grave reasons. Friday morning Professor De Valera, president of the Sinn Fein party, and many other extremists were arrested.

"The reason is that these avowed separatists and pro-Germans have once more been in treasonable touch with the enemy, despite the leniency with which they were treated after the last Dublin outbreak.

"In view of Admiral von Capelle's assertion that Germany is assured for years to come of a steady supply of U-boats which never cease their efforts to get in touch with the Sinn Feiners and separatists, this repeated treason must be put down with an unflinching hand.

America Is Mislead.

"An organized nationalist attempt is being made to mislead the prejudice American opinion with regard to the Irish situation. This attempt will undoubtedly be continued unless it is met with stern and cool discrimination across the Atlantic.

"John Dillon, the Irish nationalist leader, and his friends have made themselves responsible for a malevolent manifesto. It asserts that the British government is not sincere in its intentions with regard to the home rule bill and that the British policy is failing in its promise to Ireland.

"We hope that President Wilson and the people of the United States will not be misled by the Dillon manifesto. We hope they will set themselves fully to understand what the British policy in Ireland really is.

"It is a plain thing and an honest thing and is the only thing compatible, on the one side, with the war interests of the allies, while, on the other side, tending steadily to reconcile two breeds and creeds.

"Without that, Ireland, in wasting and barren agitation, will plunge from one unsettlement to another and there will be no health in her."

REGISTRATION DATE IS SET

June 5 Fixed for Recording of Youths Who Attained Twenty-One Years Since First Draft.

Washington, May 20.—June 5 has been set as the date for registration of youths who have attained twenty-one years since the first army draft registration June 5 last year. The resolution authorizing the new registration is awaiting the president's signature but the provost marshal general's office virtually has completed preparations for carrying it into effect. It is estimated that about 800,000 will be included in the new registration. In the coming year it is the plan to have quarterly registrations.

Early Use of Metals.

As compared with Mexico, the tools employed by the ancient Easter islanders, though like in shape, are yet more wonderful when the purpose for which they were used is considered. It is believed that the use of iron was unknown to the more ancient people of the earth; certainly few traces are found. But among the Mexicans there is evidence of red copper having been fashioned into tools; and although that is wonderful enough when the usage is seen to which the comparatively soft metal was put, yet still more marvelous are the tools of volcanic glass which wrought, carved, cut and chiseled the huge images and blocks of stone to be found on Easter island. Remains of these tools are yet to be found lying about the island quarries.

We haven't seen the really hot weather yet. Wait till the wife puts the last of the flannel blankets away in moth balls and begins talking about how much better natured the children would be if you'd only buy an electric fan! The time is coming when no makeshift will do, and you'll wish you had some extra thin, extra short, extra cool underclothes to put on. You'll groan less about the climate if you'll treat yourself to the new undergarments NOW. Why not stop in, in the morning?

HUN NEAR PETROGRAD

Germans Occupy Bjorko, Thirty Miles From Old Capital.

Kiev Placed in State of Siege—Many Persons Arrested for Attempted Uprising Against Invaders.

Petrograd, May 20.—German troops have occupied Bjorko, an island in the Gulf of Finland, south of Viborg, and 30 miles northwest of Petrograd.

The food situation in Petrograd and other large cities of Russia, instead of improving with the advent of spring and river navigation, is constantly growing worse.

The bread ration in Petrograd, which had been one-eighth of a pound weekly, now is totally exhausted. Other products are scarce.

In Moscow the food situation is somewhat better. The bread ration is a quarter of a pound and other food is obtainable at high prices. Sugar is scarce.

Conditions in the country generally do not promise an improvement in the food situation in the near future.

Amsterdam, May 20.—Kiev, capital of the Ukraine, has been placed in a state of siege by the German military command in conjunction with the Ukrainian provisional government. Many citizens have been arrested as a result of attempts to rise against the occupying authorities, culminating in street fighting.

Moscow, May 20.—Mussulman and bolshevik forces are engaged in a deadly conflict at Baku, on the Caspian sea. According to dispatches to the Moscow newspapers, 2,000 persons have been killed and 3,000 wounded. Various parts of the town, including entire streets and the Persian bazaars, are burning.

Turkish regulars and Kurds, advancing in Persia, have occupied Soujbulak and Ushnu, south of Lake Urmia, according to dispatches from Tiflis.

Tabriz dispatches say that the Turks' objective is Enzeli, which will become the central base from which the British will be menaced in Mesopotamia.

MEANING OF SHIP TONNAGE

Several Different Uses of Term, Applied as Occasion Demands, Are Cited by National Authority.

The different uses of tonnage terms when speaking of ships are causes of confusion to the lay mind. Why ships cannot be really compared according to tonnage is explained by Capt. C. A. McAllister, engineer in chief, United States coast guard, in an article in Popular Science Monthly. For example, he states, steamship companies, in order to impress relative safety of their craft, will advertise the sailing of a certain steamer of 20,000 tons, meaning, of course, gross tons. The company's agent, in entering it at the custom house, will take precaution to certify that she is only 7,340 tons, when paying tonnage taxes. He then is referring to her net tonnage, and in fact that standard is used only when paying dues or taxes.

Displacement tonnage is almost exclusively applied to warships, as they do not carry cargoes. Strange to say, the tonnage of a battleship varies almost hourly, as coal or other weighty objects are used or taken on board. The tonnage of warships is, however, fixed; they are referred to in terms of the fixed tonnage.

A statement that a 10,000-ton battleship sank a 10,000-ton merchant ship does not mean that the ships were of equal size. The merchant ship would be much larger, owing to the different meanings of the term "ton," as applied to the two types of vessels. It is absolutely impossible to give rules for the relation of these terms, as the conditions vary too greatly. Generally speaking, the gross tonnage of a ship is from 50 to 100 per cent greater than the net tonnage.

WILSON VISITS TARS

Surprises Sailors at Pelham Bay Training Station.

President Greeted Cordially by New York Throngs on Way From Broadway Hotel to Church.

New York, May 20.—President Wilson paid his compliments to the navy on Sunday by making on unheralded visit to the Pelham Bay training station, whose boys marched in Saturday's Red Cross parade.

Driving up to a side entrance, the limousine containing the president and Mrs. Wilson and Colonel and Mrs. House came to a stop. The president opened the door and addressed a uniformed boy of about sixteen years:

"How can we get in here?" he asked pleasantly.

The boy recognized the prominent visitor instantly, and was apparently paralyzed with fright for a moment.

"Gee, it's the president himself! What'll I do?" he stuttered.

A guard was hastily gotten together to render proper honors. A crowd of visitors became aware that the president was on the grounds, and strenuous cheering followed the party as it drove about.

"What's it all about?" demanded a young sailor who had been talking with a visitor whose big blue eyes had made him oblivious to all else.

"It's the president, bo. Open up your lungs!" howled one of his companions, and the sailor let forth a yell which showed the muffler had been thoroughly cut out.

Commander W. B. Franklin greeted the president and his party at headquarters before they started on the return trip to the Waldorf.

Cordial greetings met the president on every side as he left the hotel shortly before eleven o'clock in the morning, accompanied by Mrs. Wilson and Rear Admiral Grayson, and proceeded up Fifth avenue to the Brick Presbyterian church.

Men removed their hats. Handkerchiefs fluttered in the hands of women. All smiled a welcoming "Good morning, Mr. President," and Mr. Wilson's hat was off much of the time in acknowledgment of the cordiality shown him.

Tecumseh has had the name for years of doing the unusual thing and getting away with it. She has perhaps been attracted to the outside world more because of these unusual ways of getting various things going than many of her sister towns and cities. It pays to advertise and by doing things has made herself known throughout the length and breadth of the country as being a live wire town.

Tecumseh in the days gone by has supported various organizations which have gone out and excelled. She has had bands which have won laurels and who in Michigan has not heard of the famous pennant winning ball team of the Southern Michigan League? Our Wednesday Bargain Days, original with Tecumseh, have been a great success and have been copied by many a community outside and have been largely written up by the prominent trade journals of the country.

True to the characteristic Tecumseh spirit, she has mustered her forces for war work and an immense amount of it has been done during the past year of the war. Every local organization doing patriotic work has shown up nearly 100 per cent. and are determined to keep this record good as long as the Government needs their services.

Possibly no patriotic organization working here today is entitled to rhgDinohio ttarevega.indiwseps inih more praise than the Tecumseh Red Cross Concert Company who will celebrate their first anniversary next Sunday. We have all seen many organizations banded together for the purpose of making money for themselves, work hard and succeed, but we have not seen many who have worked together as these musicians have for the sole purpose of doing "their bit" for the Red Cross and war work. They get nothing for their services and have given generously of their strength and talent. They have surely gone "over the top" with flying colors in true American style. They will round out the year with the $1000.00 pledged by themselves for Red Cross work and raised a record that they may feel justly proud of. They do not intend to stop here, however, but intend to go on with their concerts as long as a demand for them exists.

Those who have worked tirelessly for the success of this company are Mrs. Jenny C. Law Hardy, Mrs. F. B. Wood and Mrs. Robt. Moore. Together with these ladies has been added the individual efforts of every member who have more than done their bit.

Mrs. Hardy has added greatly to the success of the undertaking for it has been she who has given the patriotic talks and has appealed to the generosity of her hearers. She has used of her talents freely and has given many of her talks in German when the company were appearing in German localities.

There are also a handful of men who have helped this concert company along and who have furnished their time and cars to transport these people to their places of appointment. This work has been done, mostly by F. B. Wood, R. S. Moore, Dr. P. B. Hardy and H. S. Temple.

We are proud of ahe Red Cross Concert Company and of the work they have done this past year. They are 100 per cent. and have put the thing across in true Tecumseh style. They have not slacked around with idea of "let the other fellow do it," but have got busy and worked that it may be possible for Tecumseh to be 100 per cent. efficient in her Red Cross work. We congratulate the Red Cross Concert Company for the wonderful work they have accomplished during the past year.

Shame Makes One Forget.

Forgetting is a strange phenomenon. According to the modern psychologists, we are most apt to forget those things that we do not want to remember—especially those of which we are ashamed.

In an address on criminals who are on the border line of insanity, delivered recently before the Clinical Society of St. Elizabeth's Hospital, Washington, Dr. Leon Emile Duval told of many mentally unbalanced men who in their normal state could not remember disgraceful deeds they had done, and said this was to be explained on the basis that "it is the thing of which we are ashamed and which conflicts with the customs of society which is soonest relegated to the realm of the unconscious."

Proud Record of Marines.

As the first battle of the American navy was fought and won by the marines, so, down through the years of the Revolutionary war, we find the marines at the forefront when difficult work was to be done. In fact there were but few expeditions in which they did not figure in more or less strength. Thus Lieutenant Wallingford of the marines died at the head of his men under John Paul Jones in the battle between the Ranger and the Drake; and in the classic fight between the Bon Homme Richard under Paul Jones and the Serapis, the marines lost 49 out of 187 men.

FINE SHOWING MADE BY THE RED CROSS CONCERT COMPANY

The Red Cross Concert Company, composed of patriotic men and women of Tecumseh have given freely of their talent and time during the past year. A year ago Sunday they gave their first concert at Macon and pledged themselves to raise $1,000.00 for Red Cross during the year. This looked like a big undertaking for this company of musicians for it meant evening after evening of voluntary work and sacrifice from every member. But the company were made up of the right kind of people, no quitters in the company and next Sunday they will have the satisfaction of making good their promise.

Up to date this company have raised and turned over to the local Red Cross fund $987.83. They will give a concert in Manchester Thursday night which ought to net them double the amount needed to bring the total up to the $1,000.00 mark.

Practically every town or community center for miles around Tecumseh have invited this company to give their concert and they have even journeyed as far as Coldwater. More distant places throughout the state have heard of their work and twice they have had urgent invitations to go to Imlay City with their program. They advertise to give their concert at any place within motoring distance of Tecumseh. They make no charge for their services but require a silver collection to be taken for Red Cross, one-half of the collection to go to the Red Cross of the local community in which the concert is given and one-half to the Tecumseh Red Cross.

DAY OF NATIVITY UNKNOWN

World Has Only Tradition to Rely Upon as to Date of the Birth of Christ.

The traditional 25th of December as the date of the birth of the Savior has no historical authority beyond the fourth century, when the Christmas festival was introduced first in Rome (A. D. 350), on the basis of several Roman festivals (the Saturnalia, Sigillaria, Juvenalia, Brumalia, or Dies natalis Invicti Solis), which were held in the latter part of December, in commemoration of the golden age of liberty and equality, and in honor of the sun, who in the winter solstice is, as it were, born anew, and begins his conquering march. The only indication of the season of Christ's birth is the fact that the shepherds were watching their flocks in the field at the time (Luke 11:8), and this fact points to any other season rather than winter, and is, therefore, not favorable to the traditional date. Besides, the ancient tradition is of no account here, as it varied down to the fourth century. Clement of Alexandria relates that some regarded the 25th, Pachon (i. e., May 20), others the 24th or 25th, Pharmuthi (April 19 or 20), as the day of Nativity.

As to modern research, the only point on which divines generally agree is that Christ was not born on Christmas day, while numerous learned authorities put the birth on almost every date of the year.

HILL PUZZLE TO GEOLOGISTS

Stone Columns on Eminence Near Pachuca, in Mexico, Out of Keeping With Other Formations.

A very remarkable geological freak in Mexico is a mountain situated near Pachuca which presents the appearance at a distance of being covered with spikes. The sides of the mountain are closely studded with stone columns or palisades. These columns are five to twelve feet long and as large round as an average man's body. It is a remarkable uplift of nature which has the appearance, however, of being the handiwork of human beings. One side of the mountain is almost perpendicular and the stone columns protrude from the surface at right angles, forming an impressive picture.

Pachuca is one of the most noted mining districts in Mexico, and it is said by geologists that this remarkable spiked mountain is out of keeping with the remainder of the formation of the mineralized region. The stone is as hard as flint and has withstood the elements of ages. The spikes form a natural battlement that makes the mountain appear from a distance like an ancient fort. The mines of the Pachuca district are situated not far from this wonderful freak of nature, but the formation encountered in their respective underground workings is of an entirely different kind from that of the palisade.

How Tornado Originates.

The tornado of the Western plains is identical in formation with the sand-whirl. The sun beats fiercely on a limited area—say ten square miles of barren prairie—and as a result the air next the earth becomes very hot, perhaps 120 degrees, and the mass is constantly increasing in volume. Above the warm air is a stratum perhaps 20 degrees colder.

By and by a passageway is made, the hot air begins to ascend and the cold upper air, pressing downward, forces the lighter air through a channel thus formed. It begins to whirl, it increases in velocity, a surface current forces it along, and the tornado starts on its destructive journey.

The terrific cyclone originates in much the same way, only differing in extent. The most violent cyclones originate in tropical latitudes, in the Atlantic ocean, to the north and east of West Indian islands and in the Pacific, in the China sea and in the neighborhood of the Philippine islands.

The reason they are so destructive is because they are carried such great distances by extraneous influences.

Sheep Has Wooden Leg.

Charles Krauter, living near Bucyrus, O., had a lamb get tangled up in a fence and injure its leg. The veterinary told him the leg had to come off. Krauter did not want to lose the lamb, so minus the leg he nursed it back to health and then fixed up a peg leg for it.

Now the lamb has grown to be a sheep and still stumps around on the wooden leg. Occasionally the wooden member becomes loose and falls off, and the sheep then hobbles over to a soft spot and waits until some one comes along to fasten the leg on again.

The wooden leg doesn't interfere with the sheep growing wool, Mr. Krauter says, and wool is wool now-adays.

Douglas Fairbanks

THE BEST LOVED ACTOR IN THE WORLD

Next Thursday evening, May 23, the management of the Bradley Opera House will present the best loved actor in the world, Douglas Fairbanks, in one of his newest Artcraft pictures, "Wild and Woolly."

"Wild and Woolly" is a rapid fire comedy disclosing the athletic Douglas in the role of an adventure seeking youth of the metropolis who realizes his fondest fancies amidst the great plains of the West. Clad in immaculate cow boy attire, he travels to the land of his dreams where his friends plan many hair raising deeds in order to live up to his expectations. Staged in New York, California and Arizona, the picture offers many thrillers together with humorous situations of the Fairbank's variety.

"I am really living this picture," Doug was heard to remark between some of the scenes in "Wild and Woolly" and when you see it you will agree that "he lived some." The entire picture is full of thrills and excitement and goes straight to the heart of Doug's many admirers.

Arrangements had been made to have Miss Putnam sing George M. Cohan's latest military song hit, "Over There," but were later changed and Mr. Harry Hall, Adrian's famous tenor, has been engaged for the evening. He will be accompanied by Mrs Hall at the piano. Mr Hall will also render several other selections during the evening. To hear Mr. Hall alone is worth many times the cost of admission, to say nothing of the wonderful five act feature with Doug. Fairbanks at his best.

MY SOLDIER GIRL

Big Musical Comedy Coming to the Bradley next Tuesday.

LeComte & Flesher's big musical-military comedy "My Soldier Girl" stands at the head of the line of musical shows prouduced this year. The big show is coming to the Bradley Opera House next Tuesday evening May 28th, with complete scenic production and big chorus, every thing complete.

Extracts from different papers received by the local management from cities where "My Soldier Girl" has been presented speak very highly for the company and production and readily show that it is far above the average musical comedy.

Those who saw Musical show enjoyed It

With costumes sufficient to stock a large store and settings that first cost artists much effort, now cause baggage handlers and stage hands lots of work, the Musical spectacle "My Soldier Girl" was played at the Metropolitan last night, and the audience liked it. The work of William Moore and Fred Daye was in big demand last night and the show ran over time principally because these two players were obliged to respond to encores. The dancing of Gudrun Walberg took well. Her dances with Leslie Jones were features. This couple executed nearly every dance from a Russian ballet to the Hawaiian, and wore appropriate costumes for each. A big feature of the show was the Aeroplane scene in which Miss Walberg goes to the top of the stage while the chorus sings below. A tableau closed the show. With scenery and lights the stage was made to resemble the trenches, "Somewhere in France" and surrounded by this the entire company appeared in a patriotic pageant.—Owatonna, Minn., Republican, Sept. 29, 1917.

THE DAILY COMMONWEALTH,

Fond du Lac, Wis.

Monday, September 10, 1917

"My Soldier Girl," presented at the Henry Boyle Theatre Sunday proved to be fully as good as prévious newsapers vaunted it to be and then some.

It was the "then some" that made the play of the best that has been produced in this city in years. The way the different things were pulled off "differently" was what made it the big success it was.

Flirtation walk made a hit with all. The newness of the thing coupled with the effects produced by the pretty lights and a shapely bunch of chorus girls made such a tremendous hit that the performers were called out repeatedly for encores.

The costumes were par excellence and the settings, the song hits and the music were also of fine quality.

Mrs. Frank Hoagland of Raisin Center visited friends in town Saturday.

THE FRIENDS

In relation to the Red Cross Work. Ever Loyal and True

In anticipation of the Red Cross Capmaign to be conducted this week Friends everywhere will be interested in knowing the financial relation of our Unit to the Red Cross.

The two facts to be strongly emphasized are:

First: That the Friends Unit, although a Bureau of the Red Cross, must be maintained, under the arrangement we have with the Red Cross, by funds contributed through Friends treasurers.

Second: That the Red Cross Officials at Washington understand the above situation thoroughly and are willing that the bulk of Friends subscriptions should go through our own channels to enable us to do the work to which we are committed.

Our relation to the magnificent Red Cross organization could not be more close nor more cordial. We are in constant communication and conference with their officials both in this country and in France. We are anxious that there be the same cordial understanding between Friends and local Red Cross representatives.

We are confident that the arrangement which has the warm approval of the national Red Cross officials will be appreciated and approved by local Red Cross people. If occasion shoudl arise it might be well for the proper person to explain the situation to yourlocal Red Cross Campaign managers, so that it may be known that Friends are very loyal and liberal supporters of the Red Cross through the special channel for which we have become responsible.

Very Cordially yours,
Vincent D. Nicholson,
Executive Secretary.

FATHER NEPTUNE STEALS SET

Odd Things Happen in Colorful Jewel

"Where's our set?"

S. M. Goldaine, assistant to Director Allen J. Holubar, recently put forth the question on a wild island off the coast of California where the 6-act Jewel super-feature, "Sirens of the Sea" which goes into the Royal Theatre, on Thursday, May 23 was in the course of production.

"Down on the beach—the same one we used yesterday," replied Holubar.

"All wrong," said Goldaine, "it was down on the beach last night, sure enough. It isn't there now!"

It was Holubar's turn to get excited. He rushed to the beach. There was no set—the temporary stage which had been built a hundred yards from the water's edge had vanished completely.

The members of the company were nonplussed for a while until one of them solved the mystery with a pair of field glasses. He discovered the set sailing sou'west in a smooth sea about five miles off shore! An unusually high tide had carried it away in the night!

A steam yacht chartered by Jewel Productions, Inc., for the use of the company, overhauled the sea-going set and towed it back to the island, where it was found that the scenery and furniture were still in place on the stage, which was landed on the next high tide, none the worse for the overnight cruise.

AFTER MANY DAYS

Six years ago Roy Blesing lost a good gold watch. Imagine his surprise when Mr. Henry in spading up his flower bed, unearthed a watch. Showing this to Roy's father, he at once said he believed it was Roy's watch and on producing the box in which it came, found the numbers corresponded. The watch is in good condition, the spring being the only part damaged. When cleaned up the watch proved good as new.

At the time Roy missed his watch he had been putting new dirt on this flower garden and it must have slipped from his pocket then.

EAT POTATOES SAVE WHEAT

A GENUINE SURPRISE

Miss Ella A. Routson, whose marriage occurs on Friday, June 7th, was given a surprise party by the members of the Epworth League at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron Friday evening. It was no surprise to her when Mrs. Waldron 'phoned her to come and spend the evening as this was a frequent occurrence, but it was a surprise when she reached the house to find about thirty of the Epworth Leaguers in possession. The house was prettily decorated with lilacs and other flowers and everything presented a festive appearance.

The evening was spent with games and music and later light refreshments were served. Miss Routson was again surprised when she was given a silver shower by her friends. She also was the recipient of the many heartfelt good wishes of her friends that her journey through life with her chosen companion might be a happy one and when trials come, as come they must, that they might comfort one another. It was a late hour when the company dispersed, having spent a most delightful evening together.

MEMORIAL PROCLAMATION

By the Governor

The observance of Memorial Day, a day dear to the heart of the patriot, the day of all days which most abounds in hallowed memories and associations, is distinctively an American custom, and one that beautifully reflects the spirit of democracy. It is a day which brings to the surface the kindlier, nobler impulses of the human heart, and bids us pause, even in times of war, to honor the memory of those who offered up their lives on freedom's altar. It is the day that commemorates the great deeds and heroic sacrifices of the brave men who more than half a century ago, sustained the cause of the Union. These men deserve well of ourselves and all future generations of Americans. They saved the nation from disruption. They redeemed labor from slavery. They converted into a concrete, living fact what before had been held as an abstract principle, namely, that all men are created free and equal, not equal in power and endowment, but equal in their right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. The men who accomplished these stupendous labors were true patriots; and it is ours to honor the memory of the departed and pay homage to those who still live.

Again, to-day, the life of the Republic is threatened, this time from without. We have been forced into war. We face the peril which menaces all the free nations of the earth and we have made common cause with them. Together we are fighting to keep the world from being throttled to a ruthless autocratic power. The fate of democracy hangs in the balance. The freedom of the world is at stake; and, as our fathers went out in sixty-one to do battle for a righteous cause, so our sons are going out to-day to do battle for a cause that is no whit less righteous. They are fighting to uphold the rights of humanity. They are fighting to save civilization from destruction. Their valor and their patriotism need no eulogy. They are worthy sons of worthy sires.

One young soldier writes to his mother. "I am going to fight this war as a man, and I'll never come back with a stain on the name I love. If I am called upon to make the supreme sacrifice, I'm going with my boots on and a smile on my lips. When I am across, don't worry, little mother, because I want you to be proud to call me 'My son.'" That spirit will win. It cannot fail to win, although the hour of victory may be delayed by the magnitude of the task which confronts our gallant soldiers and sailor lads. God bless them, and keep them true and steadfast! God help us at home to realize our responsibility, and with wholehearted devotion, to do our part.

Therefore, that we may pay a tribute of affection and esteem to the surviving veterans of the Civil War and of the Spanish-American War, and do honor to the memory not only of the men who gave up their lives in these wars of the past, but of the brave boys also who have fallen in the present conflict, I, ALBERT E. SLEEPER, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby issue this, my Proclamation, and sincerely urge the observance of Thursday, May thirtieth, nineteen hundred and eighteen as Memorial Day.

I venture to express the hope that the day will be kept in a manner consistent with the spirit of the occasion. It should be a day for the re-dedication of our strength and service, the renewed consecration of our every effort and resource, to the support of our fighting forces.

And, pursuant to President Wilson's proclamation, I earnestly request the people of Michigan to observe this day as a solemn festival, and to gather in their accustomed places of worship and there to offer prayers for the victory of the American armies, that a just and lasting peace may be established throughout the world.

On that day flags should be displayed at half-staff until noon, and then hoisted to the top of the staff.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the State, this seventeenth day of May, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eighteen, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-second.

ALBERT E. SLEEPER,
Governor.

By the Governor:
Coleman C. Vaughan,
Secretary of State.

A CORRECTION

We regret that through an error on our part the names of some of the boys who worked so faithfully last week in collecting papers for the Red Cross were omitted. We print the list in full today:

Mrs. McCann states that the boys were entitled to much praise for their work and she is much grieved that they did not receive proper notice.

Raymond Austin, Wm Rex, Jimmie Temple, Russel Murphy, George Ferguson, Harold McCann, Jimmie Allison and David Reed.

PATRIOTIC PARTY

The Patriotic Party given by the Chamber of Commerce of Adrian Monday evening for the Officers, Township Chairman and Associates of the Patriotic League, Woman's Liberty Loan Committee, Red Cross Chapters, Woman's Committee of Council of National Defense and affiliated organizations who have directed the Patriotic work of Lenawee County for the past year was held in the Light Guard Armory and was attended by patriotic workers from all over the County. The armory being literally packed.

A program of songs, vaudeville stunts, music and dancing was enjoyed. Bob Darnton gave one of his enthusiastic talks which was enjoyed by those present. Mrs. Grace Moore and Miss Isabel Johnson of Tecumseh appeared on the program, Mrs. Moore rendered a vocal solo and Miss Johnson appeared in a Scotch dance.

Refreshments were served. About twelve couple from Tecumseh went over for the party.

WOMEN OF TECUMSEH MAKE REGISTRATION 95 PER CENT.

The result of the registration of women recently conducted in Tecumseh shows a total of 95 per cent of the women in this school district registered. Under the leadership of Mrs. E. E. Hendershott, chairman, a canvass is being made this week of those who have not yet registered. The women want to make our record 100 per cent and if it is possible to reach this coveted mark they are going to do it.

Tecumseh women have made a fine showing and the 95 per cent. mark is fine, but it should not be such a difficult task to bring in the lagging 5 per cent.

Surely we have no woman living in Tecumseh who is so unpatriotic to absolutely refused to register for her government.

RED CROSS NEWS

IMPORTANT— Dr. Pauline Bredow is issuing a most urgent and pathetic appeal for workers for surgical dressings. We must have workers, workers, WORKERS; we must make 25 surgical pads every day to catch up from now on, and the goods must be turned in the day before Decoration Day, if Tecumseh is not to fall down on her quota. Please give your name at once to Dr. Bredow, or come to the Headquarters. Think what dressings mean, they signify life itself to the boys who are giving life for us.

Miss Alma Tansley wrote the Red Cross News in the last two issues of the Herald, not Mrs. Hardy.

New Members: Harry Scofield, Mrs. M. E. Cunningham, L. G. North, Mrs. J. Gregg, M. E. Cunningham.

Renewals of Membership: Fred S. Sheldon, Mrs. Fred S. Sheldon, Mrs. V. Cornelius, L. A. Keeney, G. J. Ziehr, Mrs. G. J. Ziehr, Mrs. Thos. Langton, Chas. F. Patterson, Mrs. Henry Scofield, E. H. VanVleet, Mrs. W. J. Morse, Mrs. A. L. Brooks, H. B. Ager, M. E. Scofield, Mrs. T. W. Mingay, Mrs. Geo. W. Cole, Mrs. Chas. F. Patterson, Mrs. Wm. Chiverall, W. J. Morse, Mrs. L. G. North, Mrs. H. B. Ager, Mabel Ager, T. W. Mingay

The Red Cross Concert Company gave a very successful concert in the Methodist church, Clinton, on Sunday night. There was a full house and the audience was most enthusiastic. Gen. Fred B. Wood was a most efficient stage manager, Mrs. Fred B. Wood, musical director, and the company consisted of Mrs. Robert Moore, who sang the Cuban National Hymn in Spanish, Mrs. Ella Hodges, Mrs. Edward Heilman, the Misses Rosacrans, Kennedy, Bowen and Balmer, Mrs. J. C. Law Hardy, Mr. Duaine Service and Messrs. W. S. Dickinson, F. C. Dickinson, Roger Waring and Floyd Jucket.

The collection netted $34.78, which brings the total raised by the company to $987.83.

As $1,000.00 was pledged, the concert to be given on Thursday in Manchester will be "The Over the Top Concert," as $12.17 will make the thousand dollars.

Anyone desiring the services of the company please apply to Mrs. Fred B. Wood.

We regret that names of some of the boys who collected papers were inadvertently omitted from the last Red Cross News. The following boys worked hard and we certainly love them for their loyalty to the Red Cross: Raymond Austin, Wm. Rex, Jimmie Temple and Russell Murphy. There is not one of them we could spare and even the littlest one is as necessary and as valuable as any worker in the chain that links every land on earth together.

Jennie C. Law Hardy
Publicity Director.

POWDER BLAST KILLS 200

Plant of the Aetna Chemical Company at Oakdale, Pa., Destroyed—Injured Hurled Half-Mile.

Pittsburgh, Pa., May 20.—Probably 200 men were killed when an explosion of T. N. T. demolished the plant of the Aetna Chemical company at Oakdale on the Panhandle division of the Pennsylvania railroad, 16 miles from this city.

Coronor Samuel C. Jamison ordered a census of the town in an effort to ascertain the number of persons killed.

There were 500 workmen in the explosives plant at noon when a report, not much louder than the crack of a pistol, came from the soda house. Every man knew its deadly import, and as one man they rushed for the nearest exit.

Before they could gain the open, the very air seemed to burst into flame, the earth heaved and rocked, and with a roar that was heard for miles, the long factory buildings were herled high into the air, carrying with them ponderous equipment and scores of men.

Many of the injured, some of whom were found as far as half a mile from the remnants of the factory, were brought to Pittsburgh hospitals by special train and ambulances, all of them so badly hurt that in only a comparatively few instances were physicians able to hold out any hope for their recovery. The property loss was estimated at $1,500,000.

Immediately after the second explosion the mass of broken beams and twisted timbers broke out in a great blaze.

Company guards, under the direction of a detail of the state constabulary, surrounded the burning ruins and were later re-enforced by deputy sheriffs and a large party of deputy coroners.

KEEPS VITAL POINTS SAFE

Medical Explanation of Work Performed by Fluid Which Bathes Brain and Spinal Cord.

Until very recently the exact role played by the cerebro-spinal fluid—that watery substance which bathes the brain and spinal cord—was not understood. But nowadays it is a common practice among surgeons to squirt drugs into the tissues containing this fluid or to draw out a drop or two of it for examination.

The Journal of the American Medical Association, commenting on an address by Dr. W. D. Halliburton before the Royal Society of Medicine, says he describes the cerebro-spinal fluid as an ideal physiologic solution in which the exquisitely sensitive nervous system is always bathed.

This fluid does not, like the lymph, arise from the blood by exudation of serum through the walls of the capillaries, but is the product of the secreting cells of what are called the choroid plexuses in the ventricles of the brain. The pressure under which the fluid always exists is due to the secretory pressure of these cells and not to the blood. And there are scarcely any proteins found in it. Halliburton says that in order to keep out the harmful proteins, which would poison the nerves, the harmless ones also are almost completely excluded.

The membranes that line the spaces in which the fluid is found seem to permit substances to pass from it to the blood, but to be impermeable (except for oxygen) in the direction from the blood to the fluid. The value of this arrangement is that when poisons enter the blood, as they do so easily, they are kept away from the delicate nerves.

EIGHTEEN YEARS ON ISLAND

Experience of Indian Woman Makes That of Robinson Crusoe Appear a Mere Incident.

It would appear that Alexander Selkirk's brief stay on Juan Fernandes island was trivial, either in the hardships endured or the difficulties overcome, compared with that of a woman on an island opposite the Californian peninsula.

It seems that the Catholic fathers at Santa Barbara were once transporting the natives of the island of St. Nicholas to the mainland. Among them was a mother who discovered that her babe had been left behind. She begged that the vessel might be put back, but the captain refused. She then leaped into the sea to swim ashore, but as a storm prevailed, all on board thought she was drowned.

Eighteen years afterward a company landed on the island. They found traces of life, and after a long search discovered the woman and took her with them. The poor woman never found her babe, but had managed to live in comparative comfort, though very lonely. After her long life in the open, she could not endure the confinement of a house, and soon sickened and died.

One of our most loyal allies is the Republic of Cuba, which declared war against Germany less than 24 hours after the United States did, besides turning over all the interned German ships to the United States. They could be seen all over the harbor of Havana, big beautiful ships belonging to the Hamburg-American Line. Cuba has also taken five million dollars worth of our last Liberty Loan.

The Head of the Red Cross in Cuba is Senora Mariana Menocal, the handsome wife of the President. She has been most successful in raising money, by means of personal [illegible] the Presidents wife is immense, and Senora Menocal wrote to all the large sugar mills, plantations, and other wealthy landowners, assessing them according to their wealth for $5,000 or 2,000 and it is said that they all paid the sums she asked for. Two million dollars have been collected in this way and a hundred doctors and nurses sent to France to co-operate with the U. S. Red Cross. The Cuban women all over the island are also making the same articles that are made here, and the cases of finished goods are sent either to New York or directly to France as directed by the Washington Headquarters. Cuba has also sent an immense amount of tobacco, cigars and cigarettes to the front; and the Ward Steamship Company has carried all Cuban Red Cross foods free of charge.

The American Red Cross has a chapter in Cuba, with Headquarters in Havana and it works amicably with the Cuban Red Cross. Permission to establish the American Chapter hah been refused by Washington, but was afterwards granted through the instrumentality of President Menocol himself.

Mrs. F. M. Draper is chairman for Cuba, with a number of branches in the island. Their goods are all shipped direct to Paris. The Ward line and the Cuban Railroads as well as the Cuban Express Companies handle all Red Cross goods free; and all Red Cross workers travel on free passes, for Cuba is nothing if not generous.

The Havana workroom hd shipped alone by April 15 enormous cases of goods to Paris two cases of civilian relief goods, and three cases of cigarettes.

The very beautiful Headquarters in the most fashionable part of Havana are given by the American Meg club. There are 650 Americans listed as heads of families and Havana has 1000 American members.

The Cuban Red Cross has existed since 1888, but the American Chapter is the first foreign chapter, in a place that had already a Red Cross.

It has raised $50,000 in a few months, of which a little less than half was sent to Washington and from 30 to fifty are continually in attendance.

The Cuban and the American Red Cross combine to give entertainments as much as $20,000 having been raised at one meeting of the Havana races, which is shared equally; this is generous as the Cuban is very much larger.

The American Red Cross has branches all over Cuba, the Santiago one being under the charge of a Cuban lady, married to an American, Mrs. M. B. McMillan, whose husband, Dr. McMillan is the head of the Rainbow Division in France, and was assistant superintendent of the Health department of New York.

The Headquarters are in the Archiepiscopal Palace, being the place formerly occupied by the archbishops motor car and the room of the chauffeur.

As President Menocal is not popular in Santiago, the Cubans prefer to contribute to the American Red Cross instead of to the Cuban, and many Cuban ladies were working in the American Branch.

The Havana workers send every week a big packing case full of books magazines, newspapers, and other goods to every American camp in Cuba; there are a number of camps at Santiago, Bayamo, Camaguey, Guantanamo etc.

The different branches also get up entertainments for the American soldiers, as unfortunately there is no Y. M. C. A. in Cuba.

The members of the Red Cross desire to express their grateful remembrance of Mrs. Elroy Zimmerman, for her faithful work for the cause. She had earned her two Red Crosses having put in seventy two hours work in surgical dressings. She was a fine worker, and all her co-workers liked her and miss her.

She came to her task when she was so ill that she could hardly work and was at work the day before she was taken ill; her last trip from home was to make surgical dressings. May we all be as faithful as she was.

Dr. Bredow wishes to express her appreciation of the large response to her appeal for workers, there were 27 on Tuesday evening; they made 39 split irrigation pads, and the work was excellent.

However, there is still plenty of work to do and Dr. Bredow is still appealing for help.

The Tecumseh Red Cross has been called upon to furnish 75 sweaters before June 25th. Mrs. J. R. Nyland has received all the yarn necessary to make them. But she must have workers, the yarn alone will not do it; remember, if we are to win this war, we must look upon ourselves as soldiers and do all and more than is asked of us or the fate of the woman of France and Belgium may yet be our lot. Please do not fail to respond to this appeal.

Mrs. Lowe is also lamenting the fact that the work on pajamas has fallen off. Only eight suits were made last week and workers are badly needed Wednesdays and Thursdays.

Mrs. Frank Nyland is asking the workers on the shirts to please notice the change in directions:

Seams are to be flat felled on the OUTSIDE.

More workers are needed on Tuesdays as there are 8 machines and often only 2 are running.

Mrs. Nyland says that housecleaning time is about over and that it will rest you to take an afternoon off and work for your country. Try it.

Another cutter is needed for shirts. Will some one kindly volunteer? Please notify Mrs. Frank Nyland.

It seems as if there were a lot of appeals today, but remember this, it is your Red Cross just as much as it is the Red Cross of those who are begging you to help; a few cannot do it all, it takes the devoted work of every man and woman in the nation. One soldier is not able to do much, but the millions of soldiers flocking to the banner make up the armies that will cleanse the world of the terror which hangs over us, in the shape of the Hohenzollerns.

Publicity Director.

Traverse City.—Martha Rice, 18, of Bingham, has been missing from home for two months. Following a quarrel with her sweetheart, she came to Traverse City and told her friends they would never see her again. She then disappeared. It is thought she may have attempted to cross Carp lake on the thin ice and was drowned.

Detroit.—Detroit and Michigan rats will have an opportunity to eat wheat flour even if you do have to serve war bread on your own table. David E. Heineman, food administrator, granted permission to a manufacturer to use 100 pounds of wheat flour a week for rat food—but as it is a poisoned food there will be no cause for jealousy.

Saginaw—Jerome T. Van Auken, who was killed at the aviation field at Wichita Falls, Tex., Saturday morning, was the son of Mrs. Florence J. Van Auken of this city, being one of three sons enlisted in the service of the United States. Van Auken was about 23 years old and a native of Saginaw, having attended both high schools here.

Houghton.—The jury investigating the death of Mrs. Absolom Harry, whose body was found a week ago after she had been missing for four months, returned a verdict that death came from a broken leg and exposure. This virtually exonerates the husband, a wealthy farmer and land owner, now in jail charged with her murder. He has been admitted to $5,000 bail.

Ann Arbor—John C. Brown, 22 years old, of Erie, Pa., a junior literary student in the University of Michigan, was drowned in Huron river Sunday. After the recovery of Brown's body friends worked over him with a pulmotor for an hour without any success. It was found Brown had been caught in a bed of weeds, which had tangled about his feet and legs, holding him powerless.

Ypsilanti—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the large barn and dwelling house on the Hammond farm, two miles south of Ypsilanti, owned by George Slaughter, of Detroit, and occupied by Miles Oliver. A large quantity of hay and grain, and most of the household goods of Oliver were destroyed. The loss is estimated at $50,000. The barn was 200 feet long, one of the largest in this part of the state.

President Opens Red Cross Campaign With Speech at New York.

FOR ARMY OF 5,000,000 UP

Executive Asserts America Will Continue to Send Troops to France Until Germany Is Defeated—Asserts Huns' Peace Talk Is Dishonest.

New York, May 21.—Opening with a speech here, the Red Cross' drive for a second $100,000,000 war fund, President Wilson announced the purpose of the United States to set no limit on its effort to win the war.

"I have heard gentlemen recently say," said he, "that we must get 5,000,000 men ready. Why limit it to 5,000,000? I have asked of congress to name no limit, because congress intends, I am sure, as we all intend, that every ship that can carry men or supplies shall go laden upon every voyage with every man and every supply she can carry."

The United States, the president declared, will not be diverted from its purpose of winning the war by insincere approaches on the subject of peace.

Dwelling on the duty of Americans to give to the Red Cross, the president declared no man could afford to make money out of the war.

The audience was composed of distinguished men and women, most of whom have been leaders in the work of the Red Cross.

Text of Speech.

"Mr. Chairman and fellow countrymen: I should be very sorry to think that Mr. Davison in any degree curtailed his exceedingly interesting speech for fear that he was postponing mine, because I am sure you listened with the same intent and intimate interest with which I listened to the extraordinarily vivid account he gave of the things which he had realized because he had come in contact with them on the other side of the waters.

"We compare them with our imagination; he compared them in his personal experience, and I am not come here to review for you the work of the Red Cross; I am not competent to do so because I have not had the time or the opportunity to follow it in [illegible] seems to me to mean and it means a great deal.

Two Duties in War.

"There are two duties with which we are face to face. The first duty is to win the war. And the second duty that goes hand in hand with it, is to win it greatly and worthily, showing the real quality of our power not only but the real quality of our purpose and of ourselves.

"Of course, the first duty, the duty that we must keep in the foreground of our thought until it is accomplished, is to win the war. I have heard gentlemen recently say that we must get five million men ready. Why limit it to five million?

"I have asked the congress of the United States to name no limit because the congress intends, I am sure, as we all intend, that every ship that can carry men or supplies shall go laden upon every voyage with every man and every supply she can carry.

Finds Foe Insincere.

"And, we are not to be diverted from the grim purpose of winning the war by any insincere approaches upon the subject of peace. I can say with a clear conscience that I have tested those intimations and have found them insincere. I now recognize them for what they are, an opportunity to have a free hand, particularly in the East, to carry out purposes of conquest and exploitation.

"Every proposal with regard to accommodation in the West involves a reservation with regard to the East. Now, as far as I am concerned, I intend to stand by Russia as well as France."

A voice from the audience interrupted with:

"God bless you."

"The helpless and the friendless are the very ones that need friends and succor," the president continued, "and if any man in Germany thinks we are going to sacrifice anybody for our own sake, I tell him now he is mistaken.

"For the glory of this war, my fellow citizens, in so far as we are concerned is that it is, perhaps for the first time in history, an unselfish war. I could not be proud to fight for a selfish purpose, but I can be proud to fight for mankind.

"If they wish peace, let them come forward through accredited representatives and lay their terms in the table. We have laid ours and they know what they are.

"But behind all this grim purpose, my friends, lies the opportunity to demonstrate not only force which will be demonstrated to the utmost but the opportunity to demonstrate character and it is that opportunity that we have most conspicuously in the work of the Red Cross.

"Not that our men in arms do not represent our character, for they do, and it is a character which those who see and realize, appreciate and admire, but their duty is the duty of force. The duty of the Red Cross is the duty of mercy and succor and friendship.

Knitting World Together.

"Have you formed a picture in your imagination of what this war is doing for us and for the world? In my own mind I am convinced that not a hundred years of peace could have knitted this nation together as this single year of war has knitted it together; and, better even than that, if possible, it is knitting the world together.

"Look at the picture. In the center of the scene, four nations engaged against the world, and at every point of vantage, showing that they are [illegible] selfish aggrandizement; and, against them, 23 governments, representing the greater part of the population of the world drawn together into a new sense of community of interest, a new sense of community of purpose, a new sense of unity of life.

Cites Italian Example.

"The secretary of war told me an interesting incident the other day. He said when he was in Italy a member of the Italian government was explaining to him the many reasons why Italy felt near to the United States.

"'If you want to try an interesting experiment go up to any one of these troop trains and ask in English how many of them have been in America and see what happens.'

"He tried the experiment. He went up to a troop train and he said, 'How many of you boys have been in America?' and he said it seemed to him as if half of them sprang up: 'Me from San Francisco; me from New York; all over.' There was part of the heart of America in the Italian army.

Must Serve One Another.

"Friendship is the only cement that will ever hold the world together. And this intimate contact of the Red Cross with the peoples who are suffering the terrors and deprivations of this war is going to be one of the greatest instrumentalities of friendship that the world ever knew, and the center of the heart of it all, if we sustain it properly, will be this land that we so dearly love.

"My friends, a great day of duty has come, and duty finds a man's soul as no kind of work can ever find it.

"May I say this—the duty that faces us all now is to serve one another and no man can afford to make a fortune out of this war. There are men amongst us who have forgotten that, if they ever saw it.

Should Give Freely.

"And your relation to the Red Cross is one of the relations which will relieve you of the stigma. You can't give anything to the government of the United States; it won't accept it. There is a law of congress against accepting even services without pay. The only thing that the government will accept is a loan, and duties performed; but it is a great deal better to give than to lend or to pay, and your great channel for giving is the American Red Cross.

"Down in your hearts you can't take very much satisfaction, in the last analysis, in lending money to the government of the United States, because the interest which you draw will burn your pockets; it is a commercial transaction, and some men have even dared to cavil at the rate of interest, not knowing the incidental commentary that constitute upon their attitude.

No Favors to Come.

"But when you give, something of your heart, something of your soul something of yourself goes with the gift, particularly when it is given in such form that it never can come back by way of direct benefit to yourself. You know there is the old cynical definition of gratitude, as 'the lively expectation of favors to come.' favors to come in this kind of giving. These things are bestowed in order that the world may be a fitter place to live in, that men may be succored, that homes may be restored, that suffering may be relieved, that the face of the earth may have the blight of destruction taken away from it, and that wherever force goes, there shall go mercy and helpfulness.

"And when you give, give absolutely all that you can spare, and don't consider yourself liberal in the giving.

"And think what we have here! We call it the American Red Cross, but it is merely a branch of a great international organization, which is not only recognized by the statutes of each of the civilized governments of the world, but it is recognized by international agreement and treaty as the recognized and accepted instrumentality of mercy and succor. And one of the deepest stains that rests upon the reputation of the German army is that they have not respected the Red Cross.

Members of Great Fraternity.

"That goes to the root of the matter. They have not respected the instrumentality they themselves participated in setting up as the thing which no man was to touch, because it was the expression of common humanity. We are members, by being members of the American Red Cross, of a great fraternity and comradeship which extends all over the world, and this cross which these women bore today is an emblem of Christianity itself.

"It fills my imagination, ladies and gentlemen, to think of the women all over this country who are busy tonight and are busy every night and every day doing the work of the Red Cross.

"When you think of this, you realize how the people of the United States are being drawn together into a great intimate family whose heart is being

HUN GUNS POUND 10-MILE FRONT

Terrific Artillery Fire Is Believed to Mean New Drive at Calais.

ALLIES MAKE DARING RIADS

British Activity Grows—Successful Operations Reported Between the Ancre and Somme Rivers, Where Australians Take 360 Prisoners.

London, May 21.—The German artillery developed increased activity along the front between Albert and Bucquoy, the war office announces.

Paris, May 21.—The official statement from the war office reads:

"The artillery on both sides was active north of the Avre. French patrols wer active in the sector of Hangaard and captured prisoners.

"Enemy surprise attacks against our positions on the lower Ailette, in the Argonne and in the Woevre were broken up by our fire. We brought back prisoners in raids east of Reims. There is nothing to report on the remainder of the front."

Good Weather Prevails.

From Ypres to Reims the allied armies await confidently the resumption by the Germans of the offensive they began two months ago. Good weather prevails along the fronts in Flanders and Picardy, but the enemy has shown no disposition to take advantage of it.

Lack of fighting spirit in the crack German divisions, it is reported, is holding back a renewal of the heavy battles. Most of the first-class units were battered severely in the fighting of the last two months and require more rest before they can again take up active operations.

Indications are that the Germans may extend the fighting front further south and east along the Aisne into the Champagne. It is thought they may strike south of Laon seeking to gain the attention of General Foch and his reserve army, while their real effort is made further north in an attempt to separate the British and French armies.

British Continue Raids.

Meanwhile, British raiding activity grows livelier. In a successful operation between the Ancre and Somme rivers, east of Amiens, Australian troops have occupied Ville Sur Ancre and captured 360 prisoners. On the same front between the Somme and Arras the British have carried out minor raids northwest of Albert and near Hamel. Artillery and aerial work continues at high pitch.

There is increased local fighting on the Italian front, especially in the mountains in the western Trentino. Austro-Hungarian troops have attempted attacks in the Mantello and Adamello regions, but were driven back. In the Giudicaria valley, in the same zone, the Italians captured prisoners in breaking up an enemy outpost.

Except for the storming of Casatasson ridge, north of Monte Grappa, by the Italians, who captured prisoners, the activity on the front between Lake Garda and the Adriatic has been confined to artillery bombardments.

used for the service of the soldiers not only, but for the service of civilians, where they suffer and are lost in a maze of distresses and distractions.

"And you have, then, this noble picture of justice and mercy as the two servants of liberty.

Tells Indian Story.

"I heard a story told the other day that was ridiculous, but it is worth repeating, because it contains the germ of truth. An Indian was enlisted in the army. He returned to the reservation on a furlough. He was asked what he thought of it. He said: 'No much good; too much salute; not much shoot.' Then he was asked: 'Are you going back?' 'Yes.'

"'Well, do you know what you are fighting for?' 'Yes, me know; fight to make whole damn world democratic party.'

No Party Purpose.

"He had evidently misunderstood some innocent sentence of my own. But, after all, although there is no party purpose in it, he got it right as far as the word 'party,' to make the whole world democratic in the sense of community of interest and of purpose, and if you ladies and gentlemen could read some of the touching dispatches which come through official channels, for even through these channels there come voices of humanity that are infinitely pathetic, if you could catch some of those voices that speak the utter longing of oppressed and helpless peoples all over the world to hear something like the 'Battle Hymn of the Republic,' to hear the feet of the great hosts of liberty going to set them free, to set their minds free, set their lives free, set their children free, you would know what comes into the heart of those who are trying to contribute all the brains and power they have to this great enterprise of liberty.

"I summon you to the comradeship, I summon you to say how much and how sincerely and how unanimously you sustain the heart of the world."

BARGAIN DAY PLANS DISCUSSED AT COMMERCE CLUB MEETING

Dealers' Margin Price Fixed at $2.00 on Coal

Meeting Held at Masonic Club Rooms Tuesday Evening

The Commerce Club held a meet- Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Masonic Club rooms. A large representation of business men were in attendance.

President J. R. Nyland called the meeting to order and introduced County Fuel Administrator Spiller who took up the queston of dealers' prices for coal. The chair, upon Mr. Spiller's suggestion, appointed a committee of three, composed of Clyde Barber, G. E. Nemire and Frank Pratt, to fix a price for the local dealers. The committee afterwards reported a margin price of $2.00 which was satisfactory to Mr. Spiller. This report is to be sent to W. K. Prudden, state fuel admnistrator, for his approval.

President Nyland then introduced Mr. J. H. Howell of Adrian, county merchant representative of the U. S. Food Administration, who gave an outline of what his department hoped to do in the county along the lines of food conservation. The work as outlined by Mr. Howell was one of education to get the people in touch with the necessity of conserving food. Window displays and newspaper advertising were prominently mentioned as a means of getting the matter before the people. He asked for some merchant to volunteer to gather data from the local merchants and F. D. Avery offered his services to look after the matter for Tecumseh.

The chairman then brought up the question of Wednesday Bargain Days, stating that a series of fourteen Bargain Days had been arranged for, the first to be held Wednesday, June 5th, and contiuuing for 13 weeks. He called upon J. D. Service to make a report on the canvass he had made of the business men to secure weekly pledges to carry on the campaign. Mr. Service reported that a total of $108.17 per week had been secured and that when all were seen he felt assured that a total of $115.00 per week would be available. This amount is about what was secured last year. A committee of three with Wade Jones as chairman was voted to take charge of securing attractions, bands, collections, etc. Mr. Jones was given the power to choose two other men to work with him on the committee.

The matter of a farmer's hitch was brought up and quite fully discussed, but no definite action taken other than the appointment of a committee of three to look up sites, make an estimate of the cost of erecting sheds, ect., and to report at a meeting to be called soon. Channing Beebe was named chairman of this committee and was given the power to choose the other two members. It was the opinion of the members present that Tecumseh must have a fee hitch, but just how and when was the question. It was also stated that a project was on foot to provide sheds by a party whose name could not be mentioned at that time. If this went through the matter would be taken care of without any action on the part of the Commerce Club or the business men.

Another subject brought up and discussed backwards and forwards without getting anywhere was the question of early closing of our business houses. Many were of the opinion that the merchants should close three nights of the week and expressed themselves as willing to do so. Others claimed that the nature of the business in which they were engaged would not permit them to close. After airing their views it was finally moved that the meeting adjourn and an adjournment was made without any action.

RED CROSS DRIVE ON

Township being Canvassed by Women

This week is Red Cross week all over the country and the big drive for $100,000,000 is on. Good reports are coming infrom every section of the United States and when the drive ends the total will probably be largely over subscribed.

The local work is being conducted under the direction of Dr. W. B. Hartzog who is chairmen of the memship committee for our local Red Cross unite. A house to house canvass is being made in town by the women, the town being divided up into blocks with a woman in charge of each. The drive in the country is also being conducted and it is expected that Tecumseh township will roll up her usual good list of members and donations.

It is safe to say that no other town in Lenawee county has a more perfect organization. It is too early to record results but when the canvass is completed Tecumseh will be in the front rank.

Miss Clara Bangs returned this afternoon from a few days spent with Mrs. Del Satterly at Addison. Tomorrow Miss Bangs goes to Adrian to visit her brother Geo. Bangs and wife.

The famous "Pony" ballet with the Musical Spectacle "MY SOLDIER GIRL" Coming to the Bradley Opera House, Tuesday Night, May 28

"MY SOLDIER GIRL" IS A SHOW OF NOVELTIES

The season's new musical play "My Soldier Girl" described a musical spectacle with a military atmosphere coming to the Bradley Opera House, Tuesday night May 28 contains more than a score of big novelties of which, FLIRTATION WALK an illuminated run board extending from the stage out over the orchestra seats and running more than half way to the back wall of the theatre is probably the most popular. During the first two acts the big "pony" ballot present four tuneful and entertaining numbers out on the "WALK" and each receive their share of encores. Gorgeous costumes are one of the features of the run board numbers worn by bewitching beauties who are good to look upon.

The big feature in the second act is an aerial flight, Dixie Harrison, Captain of the aviation corps, sails away in a modern aeroplane that measures 24 feet tip to tip and comes as a big surpriseright at the finish of the act after the clever ballot have performed a novel drill in aviation costume.

The last act offers a bewildering effect, the curtain rises on a perfectly dark stage, as the lights bring out the scene a war torn battle-field "Somewhere in France" is the picture. The action is swift, cannons booming in the distance, bugles, drums, soldiers, and then silence. Word comes forth to cease firing the scene dissolves to the Goddess of Liberty and the Stars and Stripes are seen flying. The curtain descends to LIBERTY FOREVER and no more impressive tableaux could one imagine for a fitting finale for this tuneful musical spectacle.

It is doubtful of a better or more timely attraction has ever been staged at the Bradley and people should understand that this is a first class city company, playing in Tecumseh at exactly the same prices that you would have to pay should you see this same company in Jackson, Battle Creek, Ann Arbor or any of the surrounding cities where they play.

The complete production, a big car load of scenery and electrical effects and a special orchestra will be used at the Bradley. In other words, a regular city attraction staged in regular city style at city prices and practically brought 'right to your own door.'

NINA MAE MARSH

Nina Mae, the infant daughter of John and Nina Marsh, passed away early Saturday morning after a short illness with whooping cough and pneumonia, aged 16 months, 18 days. She was born January 1st 1917 and passed away to the great beyond to be safe in the arms of Jesus on May 18, 1918.

SAFE

Safe in the arms of Jesus
Gently upon his breast,
Safe in his arms enfolded,
Sweetly my baby rests,
Hark! 'tis her sweet voice singing
Borne on the breeze to me
As she roams in fields of glory,
Close by the silver sea.
Safe with the heavenly Father,
Free from all earthly care
Safe from the world's tenptations,
Sin cannot harm her there,
There'll be no blight of sorrow,
There'll be no doubts or fears.
There she'll await her dear ones
Afer a few more tears.
Soon will we hear the summons
Of our Redeemer, Friend;
Then will our baby greet us.
And our joy will never end.
Roaming the hills of glory,
Daily with her will walk,
Telling the sweet old story.
As of our Lord we talk.

Card of Thanks

To hose who so kindly assisted us by deed and word during the illness and death of our little one, for the comforting words of the pastor to the singers to all our friends we wish to express our grateful thanks.

FIRE PARTIALLY DESTROYS HOUSE OWNED BY THOS. ELLIOTT, Sr.

Fire Thought to Have Caught from Defective Wiring

Fire Department Do Good Work

Fire broke out about 8 o'clock this morning in the tenant huose owned by Thos Elliott, Sr., located on West Pottawatamie street and occupied by Mrs. Joe. Gregg.

Mrs Gregg was washing her breakfast dishes at the time the fire broke out and had a fire in the kitchen stove which was located in the wing of the house. Neighbors were first to notice the fire which broke through the roof of the upright and rushed over to warn Mrs. Gregg.

The fire department were notified by telephone and were soon on the scene The fire was confined to the roof and attic and was extinguished before any great damage was done to the lower part of the house, in only one place did the fire burn through the ceiling of the upper bedrooms.

The household effects of Mrs. Gregg were carried out and were mostly saved.

It was hought at one time that the homes on either side would catch fire, because of their nearness to the burning house, the department realizing this kept them drenched and no damage was done.

The department did most effective work and by prompt action kept the fire confined to the attic. Except for the soaked condition there was no great damage to the first and second floors. It is thought that the fire originated from defective wiring.

The house was insured which will probably cover the loss. Mrs. Gregg also carried insurance on her household goods.

TECUMSEH EVIDENCE FOR TECUMSEH PEOPLE

The Statements of Tecumseh Residents are Surely More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers

Home testimony is real proof.

Public statements of Tecumseh people carry real weight.

What a friend or neighbor says compels respect.

The word of one whose home is far away invites your doubts.

Here's a Tecumseh statement.

And it's for Tecumseh people's benefit.

Such evidence is convincing.

That's the kind of proof that backs Doan's Kidney Pills.

Thomas Langton, retired farmer, W. Chicago St., says: "I had kidney complaint and suffered with my back a great deal. My kidneys acted irregularly and the kidney secretion were unnatural. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and they strengthened my back regulated my kidneys and benefited me in every way."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Langton had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

The Farmer's Share

Live stock is marketed from farmer to consumer at a lower cost than almost any other farm product.

The United States Department of agriculture reported in 1916 that the farmer gets for his cattle "approximately two-thirds to three-fourths" of the final retail price paid by the consumer for the resulting beef.

Butter	71 per cent
CATTLE	66⅔ to 75 per cent
Eggs	65 per cent
Potatoes	55 per cent
Poultry	45 per cent
Fruits	35 per cent

The difference between farmer's price and retail price represents the necessary expenses of packing, freight and wholesale and retail distribution.

Swift & Company not only performs the manufacturing operations of preparing cattle for market in its well-equipped packing plants, but it pays the freight on meat to all parts of the United States, operates 500 branch distributing houses, and in most cases even delivers to the retail butcher. All this is done at an expense of less than 2 cents per pound, and at a profit of only about ¼ of a cent per pound of beef.

Large volume of business and expert management, make possible this indispensable service to the live-stock raiser and to the consumer, and make possible the larger proportion of retail prices received by farmers.

2,000,000 RAIL WORKERS RAISED

ORDER EFFECTIVE JUNE 1

Commission's Decision Involves $300,000,000—Half of the Amount Is Due for Back Wages—All to Benefit.

Washington, May 27.—General pay increases for nearly 2,000,000 railroad employees were announced by Director General McAdoo, effective next Saturday and retroactive to last January 1, carrying out substantially recommendations of the railroad wage commission.

The aggregate of the increases probably will be more than $300,000,000 a year, half of which will be distributed within a few weeks as back pay in lump sums ranging from about $100 to nearly $200 each.

Eight-Hour Day Recognized.

The principle of the basic eight-hour day is recognized, but owing to exigencies of the war situation hours of employment are not actually reduced and overtime is to be paid pro rata; future adjustments of pay are to be made on the basis of eight hours.

In addition to the ordinary scale of increase, day laborers, employed mainly on track work, are to get at least 2½ cents an hour more than they received last December 31.

A minimum of 55 cents an hour is established for the shop trades, including machinists, boilermakers and blacksmiths.

Women are to receive the same pay as men for the same work and negroes are to get the same as white men for similar employment.

To Fix Inequalities.

To work out a multitude of inequalities of pay among employees doing similar work in different localities and other injustices caused by varying rules of employment and condition of organization, the director general created a new board of railroad wages and working conditions.

It consists of three labor representatives and three railway executives, which will conduct extensive investigations and recommend wage and other employment changes.

All increases now ordered will be determined according to a percentage scale based in pay received in December, 1915, and any increases which have been allowed within that time will be deducted.

In many cases raises in pay in the last two and a half years are about equal to the increase now approved, and consequently those employees will [illegible]

To correct just such situations when injustices are apparent will be one of the principal duties of the new wage board, whose creation was suggested by the railroad wage commission. In no cases are wages to be reduced.

Piece-Workers Benefit.

Men working on the monthly, daily, hourly, piecework and train-mile basis will benefit by the new allowances, and members of the four leading railroad brotherhoods whose pay was raised through operation of the Adamson act are to receive from 10 to 40 per cent additional, a smaller increase than they had asked of the railroads shortly before the government took control.

The wage order applies to all employees of the 164 roads now under federal management, but not to the so-called short lines unless they are retained by the government after July 1.

It affects employees of terminal, union station and switching companies, lighters, ferries and tugs owned by railroads, but not employees of railroad boat lines on the lakes, rivers or coastwise traffic.

Although Pullman cars now are under government operation, Pullman employees will not benefit unless the railroad administration decides eventually to retain management of the cars.

HUNS POUND KEY TO AMIENS LINE

Sector of Villers-Bretonneux Subjected to Intense Gas Bombardment.

FOE CLAIMS U. S. CAPTIVES

Statement Issued by Berlin Says Americans Were Captured West of Montdidier — British Take Many Prisoners.

London, May 27.—The entire Villers-Bretonneux sector was subjected to an intense German gas bombardment, Field Marshal Haig reported. In the morning the Germans opened a similar gas cannonade west of Hinges in Flanders. The French repulsed a raid north of Bailleul.

Huns' Guns More Active.

Increased activity was shown at night by the German artillery in sectors east and northeast of Amiens, as well as on the westerly side of the Lys salient in Flanders, the war office reported.

British raiding parties took numerous prisoners and machine guns in successful operations both by day and night.

Pound Hangard Wood.

This artillery pounding also embraced the lines around Hangard, to the south, which the French held.

This artillery duel raged all last night along the front southeast of Amiens, in the region of Hangard wood and below the Avre, the French war office announced.

German Raids Fail.

The Germans attempted a raid on French posts in the Orvillers-Sorel sector, between Montdidier and Lassigny, but failed of their purpose, as they did in similar attempts in the Champagne and in the Vosges region. Prisoners were taken by the French during patrols in various sectors.

U. S. Men Reported Captured.

Berlin, May 27.—The capture of Americans west of Montdidier (southeast of Amiens) was reported by the war office.

Amsterdam, May 27. — "Heavy losses" were inflicted upon the Americans on the Picardy front in the repulse of strong American patrols on Saturday west of Montdidier, it is claimed in a semi-official German report received in a Berlin telegram.

The report, in the course of a description of Saturday's military operations, says:

"West of Montdidier, strong American patrols advanced against our front. An American patrol was cut up by our fire.

"The others were thrown back by counter-attack. The Americans thereby suffered heavy losses."

CHARGES PACKERS SENT UNFIT MEAT TO U. S. SOLDIERS

Federal Trade Body Accuses Firms of Shipping Food to Texas Camp.

NO PROSECUTIONS STARTED

More Than 10,000 Pounds of Meat Sent to Camp Travis Has Been Destroyed by Order of Food Administration.

Washington, May 27.—Charges that beef "unfit for human consumption" has been sold to the United States troops in Texas by Wilson & Co. and Morris & Co., two of the largest packers in the country, were made by the federal trade commission.

More than 10,000 pounds of meat shipped to Camp Travis, Tex., has been destroyed by order of the food administration. This was all fresh beef, shipped in refrigerator cars and supposedly in good condition. Twenty-six carloads have been condemned in various sections of the country within the last few weeks, according to Herbert Hoover, the food administrator.

No Prosecutions Started.

No full prosecutions have resulted; no licenses have been revoked. Prosecution undertaken by the Texas authorities has failed because the action was brought under a section of the food law that provides no penalties and makes it incumbent upon the government to prove willful waste or destruction.

The federal trade commission, having no criminal power, now can obtain only a "moral conviction" if its action is successful.

Mr. Hoover announced that he had ordered an immediate survey of the whole case by E. A. Peden, the Texas administrator. He expects a report on Tuesday.

Not "Embalmed Beef."

While all the meats were fresh and not of "the embalmed beef" variety that caused such a scandal in the Spanish-American war, the announcement by the federal trade commission is the first open official hint that any of the soldiers were getting inferior beef. The commission's open charge in part reads:

"Complaints have been issued by the federal trade commission making the serious charge against Wilson & Co. and Morris & Co. that they have sold and offered to sell meats and other food products to the government with the knowledge that these products were to be used as food for American soldiers and that these products were spoiled and "unfit for human consumption."

Indictments Are Useless.

"Thousands of pounds of such meat were offered for sale to Camp Travis, Tex., according to the information on which the complaints are based. Indictments were returned against the two packing concerns by a grand jury in the United States district court for the western district of Texas, charging violation of the fourth section of the food law, but these indictments failed. It was found that no penalty for violating this section of the food law has been provided."

FOUR U. S. AIRMEN LOST

American Aviators Missing Along British Front—Yankee Squadron in Effective Drive.

American Headquarters on the British Front, May 27.—Four American aviators are reported missing on the British front, two of whom were brought down behind the German lines since April (May) 12. Names of the missing men are not yet available. Activities of the American air squadron in the sector northwest of Toul seem to have been even more effective than was anticipated. Records show the new squadron already has taken a creditable toll of enemy planes, while for a German machine to come over the American lines now is a rare occurrence.

Moreover, according to information given by a German officer aviator brought down within the last few days, fear of the American aviators has been instilled into the German flying corps.

BRITISH SINK BIG U-BOAT

Another Submarine Is Encountered, but Manages to Dive and Make Its Escape, Says Report.

London, May 27.—A British submarine has sunk a German submarine cruiser off Cape St. Vincent, the admiralty announced. The statement says: "One of our Atlantic escort submarines, returning to its base, reports that on May 11, in the latitude of Cape St. Vincent, while proceeding to meet a convoy, she sighted and sank a German submarine of the scout cruiser type. A heavy sea was running at the time. There were no survivors.

"Shortly afterward another enemy submarine was sighted, but by swift diving she escaped.

"This being the first cruiser submarine destroyed, it has been decided to depart from the usual rule of not announcing the destruction of individual enemy submarines."

Miss Stinson Forced to Quit.

Binghampton, N. Y., May 27.—Miss Katherine Stinson, aviatrix, with a temperature of 102 degrees and every appearance of being ill, made preparations to continue her interrupted flight from Chicago to New York. At 3:54 p. m. she went up in her airplane, but at 4:12 returned to the starting place, reporting that the engine was missing and had no power.

More Barges and Tugs for U. S.

Washington, May 27.—The shipping board has placed orders for 500,000 tons of wooden barges, to be used in the New England coal trade, making a total of 775,000 tons of barges to be built for the board.

YANKS RAID TRENCH

Cross "No Man's Land" Near Toul—Enter Second Line.

American Patrol Carries Out "Silent" Raid and Kills Six Germans, Captures One.

With the American Army in France, May 27.—While patrols have been active in all sectors occupied by our troops, artillery activity has fallen off during the last few days.

Headquarters received a report that an American patrol had carried out a silent raid on the enemy, killing six and capturing one. Other details are lacking.

Northwest of Toul, one of our patrols penetrated to the second German lines, without encountering a single enemy, although much talking was heard from working parties nearby.

In the Luneville sector one of our patrols found a dead German in No Man's Land. Much valuable information was obtained from his clothing.

Northwest of Toul, the enemy artillery was more active than at any time since the Americans took up their positions there. Our artillery there has been active with harassing the destructive fire, but even this failed to stir up the enemy.

The men in the line got one thrill, however, when a plane from back of our lines was shot down by German "archies," falling to earth north of Lahayville.

Our airmen have not been especially active during the day.

Several soldiers of the "new" American army now on this front are reported to have been wounded by bombs dropped by German raiders. This was their first experience with the enemy as all the Americans have heard or seen of real warfare has been aerial activities.

The Americans are making a good impression and they astonished British and French veterans by the quickness with which they adapt themselves to new customs and the cheerfulness with which they accept discomfort.

MEXICO BREAKS WITH CUBA

Carranza Recalls Envoy After the Southern Republic Acts to Hold Up Shipments.

Mexico City, May 27.—Mexico has severed diplomatic relations with Cuba. This was learned officially after a report was confirmed at the war office that the Mexican charge d'affaires at Havana and the Cuban minister here had been recalled.

The recall of the Mexican representative to Cuba and the suspending of sending a new representative is explained officially by Foreign Minister Aguilar as due to the fact that because of the war in which Cuba is involved that government has been obliged to dictate measures that affect the interests of the Mexican government.

Washington, May 27.—Mexico's sudden suspension of relations with Cuba is looked upon as a move against the United States.

The underlying cause for Mexico's action, it is understood, was a recent incident in which Senor Fabela, her minister in Argentina, while on his way to Buenos Aires, was held up in Havana while his baggage was searched by an official, supposedly a Cuban customs inspector, who, it is reported, found certain papers. German propaganda is assumed to be concerned.

TO EXECUTE 13 GERMANS

German Sailors at Ostend Sentenced to Death in Connection With British Raid.

London, May 27.—Fishermen returning to port brought reports that thirteen German sailors have been sentenced to death and two to imprisonment for twenty years by a German court martial for attempted treason in connection with the recent British naval raids against German submarine bases at Ostend and Zeebrugge. These reports are based on information said to have come from Bruges, Belgium.

Huns Take Seven Battleships.

Amsterdam, May 27.—While two big steamers and two destroyers of the Russian fleet got safely away when the Germans occupied Sebastopol, the vessels falling into German hands, according to the Frankfurter Zeitung, included seven battleships of the pre-dreadnaught class, including four launched since 1896; two protected cruisers of the Kague class, three modern destroyers, seven old destroyers and a number of submarines.

They're "Simplified," but-

In buying our Spring merchandise we complied with the National Defense Board's request and bought only "simplified models" of men's clothes. At the time we feared this might involve a sacrifice in the appearance of the clothes, and possibly put us under a disadvantage in case other clothiers did not co-operate with the government as wholeheartedly as we did.

Our fears were groundless. Truly, we have some of the snappiest, best looking models we have ever shown. The manufacturers have been ingenious. President Wilson has called the people of our nation to observe Memorial Day, a day already freighted with sacred and stimulating memories, a day of public humiliation prayer and fasting and he exhorts his people of all faiths and creeds to assemble at their several places of worship and there, as well as in their home, pray to Almighty God that he may forgive their sins and shortcomings as a people and purify their hearts to see and love the truth, to accept and defend all things that are right and just and to purpose only those righteous acts and judgments which are in conformity with His will, to also beseech that He will give victory to our armies as they fight for freedom, wisdom to those who take counsel on our behalf in these days of dark struggle and perplexity, and steadfastness to our people to make sacrifice to the utmost support of what is just and true, bring us at last the peace in which men's hearts can be at rest, because it is founded upon mercy, justice and good will.

Such an appeal should command the instant respect and obedience of all the people. Let this day be a day of prayer and fasting in Tecumseh and may God give us strength to do our patriotic duty in this the hour of our country's need.

Let us pay our tribute of affection and esteem to the boys of the sixties who so loyally fought for the preservation of our nation and to those of the Spanish-American War who answered Freedom's call and let us do honor to the memory of the men who gave up their lives in the past wars and to those who have fallen in the present conflict.

It has been requested that all flags be displayed at half-staff until noon and then hoisted to the top of the staff, also that whistles be blown and church bells be rung at 12 o'clock noon for five minutes. This is a time whe personal pleasures should be laid aside and the day be devoted to the memory of our heroes of the past—this year of all years.

BECOMES IRKSOME AT TIMES

No Matter What the Nature of One's Occupation, Its Routine Will Occasionally Weary.

Are there times when your work becomes intolerably irksome? Yes? Well, don't jump at the conclusion that you are in the wrong place when this happens once in awhile. That will be true whatever work you choose. No matter how well adapted you are to your occupation, there will come times when your thoughts will wander, and the routine will weary you, and you will feel that any other work would be preferable to that which you have chosen. One of the best-known woman writers of the last generation wrote an impassioned warning to literary aspirants, telling them to do any work, even scrubbing floors, in preference to taking up a literary career. Undoubtedly she wrote at a time when her chosen work seemed unspeakably irksome, but if she had been cornered, she would probably have acknowledged that the profession of authorship has considerable to commend it when compared with scrubbing floors.

This occasional impatience with our vocation is inevitable. No matter how congenial it is, there are times when it will seem a burden. The people who change their occupation every time it begins to bore them, are the tramps of the business world.

As to Remarkable Longevity.

We have all read of Thomas Parr, who lived to be one hundred and fifty-two. Likewise of the countess of Desmond, one hundred and forty-five; Margaret Patten, one hundred and thirty-seven; Thomas Damme, one hundred and sixty-four; John Rovin, one hundred and seventy-two; and Peter Torton, who reached the age of one hundred and eighty-five. But these cases of extraordinary longevity lack proof.

In the days when those persons lived no accurate chronological records were kept, and dates of occurrences were usually fixed by associating them in memory with other events believed to have happened about the same time. A man's identity was liable to be confused with that of a grandfather of the same name.

Nowadays nobody lives to any such ages. Why imagine that the extreme limits of longevity have shrunk within the last two or three centuries?

Winter's Discipline.

He who marvels at the beauty of the world in summer will find equal cause for wonder and admiration in winter. It is true the pomp and pageantry are swept away, but the essential elements remain—the day and the night, the mountain and the valley, the elemental play and succession, and the perpetual presence of the infinite sky. In winter the stars seem to have rekindled their fires, the moon achieves a fuller triumph, and the Heavens wear a look of more exalted simplicity. Summer is more wooing, . . . more versatile and human, appeals to the affections and the sentiments, and fosters inquiry and the art impulse. Winter is of a more heroic cast, and addresses the intellect. The severe studies and disciplines come easier in winter. One imposes larger tasks upon himself.

EXPLAINS LAUGH OF BABIES

We Come Into This World of Sorrows With a Mysterious Sense of Humor.

The human love of nonsense is a divine mystery. We have often heard pessimists declare that we come into the world weeping. It is truer, I think, to say that we come into it laughing. For laughter in a baby seems to be its first conscious apprehension of something outside its small needs and pains. It may cry merely because a pin is sticking into it, but it laughs because already it sees something that makes it laugh, it knows not why, something that catches the eye or ear and seems irresistibly funny to it.

There is nothing more mysterious than a baby's sense of humor. It frequently loses it as it grows up, together with the other trailing clouds of glory, but most babies are born with it. To satisfy it nursery rhymes were invented, and to satisfy the same instinct in grown people "The Hunting of the Snark," that incomparable classic, came into being, and Caverly and Gilbert and Lear stood on their heads, so to speak, and performed such verbal antics before high heaven as must have made the very angels laugh.

When the Owl and the Pussy Cat, having dined on mice and slices of quince, "hand in hand, on the edge of the sand," "dance by the light of the moon," there is something which, as Stevenson was fond of saying, delights the great heart of man. But, of course, with these modern artists of nonsense there is usually a deliberate attempt at the grotesque and the absurd. We know why we are laughing, but with the old-fashioned rhymes of which I am chiefly thinking, we laugh—or, for that matter, cry, perhaps—without having any reason to give.—Richard Le Gallienne, in Harper's Magazine.

HOW COLD AFFECTS SOUNDS

Numerous Examples Can Be Given, but Exact Reason Is Hard to Explain.

A close observer describes two phenomena of nature not easily explained: First, that natural sounds are very different in the colder than in the warmer months of the year; and, second, that waters have different tints during the colder and warmer months.

A number of examples occur to prove the first phenomenon. Who has not noticed the contrast in the noise of the wind in different seasons when it blows around the corner of the house—in summer what a soft, mellow tone it has and in winter what a harsh, rough whistle?

Then, again, let us stroll along the banks of a stream in May, June or July, and we will observe that the water will then make a gentle, babbling sound, while in November or winter it will, with not great volume, make a hoarse, gurgling noise.

Still again, if we ramble in the woods during late spring or early summer, we cannot but notice with what a softness and mildness the wind has been blowing through the tops of the trees; on the other hand, what a roaring it makes in cold weather.

Perhaps the trees being with or without foliage may cause some difference, but it will be observed in May, before the leaves are out to any extent, there is even then a marked difference between that time and December. Often we have heard it along telegraph wires during the summer and winter, and have noted the contrast.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

DISEASE SPREAD BY ANIMALS

Scientists and Physicians Have Prepared a Strong Indictment Against the Beasts.

Although animals are not affected by the sickness and communicable diseases of man, yet, for some unexplainable reason, the scientists and physicians declare that a whole host of ofttimes fatal ailments of mankind are traceable to the beasts, says Popular Science Monthly.

The horse is blamed for spreading glanders, rabies, lockjaw and other diseases of five or more syllables. Dogs and cats are branded as the circulators of rabies, parasitic worms of different kinds, fleas and ticks.

The cow is the worst offender. The list of diseases laid at her barn door is headed with tuberculosis and grows constantly more blood-curdling, until we wonder why physicians and scientists consent to the use of milk, butter and cheese which still lead the dietitians' list of nutritives.

Rats, squirrels and fleas spread the bubonic plague. We are prepared to believe that lice and bedbugs, flies and mosquitoes are the rapid transit lines for yellow fever and malaria. We are willing to forego the luscious oyster all the year around, if need be, to avoid typhoid fever.

Clearer Values.

All life and action upon the snow have an added emphasis and significance. Every expression is understood. Summer has few finer pictures than this winter one of the farmer foddering his cattle from a stack upon the clean snow—the movement, the sharply defined figures, the great green flakes of hay, the long files of patient cows, the advance just arriving and pressing eagerly for the choice morsels—and the bounty and provision it suggests.

A severe artist! No longer the canvas and the pigments, but the marble and the chisel. . . . I see the hills, bulging with great drifts, lift themselves cold and white against the sky, the black lines of fences here and there obliterated by the depth of the snow. Presently a fox barks away up the next mountain, and I imagine I see him sitting there in his furs upon the illuminated surface, and looking down in my direction.—John Burroughs.

Little Known of Shooting Stars.

Our knowledge of shooting stars extends into the oldest history of humanity, back into prehistoric times. Yet today no one knows exactly what a shooting star is, or from where it comes. An hypothesis proposed in 1875 and generally accepted today, is that meteorites are fragments broken from small planetary masses by volcanic explosions, brought about by a sudden expansion of gasses, steam and probably hydrogen. The broken bits, after their separation, are believed to arrange themselves in swarms which cross the orbit of the earth in accordance with a definite law. Shooting stars, then, undoubtedly come from within our solar system and are broken bits of a world body destroyed by volcanic events. Many meteorites have been found in Arizona.—Popular Science Monthly.

LETTER WRITTEN BY WILLIAM BEACH FROM CAMP GREENLEAF

Letter received by Mrs. George Ransom, Macon, from her brother Pvt. William Beach, Co. 8, Det-Camp, Camp Greenleaf, Chickamauga Park, Georgia.

Dear Sister and brother and all:

I arrived in here all O! K! after a long trip. We left Custer at 9:45 a. m. and were on the road 30 hours. Well I have seen some beautiful country. I tell you that State of Tennesee is sure a beautiful state. It sure is rightly named Sunny Tennessee. The flowers and trees are in full bloom on the mountain sides and it sure is pretty scenery. It was dark when we tsruck Kentucky and I did not see the Northern Kentucky. We sure had a winding trail through the mountains and through tunnels. Every tunnel we went through we had to close the windows or the smoke would suffocate us. You ought to see the little huts in the foot-hills of the mountains in Tennesee. There is people there that never get into a city and they can't read or write.

Well, I am sleeping in a tent now with the sides all up and both ends of it open and believe me we get plenty of fresh air. The days are awful hot they are as hot here now as they are in Michigan in August, but the nights are cool enough to have two blankets over me.

We have ripe strawberries here and all kinds of fruit almost. Well we are camping on the Old Battle Field of Chickamauga and am not far from Lookout Mountain and Missionary Ridge.

This is sure a pretty place we are right in the forest of Georgia pine. You can look anywhere around us and see the hills and mountains covered with green foliage.

The city of Chattanooga Tenn. is only 12 miles from us. We came through there about noon yesterday. It sure is a quaint looking place. Their houses don't look anything like ours and you can see pigs and cattle running around in the streets like you have them in the country. There is several other places we struck Dayton, O.; Bellafontaine Ohio; that sure is a pretty city. I wished that you could have been with me for the trip, you don't know how I enjoyed it. We had our windows up and heads out all the time. The people of Bellafontaine, O. sure used us fine they came along and give us cigarettes and candy.

Yuo should have heard the din. All the engines and whistles in the city were blowing, you could hardly hear yourself think.

In Toledo we got off the train to rest awhile and sang some of those songs out of that book that I sent you Well I have been assigned to the Medical Corps for good that is a good branch of the army. We do not have to carry a big pack on our back and do not get those long hikes. This is the most sanitary part of the army. You do not even dare too spit on the ground in front of your tent or throw a burnt match there. They sure have to be strict with a bunch of about 76,000. That is the capacity of this camp. Spinal menengitis has been here some but they have got it quelled now.

I do not expect that I will be here at this camp a great while. We probably will be switched to some other camp or to some base hospital in about two weeks again. I hope we do because I sure like to see the country from the train. Well I would like to get out in the pines to get you a flower but I am confined to quarters this afternoon on the account of another shot in the arm for typhoid fever. I had to leave Custer without getting my pictures but I saw Leo Zeluff up there and told him to send them to mother so you get one of them. They probably will not be very good because a couple of pals of mine came in the Studio when I was having them taken and of course I had to be grinning like a chessy cat. I met John Pennington when I was up to Custer.

Well this place looks like an Indian Village with tents all around. I will get some views of it and send them to you after I get out of quarantine. I forgot to tell you that I was through the oil fields of Southern Ohio. That was some sight to see them pumping oil for miles and miles. You ought to see the little pickaninnies waving their hands to us. There were so many of them in Southern Tenn. that it almost clouded the sun, but they sure did look cute on the fence lined up 5 or 6 at a time.

Some of the passes that we went through were blasted out of solid rock and the sides were 50 or 60 and sometimes 100 feet high and at other times you could look down for 100 or 150 feet. We crossed the Mississippi river a little before noon yesterday It was about ¾ of a mile wide where we crossed. Well I guess that you will probably tire your eyes reading this letter and so I had better quit writing for this time. Well I got a chance to sneak out and get a flower or two to send you to show how it looks down here. The woods are literally carpeted with them. Well, I will close for this time, but will write often. From your brother,

Wm. Beach

A SAD ENDING TO A PLEASANT PARTY

Death enters in

Collers Orchestra were in Onsted Friday evening to play for a dance given by the Rebekah lodge. The party was closed in a very sad manner. As Mr. Frank Teachout the caller for the dance entered the hall he suddenly dropped dead. All was confusion and sadness and the party dispersed to their several homes at an early hour, as Mr. Teachout was a favorite friend with all.

FOR RENT—The east half of Mrs. Rose Hoag's house on East Shawnee street. Nicely papered and electric lights for the right tenant. This place is for sale at a big sacrifice. See Mrs. Franc Gillespie.

MEMORIAL SERVICES

Held at Presbyterian Church Sunday evening—Address by Rev. W. A. Rex

The Memorial services held at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening were fairly well attended in spite of the heat. The G. A. R's. and T. B. A. were there in a body but we presume it was to hot for the S O. V.

Dr. Hartzog offered prayer and Dr. Balmer read the Scripture lesson. The Temple Quartette sang two very fine patriotic selections. Rev. W. A. Rex made the address, taking for his subject "The Home Guards" Among them he listed;

The Fathers, the G. A. R's. whom he gave a splendid tribute as being the force which has kept alive the fires of patriotism.

The Feminine, To woman he gives the greatest credit drawing a marked contrast between the women of the enemy and those of our own land.

Food, we must conserve if we would win, He advocates using no flour until harvest.

Finance, we've got to give, give, give and it must be continued until we learn sacrifice, which so few of us know anything about.

The Foreigner—From our foreigners come our best fighters. 51 per cent. of the boys at Camp Custer come from foreign countries. There are good and bad Germans and some of our Americanized Germans are among our best Home Guards.

Faith—The soldiers faith in the Home Guard is the greatest factor to make for victory and our faith in our boys is supreme.

Forgiveness—America has always forgiven her enemies and we will some day see the same forgiveness here toward Germany. That's why we are great.

This is just an outline of the ministers address and it was listened to with marked attention.

SUNDAY MAY 26th OBSERVED IN LOCAL CHURCHES AS WHEAT CONSERVATION SUNDAY

Below is Mr. Hoover's message which he asked each minister to read from his pulpit on that day:—

The confidence of the U. S. Food Administration that the people of the country would respond enthusiastically and whole heartedly, upon presentation of the facts, to any necessary requests for reduction in consumption of food, has been fully justified. We have demonstrated our ability, not only to think together, but to act together. This response of the people is the reason for the present appeal.

Our work is not yet complete in spite of the encouraging results of our efforts.

There are certain matters which I desire to stress at this time.

In the case of meat and meat products, the necessities for shipment abroad are very great. Whereas the allied consumption has been reduced to an average of about one and one-quarter pounds per person per week, we are today enjoying an average of about three and one-quarter pounds per person per week. This division is inequitable. An understanding of these facts will justify our request that the consumption of all meats, including poultry, as nearly as possible be reduced to two pounds per week per person over four years of age.

In the case of sugar we are embarrassed by the necessity of using ships for carrying our soldiers and feeding the allies, and in consequence we must use sugar with great economy. We must emphasize the importance of canning and preserving on a large scale among our people this summer, and our available sugar must be conserved for this purpose.

But the situation with regard to wheat is the most serious in the food supply of the allied world. If we are to satisfy the minimum wheat requirements of our armies and the allies and the suffering millions in the allied countries, our consumption of wheat in the United States until the next harvest must be reduced to approximately one-third of normal. It is inconceivable that we should fail in this crisis. For each of us who can personally contribute to the relief of human suffering it is a privilege, not a sacrifice. All elements of our population cannot bear this burden equally. Those engaged in physical labor need a larger bread ration than those in sedentary occupations. Because of the constant daily employment of women and the lack of home baking facilities, many householders in large urban centers require of food ration already prepared, such as the bakers' standard victory bread loaf. Furthermore we must constantly safeguard the special requirements of children and invalids.

To meet the situation abroad and to prevent serious suffering at home, it is imperative that all those whose circumstances permit shall abstain from wheat and wheat products in any form until the next harvest. It is realized and deeply appreciated that many organizations and some communities have already agreed to follow this plan.

It is hoped that you will communicate this to your organization and your community, urging those whose circumstances will permit, to join with us and take this stand.

(Signed) Herbert Hoover.

The Sixth Sense.

Human beings have a real sixth sense, says Science, in the shape of a sense of equilibrium. This sense is coming in for much intensive study today, because it is probably the most important qualification for the successful aviator. It has been found to reside in three tiny canals in the inner ear. These three canals are located in the bone of the skull and are filled with a liquid in which nerve filaments from the auditory nerve terminate. In some way not yet clearly understood, through these canals and nerves the individual can tell, without being able to see or feel, just how nearly upright his position is. The sense is much more keenly developed in some people than in others.

COMMUNICATION

Editor Tecumseh Herald:

Permit me to say a few words in favor of early closing. We hear some criticisms because most of the Tecumseh grocers close their stores early. Most of these criticisms are made by people who do not understand present conditions.

Conditions are very different than they were a few years since Ten hours or less make a day's work in any kind of business If a man can do a day's work in ten hours anywhere, he can certainly do it in a busy grocery Any good clerk can easily get a job where stores close early and if we keep good clerks, we must consider the conditions under which they work and not expect them to work over time for nothing.

I believe most people are willing to help do their bit by helping us to reduce expenses so we can continue to do our bit.

For the present our store will close at 6 o'clock except Wednesday and Saturday nights. If it is absolutely necessary for one of our customers to trade at some time after business hours I will gladly make an appointment and accommodate them Also if anyone feels that I am wrong in my way of looking at this matter I would be glad to hear the other side of the question.

Frank D. Avery.

DEFECTIVE WIRING

This seems to be the solution of all causes of fire started in building having electric service, when the true cause is unknown and 99 times out of 100 fires started from some other cause. In all my 25 years experience lighting I have never known a fire to be started by defective electric wiring. Flatirons have caused fires by being left connected when not in use and become red hot. Draperies have been set on fire by coming in contact with electric lamps but cases of fire being started from defective electric wiring are very rare.

Let us take for example the fire that started in Thomas Elliott's tenant house which was reported to have been caused by defective electric wiring when in reality the fire started in the very top of the house near the chimney where there are no wires located.

However this building was wired by Mr. Critchfield who was never employed by Tecumseh Electric Co. but as to Mr. Critchfield's ability to do electric wiring I wish to state that I have personally inspected several wiring jobs that he has done and have no fault to find.

Very truly yours,
Tecumseh Electric Co.
G. H. Church, Manager.

BIG PROGRAM DECORATION DAY

It is a pretty hard matter to tell which is the biggest drawing card, Douglas Fairbanks or 'Fatty' Arbuckle but by the crowds at the Bradley Saturday night when Arbuckle was on the bill in his latest comedy "The Country hero" it looks as though Arbuckle could hold his own. All evening long the big house was packed and its a safe bet that every child big enough to get there was on hand to greet friend Arbuckle.

The big Saturday night shows which Marager Mark is featuring certainly are proving a hit with the patrons of his popular theatre but there's a reason, they are the biggest programs in the state for the money Right now over at Adrian you would have to pay 15 cents for the feature alone and Ed throws the big Mack Sennett comedy (which alone costs more than the average picture shows entire program) in for good measure and gives you the whole show for a dime, children only 5 cents. We don't wonder the big house is packed every Saturday night.

All of the big stars are making the Bradley their stopping place when in Tecumseh. We understand that the new Artcraft—Paramount pictures will be seen at the Bradley. This program includes all the best drawing stars in pictures produced by the world's best producers. Among some of the early offerings will be Mary Pickford in "Rebecca of Sunny Brook Farm."

On Thursday (Memorial Day) a big special program has been arranged including America's greatest exponent of the Smile Douglas Fairbanks in his own story "Down to Earth." By request they are also showing the new military film "Training Officers for Our National Army" this film was run at the Bradley some time ago and is brought back at the request of a great many who saw it before. As an extra attraction we note the program also includes "The Blue and the Gray" a feature film of the national reunion of Vicksburg, Mississippi of the Civil War Veterans certainly a very timely and appropriate picture.

Owing to the memorial exercises being held at the Bradley in the afternoon there will be no matinee but the doors will be open in the evening, shows promptly at 7:00 o'clock ad it is advisable to 'get there early.'

HARRIOTT & COLLER DANCE

About 40 couple took in the Harriott & Coller dance at Witherells hall last evening. As usual they had a very pleasant evening, Collers orchestra furnished the music, which of course was good. The next party will be given on the evening of June 6th, the first of Tecumseh's free entertainment days.

CARD OF THANKS

To our many friends and neighbors who with such loving kindness stood by us during the sickness and death of our little one, to those who gave the beautiful flowers, to the Pastor for his words of comfort we extend our heartfelt thanks.

MAXWELL SEDAN DESTROYED BY FIRE

Pliny Gratz Loses Car While Driving Home from Edon O., Sunday

While Pliny Gratz was driving home from Edon O., in his Maxwell Sedan, Sunday he had the misfortune to lose his car by fire. He was about 3½ miles east of Springville on the Monroe Pike when the accident happened. He first noticed fire spurting out of the hood on the right side of the car. Swinging to one side of the road he stopped his motor and jumped out. On the floor of the car he had a pile of books and papers containing valuable records pertaining to his busness. These he grabbed and carried to a place of safety. By this time flames completely enveloped his engine and it was evident that the car would be a total loss.

Soon a bunch of men were on hand and water was secured which was thrown on the under part of the the car in hopes of saving the tires. Mr. Gratz succeeded in removing the spare tire fastened to the back of the car and also the two rear tires. Word was sent in to Tecumseh and later the Gratz truck went out and towed the wrecked car in. The top was completely burned and all wood work, the engine is completely out of commission and Mr. Gratz considers the car nearly a total loss.

The car was covered with insurance. Mr. Gratz stated that if he had had a fire extinguisher he could have easily put the fire out but having nothing on hand to fight with he was forced to see it destroyed.

"THE PUBLIC BE DAMNED"

"The Public Be Damned" is an exceptionally strong presentation of one of the most vital problems of the day and concerns not only every individual householder and person in this country, but also the millions other side of the Great Pond. Herbert Hoover, now Chief Administrator of the Food Supply of the United States and head of the American Commission for Belgian Relief, has exposed before the United States Senate the conditions which are the subject of the photoplay.

"The Public Be Damned" deals with the problem of "the high cost of living" particularly with the high cost of food, due to the activities of the Food Trusts, is coming to the New Royal Theatre on Wednesday, May 29th of this week. The production is a strong argument for those principles of food conservation which have been adopted by the Government in its war policies.

SERGEANT MAJOR JOHN GRAY RUSSELL

Sergeant Major John Gray Russell, who will tell his story at the Methodist church, Thursday evening May 30, at 8 p. m. was born at Carluke, Scotland, and is one of a family of eight brothers and sisters, all of whom are serving in the Allies Army or Red Cross.

Sergeant Major Russell was residing in Detroit, Michigan and at the outbreak of the war enlisted at Windsor, in August 1914, in the First Canadian Battalion, serving in the Infantry Division, through the first Canadian battle of Ypres and the battle of St. Eloi Crater, winning his promotion to the rank of Sergeant Major, after which he was transferred to the Machine Gun Company known as the Suicide Club.

Serg't Major Russell was also actively engaged in the second and third Canadian battles of Ypres, in the last of which the Canadians lost 20,000 men. He also went through the battle of Messines Wycheatte Ridge; through the battle of the Somme and the capture of Courcelette and Vimy Ridge, at which place he was wounded having no less than twenty-nine bullets and schrapnel in his bady.

Sergenat Major Russell was in the service for three and one-half years, during which time two and one quarter years were spent at the fighting front, yet he has lived to "do his bit" for democracy by telling his story and giving first hand what [illegible] with thus showing the kind of an enemy our boys have to contend with. There are very few who have had as wide and diversified an experience.

Every American should hear him, to learn first hand what those who were first to take up arms have been through that the world might be a decent place to live in.

There will be no admission charged a free offering will be taken.

Lieut James Boyd arrived this afternoon from Ft. Bayard, N. M., on a thirty days' furlough, called home by the serious illness of his mother Mrs. James Boyd who lives southwest of town.

NEARLY 2,000 AT THE STATION

Stores and Schools closed until train leaves

There was a large crowd at the South depot Monday morning to meet the train from Adrian bearing our soldier boys to Camp Custer. Every business place in town and all of our schools were closed for a brief hour to pay this token of respect to those who are leaving us.

In this increment Tecumseh was represented by Hiram Gore, Herbert Gore, Glenn Fielder, Edward Aebersold, Ernest Church, Leonard Kempf, Augustus Kempf, Fred Chase Jr of Blissfield and Carl Bremer of Adrian former Tecumseh boys, were also with the bunch.

The Eagle band, members of the G. A. R and the Marching Club with all our schools were present. The schools made a very pretty [illegible] as they marched in line following a large flag, and each one bearing a small flag which waved in the breeze to show their loyalty and to honor those who have gone to do their bit in this great conflict to save our country and our homes.

The band played several selections as the train stood in waiting and friends from far and near pressed forward for a last hand shake and good bye to their soldier boys. Cigars, cigarettes and many dainties were passed from hand to hand.

To those who remember the days of the Sixties, the scene was inexpressibly sad for they realized all too well what it meant to say good-bye to their loved ones. But we will all hope and pray that the end of this cruel warfare is not far away and that our boys will all come home in the near future.

HARD TO CHEAT FATHER TIME

Wise Is the Man Who Appreciates Value of Punctuality, and Great Is His Reward.

A young Kentuckian has lost a big fortune by being 20 minutes late in keeping a business engagement.

The cheerless old fellow with the scythe always gets all that is coming to him. And there is many a bad scar on our fortunes where he has had to prod us up to the mark.

Time is cheap, and we are apt to think we can filch it as we will. But it is always ourselves we rob, not time.

Maybe you can waste your own time by being late in keeping engagements and feel that the loss, if any, is your own affair. But it is also the affair of the man you keep waiting. You waste his time, too. If your time is worthless, maybe his is not. He may conclude that his time is worth more to him than you are.

In many cases it may not matter much. But one never knows until afterward whether it matters or not. And through false politeness we are usually assured that it does not matter even when it does.

Only the idle and careless, whose time is of least value, can afford to waste it by looseness in keeping engagements.

It may be hard to acquire the fixed habit of always being on time, but it can be done, and it is worth while to do it.

Great business men have this habit. Men of great affairs, whose time is most completely taken up, are usually on time. It is they who know best the value of time and the importance of saving it by being prompt.—Christian Herald.

FOX, STATESMAN AND ORATOR

Brilliant Englishman Will Be Remembered as Firm Friend of American Independence.

Charles James Fox, great English statesman, who did so much for American independence, entered parliament as a tory at nineteen, and was made lord of the admiralty at twenty-one. He incurred the lifelong enmity of George III by opposing a royal marriage bill, favored by the king, and at the king's instance he was dismissed from office. Thereupon he left the tories and joined the whig party, whose chief he soon became, leading them in their splendid opposition to Lord North and the war which ended in American independence.

Fox was kept out of office by the enmity of the king during 22 of the best years of his life (Lord Grenville finally refused to form a cabinet without him), but managed in spite of this to fight valiantly for many good measures, including Indian government reform, a better libel law and the abolition of the slave trade. He risked his life rising from a sick bed to speak for the latter.

Gambling, which his father taught him as a child, was Fox's besetting sin. He lost thousands by it, but when in 1793 his friends paid his debts and settled an annuity upon him, he never touched a card again.

Fox was one of the greatest orators who ever spoke in the British parliament. He is said to have possessed "above all moderns that union of reason, simplicity and vehemence which formed the prince of orators."

Interesting Old Egyptian Letters.

Letter writing, fortunately, was much practiced in ancient Egypt, and there are quantities of letters between persons of all degrees of education and written on all sorts of occasions. We may read, for instance, the encouragement and good advice sent by parents to absent sons, or may recognize familiar types of character in the answering effusions of children to parents—the spoilt boy, who scolds his father for having left him at home instead of taking him to the capital; the well-conducted youth, who complacently assures his relatives that he is getting on very well, combining study with recreation, and the prodigal son, who writes to beg his mother's forgiveness and confesses that he has brought himself to destitution.

Canton a City of Canals.

At Canton, the oldest city in southern China, the river is, in effect, canalized, and the shipping is heavy and varied. The water is deep enough for ships of 1,000 tons burden as far as the city, but foreign boats come up only as far as Whampoa, nine miles to the southeast, where there are extensive docks. Here the loading and unloading is done by native boats. Vessels of deep draft lie outside the bar. Forty miles below is the Boca Tigris (Mouth of the Tiger), and the water widens into a wide estuary. Water divides the old from the new town and surrounds the island and the suburbs, where the Europeans live, so that Canton has an abundance of picturesque water life, including a big houseboat population.

Useful Tree.

An American tree, known as the shea, or butter tree, is beginning to attract commercial attention. It supplies not only nuts, but also butter that may become an article of commercial importance. It is already exported to Europe, where makers of artificial butter find use for it.

Almost two-thirds of the nut is vegetable butter. The tree begins to bear when it is fifteen years old and reaches its prime in twenty-five years. Chocolate manufacturers could easily utilize the product. It might also be of use in making candles and soap.

Miners Live Long.

It is an extraordinary fact that even when deaths from accident are included, the rate of mortality among miners of Great Britain is materially lower than that among any other big class of labor, except agriculturists, and appreciably lower than the average rate of mortality among males. This fact was discovered by Doctor Tatham, while acting as superintendent of statistics in the office of the registrar general. Doctor Tatham points out that while the risk of fatal accidents among the coal miners is much greater than among other males generally, their risk of death by disease is much lower, being 16.6 per cent less than all occupied males, and 23.2 per cent less than that of all males. While coal miners appear to suffer more than the average mortality from bronchitis, they show marked immunity from consumption, their mortality from that disease being less than half the average. From diseases of the nervous system their mortality is 18 per cent lower; heart disease, 10 per cent lower, and from disease of the liver, 10 per cent lower than among all males.

BUNYAN ACTIVE TO THE END

His Last Years Busy Though Peaceful Ones and Death Result of Act of Self-Sacrifice.

The closing years of the life of John Bunyan were peaceful, unlike in that respect the years that had gone before, but they were busy years, devoted to preaching, to the work of a pastor and teacher. Of these closing years, Froude, in his "Life of Bunyan," edited by John Morley, writes, "Happy in his work, happy in the sense that his influence was daily extending—spreading over his own country, and to the far-off settlements in America, he spent his last years in his own land of Beulah, Doubting Castle out of sight, and the towers and minarets of Emmanuel Land growing nearer and clearer as the days went on."

His end was brought about by exposure when he was engaged in an act of charity. A quarrel had broken out in a family at Reading with which Bunyan had some acquaintance. The father and son were at variance, and in the hope of reconciling them Bunyan journeyed from Bedford to Reading on horseback. He succeeded, but at the cost of his life.

Returning by London, he was overtaken on the road by a storm of rain and drenched to the skin. This brought on a chill. He reached the house of a London friend, Mr. Strudwick, but he never left his bed afterward. In ten days he was dead. The exact date is uncertain. It was towards the end of August, 1688, between two and three months before the landing of King William. Bunyan was sixty years of age. He was buried in Mr. Strudwick's vault in the burying ground at Bunhill Fields.

CAME FROM DAMAGED STOCK

Idea of Blotting Paper Was the Direct Result of Act of Careless Workman.

Blotting paper, like many another valuable discovery, was found entirely by accident. One day in a paper mill in Berkshire, England, a careless workman forgot to put in the sizing and it was necessary to throw out the entire lot as spoiled. Later the angry proprietor sat down to write a note and possibly for reasons of economy used a sheet of the condemned paper. To his increased annoyance the ink spread all over the paper and he was about to give up in disgust when the thought struck him that it might be possible to use the paper for absorbing ink in place of the sand then universally used. After some successful experimenting he was able to dispose of his entire damaged stock under the name of blotting paper.

From that time on blotting paper came into general use. At first it was always pink in color, red rags being used. Red was a fast color and difficult to bleach, hence the red rags were useless in manufacturing writing paper. But as the color of blotting paper did not interfere with its usefulness, red or pink was as good a color as any other, and thus provided a means of utilizing otherwise wasted material.

Natural Mortar Beds.

Who invented mortar? Some prehistoric person, who in all likelihood hit upon the combination by sheer luck. The mortar used by the ancient Greeks and Romans was the same stuff that we use.

But nature was in advance of the human discoverer by some millions of years. In Texas and Kansas, extending over vast areas, is a geological formation known in that region as the "mortar beds." It is a stratum composed of sand, clay and lime, which, originally fluid, has "set" and become rock.

The process by which the sedimentary rocks of the earth were formed is successfully imitated in the sidewalk pavement of artificial stone, which is spread in a moist condition and allowed to dry. It is better for the purpose than natural stone—made in slabs larger than can be quarried and often formed with grooves so as to expand and contract without breaking.

WHERE TO LOOK FOR WIFE

Seek Her in Butcher's Shop, Says This Writer, and Mark Just How She Buys.

A good housewife will look at least two square meals ahead of her nose. The modern system of marketing during the high cost regime is such a fine art that a youth contemplating matrimony should hie to the market place for selecting a bride. My boy, Zim advises in Cartoons Magazine, when you see a maiden pinching, smelling and pricing a soup bone, you may rely on her sense of economy, for she is looking forward not less than two meals. The soup bone, when cooked, is merely food in the rough or primitive state. Its choicest by-products are realized after bouillon stage. Thereafter comes goulash, the croquettes and the luscious hash. By all means avoid the girl who orders choice cuts of porterhouse or English mutton chops. She will not make a good helpmate. But the girl who selects the chuck or neck pieces or the tail end of a ham bone, and renders them into dainty, palatable dishes is the one you want. So take my advice and seek the market place when you feel that you have had your fill of bachelor loneliness and wish a taste of wedlock. Follow such a girl around until you are perfectly satisfied, then nail her.

Way to Success.

Power is the goal of every worthy ambition and only weakness comes from imitation or dependence on others, says a writer in Success. Power is self-developed, self-generated. We cannot increase the strength of our muscles by sitting in a gymnasium and letting another exercise for us.

Nothing else so destroys the power to stand alone as the habit of leaning upon others. If you lean you never will be strong or original. Stand alone or bury your ambition to be somebody in the world.

The man who tries to give his children a start in the world so that they will not have so hard a time as he had is unknowingly bringing disaster upon them. What he calls giving them a start probably will give them a setback in the world. Young people need all the motive power they can get. They are naturally leaners, imitators, copiers, and it is easy for them to develop into echoes or imitations. They will not walk alone while you furnish crutches; they will lean upon you just as long as you will let them.

One of the greatest delusions that a human being could ever have is that he is permanently benefited by continued assistance from others.

Tremendous Speed.

Fulminate of mercury, which is used as the original detonating charge in torpedoes, expands at a furious rate. A writer in the Illustrated World makes a comparison between this rate of expansion and an express train travelling at the rate of 60 miles an hour.

"Imagine," he says, "24,000 feet a second—instead of the 89 feet a second made by a mile-a-minute train—and you will know why fulminate of mercury going off in your hand will carry a finger with it and yet not burn your coat." That is the ultimate in speed.

One of the hardest working and most efficient members of the Red Cross is Dr. Pauline Bredow, who has charge of the surgical dressing department. She has taken charge of a number of classes in neighboring towns, who have become independent workers.

Her Britton class graduated on Tuesday, of the 13 members all averaged ninety which is very high. This class is one of the best having done remarkably fine work.

After the graduation Dr Bredow and Mrs. John Nyland the assistant instructor and the whole class adjourned to the residence of Mrs. Ed Palmer, who entertained them to a lovely supper. Mrs. Exelby, after an appropriate speech presented Dr. Bredow and Mrs. Nyland with a silver spoon each, as a token of friendliness and of the esteem in which the class held their instructors.

The whole quota of pads made by Tecumseh were finished inspected and tied on Tuesday, and went to Adrian Wednesday, three days ahead of time. Dr. Bredow has received a letter from the head of the surgical dressing department, saying that the work done inTecumseh is perfect, and that it will go straight to France without inspection, the workers may feel proud of themselves.

There is plenty of work in the surgical dressing department on the 2x2 wipes until further notice.

NAVAL RESERVES DO[illegible]NG SPLENDID [illegible]ORK FOR U. S.

THOU[illegible]NDS AT THANKLESS TAS[illegible] THE WORLD OVER [illegible]SERVE CHEERS, NOT SNEERS.

"The[illegible]oung men who serve in the Naval [illegible]serve Force are performing a duty j[illegible]as patriotic, just as essential to the [illegible]al victory of our arms in this war, a[illegible]at performed by the men of any ot[illegible] branch of the nation's forces."

That Lieut. Commander Truman H. Ne[illegible]rry's answer in the New York [illegible]ning Mail to the few scoffers and c[illegible]s of the men in the Naval Reser[illegible]

"[illegible]Y NAVAL RESERVES."

Wh[illegible]es that branch of the service attrac[illegible] many men? Are they draft dodge[illegible] Do they fear service at the front [illegible] France? Do they seek to enter [illegible] ranch which will keep them near [illegible]e?

The[illegible]re the questions which the milita[illegible] editor of The Evening Mail put t[illegible] Commander Newberry, command[illegible] of the Naval Reserve Force in the[illegible]rd district.

Onl[illegible] few days ago two blue jackets sa[illegible] conversation in a Broadway subw[illegible]ain. At Forty-second street two [illegible]ers entered. After a whispered c[illegible]ersation and frequent glances at th[illegible]llormen, one of the soldiers be[illegible]t [illegible] to read the gilt lettering on th[illegible] [illegible]s' hats.

"On[illegible] Naval Reserve guys," he sneer[illegible]

It [illegible]'t the first time the military editor[illegible] seen that sneer. Among civili[illegible] as well as among men in unifo[illegible] the same attitude toward the reser[illegible] has been noticed. So he sought Commander Newberry and asked comment.

"Y[illegible]y there seems to be a tendency [illegible] little service in the reserve force here is no reason for it," declai[illegible] Commander Newberry. "Am[illegible] soldiers and sailors there is alway[illegible] friendly bantering. Sometimes it is not friendly. But it is never serious.

THOUSANDS "OVER THERE."

"As for civilians, their attitude may be attributed to lack of information. It is true that originally the reserve recruited men for coast patrol duty. Do they know that the larger part of the force is now serving at sea, in foreign waters, side by side with the men of the regular navy, or training at the great naval stations for active service?

"More—do they know that men are being accepted for general service, which means they may be assigned anywhere, on any ship of the navy, at the discretion of the navy department?

"Surely these lads are entitled to as much credit as the men of other branches. And they have reason to be as proud of their uniforms as the men in olive drab or forest green are of theirs.

ALL SERVING NATION.

"Every man who wears an American uniform is serving the nation—in whatever capacity he is enlisted. And those who volunteered for the Naval Reserve Force, because service on the sea appealed to them, are serving just where they belong.

"In April last year, when the United States entered the war, the only class open for non-seagoing men was class four. Since July 1, 1917, however, all men in this class have volunteered for general service, and no men will be accepted now unless they volunteer for general service.

"Another thing. In common with some other nations America has never realized the important role of its navy in warfare. But you may be sure that when this war has been finally won, the United States Navy will have played an essential part in the great victory. That will be a task for the historians, and they will not begin their work until peace comes. So we'll have to wait. But the navy's page in that history will be a brilliant one!"

And there you have the commander's answer.

Incidentally, Commander Newberry is head of a family which has registered 100 per cent, perfect in this war. He gave up a large business in Michigan to answer the President's call. Mrs. Newberry is president of the Needle Work Guild of America, which is devoting its entire strength to Red Cross work. Their twin boys, Barnes and Phelps, are on active service. Barnes is an ensign in the navy, on duty somewhere on the Atlantic, and Phelps is a major in the aviation section of the army.

NEWBERRY KNOWS THE NAVY.

The commander's record includes active participation in two wars. He was Secretary of the Navy in President Roosevelt's cabinet. He holds the only commander's commission given to any man in the country promoted directly from civil life during the present war.

3-CENT FARE ON ROADS ORDERED; OTHER RATES UP

McAdoo Decree Grants Lines of Country Biggest Tariff Increase in History.

NINE MILLIONS BOOST YEARLY

Passenger and Freight Schedules Raised to Meet Higher Cost of Operation, Says the Chief—All Transportation Is Affected.

Washington, May 28.—To meet wage increases just announced, and higher costs of coal and other supplies this year Director General McAdoo ordered railroad freight rates in the United States raised 25 per cent and passenger fares increased to 3 cents a mile from the present basis of about 2½ cents. It is estimated that the program will bring between $800,000,000 and $900,000,000 more revenues to the railroads within the next year. It represents by far the biggest rate increase in the history of railroads.

The new freight charges, which cover both class and commodity rates become effective June 25 and the passenger increase will go into effect June 10.

Issued under authority granted by the railroad act to President Wilson acting through the director general, the order wipes out all intrastate lower rates effective on either freight or passenger traffic.

Sleeping Car Rates Increased.

Travelers in standard sleeping and parlor cars are required to pay 3½ cents a mile in addition to Pullman fares and in tourist sleeping cars 3¼ cents. Pullman rates remain the same.

Commutation and other suburban rates on railroads are increased 10 per cent. Fares on electric interurban lines are not affected.

Special excursions, mileage convention and tourist rates, with a few exceptions, are discontinued, privileges such as stopovers and free side trips are abolished and excess baggage charges are increased.

Both freight and passenger rates on boat lines operated on the lakes, rivers or coastwise by railraods are to be raised proportionately with the general increases.

Export and import freight rates are ordered canceled and the higher domestic rates will apply to and from ports.

A number of flat increases, instead of percentage additions, are ordered for coal, coke, lumber, ore, stone, grain, cotton, live stock, meats, sugar, bullion and other commodities.

Existing differentials and rate relationships between various localities are to be preserved so far as possible, but many readjustments will have to be made later. All rates are subject to review by the interstate commerce commission, but the president has final authority.

Coal Costs $160,000,000 More.

In announcing that the rate increases are required by public interest Director General McAdoo referred to the rapidly rising cost of coal, which he estimated this year alone at $160,000,000 more than last year, and to higher cost of every other material entering into railroad transportation. Operating expenses, he estimated, would be between $830,000,000 and $860,000,000 greater this year than the $2,852,000,000 figure of last year.

No part of the increased rates is on account of the program of nearly a billion dollars of improvements, additions and new equipment this year, he explained.

"It is earnestly hoped," said the director general, "that all citizens affected directly or indirectly by this increase of rates will support the general principle of such increase as an unavoidable war measure and accept the additional burden in the same spirit of self-sacrifice in which they have accepted other inconveniences and burdens and the grievous personal losses which are part of the price that the nation is patriotically paying for world liberty."

Mr. McAdoo called attention to the fact that "there is no way in which the present increases will inure to private profit."

Mr. McAdoo announced that he expects the interstate commerce commission to review many of the new schedules, on complaint of shippers or other commercial interests, and changes will be made on the commission's recommendations. This is necessary to readjust the nation-wide fabric of complicated rates, each interdependent on scores of others and so delicately adjusted in hundreds of thousands of cases that a change of a cent or two causes distinct industrial and commercial disturbances.

Passenger fares in some sparsely settled regions now more than 3 cents will not be reduced. Although existing excursion and tourist fares are abolished, the order permits the reestablishment of round-trip tourist fares somewhat lower than the 3-cent rate.

Low Rate for Veterans.

Exceptions to the three-cent rate are made for soldiers and sailors, who may travel at one cent a mile when on furlough at their own expense, and for persons attending the national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Portland, Ore., and the United Confederate Veterans' reunion at Tulsa, Okla. Both of these organizations are permitted rates of one cent a mile, and for various state meetings of the veterans two cents will be charged.

Children under five years of age will be carried free, as at present, and those between five and twelve will be charged half of the new higher fare.

Commutation fares, which are raised ten per cent, are construed to apply to persons having daily or frequent occasion to travel between their homes and places of employment or educational institutions.

To discourage the use of heavy sleeping and parlor cars the new order provided that the following minimum number of tickets should be bought for drawing rooms, compartments or sections:

Two adult tickets for a drawing room in a sleeping car, two adult tickets for a compartment.

Profits Go Back to People.

"If they turn out to be more than are needed to meet the grave public exigency," said Mr. McAdoo, "they will promptly be readjusted so as to prevent any unnecessary burden upon the public, but pending readjustment the excess, if any, will be for the benefit of the people of the United States as a whole and not for the benefit of the private railroad owners of any of them.

"To the extent that savings can be effected and to the extent that reduced prices for the things the railroads must buy can be realized, it will be the purpose of the director general to make from time to time appropriate reductions."

The provision that interstate rates shall be abolished wherever substitute interstate rates between the same points exist and that all shall be raised to a standard national level, develops the first definite conflict between powers of the federal railroad administration and of the state railroad and public utilities commissions, which heretofore have claimed exclusive jurisdiction over interstate rates. Railroad rate agents will file tariffs containing the new rates with state commissions as well as with the interstate commerce commission, but state commissions are permitted no review under the railroad act.

One and one-half ticket for a section; five adult tickets for exclusive occupancy of drawing rooms in a parlor car.

Passenger fares by water routes or by rail and water are to be increased proportionately with the higher rail charges.

Excess Baggage Charge.

The basis for computing charges for excess baggage is to be one-sixth of the normal passenger fare, with a minimum of 15 cents per 100 pounds and minimum collection of 25 cents per shipment.

The director general provides fully for the redemption of tickets and mileage books purchased before June 10 and rendered invalid after that date when the higher fares become effective. Unused portions of mileage books and unused or partially used tickets will be redeemed at their original purchase rate.

The 25 per cent increase in freight charges will apply generally to class and commodity rates, but minor variations will be necessary in many cases. For instance, where certain relationships exist between rival commercial centers the 25 per cent increase will apply to the longer distance and the rate to the nearer locality will be the same number of cents less, as under the present schedules. In this way charges for many short hauls will be raised more than 25 per cent.

ASKS ALL TO EAT LESS MEAT

Washington, May 28.—General pay Food Director Hoover Urges People to Cut Consumption to Two Pounds a Week.

New York, May 28.—Reduction of the consumption of meats to two pounds a week for each person and economy in the use of sugar and wheat were urged by Food Administrator Hoover in an appeal issued to the people of the country through the churches.

Flint.—The Flint council has granted permission to Michigan Light company to increase the rate charged consumers from 85 cents to $1 a 1,000 feet of gas at the same time fixing the standard number of heat units at a maximum of 565 and minimum of 540, and fixing a penalty of $100 a day for every day in which the gas falls below the minimum for three five-minute periods.

Washington.—Ensign Stephen Potter, U. S. naval reserves, of Detroit, Mich., was killed April 25 in desperate combat with seven German seaplanes over the North sea the committee on public information announced May 22. Potter and a companion battled gallantly against the V-shaped flying wedge of the Teutons and quit only when his machine, in flames, crashed into the sea.

Mt. Clemens.—Clarence J. Crosby, a bell boy at the Sherman hotel, is the first drowning victim this season. With another boy, Amos Bruery, he went to the old Swimming hole at the Cadow brick yard, was seized with cramps and young Bruery, unable to swim, could give no assistance. Crosby was 16 years old, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Crosby, South Gratiot road.

Grand Rapids.—J. Alexander, 21 years old, of Grand Rapids, a member of the Lafayette Escadrille, is dead in France of injuries suffered in an airplaine accident May 8. His father, James Bayne, has received a cablegram from French authorities announcing the death. Bayne had been flying with the Escadrille several months and was planning to be transferred to the American flying corps.

Lansing.—Upon information from Washington, Adjt. Gen. Col. John S. Bersey is advising all local and district draft boards not to induct into military service registrants having hernias of any kind, those having foot conditions which interfere with weight bearing or with wearing military shoes, or those having teeth below present dental requirements, whether remediable or not, are also barred from army service.

Big Rapids.—An ordinance increasing fixed salaries has been passed by the city commission. The pay of City Manager Willits was raised $100, making it $1,500 a year. The pay of City Clerk Lazer was brought up $50, making it $800. City Treasurer Megargle's pay is also increased $50, making it $770. Others were raised accordingly. Day laborers will get $2.40 and a man with a team $2.75 per day. At the same meeting it was also decided to investigate the raise in the price of ice.

HOMINY

Three Suggestions

1. Hominy may be used instead wherever a recipe says macaroni, spaghetti or vermicelli.

2. Use hominy in making muffins and quick breads.

3. Use hominy as a vegetable for dinner and serve no bread.

Escalloped Hominy and Cheese

Arrange alternate layers of boiled coarse hominy and grated cheese. Pour over all a cup of white sauce, made with corn starch, and bake 30 minutes. Cooked fish or meat may be used instead of the cheese

PRISONER ESCAPES FROM VILLAGE LOCK-UP

Milton Miller Batters His Way Out of Jail while Crowd are at the Cemetery Decoration Day

Deputy Sheriff John B. Smith arrested Milton Miller, Thursday for failing to furnish alimeny and brought him in and locked him in the Village jail.

Miller evidently didn't enjoy the luxuries which the jail afforded him so made up his mind to seek more pleasant surroundings. Choosing the time when the streets were deserted, every body having gone to the cemetery for the Memorial exercises, Miller took a plank from one of the cell beds and battered away at the wall and window until he had enough bricks broken out and the window casing split and torn away to loosen the bars which were between him ank Liberty. The bars free he removed the sash and crawled out.

About this time Officer Mominee happened to be passing and noticing a man jump from a buggy which stood near the window and run down the alley, gave chase over taking him in the rear of J. R. Nylands shoe store. The prisoner was taken back to his former quarters and this time locked in a cell. John Smith later took him to Adrian where he will board with the Sheriff until needed in Court.

MEMORIAL DAY FITTINGLY OBSERVED IN TECUMSEH

LARGE PROCESSION MARCH TO CEMETERY WITH G. A. R. VETERANS

Decoration Day in Tecumseh was fittingly observed, a large crowd attending the exercises at the Opera House and witnessing the parade which followed. The day started in with threatening weather which developed into a downpour of rain about noon and it looked as if the outdoor part of the exercises would have to be called off, but later the rain stopped and by 2 o'clock the sun was shining.

The Opera House was made very attractive with the elaborate use of flags. An immense U. S. flag was hung at the rear of the stage, with many flags grouped on either side. Streamers of red, white and blue were stretched overhead, on an easel at one side was a picture of Lincoln draped with "Old Glory." Across the top of the opening to the stage were aranged the flags of our Allies and across the bottom, over the orchestra pit, were stretched streamers in our national colors.

Upon the platform were seated the Chairman of the Day, H. S. Temple, Dr. W. J. Balmer and Dr. W. B. Hartzog. Chairman Temple called upon Dr. Hartzog to pronounce the invocation and then announced the following program which was furnished by the Red Cross Concert Company:

Chorus, French National Hymn, "The Marseillaise" by chorus: Miss Caldwell, Mesdames Hodges, Meade, Rosacrans, Heilman, Moore, Messrs. Waring Juckett, Will and Fred Dickinson.

Vocal solo, "Your Flag and My Flag"—Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans

Selection by Male quartette—Messrs Waring, Juckett, Will and Fred Dickinson.

Flag song—Mrs. R. S. Moore.

Talk on Red Cross—Mrs. Jenny C. Law Hardy.

Chorus—Welch National Hymn, accompanist, Mrs. F. B. Wood.

Mrs. Hardy spoke of the splendid work the Red Cross was doing in this world war and America's part in it. She gave a few instances from her personal experience while in Austria and Germany a few years before the war, which illustrated the the feeling of hatred that existed in Prussia for America even in those days and showing how the Prussian was planning for the world struggle which is sweeping Europe today. They were planning even then to come over and get possession of some of our wealth.

The hand of the Kaiser is in the Cuban. Mexico trouble for he seeks to punish Cuba, through Mexico for joining hands with the United States in the war against her.

Mrs. Hardy said that her energies before the war were devoted to Womens sufferage and she then thought that nothing could ever take the place of this great work but sence the war started she had found she cared more for America and with her it was America first last and all the time. Mrs. Hardy spoke with difficulty as she was suffering with a severe throat trouble.

Dr. W. J. Balmer delivered the oration of the day but because of lack of time was forced to cut his address. He said that the great war we were engaged in made Memorial day one of added interest to all of us. The speaker paid a glowing tribute to the boys of '61 to '65. In the early days of our Government as far back as 1789, many States still doubted the Central right of the Government and maintained that the State held precedent. At the beginning of the Civil War seven states dropped out of the Union and formed the Confederate States. He told of the opening of the war, the firing on Sumpter and how amazed and stunned the people of the North were and how they hoped against hope that the trouble would someway be adjusted without a struggle.

The speaker quoted from a war song so popular in the '60, "We are coming Father Abraham, 300,000 strong" and said that the song was applicable to the present day. The boys leaving for the front today bring back to many those stirring days of old.

Following the exercises the procession formed under the direction of Floyd Bryan, marshal of the day, and proceeded to the cemetery in the following order.

Alice Collins riding her pony, Marshal of the day and his assistants mounted, Eagle band, Eagles marching club, Campfire girls, school children, speakers of the day in autos, floral float, G. A. R. and T. B. A. in utos and citizens in autos. It was one of the longest Memorial day parades ever held in Tecumseh.

The usual exercises were held at the soldiers lot in the cemetery by the the veterans in charge of Geo. Keyser which ended with a volley of three shots fired over the graves of the soldiers by the firing squad and taps sounded by Bugler Coller. Afterwards the procession reformed and marched back to town.

A GREAT SERVICE

The congregation at the Ramona M. E. church last Sunday morning was so large that the seating capacity of the Sunday school room had to be combined with that of the main auditorium.

Rev. E. Sedweek delivered a masterly sermon on the subject of the Red Cross and its work in the war In his fervid flights of oratory he several times aroused the congregation to applause. He made not only the members of the Red Cross, but everyone present realize his and her duty in this crisis.

The above article was taken from a paper sent by our old friend Charles Eldridge of LosAngeles, Cal. Rev. E. Sedweek was a former pastor of the M. E. church in Tecumseh.

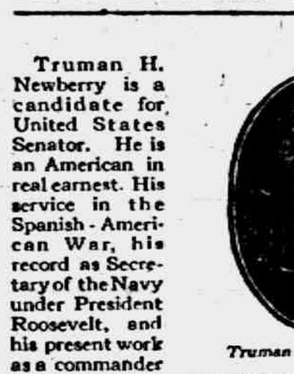
NEWBERRY for United States Senator

Truman H. Newberry is a candidate for United States Senator. He is an American in real earnest. His service in the Spanish-American War, his record as Secretary of the Navy under President Roosevelt, and his present work as a commander in the Third Naval District, which includes the port of New York and the Brooklyn navy yard, mark him as a FIGHTER and DOER, capable and courageous.

Michigan born, November 5, 1864, Michigan reared and devoted to all of Michigan's interests, with his record of service, and his active, positive loyalty to state and country, it is especially fitting that Truman Newberry be chosen to represent Michigan in the Senate of the United States.

When twelve years old, he was color-bearer in a Michigan Cadet organization which won fame at Philadelphia. He helped organize the Michigan Naval Brigade in 1895, enlisting as a private and serving as an able seaman on the training ship "Yantic." He was an ensign in the Spanish-American War on the "Yosemite." As a commander, in the Third Naval District he will continue to serve his country, standing for and by the government for the full prosecution of the war and leaving his campaign for Senator entirely in the hands of his friends. His two sons are enlisted in their country's service, too, one as a major in the army, the other as an ensign in the navy.



Truman H. Newberry

Truman Newberry is a worker. After he left college, he took hard knocks working with a construction gang on the old Detroit, Bay City & Alpena Railroad. He also sailed the Lakes and earned for himself a license as first-class pilot. HE IS A MAN'S MAN.

As Secretary of the Navy under President Roosevelt, he is credited with putting the navy in a state of preparedness, which has had much to do with its present efficiency.

"Fighting Bob" Evans said of him—"Truman H. Newberry is the greatest Secretary of the Navy the nation has ever had."

His ability and experience make him an ideal candidate for United States Senator

THRILLING WAR EXPERIENCE TOLD

By Sergeant Major John Gray Russell at the Methodist church Thursday evening, the church was well filled and the young man gave a close up account of his war experience

Russell is a Scotch-American and spoke with a decided brogue which was a little hard to follow until one got used to his manner of speech. His descriptions of the Hun, the battles he fought in and his experience in the hospitals gave his hearers a good idea of army life as it now exists in Europe.

His stories bear out the horrible things we are hearing about the Hun these days. He paid a glowing tribute to the Red Cross and Army "Y" and urged people to give them their utmost support. Speaking of what the Red Cross nurses are doing in Europe, he cited his own case. Desperately wounded and with his body shot full of bullets, he was taken back to the base hospital. Laying there so weak from the loss of blood that the doctors had given him up, the doctors were asked by a nurse if there was anything that would save him. They told her that blood infusion might save him and the girl freely gave three pints of her blood which was infused into his viens and also gave skin from her body to be grafted upon his arm from which the flesh had been torn by schrapnel.

An offering was taken at the close of his talk. Two-thirds went to the speaker and the balance to our local Red Cross.

"MY SOLDIER GIRL"

LaComte & Flisher's musical comedy "My Soldier Girl" was shown to a good audience at the opera house Tuesday evening, May 28th. It proved to be fully as good as it had been advertised. As a musical comedy it was certainly a success. The dancing of Gudran Walbery and Leslie Jones was fine. They executed dances from Russian to Hawaiian encostume and were loudly applauded by the audience.

The closing tableau "Somewhere in France," with the whole company in patriotic action was certainly grand. The varied costumes of the girls were certainly excellent and the music throughout was of the best.

FULL BINS OR EMPTY?

BUT LITTLE OF THE HARD COAL GOES WEST

Only 9 per cent. of the hard coal mined goes west; the balance goes east where the haul is one-third as far; the West can consider itself lucky in getting any. What hard coal goes west will be rushed through prior to December 1st before the bad weather stops transportation.

NO POCAHONTAS TO BE OBTAINED THIS YEAR

For years about 50 per cent. of the coal sold has been Pocahontas for furnace and range use; none can be obtained this year. No more hard coal will come to Tecumseh than came last year, yet many are waiting believing they will get hard coal instead of Pocahontas. We have orders now for almost all the hard coal we will get until April 1st, 1919.

ALL THE SOFT COAL YOU WANT NOW

We are receiving an exceptionally good grade of lump soft coal which we are selling for $6.25 per ton delivered. We have no way of knowing how long we will receive this soft coal, so are buying all we can. If we get cut off for any reason the next best we can buy will cost us $1.70 more per ton and will sell for $7.95 per ton.

WHEN OUR BINS ARE FULL WE WILL RECEIVE NO MORE

Our bins are filling up, yours are empty. When ours get full we can receive no more. Is it good judgment on your part to let your bins remain empty when good coal is obtainable now and when later you may have to pay at least $1.70 per ton more, if you can get it at all?

EXCUSES WON'T KEEP YOUR FAMILY WARM NEXT WINTER

You say you are too busy, you have other uses for your money, etc. If you do not wish to be found with empty bins when cold weather comes and not know from one day to another how you will be able to keep your family warm, buy now while it is easy to get GOOD coal, instead of the slack and Run of Mine which were all we could get last winter.

WE SELL ON VERY CLOSE MARGINS, SO DON'T ASK CREDIT

Please do not ask for any credit on coal whatever, for we are selling coal on very close margins; you little realize how close when the loss by stealage and shrinkage is considered and the increasing scale of all expenses.

BUY NOW! BUY NOW!!

We repeat BUY NOW. Keep this advertisement and next winter when you are warm and comfortable read it again and sympathize with your neighbor who did not heed these timely suggestions.

TECUMSEH LOSES CHICAGO STREET STOP

Supt. Bissell of the Detroit Division of the New York Central lines was in town Wednesday and took up the matter of the Chicago street stop with members of the Village Council and Commerce Club. Supt. Bissell informed these gentlemen that his general office had turned down the propositioin because the expense incurred would not be justifiable during the period of war. The superintendent stated that the decision of the head office was a great surprise to him as he had had every belief that the change would be granted.

It is not known what action our village authorities will take in the matter, but it would seem just to the general public that some safety devise be maintained at the principal crossings through town to guard against accident and a possible loss of life.

LOCKWOOD—COX

A very pretty wedding was witnessed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lockwood on Thursday afternoon, May 30th, 1918, when their daughter Lena was united in marriage to Carl C. Cox, late of Cleveland. The home was beautifully decorated with white flowers, locust blossoms being used in abundance. About 50 guests were present.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the bridal couple took their places under a bower of locust blossoms, Rev. Lawrence Linton pronounced these two one, using the ring service. The bride was prettily gowned in white voile trimmed in lace.

After congratulations and best wishes, ice cream and cake were served.

The newly-weds left on the 5:35 train for Kansas where they will visit his parents.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kemp of Tipton, Mrs. Dr. Steele of Montpelier, Ohio: and Hazel Mobbs of Adrian.

Miss Lockwood, who, by the way, is one of our own girls, having learned to set type in our office, is a graduate of the local high school and of the Friends' College in Cleveland where she fitted herself as a minister of the Gospel. She has also recently taken a course in nursing at the U. of M. hospital. Mr. Cox is also a graudate of the Cleveland College and is a Friends minister.

TECUMSEH MAN HONORED

P. W. A. Fitzsimmons Made President of the Michigan Workmen's Compensation Mutual Iusnrance Company in Detroit

At a recent meeting of the Michigan Workmen's Compensation Mutual Insurance Co., Percival W. A. Fitzsimmons, our Tecumseh man, was elected president of the Company.

Since being in Detroit he has been Vice President and Manager of the company. That he has been a success as manager is shown by the fact that the concern has grown rapidly during less than 4 years that he has been with it, and has some 900 industrial institutions under its management

Mr. Fitzsimmons has certainly proven his ability as a business man and we congratulate him for the honor shown him.

"THE PUBLIC BE DAMNED"

The New Royal presented to the people of this community Wednesday afternoon and evening a strong picture entitled 'The Public be Damned," starring Charles Richman and Mary Fuller.

The story tells how big business succeeded in cornering the food market, forced the price up to the consumer and kept it down to the farmer with the usual results big dividends for the trust. The conclusion of the story shows how a farmer's wife (Mary Fuller] single handed had fought the trust, succeeded in getting a bill through the Legislature favorable to the grower and had beat the trust.

CO-OPERATIVE ASSOCIATION TO RETAIL COAL TO THE TRADE

Represenative Chas. Evans, Hoyt Whelan, Joe Platt and Dr. C. A. Waldron were in Lansing this week where they conferred with State Fuel Administrator Prudden in regard to the Co-Operative Association's trouble over the coal situation. The Association claimed that their organization had been ujustly ruled against and that they were not being allowed to sell coal to anyone except their own members. After they had gone into the matter with Mr. Prudden and had explained the situation to him, he assured the committee that their rights would be protected and they would be allowed to carry on a coal business the same as any other dealer

Mr. Prudden was most cordial and gave them a careful hearing. Other co-operative associations in the county whose organizations had been approved will receive the same treatment by the administrator.

TECUMSEH EVIDENCE FOR TECUMSEH PEOPLE

The Statements of Tecumseh Residents are Surely More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers

Home testimony is real proof.

Public statements of Tecumseh people carry real weight.

What a friend or neighbor says compels respect.

The word of one whose home is far away invites your doubts.

Here's a Tecumseh statement.

And it's for Tecumseh people's benefit.

Such evidence is convincing.

That's the kind of proof that backs Doan's Kidney Pills.

Thomas Langton, retired farmer, W. Chicago St., says: "I had kidney complaint and suffered with my back a great deal. My kidneys acted irregularly and the kidney secretion were unnatural. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and they strengthened my back regulated my kidneys and benefited me in every way."

When Letters W[illegible]ury.

In our modern speed of railroad travel, and the consequent facilities in the transmission of mail matter all over the civilized world, it is well enough to look back to the time when letter writing was a luxury indulged in only by a few, and communication between friends at a distance well nigh an impossibility. In its first application the word "post" meant a courier or carrier of messages.

47,000,000 Persons Contributed to Red Cross Fund.

New York, June 3.—The Red Cross drive went "over the top" by $70,000,000. More than 47,000,000 persons contributed. Contributions totaling $166,439,291 have so far been compiled.

These were the figures made public Sunday by Henry P. Davison, chairman of the Red Cross war council, in declaring the campaign the most successful in the history of the nation. Mr. Davison said:

"The supreme feature of the achievement is to be found not in the amount of money subscribed, great as it is, but in that it has come from every part of the United States, from its cities, its towns, its farms, its factories, from the rich and the poor, regardless of sect, color or political creed.

"While it is estimated that those contributing to the war fund last year numbered probably 5,000,000 persons, our returns this year give evidence that more than 47,000,000 Americans have contributed to the new fund.

"This manifestation of loyalty and sacrifice of the people of our country brings to the Red Cross war council a renewed consciousness of the sacredness of its trust. It will stamp indelibly in the minds of our soldiers and sailors that the American people are behind them to the uttermost.

"Such an outpouring of generous enthusiasm, avowing even greater determination to win the war, and, in the words of our president, 'to win it worthily and greatly,' will also carry a deepened assurance of sympathy and support to all the armies and civilians fighting the battle of democracy in this war.

"I congratulate every American who has contributed either time or money toward this, the greatest work of mercy, of love and of justice, in the history of mankind."

5,067 PLANES FOR U.S.

House Body Details Expenditure of $640,000,000.

Deliveries to France Total 1,316—3,760 Being Used Here for Training —146,867 Men in Air Service.

Washington, June 3.—The house military affairs committee has issued a report detailing the expenditure of last year's $640,000,000 aircraft appropriation.

Of the total $310,500,000 has been spent. Unfilled orders for planes, motors, parts, clothing and other items make up the rest of the buget.

Deliveries to France have totaled 1,316. There are 3,760 machines in this country, besides 1,041 Liberty motors.

Of the American machines in France 321 are battle planes built in England and France. The others are training machines, as are most of those in the United States.

The aviation service has 134,761 enlisted men and 12,107 officers. Of the officers 1,509 are flying abroad and 4,606 in America. Instead of six planes for each man, as required by the army rules, there is one machine for every five flyers abroad. There should be 9,054 combat planes abroad instead of 321.

Of the Liberty motors delivered 561 went to the army and 480 to the navy. Deliveries are increasing steadily.

The average cost of airplanes is $5,000. Liberty motors range in price from $1,950 to $5,000, making the total cost of each plane $6,000 to $10,000.

U. S. Board Issues Statement Declaring Western Union Denies Jurisdiction of National Body.

New York, June 3.—Efforts of the national war labor board to adjust the differences between the Western Union Telegraph company and its employees have failed. Seven to five the board voted "it does not seem useful to further prolong the mediation. The construction of our principles, as set forth in Mr. Taft's telegram to Mr. Carlton, leads to the conclusion that the Western Union Telegraph company should accept this compromise as therein stated. It declines, however, to do so, or to submit to the jurisdiction of this board, and no further action of the board is, therefore, recommended." In adopting the report it was suggested that the matter be placed before President Wilson. The suggestion was voted down. However, it is believed the president will take up the matter if a nation-wide strike appears imminent.

How to Tell Age of Eggs.

There is a simple method of ascertaining the age of eggs, based upon the fact that the airy space at the broad end of the egg increases with its age. Now, when the egg is placed in a tumbler of water in which any amount of common salt is dissolved, it will, with increasing age, tend ever more to assume a position with its longitudinal axis in a perpendicular direction. A fresh laid egg will lie horizontally on the bottom of the vessel. An egg from three to four days old will rise with its broad end, so that its longitudinal axis forms with its horizontal axis an angle of 20 degrees. At the age of eight days the angle increases to 45 degrees, at the age of two weeks to 60 degrees, and at the age of three weeks to about 75 degrees. When the egg is more than a month old it will float perpendicularly on its small end.

YANKS TO TAKE PART IN GREAT MARNE BATTLE

Americans Are Arriving in the Battle Area—Anxious to Enter Fight.

U. S. MEN BEAT DIVISION

Large German Force Was Wrecked by Americans in Fight at Cantigny—Two Regiments Annihilated.

With the French Army in France, June 3.—American troops are reaching useful positions in the battle area. These troops display the most ardent desire to share in the present great battle with their European comrades.

Yanks Beat Hun Division.

With the Americans in Picardy, June 3.—An entire German division (14,000) men, was put out of action for at least a month during the battle for Cantigny, it was learned.

Two regiments were practically annihilated in the American assault on the village. The remainder of the division, which was in reserve, was cut up either in counter attacks or by artillery fire.

The division, therefore, is useless, until it is recognized. The Boches are now under the necessity of holding this division here, when it might otherwise be diverted to the new Champagne battle area.

Kill Pigeon; Get Message.

A German carrier pigeon, killed by shrapnel, fell in front of our lines. The message was recovered and handed over to the French intelligence officers. It was a message from a regimental commander near Soissons to the divisional commander in Montdidier region. The knowledge thus obtained was used to advantage.

Further valuable information resulted from the shooting down of an enemy airplane, of which the pilot was killed and the observer wounded.

Germans Quit at Cantigny.

Washington, June 3.—After several repulses the Germans apparently have abandoned, temporarily at least, their efforts to retake the ground captured by the Americans at Cantigny. Gen. Pershing's communique issued at the war department, said the day was quiet at all points occupied by the American troops. The shooting down of another hostile airplane is reported.

American volunteers and technical detachments blew up 32 enemy dugouts and a bridge, killing and wounding more than 20 of the enemy.

FLYER PLUNGES TO DEATH

Capt. Edwin Webb Killed and Maj. G. L. Gearhart Injured in Indianapolis Accident.

Indianapolis, June 3.—Capt. Edwin P. Webb was killed and Maj. Guy L. Gearhart was injured when an airplane in which they were flying fell. Major Gearhart, commanding the aviation repair depot here, will recover. They were making a test flight.

The accident occurred in the presence of 4,000 persons at an exhibition ball game between rival teams of the aviation training school. As an added feature, Captain Webb and Major Gearhart were dropping baseballs with banners attached in the same manner as bombs are dropped.

The machine was 500 feet above second base when Captain Webb "banked" to drop the balls. Two balls dropped earlier had caught in the controls, and the machine refused to respond. It plunged to earth in a nose dive. Captain Webb was crushed by the motor.

Major Gearhart was in the rear sea. "They got me that time," he remarked as soldiers rushed him to the hospital.

Captain Webb was from Bison, Okla.

Glass Industry in America.

Glass was first manufactured in America by the people of Jamestown, Va., during the year 1615. Commenting on this fact John Smith lamented that "the labor of the colony has been misdirected in the manufacture of ashes, soap, glass and tar, in which they could by no means compete with Sweden or Russia." The inhabitants of Jamestown did not agree with this view, however, and soon afterward commenced the erection of a glass works, the completion of which was interrupted by the Indian massacre of 1622. The first glass factory in North America to attempt the industry on an ambitious scale was built in 1780, at Temple, N. H., by Robert Hewes of Boston. The workmen, 32 in number, were German deserters from the British army. The carelessness of a workman caused the destruction of the plant by fire in 1781. In 1803 a glass factory was established in Boston, and since that time the industry has flourished.

ALLIES CHECK GERMAN DRIVE TOWARD PARIS

Huns Make Slight Gain Along Marne—French Regain Towns.

FOCH GAINING UPPER HAND

Head-Long Rush of Crown Prince's Hordes Along Marne Is Slowed Up—French Drive Foe Back at Point of the Bayonet.

With the American Army in France, June 3.—Fighting their way along the River Marne, the Germans have reached a point to the west of Chateau-Thierry. French troops hold the western portion of the city.

On the side of the Champagne salient the Germans have succeeded crossing the Reims-Dormans road south of Olizy-Violaine and Ville en Tardenois.

Berlin Reports Gains.

Berlin (via London), June 3.—"North of the Marne, Chateau-Thierry has been cleared of the enemy," says the war office announcement.

A Franco-American depot at Fere-en-Tardenois has been captured says the statement.

"On the Ourcq," the statement says, "the French were thrown back, the Germans capturing the heights of Passy and Courchamps."

Germans' Rush Slows Up.

London, June 3.—The headlong rush of the German armies on the Aisne-Marne battlefield was checked all along the line by the stiffening of the French resistance.

In the center of their salient the crown prince's armies won at least partial possession of Chateau Thierry, one of their prime objectives, and made some progress on the wings, but their advance was snail-like compared with the headlong speed of their previous progress.

Gain Two and a Half Miles.

Their penetration at its deepest point was only about two and a half miles, in comparison with their previous gains of five to eight miles a day.

The German advance appears to have lost its "drive" character. It has become a bitter battle on the part of the Germans to extend their gains in the face of rapidly evening odds.

The center of the fighting, according to the reports from the battlefield, was on the western leg of the salient, on the Marne-Oise and Marne-Ourcq [illegible].

It is here that the crown prince is desperately fighting to widen the salient sufficiently to clear his path for a crushing drive upon Paris.

Repulsed by French.

The Germans made a general advance along their front of little over two miles, but were unable to retain any point of strategic importance.

They occupied the towns of Longpont, Courcy, Faverolles and Tresnes, but the reinforced French swept forward in brilliant counter-attacks and drove them out again.

On the Reims-Dormans front bitter fighting is taking place and the Germans have crossed the high road east of Ville-en-Tardenois.

Mont de Cholsy, after being attacked four times by forces of the German crown prince, was finally stormed by the invaders only to be won again by the French at the point of bayonets.

Drive to Westward.

The military correspondent of the British wireless service writes as follows concerning the operations on the western front:

"Although the fighting has been severe on the Aisne front, particularly between the Oise and the Marne, there has been no very pronounced change in the situation.

"The main pressure of the enemy is still directed westward, where he is still trying to widen his flank in the direction of the forest of Villers-Cotterets.

"He made advances here on a front between Vaurezis, west of Soissons, and Bouresches, west of Chateau Thierry. By the end of the day his front ran from Vaurezis through Saconin-et-Breuil, Chaudun, Longpont, Corcy and Favrolles to a point near Crezy and then bent eastward through Licy to Bouresches. Thence the line runs to the Marne, passing north of Chateau Thierry, which the French hold.

French Hold Gains.

"Heavy fighting has taken place on the ground west of Soissons, won back by the French in their successful counter-attacks. In spite of the enemy's efforts, the allied gains have been maintained.

"On the Reims flank there is very little change. The enemy made a powerful attack with tanks northwest and north of Reims and succeeded in making a little progress at Fort De la Pompelle. A counter-attack immediately restored the line, the Germans being thrown back with the loss of 200 prisoners and four of their tanks."

French Statement.

Paris, June 3.—The text of the official statement issued by the war office reads:

"German pressure continues with intensity on the front between the Oise and the Marne. Extremely violent attacks in the region north of the Bois Carlepont and Moulins-Sous-Touvent were repulsed. French troops have ejected the enemy from positions north of these points.

"Mont de Choisy, attacked four times by the Germans and taken by them, was recaptured at the point of the bayonet by French soldiers, who remain in control.

"Between Vierzy and the Ourcq the Germans took possesion of Longpont, Corey, Faverolles and Troesnes, but by an energetic return to the offensive French troops again occupied these localities.

"On the River Marne the Germans have reached the heights west of Chateau Thierry. The French hold that portion of the city situated on the left bank of the river.

"Violent fighting is in progress along the Dormans-Reims road, which the Germans have crossed with light forces in the region of Olizy-Violaine and Ville-en-Tardenois.

"On the Reims front there was no change."

British Statement.

London, June 3.—The text of the official report reads:

"Except for artillery activity on both sides in different sectors there is nothing to report form the British front.

"London troops carried out a successful raid southeast of Arras and captured 27 prisoners and a machine gun.

"A successful raid was carried out by us also southeast of Lens and north of Bethune. We captured a few prisoners in each case."

NEW GAS SHELLS AID GERMANS

Huns Able to Poison Men Miles Behind the Line With "Mustard Oil."

MEN FORCED TO FALL BACK

French Positions Miles in the Rear Were Drenched With Toxic Missiles and Made Untenable for Long Period.

Washington, June 3.—Gen. Peyton C. March, chief of staff, admitted to the senate military affairs committee that new elements of strategy were responsible for some of the extensive gains made by the Germans in France. It became known during the meeting that the withdrawal of the French was on an unexpected scale.

General March explained to the senators that long range fire with gas shells had played a part in the German strategy. The French positions miles in the rear of their front lines were repeatedly drenched with toxic shells of large caliber and made untenable even before the enemy infantry had approachd them, necessitating wide retirements.

The Germans have been using a nine-inch gas shell, which they drop seven or eight miles behind the front line.

Filled With "Mustard Gas."

The gas projectiles now being used are filled with what is known as "mustard oil."

The shell can be delivered effectively against strong positions and high points and can be projected great distances. Operated in this manner, the deadly shells can be placed with fair accuracy, sending the repelling fumes where the enemy wants them.

When these shells explode, military experts have been informed, the mustard oil is spread over the vicinity and it gives off the mustard gas, which clings to the earth and to wooded positions, particularly, sometimes for days.

Experts have no knowledge of the extent of the enemy's supply of these mustard shells, but they feel confident that the supply they were able to carry with them thus far must have been practically exhausted and that it will require a short time to bring up more.

Thus far the allies have been able to devise no new method of combating the effects of the mustard gas. It gets into the clothing of the soldiers and the only temporary safeguard is the gas mask. But the gas mask cannot be kept on continuously and therefore, whenever a unit finds itself in a mustard gas infested section it is compelled to move.

DE PALMA WINS AUTO RACE

Official Figures Show Veteran Driver Victor Over Milton in Harkness Handicap.

New York, June 3.—Ralph De Palma, driving a Packard car, won the $30,000 100-mile Harkness Handicap at the Sheepshead Bay Speedway Saturday, and not Tom Milton as was announced.

The American Automobile association made the correction after carefully figuring out the correct time. The official figures now show De Palma with a handicap of one minute and one second was first and Milton, with a handicap of two minutes and 15 seconds, was second. De Palma's time for the century was 58 minutes and 21 seconds and Milton's, 58 minutes and 31 seconds. De Palma thus won the hundred mile race by ten seconds.

According to the corrected figures Barney Oldfield was third, Eddie Hearn fourth, Dan Hickey fifth, Ira Vail sixth, Omar Taft seventh and Louis Chevrolet last.

The errors in the list as given out Saturday, Fred Wagner, the official timekeeper, said were due to mistakes made by the scorers. At one time it was found, for instance, De Palma had lapped Milton but the scorer had overlooked it.

NEW U. S. WARSHIP RECORD

Destroyer Is Successfully Launched at Mare Island 17 Days After Laying of Keel.

Washington, June 3.—The United States destroyer Ward was successfully launched at Mare Island navy yard, California, 17½ days after its keel was laid. The nearest approach to this record was the launching of a 333-foot cargo vessel by the New York Ship Building company of Camden, N. J., in 27 days. The record was the result of a new system of co-ordinated effort, 400 men being engaged night and day in bringing the vessel to a state of 84 per cent completion. It is hoped it will be completed within a month after the keel laying.

Huns Disarm Russ.

Berne, June 3.—The Germans have completed the disarming of the population of Odessa. Thousands of rifles and machine guns were seized from the Russians, it was learned.

Ukrainian Minister Named.

Basle, June 3.—Baron Steingall has been appointed Ukrainian minister to Berlin.

For Miles Around

Tecumseh people are coming to our store to trade. More than ever before we are getting customers from a long ways off.

There is a good, logical reason for this: We anticipated the merchandise market and put in large quantities at nearly normal prices. Instead of making long war profits, we are giving the people the benefits of our early buying, selling this high-grade, substantial clothing of before war quality at nearly normal prices. The reports of this business policy are being spread from one highly pleased customer to another until now we are waiting upon crowds of strangers who wish to buy the most per dollar.

We cordially invite you to compare prices and qualities before buying clothing and furnishings.

Belgian Who Captured a Carload of Germans

Jacques DuPre, a Belgian soldier who has been in the service of his war-stricken country since the opening days of the war, is now the hero of his compatriots for his daring exploit of capturing an entire carload of Germans and marching them, single-handed, to a detention camp behind the Belgian lines. He had been decorated already for exceptional valor.

24 LOST ON U. S. SHIP

Four Officers and 20 Men Missing From Transport.

First Announcement to be Made of Loss of Life on Torpedoed President Lincoln.

Washington, June 3.—Announcement was made by the navy department that four officers and 20 men are believed to be missing in the sinking of the President Lincoln transport.

This is the first intimation of any loss of life aboard the transport since it was torpedoed by an enemy submarine last Wednesday and is the first news of the disaster excepting the bare announcement.

Peculiar Pronunciation.

The pronunciation of English proper names is established arbitrarily and independent of ordinary rules. In England they pronounce the name of the poet Cowper, Cooper; that of Lord Cockburn, a former chief justice, Coburn; that of Earl Cholmondeley, an English general and poet, Chumly. Marjoribanks is pronounced Marchbanks, and Bolingbroke is Bullingbrook. The name of Hawarden castle, where Gladstone died, is pronounced Harden, and that of Colonel St. Leger, who served in the revolutionary war, is pronounced Sillier.

Destroyer Sends Submarines to Bottom Within Half an Hour Off Coast of France.

An Atlantic Port, June 3.—Destruction of two submarines within half an hour by an American destroyer off the coast of France was reported by an American ship arriving here from the war zone. The U-boats were sent down almost within sight of the French coast, it was said.

Man Has Copied Nature's Work.

Marble, in nature, owes its crystalline structure to volcanic heat. But ingenious man uses heat to counterfeit the volcanic rocks. By such means, with suitable materials, he makes bricks and crockery, which are artificial stones. The processes employed in the manufacture of chinaware are merely workship imitations of those used in the laboratory of nature.

Volcanic rock—granite, trap or what not—is the very symbol of imperishability; but the artificial stones (such as brick and chinaware) produced by the fusion of particles under the action of heat are among the most enduring of known substances.

For Those Fond of Parrots.

The voyage by steamship is very hard on parrots, which are stored in the hold, commonly in close proximity to the engine room. Consequently they are apt to reach their final destination in a sickly condition. One should be careful to make sure in buying an African parrot that it is a healthy bird.

There are hundreds of species of parrots and the most beautiful of them all are the cockatoos, native exclusively of Australasia. The giants of the tribe are the American macaws. Neither the macaw nor the cockatoo is ordinarily much of a talker, but occasionally specimens are very clever at conversation.

The Federal Fuel Administration has been urging the people to put in their orders now for next winter's supply of coal. Our dealers are urging that people order and buy their coal early. It is not possible for all to get deliveries at this time but we understand that some of the dealers, if not all, have some soft coal on hand and can make deliveries now.

Many people are holding back and are waiting for a possible chance of filling their bins with hard coal. These delays are dangerous for they tell us that only a limited supply of hard coal will be shipped to this district. We were all tickled to death last winter to get any old kind of coal so long as it would burn and give out heat, and it looks as if we would not be able to choose the kind we would prefer for next winter and will have to be content with what we can get. Coal can be purchased now cheaper than later in the summer and that alone is a big reason for buying early.

The administration tell us that there are two powerful reasons for early buying: One is selfish, the other patriotic. The public will not only save money by buying early but will guard themselves from a repetition of the hardships of last winter.

The Fuel Administration is doing its utmost to increase the production of coal. The director general of railroads is working to increase the transportation facilities in the naton. Their combined efforts, however, may be defeated by the recurrence of weather as prevailed last winter. They will certainly be defeated unless a large majority of domestic consumers co-operate with them by buying early.

We Americans are from Missouri and we want to know the why of things. There were many things last winter that did not seem right about this coal business and they are not yet clear in our mind, such for instance as the furnishing of Canada with thousands of tons of coal needed in the northern states, but when the matter was looked into and information secured, it was found that Canada was supplying some of our states coal in return.

We are inclined to be impatient and last wnter we surely had a right to be, but we must all try and be patriotic and have faith in the Government's plan of working the coal situation out.

So it is a pretty good reason why we should fill our bins early when the Government, through the Fuel Administration, tells us to. We had better take the hint and get enough while the getting is good. We may not be able to get our full winter's supply all at once but we should try and get as much as possible.

There is something more important, they tell us, than personal comfor involved in this campaign of early buying. One hundred million people must be kept warm next winter, hundreds of thousands of States and the entire civilized world depend for the successful prosecution of the war against Prussian autocracy must be supplied with coal. The industrial activities of the nation has resulted in production in excess of our transportation facilities. We are manufacturing more goods than the railroads can carry.

Promptness in ordering and patience in waiting delivery are needed as a basis for the co-operation of the whole country with the administration in its efforts to do its share of the nation's war work. See that your order is in now and buy as much as you can.

Tact and Charm.

Dinner conversation offers the opportunity to eliminate all disagreeable topics. To lay aside one's worries and keep one's troubles from obtruding. The same should be said of all occasions and good form particularly denotes that dinners, and formal dinners at that, should be freed of personal burdens retailed.

At all times give interest as well as try to inspire it and one of the emphatic ways is to let the person who happens to be speaking have your undivided attention. Attention and concentration amount to about the same thing and should apply to what one is oneself saying as well as hearing.

In Prehistoric Times.

Bonechisel—Say, you! Whaddye mean by sneakin' into my cave an' beatin' up my daughter?

Stonehammer—Yes. I did call on your daughter and beat her up some. But I assure you, sir, my intentions were honorable.

Eucalyptus Valuable Tree.

Eucalyptus will grow under many adverse conditions, so long as they are protected from frost. The young trees cannot stand frost, and this fact has restricted the growth of the species to certain favorable sections of California and the Southwest. On the other hand, the trees will thrive on very poor soil and they do not require very much attention. Some of the largest commercial plantations, maintained by railroad companies for tie-making purposes, are located along the shores of the Pacific ocean near San Diego, where their principal moisture comes from the heavy fogs that roll in from the sea, and which are absorbed by the leaves.

WEDNESDAY FREE ENTERTAINMENT

First of the Season of 1918 to be given To-morrow Afternoon and Evening

Big Crowd Expected

Tecumseh's first free entertainment for the season of 1918 will be given tomorrow (Wednesday) afternoon and evening. Following out the custom of former years the business men will give a series of 14 free entertainments on Wednesday of each week during the summer months.

The entertainments will be simular to those given last year, with the possible exception of securing better attractions. Wade Jones, who is chairman of the entertainment committee, states that he has secured a strong attraction for the opening day and has secured the Tipton band to furnish the music for the evening.

Many have asked why our committee have gone out of town for a band when we have one here of our own. The committee would gladly have our own band for the full series if they could get them, but as most of the band members are busy in the stores it is impossible for them to get away to play so the outside band is a necessity. Our own band will however furnish music for one or two of the entertainments during the season.

The opening night has been largely advertised throughout this community for miles around so if the weather conditions tomorrow are favorable, Tecumseh may expect a bumper crowd. Many of the merchants are advertising bargains for the day so our friends may get something worth while besides an afternoon and evening of entertaiment.

The program for the first Wednesday is an follows:

Francis Barth, Trapeze act.

Frances and Little, Flying rings.

Music, Tipton band.

Everyone is welcome and Tecumseh will do everything to make her guests happy while in town Wednesday. Come and enjoy yourself.

SCHOOL PICNIC

Friday a very successful year of school work closed in the Culbertson district with Mrs. Jennie Waring teacher. She expects to begin another year in September, taking her boys and girls a year farther on their way to their final graduation.

Saturday she invited her pupils and their parents to her home in Tecumseh for a picnic. There were forty present. She was very sorry that the all-prevailing measles kept many away but those who were present had an oldfashioned good time. Everyone knows what the eats are at such a gathering, and this was no exception to the general rule, finishing up with ice cream, a treat from the teacher.

Many "Good Nights" were said as the loads of young and old went home to meet again in September.

TELEPHONE GIRLS OUT ON STRIKE

Work Continues Without Any Serious Trouble to the Public

Saturday morning when the time arrived for the telephone girls in our local exchange to report for work, it developed that not one of the day force showed up. The manager, Miss Lydia Babcock, was notified and she was soon at the office. She quickly pressed into service several who had worked at the boards and by short shifts was able to keep the work moving along without any serious trouble to the public.

The cause of the difficulty was a demand made upon the company for a 25 per cent. increase in wages, the girls claiming that this increase was necessary on account of the increased cost of living.

They were told by the manager that their claim would be considered but before any decision had been made, five of them walked out.

It is probable that none of the five will be taken back but that their places will be filled with new help. Two new operators are now working and it is expected to have things moving along smoothly in a few days.

CAUSED BY WEIGHT OF SNOW

Simple Explanation of Odd Shapes of Trees, That Has Been a Mystery to Many.

To the person who is not versed in forest lore the grotesquely bent tree trunks that are to be found in almost all woods are mystifying, and wonder is often aroused as to the cause, remarks the Popular Science Monthly. Foresters will tell questioners that in the case of trees in mountainous country and other sections where the snowfall is heavy, the weight of snow is responsible in most instances for the queer twists they assume. When a tree is young the weight of snow that falls on its branches often bends the trunk over until it is flattened to the ground. Sometimes it is buried under six or eight feet of snow and held in that position so long that when warm weather comes the tree fails to spring back into its normal position. The summer sun causes the tip of the young tree to turn upward and if it manages to withstand the weight of the snow of the next winter, that portion of the tree will, as a general rule, continue to grow in a normal way. "Hairpin" bends and other odd shapes result.

A curious tree stands on the top of Tunnel hill, Johnstown, Pa., about four miles from town. It is a sugar maple about one hundred years old which has prolonged its own life by grafting a branch into a much younger tree.

Spoiled the Good Thing.

Bobby had a bad habit of waking up in the middle of the night and crying dismally until one of his parents would walk him to sleep again. One night Bobbie began to cry and his mother said to her husband: "Dear, you'd better walk the baby." Father grumbled and baby howled and finally spoke up sobbingly: "Yes, dear; I fink you had better walk the baby." After this his habit was no longer indulged.

SENOIR RECEPTION

At Home of Miss Dorothy Balmer . . Wednesday Evening May 29th . .

The reception was a little delayed Wednesday evening May 29th at 7:30 p. m. at the home om Miss Dorothy Balmer.

The home was most beautifully decorated in the colors of the time, red, white and blue. As you entered the main reception room large bold letters confronted you "Be Americans" which is the senior class motto.

The reception was little delayed while three of our senior boys were drilling but everybody enjoyed themselves until their arrival and then Mr. McLain introduced the toastmaster Mr. Duguid.

The first number on the program was a short play given by Miss Mary Miller and Miss Esther Pratt entitled "The Backward Child" in which Miss Miller took the part of the teacher in a country school house while Miss Pratt played the part of the backward child. The little comedy extracted many laughs and was most enjoyably received by everyone.

The next on the program was Miss Palmer at the piano with a most beautiful selection entitled "The Spring Song."

Miss Yutsey then gave a very nice talk on "Reville" the call in army encampments to arise and the comparison between the rising of students and "making haste" was most efficently shown.

Mr. Hayden then told us about "Cooties" the parasite which troubles the soldiers nearly as bad as the down fall of "Kaiser Bill" and before Mr Hayden had finished his conglomeration of dictionary words we found that we knew very little about paasites and man and wo-man.

Miss Balmer then confronted us with a most beautiful little reading on "Why women age earlier than men" which took us a short time in to the welfare of domestic life—and John got away safely.

Mr. Moore then took the front line trench with "Camouflage", a many versed poem on the antics of his fellow classmates—and faculty. Each "S. S." (Silly Sonnet) was ended with "Sats Camouflage" and when he retreated to his "dug-out" we all admitted that he was "a poet and may be didn't know it."

"Carry on" another army cogntion was given by Miss Howard and again the similarity of the preparation for war was shown compared with the rise of the high school student.

The last number on the program was given by Miss Kennedy which was a very beautiful song entitled "Spring has come" by White, with Miss Edna Taylor at the piano.

A most interesting contest was then arranged in which a story was told with missing words and these missing lines were to be filled with words from popular music played at the time by Miss Taylor. The contest was won by Miss Gibson and as a prize she was given a souvenior "tank."

Fortunes were told by the aid of palmistry by Miss McIntyre.

The waitresses were the Misses Rosacrans, McIntyre, Hall, Conklin, VanWinkle, Gasner and Mobbs.

Simplicity and economy were the foundation of the whole reception. The programs were made entirely by the students, the cover was of a graduate in a black cap and gown with 1918 in Red, white and blue. The printing inside was entirely hand work and the surplus money will be handed over to the local Red Cross.

Everybody departed in the best of spirits and wishing the Seniors success in every way possible.

COMMUNICATION

TO TAXPAYERS, VILLAGE OF TECUMSEH

I take notice from last Friday's edition of The Tecumseh Herald that a motion was passed by the Village Council to purchase a 1½ ton fire truck equipped with Ober Chaine Boyer Co. apparatus.

As a tax payer of this village I feel that I have an interest in our own local affairs as much as any citizen should have, and to know why a purchase of this kind was made without advertising for bids for such equipment. This is only a business proposition that every one of you should consider in the purchase of anything you buy where more than a few dollars are involved.

Our village without doubt should have a fire truck and there is no question in my mind but it is a necessary thing, but if we must buy an equipment of this kind why not make our dollars go as far as we can and get just so much dollar for dollar value as is possible.

The truck contracted for is an assembled proposition put together by the Lane Motor Truck Co. of Kalamazoo, Mich., and think I am correct in saying they have been located there about 1½ years. If we are to pay a good price for such equipment why not consider well the company back of it and also the fact as to how long this company will continue to build trucks. We surely do not want something on our hands that will be a back number in a few years. A very important thing is the financial standing of a concern building trucks and are they in a position to stand back of them?

I was advised that our village council were considering the purchase of a fire truck apparatus and had the opportunity of taking this up with Mr. Fisher, our president, and also Mr. Rogers, chairman of fire limit committee. At that time they were undecided as to what size truck would be required and the necessary equipment for same. They advised me to get all the information together on an equipment and they would notify me when they needed it. Evidently they didn't need it because no one was even notified that they were open for bids.

I am representing Republic Motor Trucks for this county, as well as Hillsdale and Monroe counties, and we are recognized as the largest builders of trucks in the world, building seven different sizes.

Mr. Ovid Marsh represents the Nash line of trucks and this is one of the good ones, a reliable truck with a strong financial company back of it.

Both were in a position to save the the taxpayers some money but evidently it was not worthy of our village council's consideration.

Mr. Marsh learned on last Wednesday evening that there was to be a special meeting of council and attended personally, I knew nothing of it and was out of town on business trip, they were all set and ready to buy but still no notice was given.

The Ober Chaine Boyer contract calls for a 1½ ton Lane truck with equipment at $3708, Mr Marsh offered practically the same equipment in Northern Fire Apparatus with a 1 ton Nash chassis for $2873.10 or $824.90 less, and a heavier truck in a 2 ton Nash same equipment for $343.09 less money, than one contracted for.

The Northern Fire apparatus is one of the best on the market and is being used extensively throughout the country. Some of our largest cities have adopted this with recommendation that it is much better than any other. Just one thing here. Their chemical tanks are steel tanks tested to a 600 lb. pressure with a breaking pressure of 1100 lbs. while the equipment purchased is tested to 400 lb. pressure and is also endorsed by the Underwriters.

Outside of the two 35 gal. chemical tanks, the important thing is the truck itself—what will it stand and will it take us there and back? We could put a $5000 equipment on a truck, but that does not make the truck any better, does it? The strain is all on the truck and the life of a truck depends upon what it is made of. Eighty per cent. of a truck's load is carried on its rear axle and this one unit is exactly what makes a truck a truck.

Now I am in a position to state this concern I am representing can furnish a Republic truck of same size (1½ ton capacity) with 50 per cent. overload with either the Ober Chaine Boyer equipment or Northern Fire apparatus for $3408 a difference of $300, that's all. We can furnish a Gold Bond Guarantee on our equipment and guarantee the equipment to be just the same. We will go further to say that there is no truck on the market that guarantees its products voluntarily, as do the Republic Truck Co.

Mr. Burdge, the representative of Ober Chaine Boyer Co., was questioned by a citizen of our village as to what truck their company recommended and he replied that they did not recommend any particular truck but purchased whatever truck was desired.

I understand Mr. Marsh made a proposition to sell a Nash truck chassis and purchase their equipment of anyone they desired. Mr. Burdge made this statement before our Council "that he would not recommend his equipment on a Nash truck." Why not? Because he wanted our Village Council to buy a Lane truck and he certainly got away with it and made it stick, too. Can you imagine such a preposterous thing?

At the present time it seems to me that we are quite deeply involved with taxes piling up, our water works, our sewer, our school house, we need them all and we are willing to pay for them. There is no question but that we need a fire truck, but if anyone can show me why it is necessary to spend money foolishly under the present existing conditions when everyone is burdened with taxes as they are today, I am willing to be shown and I am from Missouri.

Is it a new thing for a stranger to come along with his silver tongue and put such a proposition across like this one on our Village Council who are all good fellows? No, it has been done a good many times and we have been the fellows who have had to smile and pay the bill every time. In other words, we are the goats if we stand for it. Who pays our taxes, anyway?

Perhaps any criticism on my part would class me at a knocker, but that make no difference. If it is good business for a representative body of men to step outside and purchase trucks, they would not use in their own business, of a one-horse concern in preference to doing business at home with people who live here and pay these taxes, I am willing to be listed as such. I am for Tecumseh first, last and all the time.

Yours respty,
Leon P. Williamson.

H. BREWER & CO. EXPAND

To fill vacancies caused by the death of H. R. Brewer and the resignation of Mrs. A. D. Lawrence, William F. MacGlashan, president of The Beaver Board Companies of Buffalo, N. Y., and D. J. Carson, president of the Acme Steel and Malleable Iron Works, Buffalo, N. Y., were elected to serve upon the board of directors of H. Brewer & Co.

These gentlemen, representing as they do, extensive business interests, add materially to the personelle of the directorate and, in connection with the extensive government work now being handled by H. Brewer & Co., their experience and acquaintance will be of great benefit.

President—P. W. A. Fitzsimmons, who has recently been elected president of the Michigan Workman's Mutual Compensation Insurance Co. of Detroit,

First Vice President—William F. MacGlashan

Second Vice President—D. J. Carson

Secretary-Treasurer—J. D. Shull

Resident Manager—Chas. Burridge

Within the past few weeks the Brewer plant has been filled to capacity for months ahead with government work and the entire organization from one end to the other is enthusiastic in its efforts to help win the war by working if not by fighting.

The foundry capacity will immediately be further increased and the war work output developed to the highest possible point, but the old lines of Clay Working Machines and Concrete Mixers will be maintained to the full extent of the market requirements.

The production work of the plant is in charge of Mr. Geo. N. Stanley, formerly of The American Car & Foundry Co. of Lancaster, N. Y., and since taking hold he has increased the output by fifty per cent., but still more business is being offered by the Governement and at the directors' meeting yesterday it was decided to enclose the space between the main building of the plant and the foundry also space at the southeast and southwest of the present foundry building, together with a system of mechanical transportation of molten iron, sand blasting and casting cleaning machinery, thereby creating a possibility of doubling the present output of the plant.

The directors expressed themselves as much pleased with the reports of operations along the new lines thus far and authorized the payment of the usual 3 per cent. semi-annual dividend upon both preferred and common stock of the company.

Prosperous industry helps maintain our reputation of "The Biggest Little Town on Earth." Let us have more of it!

CLASS HOLDS ANNUAL PICNIC

Last Wednesday Miss Kyle's Sunday school class held a day meeting at the home of Mrs. Will Gibson. Of course the ladies went dressed for the occasion as a district school was to be conducted by Miss Kyle. And they sure made some scholars. Sally Snedicor with her golden curls, (and polka dot stockings), Snow Ball Cupples and Dinah Wier, Betty Bowen and Mattie Mathiss in curls and middies, Edith Smith, Rosie Schreder, Matilda Mitchell and Pouty Butrick, were not teacher's pets, needless to say, but Sammie Waring and Bobbie Kent were some fun makers. Poor Miss Kyle found the bunch much harder to manage than when many of them were younger, but the school was a "howling" success.

But before the school came one of their big potluck dinners and everyone had brought along their appetite so the good things were soon taken care of.

Mr. Gibson, tho terribly shocked, succeeded in getting the whole crowd to the barn and weighing them up. The total weight 4629 may astonish the public, but that is a well fed crowd and there were 31 of the class there.

In appreciation of Mr. Rex' taking out a load and coming for them 20 of the class went in a body to his prayer service that evening so out of the day they got much good as well as a lot of fun.

FIRE ALARM

Linton's Restaurant the Scene of the Fire

While engaged in ironing by a gasoline stove Monday, Mrs Koernig at Linton's restaurant, was startled when one of the burners blew out and the flames reached to the ceiling. In her attempt to extinguish the blaze one of her hands was seriously burned and Mr Linton, coming to her rescue, had his hands somewhat blistered.

The fire department was called and was soon on the spot, but the fire was all out before they arrived Fortunately no damage of any account was done to the building.

THE RED CROSS CALF

Brings Nearly $400 for Clinton Red Cross

Clinton was quite a lively place on Saturday night for the sale of the calf which had been donated to the Red Cross. People gathered from far and near, the streets were lined with autos and other rigs. The band was out in full force and gave a number of fine selections. At the latest reports nearly $400 had been realized from the sale of the calf which was a beauty. The owner had been offered $35 for it before he gave it to the Red Cross.

WHAT "TIP" MEANS

No word in popular usage today has a more peculiar origin than "tip" The word "tip" is formed of the initials of the three words. "To insure Promptness," and has been handed down to us thru the following process; In the days when taverns flourished and chalk marks on the back of the door indicated the amount of the "charge amount," waiters were not as well trained as they are now-a-days. Good service, as well as gratuities, being conspicuous of their rarity the forebearance of the patron at times approached the vanishing point. Out of this condition grew the custom of placing a small pewter dish on the table with a sign above, "To Insure Promptness," and guests were supposed to take the hint by dropping a coin or two in order to enjoy the benefit of the extra service This phrase was a little long and finally the patrons found it convenient to write merely the initials TIP which later was written as one word "tip."

So when you come to my place for that fine Fishing Outfit you will not find a pewter dish for a tip, instead you will find a lot of good bargains. "Call in."

NORTH ADRIAN

FUNERAL OF LEIGH BROWN

Held in North Adrian

Soldier who died recently at Camp Custer was buried with Honors Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m.

The funeral of Leigh Lilborn Brown who died at Camp Custer was held from the home of his parents in North Adrian Saturday afternoon.

Rev. C. W. Obee a former pastor, officiated (text, John 15:13) assisted by Rev. J. C. Davis, pastor of North Adrian M. P. church, and by Ernest Benedict, schoolmate and life long friend of the deceased. Martial music was furnished by Tipton concert band. This was probably the most largely attended funeral ever held in North Adrian.

Friends and relatives were present to the number of about 400 from the immediate neighborhood, from Britton, Tecumseh, Palmyra, Onsted, Jackson, Devils Lake, Rollin, Rome, Detroit, Wolf Creek, Tipton, Jasper, North Rome, Adrian city, Kendallville, Ind., Clinton. The burial was at North Adrian cemetery.

His six cousins acted as pall bearers. They were as follows: Howard Brown, Ernest Brown, Edward Turner, Winfield Lewis, Lavere Mapes and Harold Gove.

Leigh Lilburn Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brown, was born in town of Adrian, Sept. 12 ,1890. His education was begun in the North Adrian district school and was continued at Raisin Valley Seminary and at Brown's Business College.

His life was spent near the place of his birth. For about three years he worked with a cousin Frank Mattis near Tipton as a carpenter. He spent the past winter at the home of his uncle Wm. Mapes of North Rome who was sick and died.

His cheerful pleasant spirit, his never failing kindness to old and young, his generous gifts and his valuable services in the building of the new church at North Adrian and his active participation as a member of the North Adrian Grange endeared him to the public so as to make appropriate the words of the poet:

> "None knew thee but to love thee > or named thee but to praise."

He was called to the National service and arrived at Camp Custer, April 29. One week later he was taken sick, pneumonia developing. He died at the Base Hospital, 23 ward Camp Custer, Battle Creek, May 22, at the age of 27 years.

Besides his parents he leaves one brother, Louis G. Brown and a host of relatives and friends to mourn his loss.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our neighbors and friends for their kindly assistance during the sickness and death of our beloved son and brother and the sympathy shone in the days of our extreme sorrow. We especially thank the members of Tipton band for their exceptional favors.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Brown,

"SOME" AS AN ADJECTIVE

Popular American Slang Has Attached a Wealth of Meaning to the Word.

The American habit of coining new meanings for words already known is closely allied to that of coining words, writes C. Jefferson Weber in the North American Review. Take, for example, the current slang use of that much used word "some." What a wealth of meaning and insinuation the American has invented for the word!

"Some" as an adverb may be heard in many places. For instance, in the Teign valley district of Devon, the natives may say, "It did rain zum yesterday." But the American would use the word as an adjective and say, "That was some rain yesterday." This use is hard to define. In the middle of the last century "some," meaning considerable, or notable, was called "a modern slang word." Today "some" is almost limitless in its capacity for application. It implies approval, enthusiasm, sarcasm, wonder, admiration, disgust—or amusement.

The seeds may have been sown in Cornwall, in Devon or in Lancashire, but I seriously doubt if a native of any of these counties would ever say enthusiastically, "We had some fun last night," or sarcastically, "This is some book!" Another word to which Americans have given a new meaning is the verb "raise." In England, men raise crops; in America, they also raise children.

CHINA LOSING TRADE IN TEA

General Opinion That Scientific Cultivation of the Plant Has Been Begun Too Late.

China's tea trade is not keeping pace with the world's consumption of tea. Scientific cultivation instead of old-time methods and the use of machinery are being used in the effort to regain the lost commercial ground. The ministry of agriculture has established a model farm, and the first tea grown on it was sent to market this year. It is said to have been of good quality, but no details are yet available of the equipment and methods employed. Foreign tea men seem to have little faith in the results of this attempted reform and consider it unlikely that Chinese teas will ever regain the leading place in the markets of the world. It is said that Chinese teas have less tannin than other teas, and that the finer grades are unsurpassed in delicacy of flavor; but the average tea drinker seems to find the teas of India and Ceylon satisfactory.

How Toasts Originated.

The custom of drinking the health of the most popular man at the table has its foundation in the ancient practice originated by the Greeks and adopted by the Romans of drinking to the gods and the dead, observes an exchange.

The Greeks and Romans later began the practice of drinking to each other, and from this arose the custom of toasting living men. But health drinking in its modern form, originating in England in the roystering days of Charles II, begins with the custom of drinking to the ladies or to any woman who happened to be the reigning belle of the court.

Many and various were the quaint customs associated with the toasts of those days. For example, in certain companies of military officers etiquette demanded that the cup should be passed from hand to hand.

In many midnight gatherings of Alsatia gallants stabbed themselves in order to drink with their blood the health of the woman on whom their hearts were set.—Kansas City Journal.

When to Shut Your Eyes.

In an article about Thomas Edison in the American Magazine, William Maxwell, the vice president of the Edison company, said:

"One bit of executive strategy that I learned from Edison has stood me in good stead a dozen times. He had the wise habit of knowing when to shut his eyes. There are times in every organization when controversies arise between even the most loyal and best intentioned subordinates. Sometimes it is the wisest thing for the man at the top to know nothing whatever about them, to let them work themselves out. 'I learned a great many years ago,' said Lincoln, 'that in a fight between man and wife, a third party should never get between the woman's skillet and the man's axhelve.'"

FROM OUR BOYS IN SERVICE

The following letter written for Mothers day was received by Mrs. James Norris from her son, Walter, who is "over there," and will be enjoyed by his many friends here.

Sunday evening
May 12, 1918

Dear mother:

This is mother's mail day and I must get a letter going to you even though it is late. Any mail written today and having upon the envelope "Mother's letter" will get preference in being sent, so we will see how soon you get this one.

For some time business has been pretty heavy. This has been my first whole Sunday off in several weeks and we worked every evening except one for the past week.

Today the commanding officer several officers and myself made a trip by auto to another depot which is really a part of the one here to straighten a few kinks, and it was a pleasant trip also. I suppose we covered about 150 miles both ways. On our return we stopped at one of the old cities of France and looked at one of the famous old cathedrals of Europe, with the heads of the images sculptured on the outside broken off during the French revolution. Beautiful scenery we passed through and such wonderful roads. One stretch we covered at probably 55 miles an hour, as straight as an arrow and as level as a floor.

Lots of cows are being herded on the roadside and practically no fences. One touching little incident was that of a small boy herding his cows, who when he saw us coming at breakneck speed tried to scamper ahead of us in his wooden shoes and get his cows off the road and away from danger, but we soon distanced him but slowed down at the proper time and left his cows intact as they ran away with tails flying, when we got too close.

Lots of fine crops growing, clover, rye, wheat, and gardens. Indeed the parts of France I have seen seem to be mostly garden spots.

We stopped at a town about 10 miles from here and had our supper at a hotel, a delicious supper and after having a merry time with the proprietress and with the very attractive little French waitress we hied ourselves home. All agreed that we had had both a successful and a delightful day. They don't come very often, Life is mostly a grind, even my French has been neglected lately as I have had so much work and as it is now 11:30 p. m. and I must get up early I will say good-night.

Affectionately
Walter Norris.

Will Camburn writes a very interesting letter to his people, which his many friends in Macon and Tecumseh will be glad to read.

Somewhere in France
May 5, 1918

Dear Mother and folks at home

Sunday has rolled around again, we have had a week of good weather, but it is raining again today. Seems about like April or May weather back home. The trees and grass are comng out green and all indications point towards summer. I am not at all sorry as you know how I like winter weather.

We are doing work in an American Camp here now, and I am still feeling fine. We have good quarters and plenty to eat, our work is arranged in such a way that all have a little time for recreation. It doesn't get dark until about 8:30 and some of the boys are out nearly every night after supper with a baseball or football or if it happens to be raining some of the fellows go over to the Y. M. C. A. where there is always something doing. Some draw passes to a little town near by, others pass away the evening playing cards and it has been a long hard day when in the evening a few are not to be found setting around our little stove swapping yarns. We get pretty good telling big stories so when I come home be prepared as my tongue may get the start of me occasionally.

Going back to the Y. M. C. A. the people over home may be sure that money given to either the Red Cross or Y. M. C. A. is being put to a good prupose over here and is fully appreciatel by us all. We have never been without a Y. M. C. A. for any length of time and they tell me wherever any U. S. troops go the Y. M. C. A. is there awaiting them.

We are getting mail quite regularly now and although all have been in good spirits from the first, the letters make us feel better and that is what is going to help us win. Of course we all hope soon, but realize we have a big proposition on our hands against a nation whose true methods and deeds may never come out in history.

You all know what my opinion regarding our stay over here was before I left home. And that seems to be the feeling in general over here. We are all glad to learn through the letters and papers the growing spirit of the people in general over home, as their part is going to have a lot to do wth our chances of coming back. The boys here are going to and are surely doing their part and I don't think America will ever have to be ashamed of her armies in France, who one and all are anxious to get at the Germans and help make them, sooner or later, holler "Enough."

Must stop now and go to supper as I never like to miss a meal. Goodbye for this time.

Dear Mother and Father:

As this is Mother's Day and I have a few hours to myself, I thought I would spend my time writing to you. I am feeling fine and dandy and hope you are all the same.

The weather here is very wet. It has rained almost every day since we have been in France. The country sure looks fine. Everything is nice and green, but the mud is something awful.

I am getting lots of sleep for they make us boys be in bed at 9:30 and we are not allowed to go one-half mile from camp without a pass and the passes in France are very few. It is the same in all camps for I have been in several different camps. We don't get a chance to see many of the French people as there are not many living in this part of the country now, but the few I have seen have been very good to us. We have learned a little of their language and sure have some fun trying to make them understand us.

The water is very poor in France so they allow the soldiers to have light wines and beer. So you see we have something on the Michigan people. Ha! Ha!

I had a nice long letter from Geo. Rathbun and Geo. Hawkes yesterday. I have heard several times from George Hawkes. Milburn is about six miles from here. So is the Adrian National Guard, but I haven't had the chance to get over to see them yet, but expect the first Sunday I have off to be able to get a pass to go.

About all the people you can see anywhere you go are American soldiers. I have only seen one fellow I knew and his name is Myers from Blissfield. We sure had a good visit, but I expect to see a lot more soon. Most of the boys with me now are from Detroit.

We are working hard every day and expect to wipe the Kaiser off the map so we will be home for Christmas dinner. We get up at 5.30 and leave for work at 6:45. We take our mess kits with us for we get our dinner at a field kitchen.

Our daily menu consists of corn beef hash, beans or army stew. I don't think I will be able to ever eat a regular meal again for it might put my stomach on the bum. But we all enjoy it and seem to eat like horses. Tell Oley to send me a big box of sweet things and wrap it up well. We don't get anything sweet here.

Well, I will close for this time as they are about to collect the mail. This address will always get me. (O. A. S. means "On Active Service." Good bye and good luck.

With love to all.

DETROIT MOVES TO BUY D. U. R.

Call Issued to Railway Commission to Institute a Plan of Purchase.

Detroit.—Assured that the federal government is giving serious consideration to the request that it take over the Detroit system of the D. U. R. for the period of the war Detroit city officials who presented the case in Washington will arrive here Wednesday to continue their effort to permanently end the street railway dispute. A call has been issued for a meeting of the street railway commission to institute a plan of purchase of the railway property.

Before leaving Washington a brief containing reasons why the government should intervene in the Detroit street railway dispute was prepared by Corporation Counsel Divie B. Duffield and presented to the federal authorities by Mr. Duffield, Mayor Marx and J. J. Crowley, president of the Board of Commerce. It asked that if the government found it inadvisable to take over control of the system the authorities appoint an arbitrator to adust the difference between the city and company.

At the meeting an attempt will be made to start purchase negotiations with the D. U. R. The company will be asked either to "sit in" or the commissioners will first draft a purchase plan and then submit it to the company.

Bride Drowns in Bath Tub.

Grand Rapids—Mrs. Loafree Wenzel, a bride of less than two weeks, was drowned in her home when she fainted and fell into a bathtub. Attemps at resuscitation failed.

Saginaw—In memory of the late Melvin D. Brooks, E. C. Mershon has given the property known as the Mershon apartments for a free children's hospital to be operated under the management of the Associated Charitis and a board of managers. The property represents an investment of $40,000 and was intended and has been used for tenament purposes. For the present the building will be used as a day nursery and as funds become available it will be converted into a hospital.

Royal Oak—Responsibility for the death of Joseph Weinberger, of Detroit, whose automobile was struck by a D. U. R. car at the intersection of Woodward avenue and the Twelve Mile road a week ago Sunday, was placed on the D. U. R. by the coroner's inquest. The inquest was conducted by Justice Rose, the jury finding that "Weinberger came to his death through the D. U. R. not having its car under control at that time and place." Weinberger and his two children also met death in the collision.

GERMAN SMASH HELD UP BY U. S. BOYS AT MARNE

BIG DRIVE SLACKENS DOWN INTO ISOLATED ATTACKS BETWEEN SOISSONS AND CHATEAU THIERRY.

GERMAN ATTACK NEAR PARIS STOPPED BY U. S. SOLDIERS

The Losses of the Germans Near Pernant Were Extremely Heavy Owing to the Stubborn Defense of the French.

London—From drives on wide fronts the German offensive in France has deteriorated, into isolated attacks along the area between Soissons and Chateau Thierry and eastward on the Marne in the general direction of Rheims.

Although in these attacks the enemy still is using large effectives and great numbers of guns, he is being held almost everywhere from further progress and on various sectors compelled to assume the defensive against vicious blows delivered by Americans, French and British troops.

Americans Beat Off German Attack.

Americans on sectors where they are alone or brigaded with Allied troops everywhere are fighting with a spirit of abandon that places them rightly in the category of veterans.

Near the Neuilly (Veuilly) wood, which lies northwest of Chateau Thierry, and at the point where the drive has brought the enemy nearest Paris, Americans have beaten off a strong German attack and on the Marne at Jaulgonne, some six miles northeast of Chateau Thierry, fighting shoulder to shoulder with the French, they have aided in forcing the first contingent of the enemy to cross the Marne again to seek refuge on the northern bank of the stream.

Germans Take Pernant.

Between the Aisne and Ourcq rivers, Germans have captured Pernant and to the south of that village the French have ceded a little terrain. In the Ourcq valley they also took the town of Neuilly-la-Poterie (Veuilly-la-Porterie), seven and one-half miles northwest of Chateau Thierry, in fighting during which the place changed hands several times.

In the region between the Oise and the Aisne the Germans have been unable to advance anywhere. The losses of the Germans near Pernant were extremely heavy owing to the stubborn defense of the French.

There still is only moderate activity along the line held by the British in Flanders and Picardy, where patrol activities and bombarding continue. On the Amiens front the Germans are heavily bombarding British positions.

Early Russian Move Hinted.

Washington.—With the announcement by the state department that between 1,200 and 2,000 Germans prisoners of war are daily being returned to the fatherland from Russia, Siberian intervention loomed large in Washington,

The state department also announced it had received confirmation of the agreement between Russia, Finland and Germany, whereby Germany gets acess to the Arctic ocean via the Mourmansk peninsula.

Word came here from London that developments in Tokio and Tien Tsin warranted belief in early action in Siberia. This news was received without surprise in Allied diplomatic circles here, thought the state department declared it had no definite information about developments in the far east.

The construction placed upon the news in Allied diplomatic quarters that the Entente has come to the conclusion that intervention is the only thing that can prevent Germany reaping all the benefits of her Russian conquests without disturbance.

It is pointed out that if an Allied column should start through Siberia, it would at least deter the return to the German ranks of the thousands of prisoners of war who are still in Russia and Siberia.

Enemy 'Planes Hit Hospitals.

With the British Army in France—British Red Cross hospitals again have come under the German bombarding scourge. Hostile airmen raided the same group of hospitals which suffered May 19. Several hospitals were hit, and the casualty list among patients and workers is considerable.

One hospital was almost demolished when an enemy aviator dropped an explosive on it after getting his bearings by letting fall a brilliant flare which lighted up the whole district.

U. S. Transport Sunk.

Washington—Three officers and 23 enlisted men of the navy were reported missing from the torpedoed American transport, President Lincoln. One officer was captured by the submarine. None of the survivors was seriously injured. The loss was confined to the crew of the ship.

Traverse City—Charles A. Emerson, supervisor of Garfield township, Grand Traverse county, justice of the peace for 20 years, township clerk at the age of 21, organizer of the Growers and Shippers' association of the American Society of Equity and state secretary of the society for two years, has announced his candidacy for the state legislature from Grand Traverse county.

Traverse City—Because years ago a city engineer built concrete culverts and bridges of the Asylum creek, running through this city, too narrow and two high, Traverse City will be forced to spend at least $20,000 to remedy the blunder, and possibly a still larger sum. Property on the west side of the city is inundated with every heavy rain because the culverts will not handle the flood.

LEADING EXPRESS COMPANIES MERGED

WILL BE KNOWN AS "AMERICAN RAILROAD EXPRESS COMPANY," UNDER DIRECTOR McADOO.

CAPITALIZED AT $30,000,000

Instead of Numerous Contracts With Individuals There Will Now Be But One Blanket Contract Issued.

Washington—Leading express companies of the country have been consolidated into one company, "American Railroad Express company," under the guidance of Director General McAdoo. The new company, according to L. W. Prehn, local manager of the American Express company, will be capitalized at $30,000,000.

Instead of numerous contracts with individual railroads for various amounts, there will be but one blanket contract with the entire government controlled railroads. By this contract the American Railroad Express company will collect, insure, guard and deliver shipments, as in the past, and the government railroads will haul them.

Express Business $200,000,000 Yearly.

How the general reorganization will work out for the benefit of the shipping public is tentatively outlined in an interview given out by George C. Taylor, former president of the American Express company and now president of the new consolidation.

"Hereafter the express companies will eliminate the individual identity which has separated them for the last three-quarters of a century," he said, "and offers to their joint patrons a single express service.

"At no time in the history of the railroads has the volume of express traffic been so great as it is today, the busness reaching a total of more than $200,000,000 yearly.

Redistribution of Routes.

"Already the vast terminals maintained by the various companies are being unified for a practical saving of time and transfer. The street equipment of between 20,000 and 30,000 motor and horse vehicles are undergoing a redistribution to avod duplication of routes.

"Branch agencies and multiple offices in many cities will be subject to an economical readjustment. The claim department will be unified and a closer co-operation established with the shippers to eliminate losses resulting from faulty packing and incorrect marking of shipments.

"The new move will bring into one organization more than 100,000 men now trained in express service. It will be the policy of the company to maintain a broad gauge attitude toward its employes, many of whom have spent their lives in the service."

DESTROYER BUILT IN 17 DAYS

Secretary Daniels Said the Average Time Before War Was 11 Months.

Washington—The United States destroyer Ward was successfully launched at the Mare Island navy yard, California, 17 and a half days after her keel was laid. The nearest approach to this record was the launching of a 233 foot cargo vessel by the New York Shipbuilding company, Camden, N. J., in 27 days.

Before the United States went to war, Secretary Daniels said the average time for a destroyer on the ways was 11 months. The secretary termed the Mare Island record a remarkable one and declared that it probably would not be equalled for some time.

As much structural work as possible for the Ward was prepared in advance ready for erection and assembling before the keel was laid. Bulkheads, sections of the keel, deckhouses, bridge structure and a section of the destroyer's stem were riveted up ready for assembling in place on the ways.

Launching of 16 vessels on the Pacific coast, July 4, is planned, in response to the appeal of Chairman Hurley, of the shipping board, to the country's shipbuilders, to celebrate Independence day with a heavy output of tonnage.

Brother E. H. Ahrens of the Clinton Local has announced through the columns of the Local his intention to lay aside the management and cares of his business and has leased the business to Messrs. Harry Pinkstone and his brother Walter for a period of one year. In speaking of the change he states that the step is taken to conserve health, and while he does not expect to remain idle for a great length of time, a rest of a month or so will be most welcome.

Brother Ahrens retiring from business comes to us as a surprise as we did not know that he even contemplated such a change and we regret very much that the move seemed necessary to conserve his health. Under his guiding hand Mr. Ahrens has given to the people of Clinton and vicinity one of the best weekly papers in Michigan and has shown that he is a man of ability in the newspaper line. We congratulate him on his success and for the excellent work that he has accomplished in the past two and a half years and trust that the rest he expects to take will be most beneficial.

U-BOAT DEATH TOLL REACHES SIXTEEN

NAVY DEPARTMENT ANNOUNCES THE ARRIVAL OF 321 SURVIVORS FROM STEAMSHIP CAROLINA.

RAIDERS REPORTED STILL ACTIVE

U. S. Destroyer Saves French Tank Steamer From Attack 65 Miles Off Maryland Coast.

Washington—The navy department announces the arrival of 321 survivors of the steamship Carolina, landed at Atlantic City, Vineyard Haven and Lewes, Del., and others on the way to Atlantic ports.

The exact number on board the Carolina is not known, as the passenger list has not yet been received from Porto Rico.

According to George Howard, one of the Carolina's stewards, who was among survivors landing at Lewes, Del., the passengers numbered 276. This added to 120 in crew would give a total of 396. With the list of survivors totalling 321 and 16 reported drowned, there remain 59 still unaccounted for.

19 Survivors Landed at Lewes, Del.

Lewes, Del.—Nineteen survivors, passengers and crew of the submarined steamship Carolina were landed here and brought a harrowing tale of the sea, the news of the loss of 1 of their number and a remarkable rescue of a girl while they drifted helplessly on the ocean during a severe thunderstorm Sunday night.

Ten boats left the Carolina before she was sunk by the German submarine U-37, all passed through the same storm, and the survivors here say they had felt sure all were lost. They expressed great joy when informed that most of the Carolina's company had been saved.

The 19 persons landed here were brought in by a British vessel that picked them up more than 25 miles off the Delaware Capes. They were taken in charge by the naval authorities and cared for at the station near Cape Henlopen.

Submarine Still Active.

Washington—Enemy submarines are still operating off the American coast. A French tank steamer, the Radioleine, first trans-Atlantic craft to be attacked by the raiders, was saved from destruction at 9:30 Tuesday morning by an American destroyer 65 miles off the Maryland coast.

The same destroyer found the coasting schooner Edward R. Baird, Jr., sinking after having been bombed in the same vicinity, making seven schooners known officially to have been sunk by the raiders.

Secretary Daniels directed that the brief report from the destroyer be made public. The destroyer herself, with two survivors of the Baird, a 279 ton craft hailing from Wilmington, Del., was still hunting for the enemy.

The announcement, which naval officers said contained all the department knew about Tuesday's activities of the raiders, follows:

"The navy department has received a dispatch from a United States destroyer that at 9:30 o'clock Tuesday morning, she interrupted an attack by an enemy submarine on the French steamer Radioleine, about 65 miles off the Maryland coast. The destroyer also took on board two men from the Edward Baird, which was bombed and sinking.

Muskegon—Work on the Muskegon armory, a brick and concrete structure costing $60,000, is rapidly nearing completion.

Owosso—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dick, Sr., who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary recently, have buried 11 of the 12 children born to them.

Pontiac—Despondent because he stammered badly, Arthur Waterman, 40 years old, a farmer living near Holly shot himself Saturday and died instantly.

VESPER SERVICES AT THE LAKES

The Session of the Presbyterian church last Sunday evening voted to omit the evening service during July and August and instead to hold vesper services at the lakes. These services will alternate between Sand Lake and Wampler's Lake.

No religious services are regularly held at either of these lakes during the summer and yet most of the residents are church peeple. The services will be held out of doors and early enough for friends in Tecumseh to attend and return home before dark.

This is a very opportune action on the part of the Session as it gives the lake dwellers advantage of a religious service and also the community round about. To the minister and the popular male quartette will fall the larger responsibility of these services.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE VILLAGE PRESIDENT

To the Citizens of Tecumseh, Mich

Friday, June 28th, 1918 is officially designated War Savings Day by the National Government and the Governor of this State.

All loyal citizens of this community will accordingly on or before this day pledge themselves to save and economize, to help win the war and will further pledge themselves to invest their savings in War Savings Stamps in the largest amount possible as evidence of their loyalty to the National Government.

The people of this community will give every assistance in their power to the local representatives of the United States Treasury who are conducting the War Savings campaign.

All who are able should pledge themselves to save and invest to the limit allowed by law

(signed) W. F. Fisher, President

Lansing—According to figures given by former Governor Fred M. Warner Michigan women have sent abroad nearly 7,000,000 pieces of Red Cross work since December 1. The product which went to France filled 38 freight cars.

Albion—The farmhouse of Ray Haight, who lives southeast of Albion, was struck by lightning this week. His daughter, Elma, who was sleeping by an open window, suffered a severe shock. The siding was torn from the house.

Benton Harbor—When Joseph Winleck sought a subscription for the Red Cross he was severely beaten by Joseph, Edward, Albert and Andrew Catzkowski of St. Joseph township. They were arrested and fined a total of $90.

Washington—Saginaw, Mich., is one of a lot of postoffices which Secretary McAdoo in a communication to congress puts down as in need of extension as soon as practicable because of "progressive congestion" due to heavy increases in business.

Lansing—The Flowerfield flour mill, at Flowerfield, St. Joseph county, was ordered closed during June, by George A. Prescott, federal food administrator for Michigan, on charges of having taken excessive prices for feeds and general non-compliance with food regulations.

Pontiac—Increased costs of operating the municipal water plant have made it necessary for the city commission to increase the water rates and an ordinance has been introduced increasing flat and meter rates $2 a year. The biggest increase has been for coal and labor.

TECUMSEH'S FIRST FREE ENTERTAINMENT DAY ATTRACTS LARGE CROWD

Afternoon and Evening Entertainment Given

The first Free Entertainment for the season of 1918 was given Wednesday afternoon and evening. A good many people were in for the afternoon program and the merchants all report a splendid trade for the afternoon, but as usual the big crowd was in for the evening and rigs and autos were massed in throughout the downtown district. It is hard to estimate the number of people on the street but the crowd compared favorably with our big nights of former years. Two very good entertainments were given both afternoon and evening consisting of a slack wire act, aerial trapeze act and aerial ring act. The Tipton band furnished a musical program in the evening which merited a good deal of praise.

The merchants were kept on the jump in the evening and when interviewed Thursday morning most of them reported a big trade and stated that many customers were in from quite a distance.

The crowd seemed happy and glad to be back in Tecumseh as the guests of the town. It was a late hour when they finally lefe for their homes.

THIRTY-THREE YOUNG MEN REGISTER WEDNESDAY

Registration Covered Townships of Tecumseh, Clinton, Macon and Ridgeway

In accordance with a law recently passed by Congress, Wednesday, June 5th was designated as Registration Day throughout the United States and all young men who had attained their majority (21 years) since the former registration held about a year ago were compelled to register for military service.

The board for this district, comprised of Tecumseh, Clinton, Macon and Ridgeway townships were at the Council building all day Wednesday recording the names of the young men whom the law affected.

The board consisted of G. E. Nemire and H. H. Hanna Jr. of Tecumseh and Sheriff Fred Nutten of Adrian.

All told there were 33 registrations taken from the four townships and these will be classified and recorded. Cards will be issued to the men and they will await a future call for service as their number is reached.

The records show only two registrations from the Village of Tecumseh.

CHILDREN'S DAY

At the Presbyterian Church

The children of the Presbyterian Sundayschool will present their Children's Day exercises under the general subject, "The Children of America." The whole program is patriotic thru'out. There will be soldiers, sailors and Red Cross nurses. The superintendents of the various departments together with the teachers are working hard to make this "the best ever." Perry Hayden and Oley Hanna have charge of the military training of the boys. Miss Winnifred Mitchell will represent Columbia.

The Sunday-school has been in a contest for the past four weeks which closes Sunday morning. Sunday-school will begin at the regular hour, 10 o'clock. The program will begin at 10:30. There will be but one service Sunday morning.

LEAPS OFF HIGH TOWER TO TREE

J. Frank Glendon Performs Hazardous Feat Before Camera in Opening Chapter of New Vitagraph Adventure Serial

J. Frank Glendon, starring with Miss Hedda Nova in "The Woman in the Web" Vitagraph's latest and greatest 15 chapter serial, thinks nothing of a fifty-foot jump or dive into the ocean, but he was stumped for a moment in the opening chapter of the serial, which will be shown in the New Royal Theatre on Saturday June 8th when called on to leap thirty-eight feet from the tower of a building into the top of a tree.

It was the only way to get off the narrow coping of the tower onto which he had crawled from his pursuers at no small risk of limb, and chucking his hat into space, he gamely followed when the director gave the word.

The camera "caught" him splendidly and follows him as he crashes and then climbs down through the heavy branches until considerably jarred and bearing a few bruises, he joins his hat on solid earth. The scene is 100 per cent. realism and is of the brand which makes the serial an irresistible magnet for any person who sees the chapter.

The serial is fortunate in its stars Miss Hedda Nova, a beautiful young Russian actress, who won her laurels in "The Bar Sinister" and "The Sign Invisible," and in J. Frank Gledon, with nine years of success on the speaking stage, and who on coming to the screen, won instant recognition by his work in O. Henry pictures and in Blue Ribbon Features. Both are stars of action, all-around athletes who do not count personal risk to gain realism in the filming of a scene.

The story is that of a young girl bound by royal blood to marry a noble suitor, but who loves a young American. She undertakes a weighty mission and in carrying it out is fought at every turn by powerful enemes whose influence stretches around the globe and against whom she is protected only by her American sweetheart.

A sweet pepper is an addition. Grease baking dish, put in layer of cornmeal mush, add seasoned meat, and cover with mush. Bake one half hour. Serve six.

Indian Pudding

- 4 cups milk (whole or skim)
- ¼ cup corn meal
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon ginger
- 1-3 cup of molasses

A very serious matter that we must bring to the notice of Tecumseh is the scarcity of workers at Headquarters. The ladies in charge were nearly in despair yesterday, requisitions and entreaties for more finished goods pouring in, but we regret to say seven machines had only two people to work them.

One of the ladies who had just returned from Adrian said nearly tearfully, that the rooms were so full there, that she could hardly move, and here there was not a woman to a room.

We have sent goods from Tecumseh, but it is largely the work of the same people and youwho do nothing, it is your Red Cross, just as well as that of these who ask you to work. In March we sent 70 suits of pajamas, in April 78, in May only 42, and unless workers come in, the June quota will be only half of that.

Miss Phelps was very discouraged and said there was not much use of her coming Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 12:00 and staying there until 5:30, if nobody will come.

It you cannot stay at the Headquarters come and take the work home with you; Mrs. Lowe and Mrs. Snedicor are directors of pajamas.

The Hun is at our gates, men women and children have been killed off the American coast, do you want to wait until a Zeppelin drops bombs over Tecumseh; it will be too late to work then.

The Hun will not ask us to work, he will drive us, pricking us with a bayonet if we do not step lively, to work in the fields or to make munitions to kill our husbands and sons.

4 dozen socks sent to Adrian from Mrs. Hartzog's committee.

5 pair of wristlets, and a donation of a scarf from Mrs. John Nyland's committee.

Dr. Pauline Bredow wishes to notify her classes that next week the June quota will be here and that there will be plenty of work for everbody. Surgical dressing room open every afternoon and evening, except Saturday and Wednesday evenings.

The Red Cross Concert Co. will give a concert on the four corners on Wednesday evening, July 10. Mrs. Thos. McCann chairman of collectors with Dr. Bredow, Mrs. G. A. Rathbun, Mrs. Duaine Service and Mrs. Dale Hodges, as captains of each of the four corners and a number of young ladies. Further particulars later.

A sweet old lady, the widow of a war veteran came in and said that she had knitted so much that she had hurt her eyes, but that she wanted to do her bit and gave $2.00 to the donation fund.

Mr. George Hawkes is in receipt of a letter from his son, Captain Hawks in which he says that he was sick for a month in the hospital and that the Red Cross nurses never left him a minute, that he had the best of care and could not praise the Red Cross enough.

TECUMSEH EVIDENCE FOR TECUMSEH PEOPLE

The Statements of Tecumseh Residents are Surely More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers

Home testimony is real proof.

Public statements of Tecumseh people carry real weight.

What a friend or neighbor says compels respect.

The word of one whose home is far away invites your doubts.

Here's a Tecumseh statement.

And it's for Tecumseh people's benefit.

Such evidence is convincing.

That's the kind of proof that backs Doan's Kidney Pills.

Thomas Langton, retired farmer, W. Chicago St., says: "I had kidney complaint and suffered with my back a great deal. My kidneys acted irregularly and the kidney secretion were unnatural. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and they srengthened my back regulated my kidneys and benefited me in every way."

Price 60c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Langton had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfgrs., Buffalo, N. Y. adv

for United States Senator

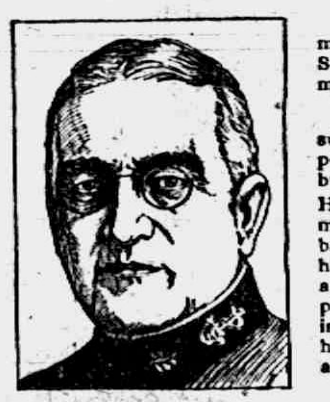
The Man Who Does Things



Truman H. Newberry

Now as never before this country must have in the United States Senate able men, experienced men, men far sighted and unafraid.

TRUMAN H. NEWBERRY is such a man. He is always to be depended upon. He is not a dreamer, but a worker, a man who does things. He is a business man of rare judgment. He is unhesitating and well-balanced. His breadth of vision, his ability to handle large affairs, and his sense of justice and fair play splendidly qualify him to serve in the United States Senate and to help solve the big problems arising and to arise out of the war.

Commander Newberry is now serving in the Third Naval District. He is going to continue to stay by his work and to do all he can to help win the war. His friends are actively presenting his qualifications to the people of Michigan as a man who would make a splendid United States Senator. Men of all walks of life are behind the movement because Truman Newberry would be a Senator who would stand squarely for right, for justice and for equality.

RED CROSS NEWS

Mrs. Raynor Anderson is in receipt of the following letter from her brother, Mr. Richard Knox, from the Massey convalescent home in England, where he is recuperating from his wounds:

"It is going to be a hard fight by August, but the French-British-American armies are going to be the masters by then, and give Fritz what we are getting now, only more severely. He is at his full strength and reckless of lives, and keeps pouring them forward and we give up the positions to him, as we are killing thousands, yes hundreds of thousands and his reserves are all about used up. So then we will start with our brave allies and American troops, and will walk right over him and will compel him to accept peace, and I see the finish by this November.

Some of us boys were given a special invitation to Windsor castle, to have tea with Princess Mary, and were received by King George and Queen Mary in St. George's Chapel. We were given a post card with Princess' Mary's autograph and gold edged card and invitation to tea.

Wednesday the American Red Cross gave us a tea and Concert at their Quarters in London; it lasted all the afternoon and was a very pleasant affair.

I had a notice that I am entitled to wear the Gold wound strip as I was on the casualty list, on March 12th."

Mr. Knox mentions that one of his nephews had joined the Highland cadets, and that another was on a mine sweeper in the North sea and has been transferred to the Tuscania, that was torpedoed off the Scotish coast, and on which so many Americans lost their lives.

"The boat was brought to Glasgow and repaired, and is doing duty again with troops and mails.

The spot where the Tuscania was torpedoed is marked and a beautiful place has been given by the natives of Islay for the burial place, and a big monument is being erected by the Scottish people to commemorate the last resting place of the brave fellws who were lost. The Stars and Stripes and the British colors were sewed together by the fisher folk, and the two flags are now flying side by side, as one.

Signed, Richard Knox."

A most successful box social was held on Saturday evening on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. John Drewyor's farm 1 mile east of town. The ladies brought dainty boxes, with all kinds of nice things to eat in them, which were subsequently auctioned off. After a few minor expenses had been paid, the net receipts, amounting to $20.00 were handed over to Mrs. John Shull for the Red Cross.

There was a fair crowd and all present had such a good time, that they concurred in Mr. Drewyor's hope that other similar socials would be given.

Mrs. John Nyland, wishes to request her committee, to kindly measure, all knitted goods with a yard stick and not with a tape line, as the tape pulls the goods, and they are apt to be short of the required measurements.

The Warsaw Red Cross has asked the Red Cross Concert Company to give a concert in a new barn, now in course of erection, before the hay is put in. It will take place about the 20th and the Warsaw ladies will sell ice cream and refreshments after the concert, which will be followed by a dance. The Earl Smith farm is 15 miles from Tecumseh, 10 from Adrian, and two miles south from Pentecost station. Further particulars later.

The appeal for workers for pajamas brought two responses, from ladies who will take the work home, but we need many more. Please come and give your services; do not be fair weather Americans, who will only stand by Uncle Sam, when he does not need you, and fail him when he asks your help, for the first time in your life. Mrs. Lowe, Tel 178, is trying her hardest to fill her quota for the month, but she cannot do it with just a few workers. Do not let us have to beg so hard for help.

The Red Cross is already making provision to train the crippled soldiers in vocational work. She is not going to wait until our men actually return, but the training facilities are being provided now, through the gift of Jeremiah Milbank in the Red Cross Institute for Crippled and Disabled Men. At this institution classes in the making of artificial limbs, ox-acetylone welding printing and mechanical drafting are already under way, and an employment bureau has been in operation for some time. Committees to assist in the work of the government have been organized in a number of big cities.

The government will make use of all private assistance offered if it is found to be of value. But in every instance the expense of instruction will be met by the goverment, so that the disabled American soldier will in no wise be dependent on charity.

The best artificial arms, legs, or other appliances will be provided, and the crippled soldeirs will have the privilege of self support, rather than the ignominy of dependence.

What can be done by cripples who are traied to overcome their disabilities, is proven by one of the leading manufacturers of artificial limbs in the U. S. The two heads of the firm are one-legged themselves and they have always made it a rule to employ no man or woman who has not lost a leg or an arm, yet they turn out artificial limbs equal to any, and their business is enormous.

Who knows but it may be some boy from among us, who may need this training, and the mother arms of the Red Cross are already prepared to take care of him, the moment he lands, and not to wait until idleness and despair at his uselessness has eaten his heart away.

But all this costs money, money and work; you who shudder at a cut in your finger, will you deny your help to the Red Cross that alone in the world can make men out of the boys who have given their manhood that you may be safe? It is a privilege that we are allowed to assist in this work, a small return for the protection given us.

Publicity Director.

LAWN PARTY

From 4 to 6 Friday afternoon Mrs. S. W. Boyce and Miss Mabel Kenny, with their Sunday-school classes to the number of 19, were delightfully entertained at the home of Miss Ella Mathias, in honor of Miss Frances Alvord, one of their number who will soon leave for her future home in Detroit.

A very appetizing lunch was served after which Miss Frances was presented with boxes of stationery and candy by the president Miss Wylma Nye, in behalf of the members. Entertainment in the form of [illegible]s and a contest including activities in the vocation of sewing was enjoyed by all.

REV. WIDDIFIELD SOON TO RETURN TO HIS CHURCH WORK IN TECUMSEH AND CLINTON

Mr. Lester Rogers has just received the following letter form Rev. Widdifield, announcing his return to the United States this fall to resume his pastorate in St. Peter's Episcopal church:

May 12th, 1918.

My Dear Rogers:

It seems a goodly while since I have written you, but I have tried to write to some one in Tecumseh or Clinton at as regular intervals as I can. In this way I feel that you will perhaps learn something of me and know that I have not by any means forgotten you.

But I want to write you today, for I have really formed as definite a decision as I can about the future, that is the near future. As you doubtless know, for I think that I told you before, I have been thinking some time of whether I should remain over here for another winter or not. It has been a hard thing to decide, as there was a good deal to be said either way. Had I decided to stay I would today be writing you my resignation from the parish as it is not at all fair to you to keep you in your present state for as indefinite a period as the term "duration of the war" seems to imply today. But my decision has been the other way and I trust that I shall be back with you in September to take up my regular work again.

As my plans now stand I shall probably return the latter part of July or the early part of August and spend some time with my parents before coming to Tecumseh for the winter.

You know that I have had many different kinds of work since being over here—can you believe that now I am running the "movies" for our divisional area. I have two permanent electric machines (with Delco gas engines to generate the juice) in two of the huts, but I take care of the rest of the places with portable acetylene machines. I have two of these latter and an operator for each. I have to change the location of each every day. Then in addition I have a small portable electric projector running off storage ce.ls. This is very useful where we only have small detachments of men as it gives a perfect picture up to about four feet square, using the same film as the standard machine. This [illegible] myself giving a show every evening. On Sundays I have a [illegible] and become a parson again. On week nights I have five shows going [illegible] night. Our area is about [illegible] long and comprises some [illegible]ces, so the transportation [illegible] me busy all day.

At present I am in Paris whither I have come to get a new Ford truck for my end of the game. I went down to the port for it and am just now waiting for the proper papers to allow its being taken into the advance army area. The drive up from the port was wonderfully beautiful and the springtime added to its delight. The wild flowers were abundant everywhere along the road. Primroses, violets, hyacinths, daises and many others mingled their colors, with the blossoms of the hedges and the new green of the fields and trees. It was very refreshing to drive hour after hour through this country and realize that there was this section of France apparently still untouched by the ravaging hand of war.

I know that you think that there should be a wholelot to write in a letter from over here, but really there isn't. There are many things happening and many experiences to be gone through, but it is impossible to write about some and very difficult to write about the others. I am beginning to look forward to the time when we can sit down and chat over it all over a good cigar. In the meantime I can only send you all my best wishes.

Faithfully yours,
James G. Widdifield.

COL. DANIEL E. SOPER OF CHATTANOOGA, TENN. CELEBRATES HIS 77th BIRTHDAY

In a late issue we mentioned the fact that Dr. North had received an invitation to a stag party given by Daniel E. Soper, June 3rd.

In an issue of the Daily Times of Chattanooga, we find quite an extended account of the affair which proved to be a celebration of Mr. Soper's 77th birthday. 86 letters and telegrams were received by Mr. Soper from friends from SanFrancisco to London.

The party assumed a patriotic nature in view of the startling war news received that day. Among the guests who were called upon for a speech we find the name of Dr. E. C. Anderson one of our former Tecumseh boys, son of Mrs. Henry Anderson. Col. Soper then gave reminiscences of his 77 years, which proved quite interesting to his guests. A guest cake with 77 lighted candles was brought in by a young lady and as she passed the electric fan, the current extinguished about half of the candles, "Why said she, I started with 77 lighted candles but the fan has declared that I was wrong and Col. Soper is only 40 years old."

Col. Soper is one of our Tecumseh boys and has a warm place in his heart for his old home and friends. who will be intereted in his party and wish for him many happy returns of the day.

FENIMORE EGGART

Fenimore, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Eggart of Macon, passed away Sunday afternoon, June 9th, 1918, at the age of 4 years, after an illness of a week from diphtheria. Private funeral Monday afternoon.

COMMUNICATION

To the Telephone Co. Patrons of Tecumseh:

There seems to be some misunderstanding on the part of the public as to our being rather hasty in our decision of striking. In one of our local papers it was stated that we were told by the manager that the raise would be considered. If this were true, why the strike? However we were told that nothing had been decided one way or the other and that it would not be right away, anyhow.

Our demand was simply for a raise of 5 cents an hour, making an increase of from $1.20 to $1.60 for an 8 hour day. This calling for 6 trips. Could you live on $1.20 a day, paying room and board? Try it.

As to the statement that the company refused to take back any of the striking employees, we are not at all surprised. However, our sole purpose in setting forth this communication is to show the justice of our demand in asking for a living wage.

FLAG PROCLAMATION

By the Governor

Flag Day seems to have been first observed in 1894, when, by order of the Governor of New York, the nation flag was hoisted on the public buildings of that state in honor of the one hundred and seventeenth anniversary of its adoption by congress, June 14th, 1777. The idea has spread until every state in the Union has adopted the custom.

This year the flag has for us a deeper meaning than ever before. It means more to the world. It carries a message of universal hope and cheer. It has become the symbol of the world's freedom. The world looks to us to save it, and by this sign we shall conquer. Our glorious banner proclaims America the hope of the world.

Let Flag Day be a day on which those who have come to us from other lands, and have here found freedom and opportunity, shall re-affirm their loyalty to the United States and her institutions; and let us all on that day pledge anew our allegiance to our flag and our faith in those principles of liberty and justice upon which the Republic was founded.

Therefore, I, ALBERT E SLEEPER, Governor of the State of Michigan, do issue this my Proclamation, and urgently request that Friday, the fourteenth day of June, 1918, be observed as Flag Day.

Let flags be displayed on both public and private buildings; and I suggest that appropriate exercises be given in the schools of the State on the afternoon of that day.

Given under my hand the Great Seal of the State, this sixth day of June, in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and eighteen, and of the Commonwealth the eighty-second.

ALBERT E. SLEEPER.
Governor.

By the Governor:
COLEMAN C. VAUGHAN,
Secretary of State.

FOOD ADMINISTRATOR GEORGE A. PRESCOTT SAYS TODAY

Every available nurse in Michigan is needed by the government to care for the sick and wounded soldiers at the front and our boys in the training camps in this country.

Through the Red Cross the government has issued an appeal to enroll thousands of nurses for military and naval services at once.

Persons of means may help by disposing of the services of nurses who are serving as companions and governesses and eliminating the calling of a nurse in minor illness.

Chronic invalids in many cases can dismiss their nurses. Housewives and older women, who have had experience in the care of the sick, can relieve these nurses by offering their services to physicians and nurses' registeries, who have many calls for experienced nurses.

Free that nurse! Tell her to enroll with the Red Cross and be ready when called.

BOX SOCIAL

A fair crowd of young folks gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Drewyour on the Shull farm east of town on Saturday evening for a box social.

Games and music furnished the entertainment. Mr. Drewyour acted as auctioneer, the boxes selling for a good price. $20 was realized and given to the Red Cross. It was a late hour when the guests left for their homes and they all report a delightful evening.

Class!

Some folks used to think the government had no business interfering even with rates of fare. But now—as a war-winning measure—we raise no protest when the President regulates bread prices, transportation—and even styles!

The National Defense Board asked clothiers to buy only "simplified" styles, so that the supply of wool might be conserved. We are now showing these simplified styles, but you needn't think they are commonplace just because the patch pockets, belts and other useless decorations have been cut out.

They're the classiest looking garments we have seen in many a day. When you see what the Clothcraft Shops have evolved—looks and fit and wear all there—at $15 to $30—you'll begin to believe all the more in Clothcraft Scientific Tailoring!

Capt. H. H. Hanna is doing some good work with the Eagle Marcnihg Club and the fellows are showing a good deal of interest in the drills and are trying hard to master the many commands and movements. Last Friday there was a fair turnout and some good work was done, but if this Marchng Club is to be a success, more attention to reporting to drills must be adhered to. Over one hundred men signed up on the membership role and Friday night's role call only showed about one half present. This will never do, fellows, if you want a well drilled marching club. You can't expect to learn if you chase off in your autos, go fishing or absent yourself on drill nights. You're not knowing the commands will throw out your whole squad and make a bad break in the whole company, Then again Capt. Hanna is not going to give his time and energy to this work if your interest lags.

We have heard that some are peevish because, they claim that the Eagle Lodge is calling the company their marching club and that they are trying to control it, etc. The only interest this lodge has in the marching club is that they are anxious that it shall be a success. They are not trying to make Eagles of the men in the company who are not already connected with their lodge. As far as the name is concerned, why shouldn't it be called "The Eagles' Marching Club?" Who proposed it anyway? Who is trying to give Tecumseh a good band? Who is putting up the funds for the band?

We certainly hope that there is no one in Tecumseh so simple as to knock the Eagle Lodge for this splendid work they are doing. These are patriotic days and everything military is running strong. Let us drop personalities, jealousies, petty nothingness, etc., and get down to the business of giving Tecumseh a fine marching club and a good band.

Let's have a hundred men out to drill tonight. The drill lasts only an hour and ought not to interfere much with anyone's plans for the evening. Remember that the order to fall in will be given promptly at 7 o'clock and don't come straggling along at 7:15.

VICTORY TO PERSHING

General Was in Full Command of Yanks at Cantigny.

Members of Senate Military Committee Told How Americans Captured Town From Foe.

Washington, June 10.—General Pershing personally directed the fighting of the American troops at Cantigny, where the Germans were driven out with a loss of 200 prisoners, members of the senate military committee were told at their weekly conference with war department officials.

The village was taken by the Americans May 23, and all German attempts to recapture it have been in vain.

The important part American troops have taken in checking the recent German drive was told to the senators, who were informed that the advance probably has been stopped for the time being.

At the same time it was revealed that the Americans stopped the German advance just in time. A few miles additional gain by Hindenburg at that point and some of the French munition factories would have been within reach of the German long-range guns.

Pershing's presence at Cantigny shows the victory there bore the trademark "Made in America"—from the commanding officer down to the rookie.

The general situation now on the west front is favorable, the senate committee was told. The German attack was virtually stopped in six days.

Ordnance production in this country is greatly improved now. A number of heavy Browning guns are being turned out, it was said.

Russia and the United States.

The old autocratic government of Russia was always particularly friendly to the United States. During the Revolutionary war Russia offered to mediate for peace and her offer was accepted by the United States but declined by Great Britain. Russia was one of the first governments to recognize the independence of the United States and continued to show her good will by making treaties of amity and commerce with the United States. Several of our early presidents in their messages referred to "the continued friendship of Russia." In 1823, Russia proposed a friendly adjustment through diplomatic channels of the boundary line between American and Russian possessions in the Northwest and President Monroe authorized the United States minister to Russia to attend to the matter. In doing so he said: "The government of the United States has been desirous by this friendly proceeding to manifest the great value which they have invariably attached to the friendship of Russia and their solicitude to cultivate the best understanding with that government."

GERMANS OPEN NEW DRIVE ON PICARDY LINE

Launch Offensive on Twenty-Mile Front After Heavy Bombardment.

FRENCH FULLY PREPARED

Preliminary Bombardment Met by Terrific Counter Shelling by Petain's Guns—Infantry Now Engaged in Savage Battle.

Paris, June 10.—The Germans at dawn Sunday opened a new terrific offensive, choosing the southern line of their Picardy wedge, from Noyon to Montdidier, some 20 miles in extent, as their attacking front.

A violent artillery bombardment, which began at midnight, ushered in the new drive, which may have either Amiens or Paris, or both, as its objective.

This time the Teutons did not have a "walkover," however. Even the preliminary bombardment was met by terrific counter shelling from the French heavy guns, and when the infantry attack began at 4:30 o'clock the Germans found the French fully prepared and resisting with a tenacity which the Paris day communique described as "magnificent."

Attack on 18-Mile Front.

The new German offensive is on a front of only 15 to 18 miles, compared with a front of 50 miles for the first March offensive, and of 25 miles for the Aisne onslaught. This is regarded as indicating a diminution of power of the attacking masses.

The drive on the Montdidier-Noyon line was coupled with a terrific bombardment of the British lines immediately on the French left, its brunt falling on the defenses before Amiens.

Field Marshal Haig reported the entire line from Villers Bretonneux, nine miles east of Albert, to Albert, a distance of eleven miles, to be under exceptionally heavy artillery fire.

Extension of the new German drive to this region for the purpose of a direct blow at Amiens is expected.

In Flanders at Givenchy and Robecq, the German guns were also busy.

Americans in Battle Zone.

A large force of Americans has been holding ground along the new fighting line and are believed in action.

"Up to about mid-morning," says the Reuter correspondent at French headquarters, "the enemy advance on the Montdidier-Noyon line was confined to our advance zone. Our principal line of resistance was not touched."

French Statement.

Paris, June 10.—The war office night statement follows:

The fresh German offensive which began Sunday morning continues violently on a front of 35 kilometers (nearly 22 miles) between Montdidier and the Oise.

Important enemy forces multiplied their efforts to force our line.

Our troops throughout sustained the enemy shock, offering stubborn resistance and slowing the enemy's advance.

On our left, the enemy did not succeed in crossing our covering zone and is strongly held on the line, Ribecourt-Lefere-Mortemer, which the enemy has reached.

The enemy's progress was greater in the center.

After successive attacks in which he made great sacrifices of troops, the enemy gained a footing in the villages of Bessons-Sur-Metz and Marcuil, where our front-line units are resisting foot for foot.

On our right the enemy also encountered resistance. Despite his repeated efforts, we maintained the front Balval-Connectancourt.

At the same hour the French captured Eloup wood, and this morning the wood directly south of Bussiares. In these operations we took 200 prisoners, including five officers.

American Statement.

Headquarters of American expeditionary forces June 8:

Section A—Northwest of Chateau Thierry hostile attacks were made on a front of two miles during the night, after artillery preparation. These were repulsed with heavy losses to the enemy, without having reached our lines at any point.

There is nothing to report from the other points occupied by our troops.

British Statement.

London, June 10.—The report says:

English troops carried out a successful raid south of Beaumont-Hamel and captured 30 prisoners. A few prisoners were captured also by the French troops in a successful raid north of Bailleul.

Hostile raids were repulsed southeast and east of Arras and in the neighborhood of Givenchy-Les-La-Bassee.

The hostile artillery activity has been above normal on the southern portion of our front.

Berlin Statement.

Berlin, June 10.—"An attempted attack northwest of Chateau Thierry (Marne front) failed with heavy losses," says a war office announcement. Prisoners were taken by the Germans, it adds.

Attacks by allied troops around Chateau Thierry and counter-attacks on the Ardre river resulted in unimportant gains of territory, according to the official report from general headquarters on Saturday. The report goes on to say that attacks by Americans, British and French regiments broke down.

[The gains mentioned are in the region where American troops have been fighting for several days. Berlin for the first time mentions American regiments in the official report.]

WIN BIG AIR BATTLE

Five British Flyers Defeat Twelve Huns.

German Machine Falls in Flames and Plunges Into Sea—More Americans Win Honors.

The Hague, June 10.—Five British and twelve German seaplanes of the largest type fought a battle in the evening off the Dutch coast, according to a Terschelling dispatch to the Handelsblad. One of the German machines was observed to fall in flames into the sea. One British machine was forced to descend, but landed safely.

Another British machine which had descended to the surface of the sea for repairs because of a defect in the propeller two hours before the battle was later set on fire by its five occupants, all of whom waded ashore and gave themselves up for internment. The crew included two Canadians.

The British machines were a squadron of five seaplanes which started on a reconnoitering expedition off the northern Dutch coast. During the afternoon they had met a squadron of five German planes, which were driven off.

The Germans, however, returned, reinforced by seven seaplanes. A lively fight ensued and in addition to the German machine which fell in flames another German was brought down.

London, June 10.—Aerial operations by the British are described in an official statement issued as follows:

"Bombing was active on both sides. We dropped 23 tons of bombs on railway junctions, airdromes and dumps beyond the German lines.

"Twelve machines were brought down by our airmen and seven were driven down out of control. We lost three machines."

Paris, June 10.—American airmen in the French army distinguished themselves in the second battle of the Marne. These men were members of the Lafayette Corps.

Sergt. David L. Putnam of Brookline, Mass., brought down two enemy planes and was cited twice in an order of the day. This makes his official total six, in addition to six planes brought down, but unofficially reported.

Charles Veil of East Palestine, O., and Alfred H. Stanley of Elmira, N. Y., each brought down one German plane.

MELT U.S. DOLLARS TO RUPEES

About $62,000,000 Transformed by the British for Use in Paying Indian Soldiers.

Washington, June 10.—American silver dollars now have been transformed into rupees of British India and other smaller coins used to pay Indian soldiers. In exchange the United States government has obtained a quantity of rupee credit or foreign exchange for use of importers in paying their debts in India. About 02,000,000 silver dollars now have been melted into bullion under the recent silver bill; according to a treasury report and most of this has been shipped to India.

HAYDEN MILLING COMPANY

Working to Capacity on Government Orders

Flour Goes to Seaboard for Foreign Shipments

The Hayden Milling Company have been grinding flour on Government contracts for some months and practically all of their flour is now being shipped to seaboard ports for foreign shipments. Before the United States entered the war this mill had to turn out from 45 to 50 bbls. per day to take care of the local demand, now the amount going to local trade has been cut down to 18 or 20 bbls. per week.

During the month of May 1240 bbls. of flour were shipped to the East on Government contracts and the mill has been running 24 hours per day trying to keep up with their orders. Nearly all of the wheat used was grown in this locality, but we were told at the mill that the supply on hand was almost exhausted and unless the farmers who were still holding some of their wheat, sold soon, they would have to ship in in carload lots.

The export business is nothing new for this mill, for years ago they carried on an export business in flour with commission houses principally located in Ireland.

PLAN TO DRAFT DOCTORS

American Medical Association Organizes Corps to Serve—Insignia to Expose Slackers.

Chicago, June 10.—Conscription of doctors for service in the army and navy will be the result of the creation of the Volunteer Medical Service corps, as its workings were explained at the first meeting in connection with the convention of the American Medical association. Reports from most of the states are encouraging and indicates that Uncle Sam's fighting men will be backed to the limit by medical men in service within a short time. Laggards, however, will be "smoked out" through the volunteer corps. It will be a "home guard" of doctors and the members will be designated by a badge from the national council of defense. Hence, a doctor who is not in uniform or does not wear the corps insignia will be identified instantly as one who has not expressed a willingness to serve his country. One of the problems in all the states appears to be to prevent all the doctors in a local community from deserting the civilian population and jumping into the army.

MRS. GOULD-SHEPARD ILL

Well-Known New York Woman Stricken With Appendicitis—May Avoid Operation.

New York, June 10.—Mrs. Finley J. Shepard, formerly Miss Helen Gould, is seriously ill with appendicitis at her home in Fifth avenue. The attending physicians reported that her condition is satisfactory, and it is hoped an operation may be avoided.

ROUTSEN—BRAUM

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Routsen on Friday, June 7th, 1918, at 1 o'clock p. m., when their daughter Miss Ella became the bride of Edward M. Braum of Lorain, O. Twenty-five guests were present. Pink and white peonies were used in the decorations of the home.

Promptly to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Wilfred Waldron, the bridal couple took their places before a bank of pink and white flowers, Dr. W. J. Balmer pronouncing the words that made these two one, using the double ring service.

The bride was attended by Miss Bertha Lovell William Routsen, a brother of the bride, acting as best man. Barbara Williamson and Wilbur Routsen carried the rings.

At the close of the ceremony Miss Lillian Kennedy sang "O Promise Me."

The bride wore a gown of white silk with lace over-dress and pearl trimmings and carried white roses. The bridesmaid wore pink silk with lace trimmings and carried pink carnations.

After congratulations and best wishes, a three course dinner was served with Mrs. Alex Reed caterer. The tables were prettily decorated in pink and white with a spray of syringa at each plate. Dinner was served by the Misses Marjorie Field, Georgianna Conklin, Janetta Hall and Gertrude Turner.

The bride presented the bride's maid with a hand painted cup and saucer, the best man a gold tie pin and each of those who assisted a hand painted plate.

Many presents of silver, linen, etc., attested to the esteem in which the bride was held by her many friends.

After a short wedding trip to Grand Rapids and Fruitport, Mich., the newly-weds will be at home in Lorain, O., where Mr. Braum is engaged in the grocery business.

The out-of-town guests were Mrs. Lacey Farwell of Quincey; Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Braum and Mrs. Emma Braum of Lorain, O.

PARIS IS WARNED OF PERIL

Socialist Deputy Says New Drive May Put Capital Under Continuous Fire.

Paris, June 10.—In an article in the Matin dealing with the recent appointment of the Paris committee of defense, Frederic Brunet, a socialist deputy, says:

"By another drive made without regard to sacrifices, the Germans, if they did not enter Paris, perhaps could approach near enough to hold the capital under the fire of long-range guns, not, as now, for an intermittent bombardment, but for methodic, permanent fire.

"Such conditions would render industrial life impossible and the government's will to resist must not be influenced by the fear of sacrificing the lives of noncombatants or by fear of the consequences which a cessation of the output of the munition factories surrounding the capital would entail.

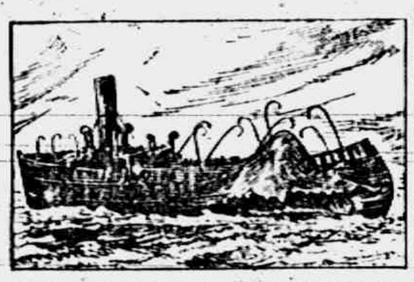
Anniversary of the Battle Cruiser Yosemite in Spanish-American War

On Friday, June 28, will be observed in numerous Michigan homes the anniversary of an event which looms large in the memories of many people in the state. The day marks the passage of twenty years since that twenty-eighth of June, 1898, when the nine officers and 260 men of Michigan's Naval Militia marked the climax of their service in the United States navy by destroying the "Antonio Lopez," a steamer that was bringing war munitions from Europe for the aid and comfort of the Spanish armies in Cuba and Porto Rico.

The history of this important episode of the Spanish-American war is contained in the book, "The Log Of The Yosemite," written by Truman H. Newberry. Newberry was then a lieutenant on the cruiser Yosemite, engaged in blockade service off the port of San Juan de Porto Rico. Since then, and mainly because of the splendid showing he made in this service, he has served as secretary of the navy under President Roosevelt and is now a commander of the Third Naval District and candidate for the United States senate. The following excerpts are taken from the report of Commander W. H. Emory, who was in charge of the Yosemite during the fight, as it appears in the book.



DRAWING BY TOM MAY FROM ORIGINAL PHOTOGRAPH.

Spanish Steamer "Antonio Lopez" Driven Ashore by Gunfire of "Yosemite," Truman H. Newberry, Lieutenant, in Spanish-American War.

"I have the honor to report that about 5:30 o'clock on the morning of Tuesday, June 28, we sighted a steamer to the westward, about two miles distant. * * * * * The Yosemite was headed for the stranger. * * * * Seeing our intention, the steamer was instantly headed for the shore and beached on the reef, six miles to the westward of Morro Castle. * * * * The Yosemite remained in the vicinity of this position for some time, during which shell and shrapnel were discharged at the Spaniard. When it was deemed that the steamer was sufficiently disabled the Yosemite steamed for a Spanish cruiser and gunboat which had come to the relief of the beached steamer. During this period, I was much surprised to find that the guns of Morro and the water battery below it had the exact range of the Yosemite's position and were effective at that distance. * * * * Many projectiles of large calibre passed over the Yosemite * * * * and although the enemy made excellent line shots, some very near to the ship, she was not struck once. * * * * Our fire seemed to be very effective and made the Spanish cruiser join her consort, the gunboat, in seeking shelter under the guns of Morro. * * * * The spirit and behavior of the officers and crew was in every way highly commendable."

With Commander Newberry and many others of the old crew of the "Yosemite" again serving their country, there will be no official celebration of the anniversary this year. However, all of the survivors of the battle of twenty years ago and their families will live the stirring day over again in memory.

Overland

A True Story

This week a farmer called and wanted an Overland car in preference to all other makes because he had been making inquiries among his friends who had cars, and they had told him the Overland does give satisfaction, that nothing much ever gets out of order, that it will climb the hills and go through sand, and best of all has a low gasoline consumption

You can safely buy any Overland model without having seen it, just on the testimony of other Overland users.

FIRST IMPRESSIONS

But when you do see it, your first impression is of its beauty, then its spacious interior, followed by the revelation of its comfort.

Then comes delight in its completeness, electric lighting and starting, convenient and simple control, etc.

AS GOOD TO USE AS IT IS TO LOOK AT

The powerful spirited motor seems to exult in the demands you put upon it.

It is economical of fuel and saving of tires.

It has big-car stylish design, is easy to operate, has narrow turning radius, and performs equally well on hill, straightway, or in congested traffic.

It has rear cantilever springs, 106 inch wheelbase, 31x4 inch tires, non skid rear, and vacuum fuel system.

WHAT IS THE USE OF WAITING?

You are thinking of buying a car; what is the use of waiting? If you haven't a car now, you know how much time you lose on the road; how your neighbor can get to church or to town or to Grange meeting in one-fifth the time you can; he doesn't have to stop and hitch up; he can work in the field later than you can and still get out in the evening; if anything breaks or is needed in a hurry he can get to town and be back in the field while you are still on the road.

If you have a car now and want a new one, you couldn't have a better time to dispose of your old one; used cars are in demand; new cars are getting scarcer; 1918 is a better year to buy than 1919 will be.

Don't waste another week of good roads and perfect June weather. Call us up and let us bring you one to try before another Sunday.

629 SHIPS MADE IN FIVE MONTHS

United States Merchant Fleet Now Totals Ten Million Tons.

IS NEXT TO GREAT BRITAIN

Includes All New Vessels Built Under Direction of the Shipping Board and Thousands of Other Craft.

Washington, June 10.—The steady growth of the American merchant marine in all classes of vessels was revealed for the first time since the war began in statistics from the department of commerce, showing that in the first five months of this year there have been built in this country and officially numbered by the bureau of navigation a total of 629 vessels of 687,055 gross tons.

The merchant fleet of the United States now amounts to approximately 10,000,000 gross tons, not including merchant craft under control of the army and navy as transports and supply ships. At the beginning of January 26,742 merchant vessels of 9,343,224 gross tons were flying the Stars and Stripes.

Second Only to Great Britain.

This tremendous fleet is second only to the merchant tonnage of Great Britain. It includes all the new vessels built under the direction of the shipping board and thousands of other ships.

All merchant vessels are required to register with the bureau of navigation of the department of commerce and to receive an official identification number, before being permitted to fly the flag of the United States. The number is awarded when the finished ship is measured for gross tonnage capacity, which is the content of the ship in terms of 100 cubic feet.

The shipping board, building exclusively cargo ships, has adopted deadweight tonnage as the medium of computing new tonnage, deadweight capacity being the actual weight of cargo and bunker coal which can be carried.

Increase Is Steady.

The deadweight tonnage of a cargo ship is about 50 per cent greater than its gross tonnage, but in a passenger vessel is less, because the space is occupied by passenger accommodations.

There has been a steady increase in new ships this year, the May tonnage being three time as great as the January output. In the first month of 1918 there were 57 ships of 64,795 tons given official numbers.

In February 84 ships of 177,601 gross tons were numbered. March saw a notable jump in the production of small ships, numbers being awarded to 138, the tonnage being 147,145. The record in April was 165 ships of 163,350 tons and in May 185 ships of 194,461 tons.

More Concrete Ships.

Evidence that the government regards the concrete ship as having passed beyond the stage of experiment to become a practical and efficient aid in the country's transportation system, was given in a statement by the shipping board, showing that five different branches of the government contemplate building concrete vessels.

Chairman Hurley soon will place contracts for 24 more concrete vessels, in addition to the 18 already let, making a total tonnage of 298,500 ordered by the shipping board. Most of the new ships will be 7,500-ton tankers and will be built in the five government yards announced several days ago.

The Crucial Decision

6% BONDS

In every one of us there is something which people call the "sporting" instinct. Strictly interpreted it means the desire or willingness to take a chance on the prospect of big profit. Sooner or later each of us faces a crucial moment when we must decide whether to risk our money and our happiness on the chance of big winnings or to follow the dictates of wisdom and "play safe" as it were. It is the old story of the tortoise and the hare told anew. Nine times out of ten the man who chooses safety is the big winner. Good Real Estate 6% First Mortgage Serial Bonds offer the utmost in safety and stability. You face not one single danger of loss when you invest your money in them. Let your decision be to "play it safe."

CLASS OF 1918

Follow'g are the Class Prophecy and Class Will as Given at the Class Day Exercises Monday Evening

PROPHECY OF CLASS OF 1918

Lillis Howard

The power of prophecy is a gift, not possessed by common mortals, but given exclusively to people of that mysterious, supernatural realm of which my kin are the most celebrated. It has taken many years to gain this proficiency, but we have now reduced it to a science, so by means of Black Cat, my broomstick and secret charms I shall be able to read your future in this kettle.

Black Cat, Black Cat, pray tell me,
In that kettle, what you can see;
Future Class '18 come to view,
Hicky, sicky, ficky, fue.

Ah-I see a vapor rising, and who appears but Dorothy M. Balmer. Dorothy M. Balmer! Why, that's a queer name. Oh, I see now. Dorothy has always been of a generous nature and still retains that characteristic, as I can see that she is willing to be of Service and bury all her relatives. This young lady went to New York City and there learned the undertaking business, and it can be easily seen what an efficient undertaker she is, as she can not only officiate at the funerals, but also, on account of her wonderful voice, she is able to furnish the music.

As she passes out of sight, Marjorie Boyce walks in. Marjorie has travelled around the world and has taken in extended musical course in Paris. But on returning, instead of touring the States, her quiet peaceful nature has forced her to choose an attracive spot half-way between Tecumseh and Clinton, where she has become Harpist, or would it be more proper to say Harper?

Marjorie has vanished and here stands Lucile Camp. Lucile has tried nursing, singing, acting, and a great number of other professions, but these have not quite suited her. They lack a certain charm and attractiveness. Although she was offered a whole Forrest, she has not even taken a crooked stick. But at last she has accepted a position in a newly established department at Washington D. C., where she seems perfectly happy and contented, namely, the "Opinion Bureau," where ladies may learn whether their hats should sit at a 45 or 90 degree angle, and whether they are more attractive in sky blue or Nile green.

The scene shifts to another part of the capitol city to the Supreme Court bench and whom should I see as Chief Justice but Wade VanValkenburg. Wade and his colleagues have just finished judging a German spy case, and now, surrounded by an attentive group of friends, to whom, with wonderful gestures, he is describing, how in the days of war, he succeeded in blowing up the Kaiser's private ship. But at this moment one of his friends glances at a figure working diligently in the corner of the room. Wade stops and answering the question written in the young man's face, remarks, "Why, she's a Pearl, Feller." And sure enough, here is Pearl, just recording the last case with many flourishes of the pen. And it can be seen what an efficient clerk she is as Wade gallantly describes how thru much effort, he has secured her to work in his office.

And now appears Margretta Gibson, the great bank accountant. After being engaged to actors, newspaper reporters, singers, doctors, lawyers and men of a great number of other professions she finally decided upon a broker, and is now located in New York City, not far from Wall Street where she keeps all records of her husband's accounts.

But who is this young lady rushing into the scene? Who can she be? Evidently a stenographer. But is she working in the office now? For from it. She has captured the attentions of a young marine, and regardless of office hours, they can now be seen gliding down the Raisin River in a submarine chaser, where he is telling Adah Howe-he loves her- -Country.

What does this great crowd of people mean around this large drug store in New York City? One, after much pushing and scrambling, may at last force his way to the window, where mammoth cartoons are posted, picturing the effects of the medicines sold there, before and after taking. So effective are the cartoons, that the crowd does not stop merely to gaze at the window, but surges into the store where Leslie Johnstone and his helpers cannot begin to wait on the numerous customers.

Leslie vanishes and here is Mildred Lamkin. After taking a post-graduate course, Mildred went to a large business university where she graduated with high honors, but the call of the wild was too much for her and now she enjoying farm life and raising Shetland ponies. Mildred has established such a thriving business that it has enabled her to buy a Ford, in which she drives around the councountry, delivering her live stock.

Mildred drives out of sight and a large Detroit house looms into view. In the window hangs these signs: "Rooms to let, $5 up, mostly up," "Meals at all times of day." "Dishwashers wanted." Now the interior of the house appears tnd I can see Luella Lowry, in the most masterly manner managing the kitchen, while Ann McKendry has charge of the rooms and the elevator.

How stifling the vapor is getting! What can be the reason. Oh, I see why it it. It is getting mixed with the fumes of the deadliest gas ever manufactured. It comes from a great chemical laboratory where Leigh McLain has just finished bottling up this product, and now he is packing his trunk, ready to take the next ship across the Atlantic. The scene grows dim, but again, it appears more brilliant than before, with Leigh rushing down the street in Paris, with his old classmate, General Joseph Charles Satterthwaite. After a few brief words, the two friends part and Joe boards the next aeroplane for Berlin. By secret passage he enters the royal palace where the Kaiser and his general VonHindeburg are eating their evening meal. As the two men turn their hideous heads around, to ask for more food, Joe suddenly rushes in, and with full force, sends the entire bottle of gas into the nostrils of the villians, and they both fall over, dead as door nails.

The vapor changes to a savory odor. I begin to feel pangs of hunger, for here is a Toledo bakery. A traveling sales-woman enters to buy a lunch and suddenly cries out, "Why Albertine, is this really you? What a thriving business you have!" To this Albertine joyfully replies, "Why that's because I'm Sha[illegible]. But who is this saleswoman? Why, it is Goldie Palman. Godlie is selling high grade line of shoes, being the chief saleswoman for Marshall Field's and making all the way from 50c to $50 per week."

What, France? Yes this is France. And what does the sign read? "French War Orphan Asylum," conducted by the Misses Reed, Onsted and VanWinkle." Sure enough here is Kathryn, waltzing up and down the main boulevard of Paris, wheeling twins, and triples hanging to her skirts, while Loleta is in the main office, reckoning up how much Tecumseh and all other great places of the United States have contributed to this cause. Kathryn has now returned from her walk and she and Loleta are discussing old times when two callers are aunnounced and shown into the room.

Their eyes behold Irene Richards, a blushing bride, leading a bashful young groom, whom they hasten to greet, and listen to an account of her wonderful honeymoon, where she constantly Brag(gs) about the Victor who won her hand. The orphans seem in a wonderfully thriving condition, but why should we wonder at this, when we see who is head of the culinary department? Florence VanWinkle! Florence is now giving orders to the servants, but she evidently will not be doing this long. In the distance I can see a Russian Prince with a name as long as his whiskers, beckoning to her with his long finger- -but the scene grows dim and the rest is a mystery.

And here is Esther Raymond dancing along as happy as can be. Esther graduated from Ferris Institute, and then went to Washington, her native state, where she expected to enjoy life to the utmost. But the memories of old Michigan brought the solid, transparent, self-explaining compound of emotion to her eyes, and so lured by the Wolverine, she rode back over many a weary mile in order to see her friends once more. After visiting Detroit several times, she finally settled there, and as a diversion, wrotea bookof nursery rhymes, the rhyme on the first page reading thus:

I went to the bakery to get a loaf of bread;
I came from the bakery with a man instead.

I hear the click of the typewriter and I can see Ruby Reckner's nimble fingers racing over the keys. Ruby has won first prize in a typewriter contest, establishing the world record of 177 words per minute, and President Wilson has now given her the position of chief stenographer to Jeanette Rankin.

The sound of the keys comes no longer from a typewriter, but from a piano where an accompaniment is being played. Soft and sweet I can hear C. above the staff reached by Edna Taylor's soprano voice, as she is aiding in a Red Cross concert given at Pennington's Corners by Ruth Roberts and a heroic friend who has just returned from "Over There." Edna has even been able to lull Theodore Roosevelt into a calm state of mind, after he has for some time been persistently begging the President to let him go across and make way with the few remaining Germans.

I said a concert at Pennington's Corners. Ruth no longer sings, "Johny, get your gun, get your gun, get your gun," but "When Johnny came marching home."

The sound dies away, and instead a printing office rises out of the vapor. What is this? Oh yes. "The Newburg Astonished," with Neal Rentschler as chief of the Smile and Grin Department. Neal also does cartooning, becoming quite famous especially for his wonderful circus posters. In his window is a sign "Girl wanted." Before and after hours, he tours the country, trying to convince circus leaders that there is really no better place than Newburg for them to exhibit.

I can see a Ladies' Aid society and side by side, not like the gingham dog and calico cat, but as happy and contented, as could be wished, sit Myrtle Steves and Eulah Stephenson. These two ladies are discussing receipts for canning, cooking and baking. The afternoon being sultry the meeting becomes tiresome, and Eulah, fanning herself- -the perspiration running off her brow- -remarks that she can hardly wait until she get where it is nice and cool near a Glen(n). Myrtle also declares on account of a broken aeroplane, Tipton has received no daily mail for ten days, and that now getting into society where the news is discussed she shall go back and "Harold" the news around Tipton.

And lastly a card appears which reads that "The Class of 1918 shall always live up to its motto 'Be American,' and shall be the most patriotic fortunate and wonderful class that has ever been graduated in the history of the world."

The vapor vanishes, the charms have lost their power, Black Cat is nearly asleep so now I must depart once more into the weird, mysterious supernatural realm where the fates and fortunes of all earthly folk are kept in store.

CLASS WILL

Neal Rentschler

As it has fallen to my humble lot to dispose of the property of the most important class that has ever graduated from the Vendoma, in the history of the world, we wanted the most capable and efficient law firm to draw up our last will. So after long and tedious transactions and searchings, we finally landed the great honor and responsibility on Sears Roebuck Co., of Chicago, Ill.

It has been justly concluded, that the will shall be read at the Grange hall on the evening of June 10th, 1918.

We the class of 1918 of Tecumseh in the County of Lenawee in the State of Michigan, being of sound mind and memory and considering the certainty of this "highschool life" do hereby make, ordain, publish, and declare this to be our last will and testament.

First—We order and direct the treasurer of the class of '19, (Perry Hayden) to pay all our unjust debts, and enormous expenses, as soon after our departure as conveniently may be.

Second—After the payment of the said miscellaneous expenses and debts we give, devise, and bequeath, ten carloads of brick, located two blocks south of the main four corners, and one block north of the D. T. & I. depot of the said Village of Tecumseh, (known as "The Vendoma") to anyone wanting the same. That magnificent structure, its massive walls, its bountiful and beautiful decorations, and antique halls and costly tapestries. And above all its home like atmosphere, so much like home that there are nails to hang up one's hat upon, all these we give up.

Third—To the Juniors, or class of 1919, we bequeath the task of filling the vacancy, left by us in T. H. S. Since it cannot be filled with the same number, the same spirit, the same brilliancy, we ask them to fill it to the best of their ability.

Fourth—To the school we bequeath our position in the front line trenches.

Fifth—To the Sophomores, we most gratefully give one dictaphone, patented by Miss Palmer, and to be operated in all her classes. If at any time it should fail to work, the class shall be dismissed until further notice.

Sixth—We leave and demand Mr. Reeds supervision of the Freshman for one more year. He shall keep them out of the picture shows, confectionery shops, ice cream parlors, degenerate and demoralizing beauty shops, hair dressing apartments, the streets, and all other dangerous places during school hours. It may be possible that they will be men and women some day.

Seventh—We give to Kenneth Davidson one new joke book, revised and published in nineteen eighteen, and we ask him to discard the old one that he has had for these past four years.

Eighth—We bequeath to the commander at Culver, one step ladder, to be used to give "Bob" orders. And if he grows any more we will replace it with a larger one at our expense. Since "Bob" is so high up now it should not take him long to become general.

Ninth—To Uncle Sam we devise and bequeath one Joe Satterthwaite and one Wade VanValkenburg. Since Joe has had a full course in physics and chemistry we give him to experiment with bombs. And Wade we give to organize a humane society in "No Mans Land."

Tenth—We give devise and bequeath to Gladwin Orr one false alarm clock set to wake him, when he is called on in Comercial Law.

Eleventh—To Mr. Saul our former janitor, we bequeath one bottle of Anti Sarcasm. Directions—Boil down two drops until they become thick, and take one teaspoonful at every half past dark.

Twelfth—We give to Harley Van Vleet the mirror located in the hall at the Vendoma, so he may spend more hours before it.

Thirteenth—To the Palman boys, Joe and Abraham we will and bequeath all our answer books, so that they may find answers to their numerous questions.

Lastly—We ask that you all obey our small motto "Be American."

We make, constitute, and appoint Hazel Miller to be Executrix of this, our last will and Testament, hereby revoking all former wills by us made.

In witness thereof we have herein to subscribed our names and affixed our seals, this tenth day of June in the year of our Lord, one thousand nine hundred eighteen.

Class of 1918.

This instrument was on this day thereof signed, published and delivered by the said class, to be their last Will and Testament in the presence of us who at their request have subscribed our names, thereto as witnesses, in their presence, and in the presence of each other.

THRIFT STAMPS TAUGHT THIS MAN TO SAVE

Armless Man Sells Pencils On the Streets of Detroit and Buys Two Thrift Stamps Every Day—"I Cannot Fight," He Says, "But I Can Spare Some of My Earnings to Finance the Fight."

One coat sleeve was hanging empty, and he was buying penies over the counter of a Detroit stationery store. Curiosity drew us nearer just to get a better glimpse of the man and his purpose. But he caught our eye and being a little ashamed for our crude attempt to get this man's story, we stepped forward and commented on the morning, accompanying the word with an offer to shake hands.

He turned, smiled and shook both coat sleeves with two gruesome stumps at the shoulders. Both arms were missing.

It required four visits to the stationery store to get this man's story. His name is E. A. Wescott, of 814 Gratiot avenue, and he has been without arms for more than twelve years. It takes a sound philosophy to maintain a happy disposition with the misfortune that this man has suffered.

"What's the use of worrying," said Mr. Westcott, "if you are out of luck—you're out of luck. That's all there is to it."

Every morning between 8:30 and 9 o'clock, Westcott calls at the stationery store to buy a supply of lead pencils. The clerk takes the money from his pocket, puts the change back, placing the pencils as directed on his coat.

Westcott has established a legitimate business in the sale of lead pencils. Many of the down town merchants and office men are numbered among his customers. In this way he earns enough to live, enjoy life, study human nature and spread the philosophy of cheerful endurance to all who cross his path.

There was a time, just previous to the now historic first of May, when Westcott did not save money. Indeed, his happy-go-lucky philosophy kept him poor. Then, one day when he was buying his daily stock of pencils he noticed a thrift stamp on the counter.

"What's that " he asked. And the clerk explained the thrift stamp movement—the plan that has been devised by the United States government to induce the public to curtail extravagance, save money and lend their savings to the government.

"That's the finest idea I've heard," said the pencil merchant. "I'm of little use in this war, but ever since the first of May I have been wondering what I can do with the money I am saving. I don't make a lot of money in this pencil business, but I make a living; and I have no one to care for but myself. Watch me—I'll buy thrift stamps every morning."

True to his resolve, Mr. Westcott instructs the wholesale pencil salesman to place two quarters in the machine and stick two thrift stamps on his card, every morning.

Westcott is enthusiastic over the thrift idea. "There's not a working man but can spare a quarter for Uncle Sam every day," he said, "even though it means leaving pie off the noonday lunch, or a couple of packages of cigarettes less, or any other little inconvenience, I shall think every man would be eager to fill up thrift cards, both for the money-saving idea and for patriotic reasons. If I keep this system running till the war ends, I'll have a nice little nest egg. It's wonderful how quickly money piles up when you begin to save it, and with the U. S. security and U. S. generous rate of interest, this is the best thing I have ever started."

E. A. Westcott is 45 years old. He lost both arms 12 years ago in a woolen mill, and has lived in Detroit eight years. He is a well known figure about town, and the fact that he has grasped the thrift idea so thoroughly and the evidence of what it has done for him ought to be a partiotic inspiration to many men who would like to save money in small quantities and lend it to the government.

FURIOUS AMERICAN ASSAULTS; GERMANS READY TO SURRENDER

U. S. Marines Took the Northern Half of Belleau Wood and Captured 350 Prussian and Saxon Prisoners.

Paris—Badly beaten on their right, hurled back in the center, two and a half miles advance on their left—that tells the story, as far as the Germans are concerned, of the third day of their drive between Montdidier and the Oise.

The French night communique passes the lie to Berlin's official evening claim that "French counter attacks failed with heaviest losses." Far from failing, they wrested back from the German right important positions, woods and villages, on a front of seven and a half miles, the Poilus carrying their line forward between one and two miles.

Incidentally, more than 1,000 German prisoners and many guns were captured.

French Have Big Day.

On that crucial battlefield northeast of Paris the day was, for the French, the most successful since the great drive began. This is not, however, underrating the importance of the enemy's advance on the French right, for by taking a foothold in the village of Marchemont—as Paris officially admitted he did—the enemy has brought his left flank more menacingly close to Compiegne and has begun the masking movement of "Eagles wood."

Much further advance southward along the west bank of the Oise would definitely spell the doom of the French position in the Soissons salient, which is the enemy's immediate strategic purpose.

But even as the crown prince is trying to outflank and pinch off that salient, so Foch, with what appears to be the first large scale counter-offensive undertaken by the French since the spring campaign began—though the front is yet limited—stands the best chance to outflank and pinch off the wedge just created by the Germans in the direction of Compiegne and Estrees-St. Denis.

U. S. Marines Take 350 Prisoners.

With the American Army at the Marne—A battalion of American marines took the northern half of Belleau wood (northwest of Chateau Thierry), capturing 350 Prussian and Saxon prisoners, including ten officers, and two Krupp field guns of three-inch caliber, several huge minenenwefers and machine guns.

The attack was delivered after two hours of preliminary bombardment in which the Allied artillery made the shell-shattered wood an inferno for the Germans resting there.

The furious American assaults found the Germans stunned and reeling ready to surrender. The American machine gunners inflicted the heaviest casualties upon the enemy.

Owing to the excellent artillery preparation and swiftness of the operation, American casualties were light. The Germans launched an attack on Bouresches, but the assault was smashed, thanks to the coolness of the American machine gunners and accuracy of the artillery.

New German Divisions Slaughtered.

Paris.—Battling with unparalleled fury, the Germans are throwing fresh divisions into vain assaults on minor positions, not the main line of French defenses, on the front between Montdidier and the Oise. Ten and 12 times these attacks were repeated in the last 24 hours, each time with the same result—frightful loss to the attackers.

The Matz valley, where the German center troops are fighting, is proving a death trap for the Teutons. The French, unsurprised by Monday's offensive, lost no time counter-attacking with strong forces. It was the enemy who was surprised this time, for manifestly he had not looked for such a stonewall defense.

Five German divisions already have been withdrawn because of the terrific losses. The Germans are still attacking at a ratio of six men to a yard. All day Monday they were targets that could not be missed.

British Transport Sunk.

An Atlantic Port—The Ansonia, a British transport owned by the Cunard line, was sunk by a U-boat torpedo while on her westward trip, according to private cable dispatches received Tuesday.

Ninety of her crew of 130 officers and men were rescued by an eastbound steamer and landed on the British coast. Search is being made for the 40 missing.

The Ansonia's stern was blown off by a torpedo in June, 1917, but she reached port. She was of steel, 450.6 feet long, of 8,153 gross tons and had a speed of 14 knots.

700,000 U. S. MEN OVER THERE--BAKER

SECRETARY OF WAR BIDS GOOD BYE TO FRANCE'S BLUE DEVILS WHO SAIL FOR HOME.

U. S. ARMY IN FRANCE GROWING

Toured America to Assist in the Third Liberty Loan Drive; Many Attend Ceremonies.

Washington.—More than 700,000 American soldiers have gone overseas to carry back to France the encouragement and assistance which Lafayette and Rochambeau brought to America, Secretary Baker told the French Alpine chasseurs in bidding them farewell here Monday at the base of the Washington monument.

The war secretary's last announcement some weeks ago concerning the size of the American forces abroad was that 500,000 men had sailed for the battle front.

The Alpine chasseurs, better known as the "blue devils" of France, came to America last month to assist in the third Liberty loan campaign and since have toured the south and middle west.

They were reviewed and received by the secretary of war before leaving for Baltimore, Newark, New York and Boston, enroute to their native land. Attending the exercises were M. Jusserand, the French ambassador, representatives of the French high commission, Mr. Baker's staff and many government officials.

The secretary said: "You soldiers of France came to this country in order that the people of America might see with their own eyes in your persons the kind of men who have written a new page in the record of human heroism and success. You are welcomed in this country from one end of it to the other. The hearts of our people went out to you and your people. As the embodiment of the determination, the courageous and the heroism of France you have been accepted and received. And now you are about to go back to France.

$5,000,000,000 MARINE FLEET

By 1920 U. S. Will Have 25,000,000 Tons of Shipping; World's Largest.

South Bend, Ind.—America in 1920 will have a merchant marine of 25,000,000 deadweight tons, Chairman Hurley, of the shipping board, declared here Monday in an address giving the most complete statement of the nation's shipbuilding program which has yet been made public. He was speaking to graduates of Notre Dame university.

This great commerce fleet, Mr. Hurley said, the largest ever assembled in the history of the world, and involving the expenditure of more than $5,000,000,000, will link the United States to South and Central America by weekly steamer service which will enable the Latin-American countries to utilize their unlimited natural resources in the freest competition with other nations. It also will bridge the Pacific for the transportation of the products of Japan, Russia, China, Australia and the Orient, and will continue to promote America's trade with Europe.

GOVERNMENT MAY BUILD PLANES

John D. Ryan Asked Authority of Congress to Organize Corporations.

Washington.—Authority to organize one or more government-owned corporations has been asked of congress by John D. Ryan, director of aircraft production. It is proposed to apply to aircraft production the plan successfully used by the shipping board through its Emergency Fleet corporation.

A bill providing the necessary authority was sent to the house and senate military committees, with the approval of Secretary Baker and Chairman Chamberlain, of the senate committee, introduced it. Under the measure a corporation might be formed with maximum capital stock of $100,000,000, owned by the government.

Details of the plan have not yet been communicated to congress. It is understood, however, that one of the immediate projects contemplates the building of branch line railroads into spruce forests of the west to bring out timber for airplane frames.

STATE TROOPS ON SWISS LINE

According to Message the Boys Are in the Pink of Condition.

Grand Rapids—West Michigan soldiers, former members of the Thirty-second regiment, Michigan National guard, are fighting on German soil, according to a censored dispatch printed Tuesday by a Grand Rapids afternoon newspaper from a correspondent with the American expeditionary forces.

The dispatch says cannon roar along the front day and night and shells are dropping into the sector held by the Americans. The Michigan troops, according to the message, are in the pink of condition.

It is believed here that the Grand Rapids men are located close to the Swiss border.

Port Huron—Ten policemen have resigned here in the last two months chiefly because of higher wages offered in manufacturing plants.

St. Joseph.—The 1919 convention of the Michigan Knights of Columbus will go to Battle Creek if hotel conditions permit, otherwise Lansing will get the convention.

Grand Rapids.—Salo Dewolf, 18, vaudeville orchestra leader, who was to have appeared at a theater here this week, was drowned June 5 at Reed's lake. A canoe in which he was riding capsized.

WILSON ADDRESSES MEXICAN EDITORS

WASHINGTON MESSAGE PRESIDENT EXPRESSES SINCERE FRIENDSHIP FOR MEXICO.

WESTERN WORLD'S BIG BROTHER

Peace Can Only Come By Trust. If You Once Get A Situation of Trust You Have Peace.

Havana.—President Wilson in his address to the Mexican newspaper editors in Washington last Friday, expressed sincere friendship for Mexico.

His address was printed here Tuesday, having been withheld from publication in the United States until the text should have had time to reach the press of Mexico.

President Wilson said, in part:

"Some time ago I proposed a sort of Pan-American agreement. I had perceived that one of the difficulties of our past relationships with Latin America was this: The famous Monroe doctrine was adopted without your consent and without the consent of any of [illegible] American [illegible] American states. We said: 'We are going to be your brother, whether you want us to be or not.'

"We did not ask whether it was agreeable to you that we should be your big brother. We said we are going to be.

"Now that is all very well as far as protecting you from aggression from the other side of the water was concerned, but there was nothing in it that protected you from aggression by us, and I have repeatedly seen an uneasy feeling on the part of representatives of the states of Central and South America that our self-appointed protection might be for our own benefit and our own interests and not for the interests of our neighbors. So I have said:

"'Let us have a common guarantee that all of us will sign a declaration of political independence and territorial integrity. Let us agree that if any of us, the United States included, violates the political independence or territorial integrity of any of the others, all the others will jump on her.' . . . . . .

"Now, that is the kind of agreement that will have to be the foundation of the future life of the nations of the world, gentlemen. The whole family of nations will have to guarantee to each nation that no nation shall violate its political independence or its territorial integrity.

"That is the basis—the only conceivable basis, for the future peace of the world, and I must admit that I was anxious to have the states or the two continents of America show the way to the rest of the world as to how to make a basis for peace.

"Peace can only come by trust. If you can once get a situation of trust then you have got a situation of permanent peace. Therefore, every one of us owes it as a patriotic duty to his own country, to plant the seeds of trust and of confidence instead of the seeds of suspicion and a variety of interest. * * *

"The policy of administration toward Mexico was in every point based upon the principle that the internal settlement of the affairs of Mexico was none of our business; that we had no right to interfere with or dictate to Mexico in any particular with regard to her own affairs.

"When we sent troops into Mexico, our sincere desire was nothing else than to assist you to get rid of a man who was making the settlement of your affairs for the time being impossible.

"We had no desire to use our troops for any other purpose and I was in hopes that by assisting in that way and thereupon immediately withdrawing, I might give substantial truth of assurance that I had given your government through President Carranza.

"At the present time it distresses me to learn that certain influences, which I assume to be German in their origin, not only are trying to make a wrong impression throughout Mexico as to the purpose of the United States, but to give an absolutely untrue account of things that happened. * * *

"We are the champions of those nations which have not had the military standing which would enable them to compete with the strongest nations in the world, and I look forward with pride to the time which I hope will come when we can give substantial evidence not only that we do not want anything out of this war, but that we would not accept anything out of it; that it is absolutely a case of disinterested action.

"And if you will watch the attitude of our people you will see that nothing stirs them so deeply as the assurances that this war so far as we are concerned is for idealistic objects. * * *

25% CUT IN FUEL FOR AUTOS

Ruling Starts August 1, Factories Making Passenger Cars Hit.

Washington.—Curtailment of coal supplies to manufacturers of passenger automobiles for the year beginning August 1 to 25 per cent of the quantity consumed in 1917-18 was announced Monday by the fuel administration.

This is one of the steps in a drastic program for reduction of fuel allowed non-war industries to meet the expected coal shortage next winter.

Ann Arbor.—Lieutenant Paul Eaton of Jackson, who was taken captive by the Germans while in the aviation service, was a student in the literary college of the University of Michigan when he enlisted May 4, 1917. Lieut W. L. Miller, who was included in the U. S. casualty list was a well known Saginaw physician. He graduated from the Detroit College of Medicine.

Lansing—The secretary of state, Coleman C. Vaughan, said Saturday that he had issued no orders to the chief of police at Port Huron, or any other police official, to arrest New York automobile dealers, who are driving Michigan cars back to New York with dealer's licenses. Secretary Vaughan is unable to understand the basis for the stand taken by Port Huron officials.

Pontiac.—Simultaneously with similar requests made in other cities where the Consumers Power Co. controls the gas utilities, the local branch of the company has filed a petition with the city commission asking that it be permitted to raise its gas rates from $1 to $1.15 per 1,000 cubic feet. The increase is to be only for the period of the war or as long as business conditions are unsettled.

CHAIRMAN AIRCRAFT BOARD INSPECTS DETROIT PLANTS

JOHN D. RYAN.

Detroit—Detroit, already the world's greatest center of aeroplane production is to be asked to produce more and then still more aeroplanes and aeroplane engines.

John D. Ryan, chief of the aeroplane production department of the United States' war forces, in the Pontchartrain hotel Tuesday night announced that Detroit manufacturers of planes and parts of planes, including engines, would be asked to expand. His two-day visit to Detroit is for the purpose of inspecting the many plants engaged on aeroplane work and to discuss with the plant heads their ability to expand operations, the extent to which they can be carried and the time required for such extensions.

"I realize that Detroit is already the largest aeroplane producer in the world, but the facilities and the men who know how are here.

"Dayton, O., alone excels Detroit in the building of the plane proper—the body, you might say. But the aeroplane engine manufacture of Detroit puts it away ahead of every other city in totality of production. Detroit will, undoubtedly, when the present plans are completed, excel Dayton in producing the aeroplane bodies, to say nothing of the further expansion we plan to ask."

FOOD CHIEF URGES EAT NO WHEAT

Supply On Hand Not Enough to Carry Us Through Till Next August.

Lansing—"Help save flour," was the appeal of Food Administrator Prescott Monday.

"For the next two months this is imperative. Here are the facts: Our normal consumption in the United States is 44,000,000 bushels of wheat a month. May 1 the inventory of all wheat and flour in United States indicated a supply equivalent to only 14,500,000 bushels a month to August 1. Either you or the boys in the trenches, or our Allies, will go without flour. Which?

"But you must do more: Help pass the word to eat less bread. Make the 12-ounce loaf do where you formerly used the 16-ounce loaf. All the bakers have been requested to make a three quarters instead of a pound loaf. The food administration has requested the bakers to reduce their output. This industry has volunteered its hearty co-operation. You can help them greatly by lessening the demand for any and all products containing wheat flour. There is absolutely not enough flour (including the present schedule for substitutes) to go around on a 33 1-3 per cent basis. If the requirements of the Allies and our army and navy should be increased before August 1 our supply would be that much less.

SIBERIA AWAITS ALLIED HELP

1,000 Russian Army Officials Waiting Allied Aid in Arms at Vladivostok.

Washington—Siberia is ripe for Allied intervention of the right sort, President Wilson has been told. Men on whose judgment he has hitherto relied have laid before him a plan whereby the Allied armies are to be accompanied by economic missions to restore order in the country as the armies march ahead.

Those who favor intervention received remarkable support from statements of Ensign Alexander Petrenke, once a leading "ace" of the Russian army. He arrived in Washington from Vladivostok, whither he had fled across Siberia after the defeat of General Kaledine's Cossack army in the Don country.

He declares that 1,000 officers of the Russian army, among them many generals, are eagerly awaiting at Vladivostok the Allied aid in arms

London—Another attempt has been made to assassinate Nicolai Lenine, the bolshevik premier of Russia, according to information received here Tuesday. The driver of the motor car in which Lenine was riding was killed. The attempt was made June 2.

The movement engineered against the government by anti-soviet deputies is assuming a threatening character, says a dispatch from Moscow to the Exchange Telegraph. Factory workers are boycotting the soviet deputy delegates and even attack them violently.

Rochester.—The body of Charles Brandt, recently manager of the Diamond Grocery, Rochester, and formerly manager of the Kroger store in Pontiac, was taken from the Ohio river at Cincinnati. His widow and 16-year-old son live in Cleveland.

Rockford.—With 1,200 population purchased $1,000 worth of war savings stamps. The matter was brought up at a special session of the village council, and the investment was considered the best thing that could be done with the money that is coming in from taxes.

Lansing.—The Michigan Anti-Saloon league at its annual meeting here voted a budget of $100,000 to combat the beer and light wine amendment proposed by the brewers, which the league leaders are confident will be defeated by a majority of 150,000 votes next November.

Traverse City—Potato growers of northern Michigan will meet here in conference June 17 with M. A. C. experts to perfect a state wide marketing organization to maintain potato prices. This action is considered necessary to keep potatoes among crops that can be profitably grown.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Twenty-seven Members of the Class of 1918, T. H. S., Receive Diplomas

John C. Ketcham Gives Address

Commencement exercises for the Class of 1918 were held at the Opera House Thursday evening. The class numbered 27 members and was composed of 22 young ladies and 5 young men. It is the second largest class to graduate from the Tecumseh schools and has been called The War Class for soon after the class started its high school work war was declared and has been raging ever since.

The class colors, green and white, predominated in the color scheme of decorations. Across the opening of the arch was stretched in green and white letters the class motto, "Be Americans." A lattice work in white about which were clustered bunches of daisies, catalpa and barberry was stretched across the stage which made a very pleasing effect. Japanese lanterns in three rows were stretched overhead while "Old Glory" held a prominent place at the rear of the stage. Seated upon the stage with the class were Supt. Reed, John C. Ketcham, Rev. W. A. Rex and Rev. Lawrence Linton.

The exercises opened with numbers rendered by an orchestra of Tecumseh musicians led by Lester Waring.

The invocation was pronounced by Rev. W. A. Rex. The musical numbers on the program were as follows:

Vocal solo—Dorothy Balmer, class of 1918.

Vocal solo—Mrs. R. S. Moore

Violin solo—J. Duaine Service

Song, "My Own United States" by the class.

Mrs. Charles Scott Lauzon of Port Huron and Mrs. F. B. Wood were the accompanists.

The salutatory was given by Miss Florence VanWinkle, the presentation of the cane (which was made of wood taken from the old schoolhouse) was made by Leigh McLain and it was accepted by Miss Alice Hardenburg of the Class of 1919. This custom of presenting the cane was started by the class of 1917 and it was very appropriate as the year 1917 saw the closing of the old high school building and the starting of the new.

A beautiful flag, our national emblem, mounted on a staff, the gift of the class of 1918, was presented to the school by Wade VanValkenburg and Joseph Satterthwaite gave the valedictory.

The speaker of the evening, John C. Ketcham, was introduced by Supt. W. L. Reed. In his introductory remarks Mr. Ketcham complimented the people of this community upon the beautiful new high school they are erecting and stated that educational sentiment in this place is at a high tide which shows a fine sentiment. Its location shows to those passing through our town that people here stand for the higher things in life.

A little personal mention was made by the speaker of his former connection with Tecumseh, stating that just 34 years ago this week he was seated with his class upon the same stage upon which he was then standing and spoke with clear recollection of a certain school teacher who had willed at that time that he should not pass.

Mr. Ketcham took for his subject, "America 100 per cent.," and handled it in the true Ketcham style which has always so delighted his Tecumseh audiences.

These are marvelous days in which we are living, days of American opportunity. America is standing forth as she has never stood before and is making her influence felt all over the world. These are great days for the institutions which give our boys and girls their education. The responsibility of the public school in this present world conflict is great and it has a mighty work to do in making America 100 per cent.

Other forces that are today weilding a great influences are the press and the editorials of the press, the pulpit and the minute men or public speakers who are delivering speeches throughout our country.

The public schools of Germany have had a mighty influence upon the German people for the iron hand of the Monarchy has made its influence felt upon the students from without and has taught its people to consider the Government supreme and to fear and obey it. Our idea in America must be the reverse and must bring out the principles of liberty and freedom. Our public schools must develop the idea in the student mind and bring out and ripen the thoughts and ideas from within themselves. If America is to be made 100 per cent., the public school must teach the scholars that government comes from within.

He pointed the graduates and students in general to the life and successes of America's most loved character, Abraham Lincoln. America must become united if she accomplishes the object she has set out to accomplish. Americanism must be taught in our public schools and be hammered home in the thought that if people are to live in America they must learn the English (American) language. Vast numbers of foreign born people are now living in our country (estimated at 5,000,000 and most of them cannot read or speak our language and it is time they learned to speak our language and if this is not done we should bid them "God speed" and tell them to stay at home. There are 1500 foreign newspapers in this country and they have about run their course. There should be only one school, one language and one flag if the American school is to succeed.

One of the principal functions of our schools is to train young men and young ladies for leadership. The cry today is for leaders and he expressed a desire that the Class of 1918 should go out into life as leaders. He closed by telling how two great leaders, one of today and the other of by-gone days had commenced amid humble circumstances and had become great leaders.

Supt. W. L. Reed, in presenting the diplomas to the class said that while the number of young men in this class was only five still there were six other members who were not present upon the platform, but who were worthy of mention as they had left for service in Uncle Sam's army. Three of them were serving "over there" and three were in the great army camps in this country. As a word of advice to the class he stated that "He who would be greatest of all should be greatest to all."

The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Lawrence Linton of the Friend's church.

G. A. R. LADIES BENEFIT

The "Sunshine Maid," June Caprice, will soon be with us again. In a stirring William Fox photoplay, called "Miss U. S. A.," she will appear at the New Royal theatre next Monday, June 17th.

The "Sunshine Maid" will not be all sunshine and smiles in this new screen drama. She has determined, active work to do to serve her country in a drama that takes place in Virginia soon after the United States declared war on Germany. She hunts out spies and is twice face to face with death while doing this work.

Her name is Capitola. Her father died before her birth and her mother soon after. Her father was Eugene Lenoir, wealthy and of one of the most prominent families in Virginia. Her mother too was of a well known family. At their deaths Gabriel Lenoir, brother of Eugene, forces the nurse, Nance Wilson, to swear she will take the newly born baby away and kill it. He does this to get his brother's fortune. The nurse, however, gives the infant into the hands of a family living in a tenement in New York. When the story opens the nurse has just returned to Virginia and has confessed to Major Warfield, Capitola's uncle. He brings Capitola, now sixteen years old, back as his ward, Miss Black. Then comes the war, and camps and spies.

It turns out that Gabriel Lenoir is the arch spy. He is arrested and denounced and the fortune returns to Capitola.

The club always has a good time to report when they meet with Mr and Mrs Murphy, but this time seemed the best ever. Mr and Mrs Ernest M Coller were guests for the evening.

"MY OWN UNITED STATES"

Coming to the Bradley

Nations Newest Patriotic Picture

Every patriotic American must see the new big screen classic "My Own United States" starring the famous actor Mr. Arnold Daly, which is coming to the Bradley Opera House for one night only, Friday June 21st. This is not a war picture, but a strong, red-blooded American drama, depicting various incidents and important events in the history of our Country—facts that we all should know, most entertainingly presented. "My Own United States" is a thrilling lesson in patriotism and full of startling surprises.

The following item was taken from the Motion Picture News of April 20th, just after "My Own United States" had its opening at the Rialto (New York's biggest picture house):

"Lieut. S. L. Rothapfel, United States Marine Corps, is doing another big service to the nation this week at the Rialto theatre, with the manner in which he is presenting "My Own United States," the big patriotic production. Sunday it drew the biggest crowds that we have ever seen at a moving picture house, we say drew them, for hundreds of them could not get within hailing distance of the theatre. We have a card that admits us to any part of Rothapfel's houses at any time but so dense were the masses in front of the house at nine o'clock Sunday evening that we had to hunt for ourselves a side entrance in order to get into the theatre at all.

The audience is aroused from the very start of the picture and then there are scenes of President Wilson and the boys marching away to war, the actual picture "My Own United States" then starts. Suffice it to say that the entire gamut of patriotic emotions is run, and there are many touches during the picture that leave not a dry eye in the house. It is enough to say that every one who saw this presentation went away a beter American and more determined than ever to make every sacrifice that the 'Thing' shall be destroyed.

"My Own United States" is a screen classic that is sweeping the country on a tide of patriotism. Every exhibitor owes it as a duty to give his patrons an opportunity to see this greatest of all patriotic attractions and it is the duty of every true American to see the wonderful production, none will have to be made to see it, every one will want to see it and no one will view the impressive scenes with undimmed eyes. No word thus far spoken, no picture thus far shown contains so much inspiration for Americans. "My own United States" will thrill any audience to the core. It will be at the Bradley, Tecumseh, for the one night only, Friday June 21st so make your plans accordingly.

COST OF CONSTRUCTION OF NEW TOWNLINE ROAD TO BE ABOUT $74,000.00

Allen, Michigan, Firm Gets Contract

A meeting of review of special assessment for the improvement of what is known as the town line road commencing at the townline corners two and a half miles west of Tecumseh on the Monroe Pike and running south through Birdsall into Adrian was held Thursday morning at the home of Norman B. Arnold in Adrian township.

A representative from the State Highway Commissioners office was present and took charge of the meeting. It was made public that the contract for its construction had been let to the firm of Murfew and VanPatten of Allen, Michigan, and that the cost of construction would be about $74,000. or $10,200. per mile. The amount to be assessed to each township at large and to the property owner in the special assessment district was made public. Tecumseh township will be assessed 8 per cent of the total cost of the road as its share and the cost to abutting property owners would be about $3. per acre. Work upon the road will begin as soon as the contractors bonds have been approved.

FERTILIZER

The new prices for fall fertilizer have arrived. The raise is as follows:—

16 per cent Acid Phosphate	increase	$4.00
1-28 Bone Meal	"	5.00
2½-28 Bone Meal	"	5.50
10-1 Mixed Goods	"	4.00
1-12 Mixed Goods	"	4 00

The fertilizer on hand is owned by the fertilizer companies, the above prices go into effect July 1st. After that date we have to charge that much more. You might as well have this raise as the fertilizer companies as you will have to pay the advance later regardless of whom you buy.

We give you the privilege of paying for the same this fall by note at 6 per cent.

All fertilizer must be taken and settled for prior to July 1st to avail yourself of the above price.

Our advise is to buy liberally, buy the Bone Meals for wheat in preference to all other kinds as it gives you more lasting results, but if quick action only is desired buy the Acid Phosphate 16 per cent, or Mixed Goods.

This offer is made you only subject to stock on hand. Phone in your requirements at once, or better still come and get it before all gone.

PLEASANTLY SURPRISED

Last week Mrs. Henry McLain invited Mrs. Albert Waring to spend the week with her, which invitation was accepted and Tuesday found Mrs. Waring with her friend. On Friday Mrs. James Kennedy, Mrs. Adah Whitford and Miss Emma Rogers were invited to take dinner with them. While they were yet at the table guests began to arrive and soon about thirty of the old members of the Farmers Union had gathered by invitation of Mrs. McLain, as a surprise for Mrs. Waring.

A most delightful afternoon was spent in recalling old time happenings, until the hour arrived for supper when the numerous baskets and boxes were brought forward and a bountiful potluck supper was served. Mrs. McLain added the last touch, when she served the guests with generous dishes of home grown straw berries. As the guests took their leave it was with many words of appreciation of the happy hour spent with Mrs. Waring hoping they might soon meet again in such a social afternoon.

Leon Williamson is at Houghton Lake on a fishing trip.

TECUMSEH EVIDENCE FOR TECUMSEH PEOPLE

The Statements of Tecumseh Residents are Surely More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers

Home testimony is real proof.

Public statements of Tecumseh people carry real weight.

Here's a Tecumseh statement.

Such evidence is convincing.

That's the kind of proof that backs Doan's Kidney Pills.

Thomas Langton, retired farmer, W. Chicago St., says: "I had kidney complaint and suffered with my back a great deal. My kidneys acted irregularly and the kidney secretion were unnatural. I used Doan's Kidney Pills, getting them at Wright & Son's Drug Store, and they srengthened my back regulated my kidneys and benefited me in every way."

Fenimore Eggart

This community received a severe shock Sunday afternoon in the death of little Fenimore Eggart, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Eggart.

He had been ill only five days with what was supposed to be an attack of tonsilitis and no serious results were thought of until Sunday morning, when his case was pronounced diphtheria and he passed away at 3:30 p. m.

Little Fenimore had spent only four short years among us but had endeared himself to all by his bright lovable ways and he will be missed in the neighborhood where he lived as well as so greatly in the home he has left. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the sorrowing parents.

Owing to the nature of his illness no services were held at the house, but a large company of relatives and friends gathered at the cemetery, where Rev. W. A. Rex of Tecumseh conducted services and he was laid to rest among the flowers he loved so well.

"Budded on earth to blossom in Heaven."

TRUMAN H. NEWBERRY

A Worker

TRUMAN H. NEWBERRY is a worker,—always has been and always will be,—because he loves work.

As a lad he went out and joined a railroad construction gang and worked up to be passenger and freight agent of the road.

Later, he sailed the Lakes and worked his way to a pilot's license, which he holds to-day as one of his proudest possessions.

Afterward, he went into business life, where, by hard work, he made a name and place for himself.

As Assistant Secretary of the Navy under President Roosevelt, he gave the closest attention to his duties and his good work advanced him to the position of Secretary of the Navy and a member of Roosevelt's Cabinet.

To-day his work as a Commander in the Third Naval District is winning widespread approval.

As a worker, he knows about other workers, understands them and their problems. He was one of the first business leaders to declare publicly in favor of the rights of the laboring man, and his reputation for fairness and straightforward dealing attracted wide and favorable attention in industrial circles.

While Secretary of the Navy he made it possible for the men in the Brooklyn Navy Yard to have an organization for mutual benefit and sought their suggestions on the work they had in charge, gave them an opportunity to examine and approve the wage scale and put the working force into such a frame of mind as to secure their fullest co-operation. The men were with him and he got results.

His Record Speaks for Itself

As a working United States Senator, Truman H. Newberry will be "on the job" for the workers of Michigan and the whole country.

CLASS OF 1918

FFollowing are the Giftatory and Class History as they were given on Class day

CLASS HISTORY

Marjorie E. Boyce

The history of the most famous class to graduate from Tecumseh High school began its early career September 1906, in two divisions—one in the West Branch under the leadership of Miss Cowan and the other in the East Branch under the leadership of Miss Hurlburt.

In the third grade came little Goldye Palman. And such a time as she did have learning to spell! "But" she exclaimed very excitedly one day, "I can spell alright only get the letters in the wrong place."

Naturally as children, we were very devoted to all our teachers. One little girl, in particular, who now has the honor of being the baby of the class, was so fond of her fourth grade teacher that she named three kittens Ethel, Grace and Springer in her honor.

After four long years of work and play, the two divisions were united in the fifth grade at the East Branch with Miss Farley as teacher.

The first day of school in the sixth grade is important because of the entrance of two new industrious pupils, Ella McNeil and Kathryn Reed It was during this year that a large sand map, illustrating the industries of the various states, was made. No doubt, the majority of our class had had experience in making mud pies for we all entered this work with great eagerness.

Thus our career in the East Branch ended, and the next fall found us on the third floor of the Central building and indeed, we were "higher up" in the world than we expected to be so soon. At this time we were introduced to the arm movement method of penmanship. The rickety olh high school was always a source of terror to the pupils but was especially so during this year when a terrific wind storm swayed the building under our feet.

Of course our dedication would have been incomplete without a year of Miss Wimples' thorough training and strict disciplin. This year we received more instruction in the "arm movement method" and after two long years we considered ourselves very skilled in the art.

The most important part of our history began in September 1914, when this class, then of fifty-two members, was found in the ninth grade room under the guardianship of Miss Nixon. The fame of our class which had chosen Edna Taylor as first class president, called in pupils not only from the rural districts in this township but also from Ridgeway, Raisin, Macon and Franklin. Even Newburg sent one illustrious young lad by the name of Neal. We were then Freshies and certainly proved ourselves true to the name. Even our English teacher complimented us on being the silliest bunch of giggling Freshmen she ever saw. But I am certain that if she could see this dignified, refined class she would say that four years of high school life had changed us greatly. Then, in May there was the local field meet and how proud we felt when we learned that we were ahead of the Sophomores!

The next year Miss Armstrong came to give the tenth graders a few points on debating. A great many problems of the day were discussed and solved for all time. Among them were these: that a broader education can be obtained by travelling than by attending college, that public libraries should not be open on Sunday and that fire is more destructive than water. Especially are we indebted to Miss Widney who so willingly helped the pupils on debates or whatever the perplexity might be.

In January of the following year we were moved from the old high school building to the Vendoma hotel Needless to say, our new quarters were somewhat crowded—but, after all we didn't mind that nearly as much as we did the live stock crawling on the walls.

May 11, we entertained the Seniors at the beautiful home of Esther Pratt.

June 1, we were very pleasantly entertained by the Seniors in this hall.

In September, 1917 we became Seniors. Our fame in this year drew five girls from Onsted and one from Detroit making the total twenty-seven, twenty-two girls and five boys.

Many parties were enjoyed in this, our last year, the first being held at the home of Lillis Howard. Joe certainly showed us there that he knows the bray of a donkey for he imitated it to perfection.

In February we decided to put on a picture show entitled "Jack and the Beanstalk." It was a complete success and everyone especially the children and Seniors enjoyed seeing this fairy story in pictures.

This year a sleigh ride party was taken in a blizzard, when he went to the home of Esther Pratt. Two of the girls had such a good time they decided to stay the rest of the week, so they could watch the snow-flakes fall.

May 10, sixty-seven people gathered at the home of Robert Moore for the Junior Reception. Following a three course dinner, an excellent program, showing the originality of the Juniors, was given. Mr. Goodrich acted as toastmaster and proved himself very capable.

May 24, our History teacher, Miss Palmer, invited us to her home in Clinton. We were conveyed there in four automobiles. Of course, it is unnecessary to say that all automobile rules were strictly observed. Many games of war were played even the killing of the Kaiser. You would naturally think that after four years of athletic training Joe would have killed the Kaiser at first shot, but much to our surprise Esther hit the mark first. We departed with three cheers for Miss Palmer all declaring her an excellent entertainer.

Both the principal, Mr. Goodrich and the Superintendent Mr. Reed have remained with us during these four years of toil and trouble and it is with regret that we must now part.

Yes—and here's our faithful janitor. How impossible our high school course would have been without Mr. Saul to build the many fires and to cheer us up!

We have long looked forward to the time when we would graduate from the new high school, but also! our hopes have vanished and we leave it to our successors. But, desiring to have an active part in the completion of the new building, we leave, as a class memorial, an American flag, to be placed in the auditorium.

Why is it that we are considered the richest class in high school? Because we have Gold(ye), Ruby and Pearl.

Why is it that we are so noted for our beauty? Because of the "Gibson" girl.

Why is it that we have so many disputes at our class meetings? Because of the "Mobbs."

Why is it that we can observe Mr. Hoover's meatless days? Because of our "Lamb-(kin)".

And last of all, why are we so patriotic? Six boys who started in this class are now loyally serving their country and helping Uncle Sam win this great war. Three are already in France, Verl Blesing, Garland Gove and Gerald Kent; the other three, Harold Skinner, Herman Seitz and Edward Carleton are still in U. S. Though we regret that they did not remain in school to be with us tonight, yet we realize the great ned of their help "over there."

Soldiers in arms! Defenders of our soil!
Who from destruction save us;
who from spoil
Protect the sons of peace, who traffic or who toil;
Would I could duly praise you,
that each deed
Your foes might honor, and your friends might read.

GIFTATORY

Katheryn Reed

A. Alphabetically we are an all-round class.

B is for Balmer, briilant and Boyce.

Dorothy is one of our noted vocalists. To her we give Memories as a remembrance of the year spent with us.

Marjorie, we know you are rather musically inclined, here's a Harp, may you become a great Harper.

C. is for Camp and critic. She excells all critics in English Literature for she not only is a critic in literature but along other lines as well. Lucile, it gives us great pleasure to present to you a pamphlet by an unknown author entitled "From the standpoint of the critic." May you find in its contents justification for yourself and your opinion.

F. is for Feller, frolic and fun. Pearl we don't know you as we wish we did, but we are impressed by your appearance that you are rather domesticated. Here's something to give you a good start—(rolling pin)

G is for Gibson. Margretta, we hear you're bothered with heart trouble, we'd advise you to try Brisbin's Heart Remedy, Here's a sample.

H. stands for Howard and Howe. Lillis is the baby of our class, we hate to have her youth spoiled by serious matters so will let her contiue to play (Rattle box)

Adah, it seems to us you've been hard on Waring your old bow. Here's a new one.

J. Leslie Johnston is some masher. The Freshmen think so, we'd better give him a potato masher in case he needs some assistance.

L. Mildred Lamkin, she's the girl who's always commenting on being kin to a lamb. We haven't been able to discover who that lamb is, so will give her one we do know. (toy lamb)

L. Luella Lowry. She's the knocker. Here's a hammer Luella which might come in handy.

M. Anna McKendry is usually very quiet. We suggest that she accept this trumpet which she is to blow to tell us when she's near.

Albertine Mobbs certainly must have good lungs, judging not from appearance but from sounds. Here's a meghphone, Albertine so you won't have to exert yourself so much.

Leigh McLain is the brilliant senior having 19 credits. He's quite a shark in sciences. Just to give you a start in laboratory supplies will present you with a test tube, Leigh.

Esther Raymond. Here's a puzzle. Do you know her? Well I guess not, nor anyone else. It doesn't take much to passify her, so will give her an all day sucker.

In striking contrast Loleta Onsted presents herself. Loleta we're honoring you for we're giving you a man. These are scarce articles now a days.

Our class is honored by possessing a little Jewess, Goldye Palman. To her we give a document by which Jane McConnell solemnly swears to render her services as Agricultural interpreter so far as it seemeth necessary.

R's are frequent, Rentschler, Reckner, Richards and Roberts, Reed.

First the class comedian appears. He says he hates a Ford, we don't know whether to believe him or not, but at any rate we give Neal a new car.

Irene Richards is a very agreeable girl. Some say she's fond of Bragg. That's all right so long as it's not bragging she is fond of. To her together with the other much liked "school marms to be", Florence Van Winkle and Myrtle Steves, we give a rod.

Ruth has taken quite a liking to a stray dog down in the east part of town. We thot she might be lonesome without it so we're giving her one to keep. It's name is "Snippy."

Joseph Satterthwaite is fond of lemons, therefore we've decided to give him a lemon squeezer so he'd have less difficulty in squeezing them.

To Eula Stephenson we're giving a small man. We thot one large man was quite efficient for one girl.

Edna Taylor and Ruby Reckner, they're the two who are so fond of going on hikes. No wonder their fathers are complaining about their high shoe bills, so we've decided to give them some hiking shoes to help their fathers out.

To [illegible] VanValkenburg, the great orator and lawyer of our class, we give a gavel to be used at his first trial.

To you all I give some thing most precious. You may not realize what it means to you now but when we are separated as we soon shall be, you will realize it's worth. To each I leave the fond remembrances of our days happy and helpful spent in dear old Tecumseh High school.

Following are the Salutatory and Valedictory as they were given at Commencement, last Thursday Evening

SALUTATORY

Florence VanWinkle

Parents and Friends:

The class of 1918 on the close of their high school life join in extending a hearty welcome to you through whose efforts we are here. This occasion is one that every individual as well as the class as a whole has anticipated for twelve long years. It is an event which every member of the class will surely hold among his happiest reminiscences, not wholly as a social function but as a reward for our various endeavors.

I like to think of this class as a garden, now better trained and cultivated than at the beginning twelve years ago.

Four years of high school life especially tend to lessen the growth of undesirable characteristics, we can call them weeds. To be sure, the growth depends in large part on the plant itself but on the other hand, while a well developed garden requires an efficient gardener, a well-developed class requires efficient teachers. In a class as in a garden are found many varieties of plants, some growing more easily than others. Naturally these plants will develop and flourish differently under different conditions and circumstances; what might be of incalculable assistance to one might be a detriment to another. For this reason one cannot compare the improvement of one with another as they all flourish under different conditions. So the fruits of this garden are as yet undeveloped. Only further training and experience will show the result.

As the early training of our class has from beginning to end been well cared for the outcome rests largely on the hope, confidence and endeavors of each member of the class.

Knowing that you have in the past been appreciative and sympathetic with our ambitions and endeavors, we have the hope that your interest in us will continue in the future and it is for that reason that we welcome you tonight to the crowning event of our high school life.

VALEDICTORY

Joseph Satterthwaite

A fortunate class is ours, the class of 1918. We are fortunate in being able to achieve graduation in a period of such stress as to make the completion of and education such as ours impossible to many; and still more fortunate in that we are an American High School class. We feel that our motto "Be American", well represents the spirit of the times and we are proud, beyond our power to express, to make the effort to come up to the high calling of our country. We, like the country which we love, have made mistakes of youth; and we have been accused, both as individuals and as a nation, of over-estimating our own ability. Yet, granting these shortcomings, to be American stands for the highest ideals of any nation on earth; for America with a wonderful destiny open to her, is now showing from Pulpit, Press, School and Camp that she intends to give her all to "make the world safe for Democracy."

But we count ourselves especially fortunate to be graduating in 1918, for 1918 is marking the greatest [illegible] the world has known. Events that will be beacon lights in the world's history are happening now, this very month. This year will no doubt show whether all that has been gained in liberty, justice and democracy since the Magna Charta, shall be lost and the world plunged into a state far worse than that of the dark ages; or whether the principles fostered by civilization shall triumph and the rights most dear to man shall be preserved. W all wish that thi war could have been avoided, but the most intellectual, peace-loving person imaginable has come to feel that it could not be; and so, instead of wasting time and enregy deploring the awfulness of it all, we insist that we are fortunate to live in time of service and sacrifice; times which show that man has not degenerated, but is still capable of wonderful feats of heroism and self abnegation. (Of course this does not apply to the German and the Turk.)

Ours is a real war class. The war had just started as we entered High School. For almost four years now it has been raging, during which time we have completed our High School course. Even at this distance, before the Lusitania was sunk, the war influenced us greatly. As Freshmen we were asked to help heroic, starving Belgium, and so all the way through we were given something worthwhile to think about. Each of us had to decide which side was fighting for the Right, a thing difficult for Americans to do at this great distance in the general lack of knowledge as to European politics; and before we could make ourselves believe the reports of German atrocities.

Affected much by these times of service and sacrifice, we as a class have taken our High School course more seriously. We have thought less of the artificial side of school life, and have tried to get more out of our work. Circumstances have obliged us to spend the last year and a half of our training in a temporary building with all its inconveniences. But we do not complain. We realize we are fortunate in having a school to go to, and not being denied an education as are the less fortunate French and Belgians.

There is yet another spirit which we as a class should use much in the future; the spiri that has helped the Tommies to endure all manner of hardships through the terrible carnage of war for four years; the spirit of "Carry On". When victory has been almost within their grasp, only to be lost, they have fought on with this spirit. They well know the ideals of justice, liberty, and righteousness for which they are fighting and are determined to "carry on" till victory has made these ideals safe. These soldiers have endured things which seemed impossible a few short years ago. They have done, unnoticed, deeds that in a lesser war would have won the Victoria Cross. They are not fighting for personal glory, but for what they consider the most important things in the world.

And this is equally true of our American soldiers who have, to an unparallelled degree, that first requisite of a successful campaign in any fight worth while,—namely, faith in the justice of the cause for which they fight. Why are they able to endure all these hardships and sufferings so long? Partly because, as Mr. Carver of the Brooklyn "Eagle" puts it, they "permit no confusion of ideas between the old time war of aggression or revenge, and this present war of unselfish sacrifice to save humanity from the reign of the beast." In other words, love, not hate, has been the actuating passion. They have, perhaps, hated their enemy, but far more have they loved their own country and the Right. Their hatred has not been the petty emotion of the personal, but has been that greater thing, the "anger of the better against the baser part."

And if that has come to be true of America, shall not we, as a class of Tecumseh High School endeavor to make it also true of us? Let us "Be American" most of all in this, to be always inspired in the small as well as in the great decision of our life, by such a love, and to entertain only that hatred so well expressed in these words of VanDyke's.

"Oh cleansing indignation, Oh flame of righteous wrath,
Give us a soul to see thee and follow
in thy path!
Save us from selfish virtue, arm us
for fearless fight,
And give us strength to carry on,
soldiers of the Right!"

Now as we bid farewell to our High School associations, we have only happy memories of our last four years. We are graduating at a dark crisis of the world's history, but the future, we hope, is bright before us. Let us, during the rest of this war and in those years that will follow it, so important to the future happiness of the world, strive to live up to these ideals of service and sacrifice, and to "carry on, soldiers of the Right."

HOW "OVER THE TOP" WAS FILMED AT CAMP WHEELER

"Over the Top", a drama of love and war based on Arthur Guy Empey's war history of the same name, is produced at the Majestic with the semi-official recognition of the war department .When scenery for "Over the Top" was being planned the producers went to the commanding officer of Camp Wheeler, Macon, Georgia, one of the largest of our national cantonments. The matter of using the camp facilities for making the photoplay was referred to Washington and a favorable answer was given.

When word was passed around camp that the soldiers were to figure in a realistic reproduction of war, much friendly rivalry was in evidence among the troops as to which regiments would be detailed for the work. The general in command compromised by selecting companies from each regiment in camp until a picked army of 7,500 men had been chosen. These men marched and counter-marched, fought bloodless battles, retreated, charged and performed all the actions that come to an army in war before the camera's eye. Aeroplanes, artillery, ambulances and all the other equipment of a great war were also placed at the producer's disposal.

"Over the Top" thus takes place in the machinery of the government in training an army and making people realize the war's magnitude.

TELEGRAM

Fa Washington, D. C., May 30, '18.
Prescott Food Adm., Lansing, Mich.

"Recent press dispatches widely circulated through the country have given the wholly false impression that there is no longer need for rigorous conservation of wheat and flour. The food administration declares that every aspect of the wheat situation both present and prospective intensifies the need for the greatest possible limitation in the American consumption of wheat and wheat products. If present restrictions should be in the slightest degree relaxed it would result in serious want for the people of Europe before the new crop can reach the market.

The fod administration estimate of the position on the first of June indicate a total available supply until the new harvest, including the grain which will be available from the farm in country and terminal elevators and mill elevators, of about fifty-six million bushels. Of this thirty million bushels must be exported before new wheat is available for export if we are to maintain the absolute necessary shipments to our army and the allies. That leaves about twenty-six million bushels for domestic consumption for the next two months.

North American consumption is something over forty million bushels a month so that most liberal consumption at home would be only one-third of normal.

In addition to the wheat on the farms and in elevators there is always an indeterminate further amount in transit and in dealers' hands and this can never be reckoned in with the flour available for use for export and use at home. As a matter of fact this stock is not actually available since these supplies must remain constantly in flow; they remain a permanent stock the removal of which would later cause a period of acute shortage in distribution before new wheat would be available.

There is further an inclination to include new crop prospects with present condition which have led to confusion. The harvest will not be generally available in flour in middle August or early September, although in the extreme south it would be somewhat earlier.

At a meetng of the federal food administration in Washington yesterday representing from forty-eight states it was the unanimous view that even if the harvest does prove abundant it will be the first duty of the American people to place every grain they can save into storage as against possible bad years ahead. In consequence there should be no anticipation of unlimited wheat until the war is over.

Some of the most inconvenient restriction can no doubt be modified with the arrival of a large harvest but if we are honest with ourselves we will maintain restrictions requiring the use of some substitutes both domestic and commercial; we will continue the requirements of high milling extraction and the elimination of the non-essential use of and waste in flour and bread.

It is worth remembering the famine in Egypt eight thousand years ago was saved by a little governmental foresight and it does not require any illiminating dream to anticipate that so long as the war lasts with its increasing drafts for soldiers and munition the world will steadily produce less food. If we are wise a great harvest will mean the willing building up of a great national reserve.

HERBERT HOOVER.

The return ticket for our boys in France will be secured largely through American savings of wheat, sugar and fats.

Traverse City—School credits will be given for practical work done this summer by the agricultural students of the Traverse City high school.

Traverse City—City axmen will spar no trees, according to the mandate issued by Commissioner Coddington relative to branches overhanging sidewalks.

Detroit—Barney Olschefski, 17 years old, was drowned while canoeing with a boy companion in the Detroit river near Belle Isle shortly after 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

To Go Through And Win

A French woman writing to an American housewife says: "But, after all, we have but one thought. It is to go through and win." All American housewives are at last awake to this one thought: that this war is a deadly struggle for right and liberty, and that every woman in the home, like every man at the front, must be ready to do her best to go through and win.

Further on, the letter reads: "You ask me to tell you what I think we need the most. I think it is flour, wheat, all cereals in fact. We are getting short of many things. Everything is very expensive. Soap that I bought for about 60 centimes (six cents) four years ago, costs now nearly 4 francs (eighty cents). Olive oil has advanced in the same proportion." This is an index to conditions in France.

In Italy, there is extreme need of cereals and a scarcity of meat, codfish and wheat.

England has met every reduction in her ration with that same grim determination with which she fights at the front. She has taken from her own diminished food stores and shared with France.

If America is to go through and win she must begin to share the sacrifices as well as the victories of these brave Allies. She must see that they have their share of the world's remaining food supplies. The combined population of the allied European countries is about 143,000,000. It is the part of every man, woman and child here in America to see that in so far as possible each shall have his share of the food supply.

The story of why they want wheat has been told so often it needs no retelling here. America's reserve supply of wheat was gone by December and since than we have been sending them only what could be saved from individual consumption. Gradually the American people have cut down on consumption until they were able in the single month of March, 1918 to ship in wheat and its products the equivalent of 15,000,000 bushels. This shows what genuine patriotism can accomplish.

A still further reduction is demanded, however, if any wheat at all shall be left to send abroad. Shall we not willingly and gladly give up all wheat in our diet for the next ninety days, if by so doing we can help the Allies, as well as our own Army at the front, to GO THROUGH AND WIN?

When the Laugh Is on You.

People are not very much inclined to laugh at the girl who is always ready to join in the laugh against herself. It is the one who assumes airs of tremendous superiority, and seems to feel herself infallible, who needs to be afraid of making a slip. FOURTH LOAN OF 6 BILLIONS IN OCTOBER

M'Adoo Says Certificates of Indebtedness Will Precede Liberty Loan.

WILL BEAR 4 1-2 PER CENT

Secretary of the Treasury Announces Program for the Next Four Months—Banks Asked to Aid.

Washington, June 17.—The government's financial program for the next four months was disclosed by Secretary McAdoo's announcement that in preparation for the fourth Liberty loan, to be floated probably in October, about $6,000,000,000 certificates of indebtedness will be issued.

They will be offered in blocks of $750,000,000 each every two weeks beginning June 25.

Every national bank and trust company is asked to assist the government by subscribing 5 per cent of its gross resources monthly.

Will Bear 4½ Per Cent.

The certificates will bear 4½ per cent interest, like those preceding the third Liberty loan, and will have varying maturity periods, not exceeding four months.

The announcement of this program indicates that the fourth Liberty loan will be for at least $6,000,000,000, the exact amount depending on government expenditures in the next few months.

The treasury already has estimated these roughly at about $12,000,000,000 between July 1 and next Jan. 1.

Refund to Banks.

The sale of certificates under the plan in effect during the last year amounts virtually to borrowing in advance from banks on projected popular war loans or tax collections, and periodically refunding these short-term obligations in long-term Liberty bonds.

Depositary banks make 2½ per cent net, the difference between the 4½ per cent interest paid by the government, and the 2 per cent collected for deposits.

YANKS DELUGE HUNS

Thousands of Gas Shells Hurled Along Marne.

Bombardment Was in Retaliation for Gas Attack—Americans Fight on German Soil.

With the American Army in France, June 17.—American batteries hurled thousands of gas shells into the German lines along the Marne front northwest of Chateau Thierry. The bombardment was in retaliation for a heavy gas attack by the Germans.

There was patrol activity along the American fronts in the Marne region and in Picardy and some artillery fire occurred in addition to the gas bombardment. There was no infantry action.

The situation, however, is tense along the entire line.

With the American Army on the Marne Front, June 17.—The enemy continued shelling the Americans with mustard gas.

The Red Cross evacuation ambulance organization brought the gassed men in and attended to them without delay.

The Americans fired 10,000 shrapnel and high explosive shells in Belleau Wood Wednesday before storming the place, but used very little gas. The Germans replied with more than 9,000 projectiles, chiefly gas, but failed to gain a footing. The Americans made use of captured machine guns.

The Americans captured huge quantities of cartridge belts, enabling them to operate the Spandau machine guns for a long time.

They also are rapidly using up projectiles captured with minenwerfers, including mustard gas shells. The German mine throwers captured are not so accurate as those used by the allies, but have a long range.

With the American Armies in France, June 17.—American troops are holding a section of the Alsace line a few kilometers from the Swiss border, south of Hartmannsweilerkopf.

They have been in this sector since May 25, but permission to announce the fact was only given today.

This is the first American unit to occupy a sector in German territory. The Alsatians welcomed the Americans as deliverers.

A German raid on the American lines was attempted. The raiders were beaten off with losses. One American is missing.

It is now possible also to announce that American troops are holding another sector of the line north of Toul and east of Seicheperey.

Lighthouse Bill Passed.

Washington, June 17.—The bill appropriating $1,000,000 for the lighthouse service was passed by the senate and now goes to the president.

CANNING DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD AT ADRIAN THIS WEEK

Four distinct lessons will be taken up:

First at 9 Thursday morning on canning vegetables cold pack system, also a discussion on the best means of drying vegetables.

Second lesson at 1:30 Thursday afternoon on the making of quick muffins and bread out of wheat substitutes.

Third lesson Friday morning at 9 o'clock on canning of all kinds of fruit by cold pack system.

Fourth lesson at 1:30 Friday afternoon on how best to save wheat and the using of substitutes in the making of bread and cake.

These lessons should be of great interest to every Lenawee county housewife as they are things she must know during these days when the conservation of food stuffs is so necessary to aid our Government in winning the war.

All Lenawee county ladies are urgently requested to avail themselves of the opportunity of attending.

SPECIALIZED CLERKS URGENTLY NEEDED

Washington, D. C. June 18, 1918 Expert clerical work has a more important place in the Government war organization than most people realize. We all know that the war can not be won in the trenches alone that an effective establishment at home is vital to the success of the biggest job ever undertaken by any nation; but the full extent to which the specialized clerk is needed is perhaps not generally understood. And it is in this class of work that women have the best opportunity to be of real service to the Government at this time.

In the national capitol alone the civilian force increased from 30,000 to nearly 80,000 during the first year of our participation in the war. Nine tenths of the new employees are clerks of one kind or another, and fully three-fourths of them are women. 18,000 stenographers and typists are at work constantly in the Government officers at Washington on the tons of correspondence and records made necessary by war preparations on a scale such as the world has never before known.

General clerks, that is, those without a specialty, are not difficult to obtain even under present conditions, but the United States Civil Service Commisson, charged with the duty of recruiting the civil service to meet war needs, is experiencing difficulty in obtaining a sufficient number of applications for many clerical positions which require special training or experience. There is an urgent call for applicants for the positions of stenographer, typewriter, bookkeeper typewriter, clerk-bookkeeper, accountant, accounting and statistical clerk, statistician clerk qualified in accounting, clerk qualified in business administration, index and catalogue clerk, schedule clerk, passenger-rate clerk, blue print file clerk and assistant to business manager. All of these positions are open to both men and women. Representatives of the Civil Service Commission at the post office in all cities are prepared to furnish definite information and application blanks.

FROM "OVER THERE"

Letters from Miburn Hawkes to his father are always interesting and these we publish today are not lacking in interest.

France, May 12, 1918

Dear Dad:

This is Mothers day so I will write a few lines to you and call it Fathers day also.

Am sending you a souvenir which is a silk parachute, which is used in rockets. It is shot from a rocket and opens up and holds a light at the bottom which burns for some time. Signal lights of different colors are attached and that is the way artillery and other things are signaled at night.

Also enclosed are a few of the many pretty wild flowers found over here. The fields are full of flowers and the country is beautiful in its spring dress. The weather is better now and all of us feel better.

We are moving again so we don't have much time to write just now.

Am well as usual and working hard All the boys are fine. Give my love to all.

Sonny.

Somewhere

Dear Dad

Just a few lines to let you know I am O. K. In my last letter I told you we were moving and this one to let you know we got here O. K. Am billeted with a very nice family and having a good rest. Mutter does my washing, yow! Have a boquet of flowers on my table every day and they treat me like a king. The beer here is the best I have had since I left Detroit. Can you guess where we are?

We are the first troops in this sector. Gee how they go for the beer and cheese. They don't speak much French around here. Was surprised when we landed here.

We see lots of aeroplane battles and the big cannon lull us to sleep every night.

The weather is very fine now and and we are all well. The scenery is very beautifu, lots of mountains, but the towns show the effect of war of course. Can you imagine th,s, that we drank all the beer in the town, the first day, and had pay day yesterday and I'll be darned if they didn't drink it all again. It sure is good beer. Lots of love to you and best wishes to all.

Sonny.

Through the kindness of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Comfort, we publish the following letter from their daughter Laura who is doing her bit as nurse "over there."

Hospital du Chateau,
Sermaize les Bains,
Marne, France,
May 16, 1918.

Dear Folks at Home:

April 24th is the latest date I've received letters. That shows how the mail gets held up.

I have some news to tell you this time—I have the mumps. Queer, isn't it? I had to wait until I came here to get them for I've been exposed many times. We have had several patients with them since I've been here. I've scarcely had a temperature though my face is swollen considerably. I am well taken care of, my room opens out on the court yard and I get lots of entertainment. Miss Widmer and Beth supply my every need. I really am not sick, but enjoying it.

Yesterday and today have been heavenly ones. The air is bright and clear.

We have been seeing lots of Americans lately. Last week an ambulance unit was here in barracks on repose Several of the boys hung out here, it was so much like home, they said. They were from Indiana, mostly. One night several men came up, brought a ukalele and we all sat out on the terrace and had some good old American songs. It surely seemed good.

Saturday night they invited five of us girls down to mess with them. Just as it was time to go a thunder storm came up (There are several planes going over now) but we went anyway.

We lined up and got hamburg steak, roasted potatoes, tea, bread, figs, and some chocolate the boys had. It was all good. We all went to an empty barracks and the boys fixed up a table out of a door held up by garoline tanks. We had chairs and they stood around eating. The same fellow was there with his ukalele. We all had a good time and we came home about 8 o'clock. While we were there a trainload of Americans went through and one of the guns was a caution.

Last Sunday at supper time we had the greatest bit of excitement we've had. Three Americans were brought in in an ambulance with their heads done up. They were going through in a truck and pretty fast I guess. They came to a small bridge that was lower than they thought and before a bit of warning could be given, these men got their knocks. One fellow's skull was crushed terribly. They operated on him at once but he soon died. The other two were slightly injured. We were in the operating rooms till 10 o'clock.

Dr. Babbitt has the hospital more than full of patients. They come from miles away to the American hospital. It certainly is wonderful. This is the first time since the war started that civilians could get charity relief along surgical lines. They are putting up two buildings on the premises for our extension of the work here. One is for patients, the other for the staff. I don't know where the doctor is going to get extra nurses but he is making room for twenty more patients.

Beth and I took a nice long bicycle ride a few days ago to a couple of towns about five miles from here. We were gone all the afternoon and had tea at a British military hospital. We knew a nurse there and she showed us all around.

A patient brought us some snails the other day and you should have heard the comment they created. The trees, grass and bushes are covered with snails, some quite large ones which are edible. They are starved for ten days and then boiled, taken out of the shells, heated for 15 minutes in butter and something else is mixed with them and they are put back in the shels, heated for 15 minutes in a fast oven, then they are served.

Another grateful patient was the menas of our having roast goose the other day for dinner, so we fare pretty well if we are rationed on bread and sugar.

War has been brought all the more forcibly to us since we've seen our own boys march past. No telling where my work will take me before I get home again.

Lots of love to all.

Laura.

RED CROSS NEWS

RED CROSS CONCERT AND DANCE AT WARSAW

8 p. m. Thursday, June 20th

A concert and dance in a barn will be an absolute novelty. As Mr. Earl Smith of Warsaw has just finished a big new barn, the Warsaw ladies seized on the opportunity to give a benefit for the Red Cross. The Concert will take place on the upper floor and will be given by the Red Cross Concert Company. After the concert Mrs. John Ward, the chairman of the Warsaw Red Cross and Mrs. Earl Smith with the other ladies will sell delicious home made ice cream, cake and popcorn.

After the concert the hall will be cleared of seats, and a dance will end the evening. The dance has been definitely arranged now.

A concert, farm ice cream, and a dance ought to draw a big crowd from this section. The Earl Smith farm is one mile South of Wolf Creek and 15 from Tecumseh. The best way is to go up the Tipton pike and turn over to Pentecost station and go straight through to Wolf Creek.

Program

The Temple Quartette, "Under the Stars and Stripes."

Piano Duet—Mrs. Ella Hodges and Mrs. Fred B. Wood.

Tenor solo, (a) "I Hear a Thrush at Eve." (b) "We're a'Noddin' "—Fred Dickinson

The Flag Song—Mrs. Robert Moore.

The Origin of the Red Cross, Mrs. Jenny C. Law Hardy.

Musical Director—Mrs. Fred B. Wood.

Accompanists—Mrs. Fred B. Wood and Mrs. Ella Hodges.

Entrance free, collection at the end.

There are absolutely no expenses, every cent collected will go to care for the men who are saving us from the fate of Belgium and France.

Everybody COME, you will have a good time, and help the most worthy of all causes.

Mrs. John R. Nyland requests the ladies who are knitting sweaters not to forget that time is drawing short when they must be turned in; there are a great many still out.

Mrs. Bert Lowe is knitting the seventh pair of socks, by knitting TWO socks at the same time; as far as is known she is the only woman in this section who can do this. It looks very curious to see two socks hang on the same set of needles. Mrs. Lowe says that a lecturer recently brought this method from Australia, where this method is compulsory among the Red Cross workers, and that 76 pairs can be knitted in this way in the same time that 50 can be knitted in the usual way. Mrs. Lowe, Tel. 178, has all the instructions, and offers to teach any one who wishes to knit socks for the Red Cross.

Jennie C. Law Hardy
Publicity Director.

ARE YOU 100 PER CENT AMERICAN

"My Own United States"—the word send a thrill of pride through the veins of every genuine, red-blooded American. Those who have [illegible] the most for their country always have loved it most. The makers of its early history, loved it with a passonate devoton. Such men as Jefferson, Hamilton, Grant and Lincoln consecrated their lives to the welfare of the young republic.

The noble deeds of these men live again in "My Own United States," which brings a message from the past for the guidance of the future. There is no one who will not be a better American for having seen it. It turns the pages of history in a fascinating way, never to be forgotten. Love, action pathos and patriotism all have a full share in this motion picture of American history.

From the opening scene in which a regiment of United States soldiers is seen on their way to France until the closing scene of the big master piece any audience will be thrilled with patriotism. "My Own United States" is the finest, biggest and most patriotic spectacle drama that has ever been offered the American people. You will go away a better American after seeing this wonderful production and more determined, than ever, to make every sacrifice that the world shall be made safe for Democracy.

"My Own United States" will be presented at the Bradley Opera House next Friday evening June 21 be sure and see it.

ALUMNI

Friday evening was a lovely one, and the members of the Alumni numbering about 150 gathered at Orange hall for their annual reunion. Old and young met on common ground for this was their own Alma Mater.

To the older members the evening was full of pleasant memories of the days of long ago, when Tecumseh high school was one point of interest to their inquiring minds. To the younger members the future holds more of a charm. To all the social good cheer made the occasion one to be long remembered.

To the music of the orchestra all marched in to the banquet hall, and after the invocation by Dr. W. B. Hartzog were seated at the tables. The feast of good things was followed by "The feast of reason and the flow of soul" as each member took their part in the program.

The Misses Lillis Howard, '18 and Ruth Roberts '18 gave a piano duet in a very pleasing manner after which President A. O. Howard '90 in a few very witty remarks introduced the toast master Earl W. McNeil, '08. Personal jokes were handed back and forth and as Prof. McNeil introduced the various members he had something witty for each.

A tenor solo by Fred C. Dickinson, '08, was given in his usual happy manner and he responded to an encore.

Mrs. Mabel M. Sanford gave the address of welcome to the class of 1918 in a very happy manner. Leslie Johnston responding in a few well chosen words.

Music by the Ukelele club was pleasingly rendered, the club responding to an encore.

One of the most interesting responses was that of Mrs. Duaine Service '10 who spoke on "The Firing Line," her remarks abounding in ready wit.

The musical reading by Mrs. Grace Heck Moore '90 needs no comment as everyone knows how well she does her part, she responded to an encore.

Roger Waring '08 gave us a fine description of our new school house pointing out its many improvements over the old building emphasizing the fact that all these were needful for the making of men, for our country's needs.

Miss Edna Taylor gave a very sweet soprano solo and her encore was most excellent.

"100,000 babies" was the subject given Dr. Harriett Bills Brooks '68. She spoke most feelingly on the fearful death rate of the babies each year, and of the great need of education in their care. Her remarks were listened to with close attention.

The singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" was followed by the class yell after which a business meeting was called and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year.

President—C. A. Slayton
1st vice President—Fred Dickinson
2nd Vice President—Mrs. Mabel M. Sanford
Secretary—Dr. Pauline Bredow
Cor. Secretary—Dale Hodges
Treasurer—Ed Lowry
Executive Com—Donald Wright, Hazel Pocklington, Nettie Kaiser Smith, Dr. Waldron and Martha Caldwell.

Uncle Sam: "That's the kind of a man I need in the United States Senate."

THIS IS AN IMPORTANT ITEM OF GOVERNMENT NEWS that will have a direct bearing upon the securing of Michigan's $70,000,000 quota in War Savings Stamps. It contains the War Savings campaign plan, together with a brief but clear explanation of the Government's war saving proposition. These are things with which every citizen should be familiar; and the National War Savings Committee is depending upon the newspapers of the country to give these matters fullest publicity. The Michigan War Savings Committee urges all editors to publish this:

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

HON. WILLIAM G. McADOO, SECRETARY OF THE TREASURY OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, PROCLAIMS

FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1918

AS NATIONAL WAR SAVINGS DAY

GOVERNORS AND MAYORS MAKE SIMILAR PROCLAMATIONS

MEETINGS WILL BE HELD IN EVERY COMMUNITY TO SECURE SUBSCRIPTIONS FOR WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Pursuant to the call of the Treasury Department of the United States and the proclamation of the Governor of this State, I, War Savings Director for Michigan, acting under the authority of the United States Treasury Department, have called all tax-payers and wage-earners to meet on Friday, June 28th, to give their subscriptions for War Savings Stamps. In rural communities and the smaller towns and cities, meetings will be held in the school houses at 2 p. m.

The school officers will conduct the meeting in each school house, keeping a record of the proceedings and reporting the names of all persons present and the amount of War Savings Stamps subscribed for by them. The names of absent persons, and of those who refuse or neglect to subscribe, with their reasons for so doing, will also be reported.

War Savings Stamps (which are United States Government Bonds the same as Liberty Bonds) can be paid for during any month in the year 1918, but it is intended that subscriptions will be signed for them on June 28.

The price of each War Savings Stamp depends upon the month during which it is bought. During June each Stamp will cost $4.17. In July each Stamp will cost $4.18, and so on, one cent more each month during 1918. On January 1, 1923, the Government of the United States will redeem all War Savings Stamps at $5.00 each, no matter during which month in 1918 they were bought. They cost less during the early months in 1918 than during the later months because the person who buys earlier has loaned his money to the Government for a longer time than if he should buy later.

By way of illustration, note the following table:

COST OF WAR SAVINGS STAMPS
DURING JUNE, JULY, AND AUGUST, 1918

	Cost in June	Cost in July	Cost in August	And are Worth on Jan. 1, 1923
1 Stamp	$4.17	$4.18	$4.19	$5.00
20 Stamps	83.40	83.60	83.80	100.00
50 Stamps	208.50	209.00	209.50	250.00
100 Stamps	417.00	418.00	419.00	500.00
200 Stamps	834.00	836.00	838.00	1,000.00

The law provides that no person can hold in his own name War Savings Stamps exceeding $1,000 maturity value. War Savings Stamps, however, may be purchased for other members of the family, including minor children.

The money invested in War Savings Stamps is not a gift, or a donation, but is a loan to the Government. It will all be paid back with 4% compound interest. If, because of some serious financial reverses, or calamity, it should be necessary to get your money before January 1, 1923, you may do so by giving ten days' notice to any Money Order postmaster, in which case you can get what you paid for the Stamps, with interest to date of payment. The Stamps are free from all State and local taxes; when registered at the postoffice they are insured against loss; they are backed by all the property in the United States; they cannot fall in value below the price you pay; they are as convenient and as well paying an investment as has ever been offered by our Government.

A definite quota of War Savings Stamps has been assigned each school district and community, which will be announced at each meeting on June 28th. The Government of the United States expects all the citizens of every school district and county to subscribe for its quota and to pledge themselves to save and economize to help win the war.

It is to be hoped that the subscriptions taken at the meetings in your county will show you and your neighbors to be loyal Americans to whom our Government, in this hour of need, does not call in van.

WIN THE WAR WITH POTATOES

The enemy is out-eating us in potatoes—out-potatoing us. Here are the figures—per capita weekly consumption. United States, 2.3 quarts, Austria-Hungary, 8 quarts, Germany, 16 quarts.

We can beat them at their own food—which really isn't theirs; it's a native American crop. We must eat more potatoes, and that right soon, or much of our record crop of last year will be wasted. Potatoes are plentiful and getting cheaper. Eat them instead of bread. Fight the enemy with potatoes.

Lansing, June 1.—Hon. Fred L. Keeler, superintendent of public instruction, has been commissioned by the War Savings Board of the United States treasury to institute a war saving stamp campaign among the school children of Michigan. The program as outlined by the school leaders has already produced excellent results but the vacation period, now at hand, means extra effort if Michigan is to come anywhere near making its quota of $70,000,000 by January next.

"The state has been a leader in all work, official and charitable, with the exception of buying the little war stamp," said Mr. Keeler. Michigan's feeble response to this activity has been such that the school officials were appealed to organize a systematic drive among the schools.

DETROIT MAN HEADS DRIVE.

Mr. Keeler named Edward L. Miller of Detroit, president of the Michigan State Federation of Teachers' clubs to organize the drive and he has been meeting with splendid success through the personal co-operation of practically the entire school organization of the state. The sales of stamps by school children have sent up the Michigan average but even this campaign has not, as yet, put the state where it belongs in this war activity. The main feature of the campaign are outlined in the first three paragraphs of the official circular issued by Mr. Keeler and are as follows:

"Uncle Sam must have raised on January 1, 1919, at least two billions of dollars by the sale of War Savings Certificates. Michigan's share is $70,000,000. Since December 1, 1917 Michigan has taken $1,800,000. Among the states Michigan stands today in forty-seventh place. Uncle Sam is alarmed at these facts. He now requests the schools of the state to save the day for Michigan.

"We are requested, first, to continue and intensify the sale of War stamps to children, and, second, to carry it through them into every nook and cranny of the state. There is no limit to the field of our activity. Subscriptions of all sizes from 25 cents to 1,000 dollars are wanted.

"This task, however, in comparison with the Liberty Loan work is simple. It does not involve at all the handling of money. Uncle Sam has provided PAY NO MONEY UNTIL STAMPS ARE DELIVERED franked postcards. These are ordered contracts for stamps. They will be delivered in ample quantities to each superintendent, who will in turn distribute them among the pupils, who will return them to the principals after they have been filled out by subscribers. The principal will then make a record of the amount sold by his school upon a form provided for that purpose and will put the postcards into the nearest mailbox. The letter carrier will do the rest."

A FEW OF THE REPORTS.

Per capita sales of $6.50 are reported by Litchfield public schools in a letter that is a bit apologitic. "One reason our sales are not higher," says the superintendent there, "is that our folks have purchased $1,200 worth of Liberty Bonds. Counting both in our per capita is about $12. Sales will steadily rise."

This letter contrasts with several which seem rather proud of sales which are $2.50 per capita.

Reports briefly stated from among the first reports received at the state office follow, showing patriotic activities:

Charlevoix high school, 100 per cent, grades fast approaching; Calumet, total sales $10,827.54, per capita $2.07; Boyne City, teachers are telling pupils about stamps; Republic township, Marquette county, sales average $2; public schools of Ironwood, total sales $5,789.58, one club having 100 per cent sales; Iron Mountain public schools, "have been putting great stress on Junior Red Cross work and have paid money enough for us to be entitled to 100 per cent membership"; Western State Normal, War and Thrift Stamps, $839.55; Liberty Bonds, $15,600; French Orphans Fund, $139.36; Y. M. C. A. fund $260; flag pole, $202.41; Montgomery high school, "We are almost 100 per cent. The contagion is spreading through the grades and many younger children are buying Thrift Stamps."

NORTH COUNTRY STEPPING ALONG

In McMillan township, Luce county, the drive has been launched with a school demonstration and addresses by outside speakers. The English department at Montrose is drilling Four Minute speakers.

William Baite, writing from Houghton, says:

"You may rest assured the people in the schools in Houghton and Keweenaw counties are working hard to do all they can to win the war."

At Prattville plans are being made to organize in the fall as soon as schools open. "Every school in the city has been organized," is the message from Muskegon Heights. In Clare sales have netted about $1,000 according to the last report.

In Washtenaw county sales were stimulated to $5,000 by the offer of books for the libraries for the best records made in 129 schools. Twenty-three volumes were awarded for per capita sales and 20 for the largest aggregates.

CHARLOTTE SHOWS A SPIRIT.

In Sebewaing both public and parochial schools are devoting one day a week to sales of Thrift and War Stamps. In Charlotte, where sales average about $2.50 per pupil, sales were nearly $500 one week.

Pupils at the Trufant schools bought a $50 bond which at maturity is to be invested in new books for the school library War Stamps are being boosted and purchased by the "Loyal Reserve" of Trufant. On two days a week at Battle Creek the Junior Council of National Defense members acted as salesmen for stamps visiting the 40 rooms in the high school building.

Port Huron—The Mooretown, Ont., church, just across the St. Clair river from St. Clair, was struck by lightning and destroyed. The church had stood for 55 years.

Muskegon—With the present high cost of materials and labor no effort will be made to rebuild the Lake Harbor hotel, just swept by fire with a loss of about $100,000.

Port Huron—With the purchase of 76 acres at St. Clair the Diamond Crystal company intends to increase its plant facilities and will set a plate section for homes for employes.

Pontiac—The serious nature of the fuel situation was told business men at the Board of Commerce recently by W. P. Prudden, state fuel administrator. Stating that Michigan's allotment of anthracite is but 1,061,000 tons, he pointed out that people will be compelled to use soft coal, and urged that it be stored at once.

Ann Arbor—Col. R. D. K. Austin of the British army addressed the University of Michigan reserve officers' training camp here on discipline, which he said was the most important thing in this war. The colonel told how 1,200 allied troops of a force of 1,600 at Mt. Kemmel were killed because of failure on the part of a private to carry out an order with exactness.

Jackson—Employment of convicts in the Jackson coal mine has proven most successful thus far and has been profitable to both the city, which has been unable to obtain free labor, and to the prison inmate. One convict, during May, has received $105 overtime, this sum being paid him after he had done $2 worth of work for the state.

Pontiac.—Caught under a heavy gravel sifter which fell on him in a gravel pit near South Lyon, Edward Moore, 64, was instantly killed.

Ann Arbor.—Prof. Hugo Thieme of the French faculty of the U. of M., has been appointed director of French instruction at Camp Custer this summer.

Lansing—With the exception of Antrim, every county in the lower peninsula will be closed to partridge hunters this year and with the ban on quail, the bird hunters will have little sport next fall unless they cross the straits.

Lansing.—Twenty-five hundred bushels of wheat are reported as being held by Pat Callahan, of Hubbardston, Ionia county. The state food administration has notified him if he did not market it by June 14, it would be confiscated.

Saginaw—M. C. Barney, of Detroit, who has served one year as senior vice commander and three years as patriotic instructor, will be a candidate for department commander of Michigan when the G. A. R. holds its annual state encampment here June 19-21.

Holland.—The Hope College council elected Professor Edward D. Dinnent, instructor of Greek at Hope college for 20 years, president of the college to succeed Dr. Ame Vennema who returns to the ministry. Professor Dinnent, aged 49, is the youngest president Hope college ever had.

RED CROSS NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Bell, who have recently returned from England have some very interesting experiences to relate.

They left with a flotilla of 8 other boats and were escorted by destroyers out of the danger zone, all the port holes were painted black, and no one was allowed on deck after dark, no matches were allowed to be struck, and no porthole was open after dusk. They believe they had a torpedo launched at them, and the ship came across, making a zigzag course like a drunken man. They slept in their clothes during the whole trip, so [illegible] ready for emergencies, and the night before they arrived in New York the passengers were ordered to put their life belts on. They were on the las toatb that arrived before the submarine outrages.

The stewarts and other help on the ship were composed of returned soldiers, or boys under military age, and all the former luxury of ocean liner had disappeared, and they had just a good family dinner with no choice of dishes.

Mrs. Bell says that people here have no idea as yet what saving really means. Paper is so dear and so scarse in Britain, that people save their paper bags and wrappers, as well as string, and take them back to the grocers to have them refilled. In Edinburgh you pay one cent extra if you have no paper of your own, and that such articles as vegetables, cans, ketchup bottles are not wrapped at all, and that conditions are even worse in London. If the bread is wrapped it is one cent more.

As the importation of fruit was forbidden in order to save room for cereals, it was abnormally dear; apples, poor grade, 30c a lb., and Malaga grapes 50c. Bread is cheaper than here, 9c for the 2 pound loaf, as the government pays a subsidy to keep it cheap, for the poorer classes; before that it was 12c, but it is very dark and not nearly as good as the war bread we get here, there is about 40 per cent wheat in it, and the rest any kind of substitute they can get. The meat allowance is ten oz per week, this does not include fish, bacon or ham. The cheapest meat, neck of mutton, is 24c a lb., stewing beef 40c a lb. The meat in England is cut differently from here and is sold without fat or bone. Milk in the suburbs was 12c a quart, and in Edinburgh 15c; by government regulation it must be whole milk. Potatoes 50c per peck lately, 18c the peck last winter, sugar 14c a lb. Tobacco however is three times as dear as here, and matches very dear and scarce, three safety boxes, the limit to be bought at one time, Soft coal $10.00 a ton, and a large can of carnation milk 30c.

The railway fares have been raised 50 per cent, 3 cent a mile is now the minimum fare, and the first class coaches are being severely curtailed.

All rents below $12.00 monthly have been controlled and cannot be raised during the war.

There are no cakes or icing, and what candy there is costs $1.00 a lb. half a pound is the limit of one sale, if it is to be had, there is never any in the stores after the noon hour.

Mrs. Bell seems to think that the organization of the American Red Cross is better than the English. People do not work at the headquarters as here, they go and get the goods and make them at home, or people will have workparties, weekly or biweekly, to which they ask their friends, but to which the public in general is not admitted. She says that it is surprising how much work the hoseworkers do.

The allowance of sugar is ½ lb., weekly, and butter or margarine ¼ pound weekly, tea 1¼ oz. weekly; this is very low, when it is considered that England drinks tea nearly exclusively. Coffee 35c a lb. It is sometimes possible to get a little lard or bacon fat, but no suet, as that is used for making exposives.

The British Red Cross workers knit more socks than anything else, as the socks have been found to hurt the soldiers feet in the wet trenches, and they quantities of minesweepers gloves of heavy feltlike material, as these must be hand-sewn. Of course America has until lately not had to provide against mines, but we are coming to it now.

Mr. and Mrs. Bell say that Great Britain has handled her food problem remarkably well and that she has been able to store a goodly amount, which in view of the submarine menace is absolutely vital. Also she has been more generous than is generally known to her allies, to Belgium, Frace and Italy, she has sent food to them all, and the British has stinted themselves gladly to do so. Railway travel was curtailed to ship cars and locomotives to France and Italy; as many as 700 locomotives went in one shipment to France.

Everybody is working to the limit, and the people are determined to fight to the last to win, they realize that they must either win or suffer the fate of Belgium. When a shipbuilding strike seemed imminent, a British reverse came and the intending srtikers came right in without a moment's hesitation.

They say that they hope wonderful things from America, the trust in America is implicit, they rely absolutely on American help to win the war, we must never disappoint them, or France or Belgium either. It is a proud position to be the hope of the civilized world.

Mrs. Bell says that all kings are rather unpopular nowadays, and that "King George is doing his best to hold his job," he and the Royal family are doing everything they think will please the people, reviewing troops, inviting soldiers, nurses, visiting hospitals, attending Red Cross benefits. This attitude is startlingly different from the "Got and I" attitude of William Hohenzollern.

The income tax is terribly high and has been recently raised to nearly one third of the individuals income, on incomes over $2500.00.

The consoling feature of this report is the feeling that in Great Britain no sacrifice, no work is too hard to win the war, that any idea of peace before Germany is beaten is not even given a thought and that our allies will stand with us to the end of everything for a real peace for all nations large or small.

REUNION OF CO. G. 26 REG'T. MICH. INFANTRY

Mrs. Jehiel Davidson Entertains Thursday, June 13.

On Thursday afternoon of last week, Co. F. 26th Reg't. Inft. was entertained at the home of Mrs. Jehiel Davidson, but, alas time has been busy in the ranks and only three of the old veterans were present. John Britten, Henry Ball and Geo. Lanning. The families of the departed members were present with a number of invited guests, Potluck dinner was served after which the usual program followed. Below we give the history of the past year as written by Mrs. E. M. Camburn.

Tecumseh Mich., June 13, 1918, Co. F. 26th Reg't. Mich. Inft.

The remaining members of Co. F. and their families met again in this home for their annual reunion. In the years that have passed by there has been sunshine and shadow, but have we not proven that every cloud has a silver lining and that above the sun still shines. Although the ranks have been thinned, we can be thankful for the long useful lives many of them were spared to live. These words come to me from an able writer and I pass them on.

"The days are passing faster than they used too; the mile stones seem to recur more often, we travel many of us in the evening shadows; we look out on life and see it softer in outline, more mellow in coloring, than of old.

We are tired often now, when we used to never be weary. The rest seems as though it would be sweeter when we reach the end, but growing in our hearts is the abiding sense, that God will not fail us."

It is very fitting to come again to this home after lapse of 27 years where once dwelt our brother and comrade Jehiel Davidson and where dwells his faithful wife who still keeps the home fires burning.

Quite a few years ago, Comrade John [illegible]nbar gave me the first history written by Charles W. Haynes who was the first Historian of Co. F. As he gave it to me he said "Perhaps it will be of use to you some time." It is so much more applicable for this occasion than anything I could write, will give you that for our history today. But first let us do honor to our boys who have gone away this last year. Three have passed over the Silent River.

Lym[illegible] Osterhout died the first of Sept. 1917 at his home in Reading, Hillsdale county. Because of failing health he did not meet with us last year. It was always a delight for him to meet and greet his soldiers brothers. With his pleasant smile and quiet kindly greeting, he won a place in the hearts of those with whom he mingled that will not soon be forgotten.

Frank Sperry died April 17, 1918, at his home in Blissfield. He, too, was one of the faithful ones and enjoyed every moment spent with his comrades at these reunions. All whon knew him will remember him with the kindliet feeling.

James Ebbitt died April 7, 1918, at the farm home of his son William in Hudson and what shall we say! Word fail us! Like the other boys he enjoyed these gatherings as only soldiers, who suffered the hardships of army life could enjoy. Back in the home land again, we have seen these comrades as they met each other after a long absence, with moist eyes and closed lips, say more in their silence than any words could express.

Since we met one year ago Mrs. James Ebbitt, Mrs. Henry Ball and Mrs. Mary Kennedy have been promoted to that Home where there is no more pain and the suffering ones are at rest. They enjoyed these gatherings and we miss their presence from among us.

Therefore be it resolved: That we place not only upon this tablet of paper, but upon the tablets of our heart's kindest memory of their deeds of value, both at their country's call and in their home life.

Resolved, that inasmuch as they set us the pace, how much they loved this great America, let us emulate, also that we extend loving sympathy to their sorrowing families and that a copy of these resolutions be placed on our record book.

COMPLIMENTING NEAL RENTSCHLER

Mr and Mrs. D. I. Oliver, Mr and Mrs. B. E Gallup, Fred Rentschler of Pontiac and Miss Anna Williams of Birmingham motored to Tecumseh Thursday to attend the Commencement exercises, congratulating Neil Rentschler, a member of the class, a nephew and grandson of the first parties named. Continued illness prevented Mr. and Mrs. T J Williams of Birmingham accompanying the party.

Mr. B. E. Gallup, in behalf of the party presented Neil with a gold watch as a token of love and esteem and best wishes for a bright and prosperous future.

Mr. Williams composed the following poem:

To Mr. Neal Dow Rentschler on his graduation day—

Well, well, Major Neal,
How proud you must feel
With your great fund of information.
We share in your joy
Which has no alloy,
And extend our congratulation.

Your skies are all bright,
Not a cloud in sight,
While the gentle breezes are sighing,
And your new life boat
Is already afloat
With its colors and streamers flying.

That boat you must guide
O'er the rolling tide
'Mid the billows of Earth's commotion.
You must trim your sails
To the favoring gales,
While keeping your craft in motion

But down in the deep
The storm demons keep
Keen watching to draw you under,
And strand your soul
On a rock or a shoal,
And shiver your bark asunder.

But be of good cheer,
The Pilot is near,
You'll surely rejoice at His coming.
Just give Him command
And He'll bring you to land
Where the billows will cease their foaming.

Do not ever be caught
With the foolish thought
That you've finished your education;
There is more to be done,
You have just begun
On this day of your graduation.

Fierce foes you will meet
Who will threaten defeat
And frighten with noise and rattle,
But in strength Divine
You can rise and shine
And conquer in every battle.

You are bearing a name
Of a man of fame
And of world-wide reputation;
Neal Dow spent his life
In a holy strife
To save us from rum's domination.

With a faith most sure
And a character pure,
He built on the right foundation;
You will readily see
Such a man as he
Is worthy your emulation.

Be bound to the truth
Both in age and youth,
And may nothing your bond dissever;
Then, when earth is passed,
You will land at last
Where there's fulness of joy forever.

"DESTROY THE BARBERRY"

The school children who were out looking for barberry bushes have found it in fifteen places. Some may have been overlooked. Supt. Reed went to several places to see if the children had made a correct diagnosis and at one place could find none, the lady of the house came out, and when questioned said "Why we pulled it right up."

In this region the common barberry has been used with unfortunate freedom for ornamentation and there is a natural reluctance to sacrifice these shrubs. This reluctance has been encouraged by the frequent statement that it is not necessary to destroy the shrub until it has become infected. This is sound in theory and unsound in practice. As long as the common barberry exists it will be a focus of infection and most landholders will not watch for the infection. There is only one way to rid of the evil the common barberry spreads, and that is to do away with this shrub.

ARREST OFFICER IN GRAFT PLOT

LIEUTENANT JAMES C. STALEY, RESERVE ARMY OFFICER, ARRESTED.

HUNDREDS OF OFFICES RAIDED

All Local Houses Were Visited by Government Agents, But No Signs of Graft So Far Have Resulted.

Washington.—Trail of the government's pursuit of illegal profiteers on war contracts led to the arrest in New York of Lieutenant James C. Staley, reserve army officer, on charge of accepting money from the Truefit Raincoat company, New York, for a contract which he promised to procure.

The secret agents arrested him immediately after he was said to have received a sum of money from Joshua Rosenthal and Louis Wener, proprietors of the plant. It was charged he had told them he would expect more money as soon as they got the contract they sought for 50,000 raincoats, costing nearly $250,000.

After being arrested, Staley made a complete confession of his part in the transactions to department of justice officers and gave much valuable information which may lead to the detection of other cases of fraud. He will be tried by a court martial.

Local Plants Visited.

So far as local department of justice officials are able to see, the "raids," which were staged in Michigan Monday, on manufacturers and their agents, were not raids at all, but merely a request by the department for certain papers, which would be of use in any investigation conducted into the awarding of contracts.

Samuel T. Kiawans, chief of bureau of investigation in Detroit, so stated Tuesday. He said his department was ordered to call on certain business houses at 4 o'clock Monday, and ask for papers of nature, outlined in the orders.

Nation Wide Movement.

Washington—A nation-wide conspiracy between manufacturers and contractors' agents in Washington to solicit government war orders under agreement to pay commissions illegally to the agents, was disclosed Monday by the department of justice.

Simultaneously with the announcement raids were made on hundreds of manufacturers' business offices throughout the United States in search of papers showing scope of the illegal practice, and four Boston business men were indicted in Washington on charges of acting as contingent fee agents.

Even before results of the raid were fully reported here Monday night officials indicated they had evidence that scores, perhaps hundreds of contracts have been made with manufacturers, who were under pledge to turn over to contract commission agents in Washington, New York and elsewhere, a percentage of their profits.

Officials said the manufacturers were led to enter into the agreements by assurances of the agents that they had special "influence" with army officers or others, in charge of letting contracts, and under threat to use that influence against the manufacturers. Evidence was said to have been secured that some of the agents already have made their thousands in commission fees.

This development led to investigation of relations between certain army officers and these agents, and although there is no definite indication that these officers are knowingly involved in the conspiracies. Secretary Baker is making a thorough investigation in co-operation with the department of justice, and Monday night authorized the statement that he would go to the bottom of any suspicious cases.
